Pretty Wedding at St. Matthew's Church

Miss Ann Anderson and Mr. E. N. Ward Married on Saturday. Rev. Canon Cushing Officiated.

Ann, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Anderson, Toke street, became the bride of Edward Neville Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ward, of Toronto, on Saturday morning in a quiet ceremony at St. Matthew's Church. Rev. Canon Cushing officiated. The immediate relatives and close friends of the popular young people attended.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of coral velvet having a short train. The accessories and a small turban hat matched the pretty dress and her flowers were in an old-fashioned nosegay. The bridesmaid, her sister, Evalene, wore a long golden brown velvet gown with matching accessories. She too wore a nosegay.

Lynn Ward, of Schumacher, was his brother's groomsman. A reception was held afterwards at the home of the bride's parents, 80 Toke street, where Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Anderson received a large number of guests.

The bride and groom left on Saturday afternoon on a trip south. On their return they will make their home in Timmins.

Pretty Fall Wedding on Saturday Evening

Miss Hilda Catherine Fuhr and Leo Laporte Married at United Church. Reception at Hollinger Hall.

The United Church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding on Saturday evening at 6:30 when Hilda Catherine, daughter of Mr. C. Fuhr and the late Mrs. Fuhr, Vancouver, became the bride of Mr. Leo Laporte, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Laporte, Balsam street. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Vera Robinson. Rev. Bruce Millar performed the ceremony in the presence of nearly 200 guests. Mr. John Platt was groomsman.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli and a mass of other autumn blooms. During the ceremony Mrs. Wilkins played the wedding march and during the signing of the register, Mr. Jago sang "Oh Promise Me." Messrs. Dennis Ryan and Lucien Pare were ushers. The bride was tastefully attired in a new fall lace gown, having a Victorian ruffled neck and a similar effect on the skirt. She wore a short train and a three-quarter-length veil. She carried a bouquet of roses, lilies-of-the-valley and fern. The bridesmaid was gowned in pink net lace with blue accessories. Her flowers were roses and forget-me-nots.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pair of diamond earrings; to the bridesmaid a manicure set in a travelling case, and to the organist a lavender toilet set. The bride's gift to the groom was a handsome set of military brushes.

Reception During Evening
The reception, held in the Hollinger hall the same evening, was a happy event. With S. G. Fowler, a close friend of the bride and groom as master of ceremonies, it was carried through in an entertaining manner. The hall was decorated with orange and white streamers for the occasion. The large number of wedding gifts testified to the esteem in which the couple are held in Timmins.

During the evening of dancing, Fred Taylor, Jack Newell and Mrs. Jenkins entertained the guests with songs. A tasty supper was served at 11:15 and immediately afterwards, the master of ceremonies ordered S. R. McCoy to bring in the cake. The huge white frosted cake was cut with due ceremony. The party continued until 1:30. Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, Noah A. Timmins, Jules R. Timmins, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Irving and many others.

The bride and groom will make their home at 36 Middleton avenue. Mr. Laporte is a member of the statistical staff of the Hollinger.

Over a Thousand at Liberal Meeting

holdings and allow them to make a comfortable living for their labour. "In the field of labour, I take no back seat to any of the other candidates," the member said, reviewing the labour troubles he had helped to smooth over at Cochrane and Kapuskasing. "I hold no brief for the large corporation, but I do hold one for the working man," he said.

National Health Insurance
National health insurance is a measure for which he will fight, the member stated. "No child, man or woman in Canada should want for medical aid," he said, "and I'll win this battle, with your help."

The Porcupine Advance, he said, had been a real encouragement to him and a real incentive to go on and fight for the North in the last parliament, even though he was on the wrong side of the house.

"They want to establish a Soviet Russia in Canada," said Mr. Bradette, in speaking of the Communist party. "It has been stated that the foreign-born here are radicals—this is not true. Some of our finest citizens have come from countries across the sea." The system under which government is conducted at present is not perfect, he agreed, but he does not believe that Canada wants Sovietism. Hooked at this point, Mr. Bradette did not hear the question asked and, looking up toward the gallery, asked that it be repeated. When the man had had plenty of time to state his demand and had not done so, Mr. Bradette said: "Come on, now, be a man." There was still no answer from above.

The C.C.F. was prostituting itself, the speaker stated. In the riding to the south, Communists had been advised to vote C.C.F. to have their desires fulfilled, he claimed. Under a C.C.F. government Canada would be in the hands of a bureaucracy.

Tariffs under the Bennett government have worked against the farmer and against the consumer, he said in conclusion. Market prices for the farmer had tumbled, while costs to the consumer were the same.

Former Minister Speaks
Hon. J. C. Elliott, former Minister of Public Works in the King Government, was introduced to the meeting as an old friend, since he had been here on previous occasions.

"Give us as good results in this election as you did in the Province of Ontario a year ago," he advised, stating that only a Liberal government could bring the country out of the depression. He pointed out that in 1896, 1921 and 1935, similar conditions had faced the country, and each time a Conservative government had been turned out. "The longer you have it, the worse it seems to get," he claimed. "We're going to do something to improve the lot of the masses of the people of Canada after October 14th," he promised.

The present government is dead, he held, but it was still handing out appointments and letting important contracts after the fifth year of power had expired.

Lawyer Flays Bennett
Dean Kester was "a bit hard on Mr. Bennett," the chairman, Dr. J. A. McInnis, said. "I think perhaps I'd just touch him off at the rate the rest of the fellows are getting him." He termed Mr. Kester's as a "fighting speech."

"So realistic was the painting Mr. Bennett painted before the last election that the people could not resist," said the lawyer. "Then they came out of the anaesthetic and began to look around for the reforms that were promised and realized the futility."

"Men, women and starving children ask for bread and receive a stone," he cried. "It is time that the people responsible for those conditions should be kicked out of office. Even in this—the brightest spot in Canada—there is unemployment!"

Mr. Kester said that in the village of Chelmsford, children were kept home from school for lack of clothing, and in recent weeks pupils had fainted in the classroom for lack of food.

"Every vote you cast for the C.C.F. or communists is a help to Bennett, because neither of those parties has the slightest chance," he contended. Stevens is the dark horse in the election, he said. "A leopard can't change his spots—a Tory is a Tory, irrespective of the clothes he wears. Mr. Stevens can no more get away from Toryism than he can fly to the moon." And later, "I suggest to you that Bennett and Stevens are trying to pull off the greatest hoax that has ever been pulled on the people of Canada since Confederation." "Blasting into the markets of the world has merely resulted in further drying up of trade," the speaker claimed. "The people are now ready to do a little blissing on their own account."

The scheme to pay $20 a month to every man over 60 in the Dominion would cost $30,000,000 a year, he said. The government must raise $2,000,000,000 within the next two years to retire bonded indebtedness.

"The policies of Mackenzie King are the policies of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, modified to suit the day," said Mr. Kester in conclusion.

Santa Claus Once a Month
Dr. McInnis, as chairman, reviewed briefly the situation.

"Mr. Aberhart," he said, "doesn't believe in having Christmas come once a year—he's going to have it every month. I don't know where he's going to get the money. I think we'll have to return to good old Liberal policies that have brought us through to prosperity before."

He stated that the Liberals have the

Cold Weather May Continue for a Couple of Days More

Don't check off the furnace too much to-night, the weatherman warns, for it looks as if the cold weather is to continue for another couple of days at least. "Continuing very changeable and unsettled," was the way he put it this morning. There's more good weather to come yet but when, it's hard to tell.

The first heavy snowfall yesterday morning brought half an inch and is a couple of weeks ahead of the usual first serious flurry. Another inch or so will fall to-day. The only other precipitation of the period was 15 inches of rain which fell Saturday in intermittent showers and drizzles.

Friday night set a new low mark for the fall, when seven degrees of frost were registered. Temperatures for the period have been: Thursday, max. 52, min. 50; Friday, max. 45, min. 25; Saturday, max. 43, min. 28; Sunday, max. 41, min. 29; last night's minimum, 28; eight o'clock this morning, 34.
