Says Rocks Thrown Through Windows

Charge Against Boy Dismissed but Further Cases Expected in Neighbours' Troubles.

A piece of greenstone weighing about a pound crashed through the front window of her home and nearly killed the baby, a woman swore in juvenile court on Thursday.

"We haven't got to the bottom of this case yet," said Magistrate Atkinson, dismissing the charge against the young son of the neighbouring family, "but I hope to some day."

Since that time another window in the house has been broken and another charge will be laid next week.

The woman who laid the charge swore that she and her brother had taken turns on the watch near the front door, since they had had trouble just the same day with the neighbours. She had seen the child early in the evening approach the house and throw the rock. The police had been called immediately and a constable took possession of the heavy stone.

The mother of the child who is alleged to have thrown the rock, the father and a servant girl all swore that the child in question had been in the house all evening. He had never been out of sight of one or the other, they testified.

The case arises out of a series of broken windows in one house. Even the erection of a nine-foot fence failed to stop the episodes.

Mining Meeting and Excursion in West

Special Excursion Arranged to Trail, etc., After Mining Meeting at Vancouver Next Month.

Members of the Canadian Mining Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and others concerned will be interested to know that after the Western meeting of the Institute at Vancouver on Nov. 13th, 14th and 15th there is being arranged a special excursion to Trail, Kimberley and the Crow's Nest, S. G. Blaylock, general manager of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., of Canada Limited, W. R. Wilson, president of the Crow's Nest Pass Co., and J. R. Smith, secretary of the C.I.M.M. branch in the Crow's Nest, have invited those attending the meeting at Vancouver to participate in the excursion referred to.

The Porcupine branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy has received a letter from the secretary of the Institute outlining the details of the planned excursion. Among the points to be touched in the excursion are Trail, Castlegar, Cranbrook, Fernie, Coleman, Blairmore, Hillcrest, Frank, etc. Among the plants to be visited are—Trail, Sullivan Mine, Fernie, Crow's Nest, etc. If a sufficient number make reservations, sleeping cars can be obtained to accommodate the party en route and at points visited. "Everyone planning this trip," says a letter from E. J. Carlyle, secretary of the Canadian Mining Institute, "should, when arranging transportation, buy a ticket providing for return via Castlegar, Cranbrook, Blairmore. The special rates in effect at the time from points on Eastern lines will apply to this round trip. One requirement, and one only must be met to assure this unique excursion—All who wish to join it should, by Oct. 15th, or earlier, inform Mr. H. Mortimer-Lamb, 505 Metropolitan Building, Vancouver, B.C."

Any in the Porcupine district who may be interested in this unusual excursion should make special note of the above.

Five Candidates to Run in Riding of Nipissing

On Monday there were five candidates nominated for the Dominion election contest in Nipissing riding. The following are the five candidates:—

J. M. McNamara, Conservative, practicing lawyer at North Bay, formerly judge of Renfrew county, and also chairman of Liquor Control Board for a number of years. Known as "Judge" McNamara, Liberal, highly popular and esteemed.

Dr. J. R. Hurlbut, physician, of Sudbury, the member in the last Dominion House. Has notable hold on the regard of the voters of the riding and is a favourite in the betting.

Kelvin A. Stewart, Stevens candidate, was with the Ontario Forestry Service at Sudbury until the Hepburn government used the axe. He is reported to be a particularly able organizer and to have a chance in the race.

Joseph Levert, C.C.F. salesman for the Chelmsford Wholesale Co., resident of the North for 35 years, has voted Liberal, Conservative and Labour in the past, he is quoted as saying. He is considered an able man, but few are reported as betting on his chances.

Amos T. Hill, said to be an active worker in the Communist party since 1920. Now district organizer for the party. Served time at Kingston with Tim Buck and others for illegal activity as a communist, but was paroled before the expiring of his term. Is sometimes referred to as coming from Timmins, but his only residence here was during the time he was in charge of communist work in this area. Has been arrested on several occasions for communist activities. Knows himself that he has no chance to win but runs, this being the second time, to keep the name of the party to the front, and also to hold his followers occupied.

C. C. F. Candidate

HARRY BEACH

His nomination papers filed at Cochrane on Monday and the usual $200 deposit posted, Harry Beach, 37, is the official Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidate in Cochrane riding for the October 14 election. He is one of the recognized Labour leaders of the North. Vice-president last year of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers, he declined the position this year to become C.C.F. candidate for Cochrane riding. Born at Winchester, Ontario, Mr. Beach received his education in Winchester Public and High Schools, and following graduation, went to the United States and Mexico. In 1918 he joined the Royal Naval Canadian Volunteer Reserve, and was in active service in the navy until late in 1919. Returning to the United States, he sailed for the United Fruit Company out of New Orleans. A year later he came north to Iroquois Falls, where he has since been employed by the Abitibi Power and Paper Company. He was interested in the C.C.F. movement since its organization, holding that many people who would not join a labour party would support another party whose aims were similar to those of the old Labour party. He stood as a candidate at the Matheson convention of 1933, but was defeated by Timmins and Kirkland Lake delegations. At the recent convention at which he was nominated for the Federal election, he had the backing of all groups.

Harvest Festival at South Porcupine

"Mother and Daughter" Banquet at Dome.... Surprise Party at Pottsville. Other South Porcupine and District Items.

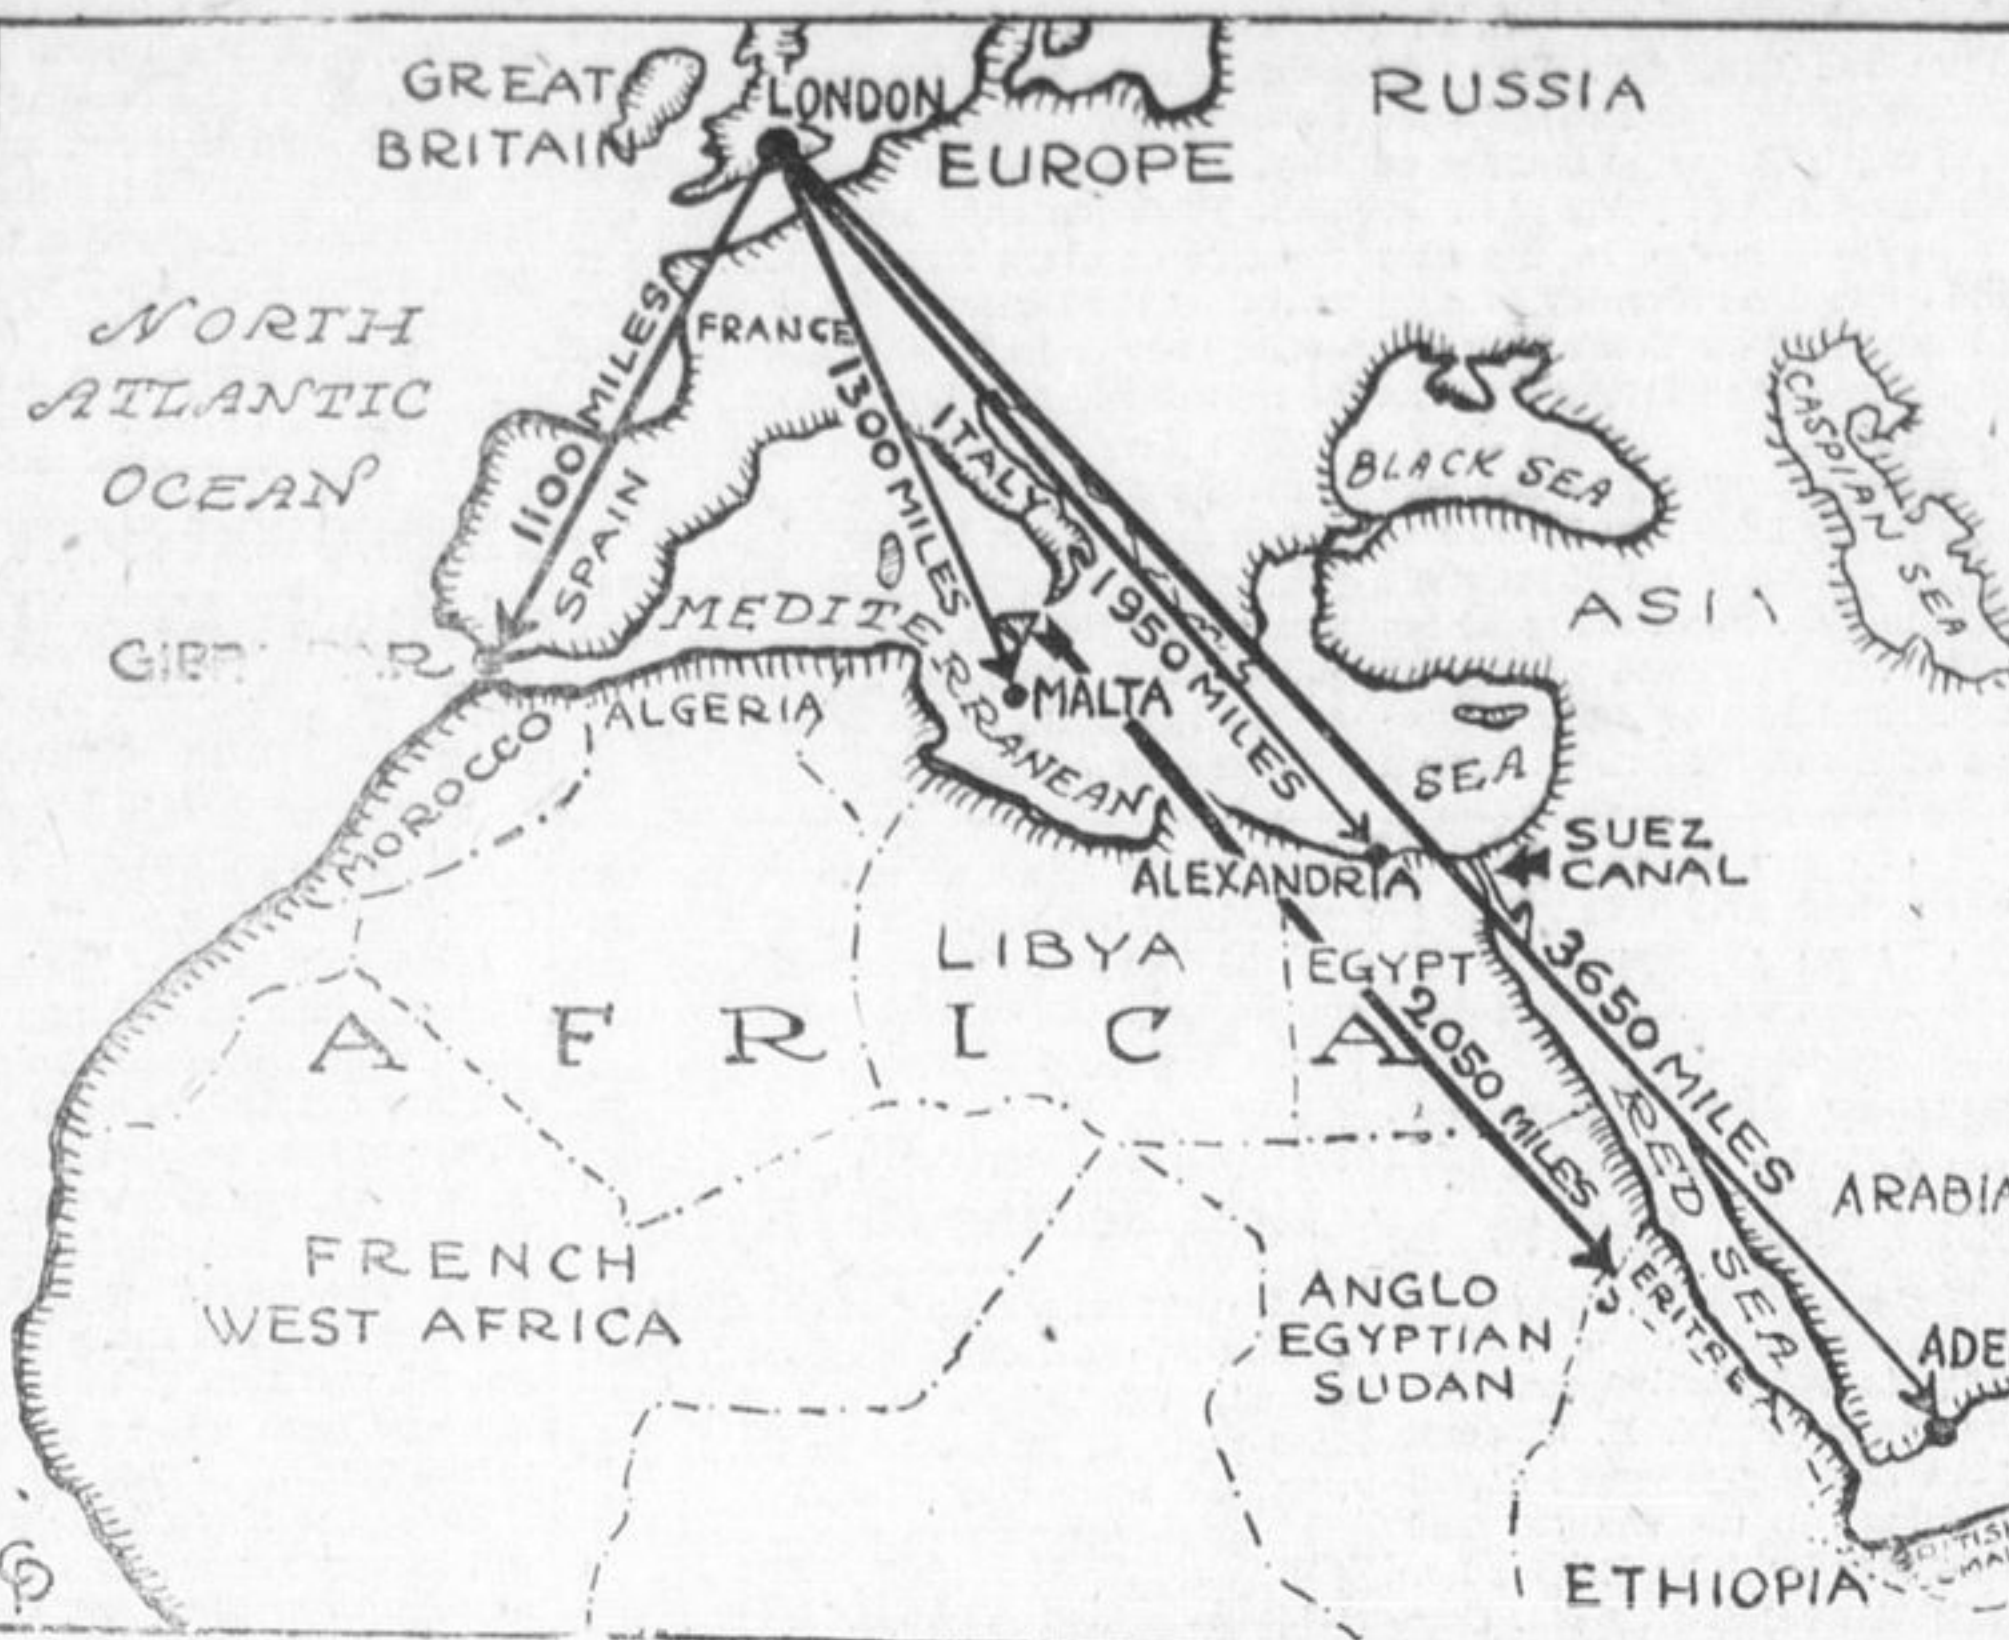

South Porcupine, Oct. 2nd. Special to The Advance.

Archdeacon Woodall left on Monday to conduct the funeral service of Mrs. Ernie Critchley, of Monteith, who died on Saturday at that place. The Rev. Blackburn, of Monteith, assisted, but the Archdeacon, being an old friend of the Critchley family and also of the family of Mrs. Critchley, was asked to attend. The occasion was a very sad one, as the deceased was a young woman, only having been married five years, and leaving two tiny children, one of four years, and a baby of five months, motherless. Before her marriage she was Miss Hough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hough, of Monteith. She was interred in Monteith cemetery on Monday, and the funeral was very largely attended by people from Matheson and Monteith. Many South Porcupine people know the Critchley family and will be sincerely sorry to hear of their loss.

Thirty-five Girl Guides and mothers met at the Community hall, Dome Mines, on Tuesday night for the first "Mother and Daughter" banquet to be held in this district. The Dome Guides entertained their mothers, and sat down with them while a dozen Town Guides waited at table. After the banquet, which had been provided by the girls themselves, a toast to the King was proposed by Capt. I. Donaldson, Guide Annie Cartonic proposed a toast to "Mothers" and Guide Jean Stringer a toast to "Guiding" each speech being well prepared and received. Mrs. Burton, president of the local association spoke on the necessity of girls and mothers being in each others confidence and gave a friendly little talk to both Guides and mothers. Capt. Naish thanked the mothers for their co-operation and gave an account of the conference at Cobalt, telling of new ideas which she got there and which she hoped to put into practice with the Guides here. President Burton presented the Second Class badges to the following Guides—Doris McGinn; Marjorie Costain; Jean Stringer; Mary Curtis; Laura Millions (patrol leader's stripes); Margaret Foster; Violet Hedges; Marion Jordan. Camp-fire and songs finished an interesting, instructive, and friendly evening. The Town Guides are intending a similar banquet in town in the near future.

A very nice and friendly surprise party was given on Sunday night to Mr. and Mrs. George Santa Harju, of Pottsville, at their home. Mr. Harju who has lived here for 12 years, has just finished building himself a new house in Pottsville, and the family have just moved in. This party took them completely by surprise, some forty of their friends from Pottsville and South Porcupine arriving with musical instruments and refreshments, to give them a good old-fashioned housewarming. In addition, the guests presented the new home with two lovely occasional chairs and a chesterfield table. A very enjoyable evening was spent with music, etc., and all report a jolly time.

HOW PLANES AND SHIPS COULD BLOCK MUSSOLINI'S PLANS

As Britain masses its gigantic air force to co-operate with its naval concentration in Mediterranean, observers believe it could bottle up Italian forces and prevent them from waging war in Ethiopia. Presumably, first step would be closing of Suez Canal, compelling Italy to support its expeditionary force by air. In the meanwhile British Armada could speed to Gibraltar, Malta, Suez or any threatened point to support British fleet from attack, by Italian air force. Distances involved are shown in map.

Still Makes Objection to Temagami Timber Sale

The objection to the sale of timber limits in the Temagami forest reserve continues, despite explanations made by Hon. Peter Heenan. One Temagami man writes as follows to the Toronto Mail and Empire:—

To the Editor of The Mail and Empire:—Sir,—It will be with no little surprise and indignation that many citizens of Ontario, as well as a good many people from other provinces and the United States, will learn of the action of the Hon. Peter Heenan in calling for tenders on the cutting of white and red pine and spruce in several sections of the Temagami Forest Reserve.

Part of the area that they are throwing open to logging operations lies along the shore of the northwest arm of Lake Temagami. It is not hard to visualize what that section of the shoreline will look like after a lumbering crew has gone through it. We have seen the same thing happen before in different parts of this province, a beautiful stretch of well wooded forest cut and slashed into a jumble of tops and branches and in a few years the bush fire, inevitable follower of such operations, sweeps through the cut-over area.

In addition to that, this timber will without doubt be driven down Lake Temagami in the spring and for every hundred thousand logs, so driven, there will be one thousand dead heads left floating at random in the lake, a serious menace to navigation of every sort.

The Hon. Peter Heenan states over the radio that only overmature, and such timber as will be in a rotting condition in the near future will be taken. Well, the only pine that is overmature, as he calls it, or in a nearly rotting condition, is already infested with borers and no lumber company is going to pay good money for wormy timber. They are going to take the pick of the standing white and red pine.

The Temagami Forest Reserve comprises one of the last stands of virgin white pine in Canada and the people of Ontario have come to look on it as something to be held in trust for the coming generations to enjoy, as something unique in the way of summer playgrounds. Every year thousands of tourists from the United States and other countries have visited Temagami and their one reason for travelling hundreds of miles to this district is because of the fact that it is entirely different from anything they have at home. Yet the present government, for the sake of a few thousands they will have temporarily in their pockets, are willing to begin sacrificing something that cannot be replaced in the next hundred years nor ever will be replaced.

It is only a fifteen minutes' job to fell a pine but it takes a hundred years to grow one again. Thank you.

F. G. Dinsmore.
Temagami, Ont., Sept. 25, 1935.

Niagara Falls Review:—About all some men have left of their early training is a hymn or two to whistle or hum.

Mail and Empire:—Judging by reports from New York, Max Baer did not take the most punishment in the recent fight, but rather the customers, many of whom paid for ringside seats and found it necessary to have telescopes to see the ring at all. The New York Times says the promoters obtained money under false pretences.
