

Review United Church Summer School Camp

Ten Memorable Days for the Young People of the North Bay, Temiskaming and Cochrane Presbyteries. Attendance also from Brockville, Oshawa, Toronto.

The following extended report of the United Church Summer School held at Camp Lorraine during the past summer has been given. The Advance and is published for its interest to a large number of readers:—

(By E. W. W.)
From Saturday, July 27, to Monday, August 5, were ten memorable days to the young people of the North Bay, Temiskaming and Cochrane Presbyteries, and to some of the young people of our neighbour presbyteries—from such widely scattered points as Brockville, Oshawa, and Toronto. During these ten days Camp Lorraine summer school was held on the beautiful site which is now owned by the young people of these three Presbyteries, and where their annual Summer School is held.

At Pirie's Point, approximately 13 miles by motor car from North Cobalt, is situated this excellent site which consists of 80 acres of rough land much of which is still in its natural state, and which fronts on the lake giving ample variety of shore line. There is to be found the sandy beach, excellent for bathing; a little farther on the vegetation reaches right to the water's edge and the land drops abruptly away into comparatively deep water; still farther along, the rocky shore line with all its interesting shapes of stones, many of which are marked in such a manner that the thoughts of those who examine them are directed back towards the ancient ages when these rocks were molded into their present shapes. The facilities of the camp are exceptionally fine and are being improved each year. The kitchen, with its facilities for handling a large group with comparative ease is a feature. The dining pavilion situated in its elevated position and commanding such an excellent view, is a great asset to the camp. Around the rustic fireplace, that is provided in this pavilion, all the fine camp spirit can be retained regardless of the weather. The chalet which is a two-room bungalow also boasts of a fireplace, and provides the most comfortable billets for the staff members. And then the cabins are also adding much comfort for those who attend camp.

So far, however, I have only mentioned the physical and material features in this excellent project, but for three succeeding years now, the writer has attended this camp and it is not the features that have been mentioned above that have attracted those who come back year after year, but its fine quality of fellowship that is always evident when Christian young people meet under such conditions. There is the spiritual uplift that everyone feels when living so closely in harmony with God's great gifts of natural beauty and Christian fellowship. No more appropriate place could be found for studying the great truths of the New Testament of the Old Testament than in these natural surroundings and the young people have been fortunate in having as their leaders in these studies, such men as Mr. Omond, Dr. Fraser and Mr. Cragg. Mission work is always a feature that is studied at Camp—Mr. Farris with his first hand knowledge of China; Mr. Bruce on Korea; and Rev. George Williams with his experiences in Formosa plus his knowledge of the administration of Missionary Work in the Home Office have all given singular service in this great study at Camp Lorraine. Rev. A. Beecroft of Halleybury, Rev. George Service of Kapuskasing, Rev. Mr. Cragg of New Liskeard, Rev. Gilmour Smith of Cobalt, Rev. John Hutton Uno Park, Rev. P. J. Baine of Huntsville, Rev. Mr. Omond of North Bay, and Dr. Fraser of South Porcupine have all added their talent and experience during the past three years to the work that was done previously and have made the success of the Summer School possible.

A word for our programme: 7 o'clock comes early and the water is cold just then, but everybody is ready for the new day, and camp springs to life. At 7:30 the Chapel lends itself to the spirit of sincere worship among the birches beside the water for Morning Watch. Eight o'clock and everyone is hungry. Then Bible Study, again the Chapel and after a few minutes of recreation Mission Study. A swim, a few games and away to the pavilion for dinner followed by some lusty community singing and then our music. We all recall Mr. Baine and his violin of last year and his interesting talks on music—its origin and those who contributed to it. And Myrtle Bowman this year, with her violin, and all it meant to camp. Afternoon rest followed by group games and then a swim prepares everybody for supper. The evening with its Vesper Talks, Vesper Services, Campfire stunts and community singing all contributed to a perfect end of a perfect day, and each and every camper, though tired, is richer in experience and closer in harmony with Christ's great teaching.

The regrettable feature of our camp is that so few have the opportunity to attend, less than 50 young people from all the hundreds of members in our local societies of the North. Those who attended Camp Lorraine this year all left firmly resolved to come to camp next year if at all possible, and to bring others from their various societies.

Who will be on next year's camp staff? Mr. Cragg of New Liskeard, president; Rev. Gilmour Smith, of Cobalt, business manager; Rev. J. C. Cochrane, of North Bay, our superintendent of Missions in Northern Ontario, mission study; Rev. A. Beecroft will of course be there, and we hope Mr. Omond, Dr. Fraser, Mr. Hutton, Mr. Service, Mr. Baine, and others to whom the camp is greatly indebted will also appear on our next camp staff.

Big Crowds Attend the Chautauquas This Week

Plays on Monday and Tuesday Given Hearty Reception. Programmes for To-day and To-morrow Promise to be Equally Pleasing and Popular.

The Canadian Chautauquas here this week appear to be going over with a bang and promise to be successful in all ways. Monday evening the parish hall of the Church of the Nativity was filled for the comedy drama, "Whit-till," by the L. Verne Slout players. This interesting and amusing play was written and produced by L. Verne Slout who also took the star part in the cast. The play itself and his part in it place Mr. Slout in high place as a dramatist, producer and actor. The supporting cast was also good, especially the part taken by the cantankerous old "Abner." There were some clever lines in the play. One may be quoted: Abner refers to himself as a self-made man and the reply is to the effect that he is a mighty poor mechanic. The crowd thoroughly enjoyed the cleverly-written play and the effective presentation on Monday evening.

Councillor John Morrison introduced the Chautauquas on the opening night, and Miss Smith, the director, thanked Rev. Fr. O'Gorman for allowing the use of the hall and the others who had helped to make a success of the Chautauquas, particularly the committee sponsoring the event.

Tuesday evening the offering by the L. Verne Slout players was "Miss Spit-fire," a rollicking comedy that roused much laughter. It was different to the Monday evening offering in style and treatment, though by the same author and producer. It created much amusement.

The programme for to-day and to-morrow promise the finest of entertainment and should draw capacity houses. For this afternoon there is a prelude by the Kentucky Harmony Players and a lecture "The Great Universe," by Dr. A. D. Carpenter, the noted scientist and astronomer. This evening Dr. Carpenter will give an address on "Old Mother Earth," while melodies from the Southland will be presented by the Kentucky Harmony Players.

To-morrow (Friday) the afternoon will be a special children's entertainment—the wonderful Forsyth Marionettes. In the evening a three-act comedy, "Big Ideas," will be presented by Joan Dixon's Dramatic Artists.

Word from other places speaks in highest terms of the programmes for to-day and to-morrow.

Notable Reception for Hon. Mr. Bennett

Toronto Cheers Him for Fifteen Minutes. Crowded Building and Thousands Turned Away.

Many in Timmins listened-in on the meeting at Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto last night. The enthusiasm exceeded that shown the previous evening at the meeting addressed by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and the Liberal premiers of eight provinces. Last night the building was crowded to capacity and more, and thousands had to be turned away. Hon. Mr. Bennett was unable to start his address for some fifteen minutes on account of the prolonged cheering. His address made a big hit and he swung the audience along with him.

Remarkable Event at Toronto Tuesday

Premiers of Eight Provinces Speak from Same Platform as Liberal Chief at Toronto. 18,000 Present.

There were about 18,000 people present at the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto on Tuesday evening to hear Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in his election address to the people of the Queen City. On the platform with Mr. King were eight provincial premiers. It is the first time in the history of Canada that such a thing has happened. It is also claimed that 2,000 or more people had to be turned away from the Maple Leaf Gardens, because every single seat in the building was taken.

The meeting at Toronto on Tuesday evening was broadcast over a hook-up that covered Canada from Halifax to Vancouver. Scores in Timmins listened-in on the addresses, and report the reception as good.

In his address Hon. Mr. King pledged his party to remove trade barriers and promote export business. Mr. King also spoke on various other questions of the day. Mr. King was given a simply remarkable reception, the huge gathering cheering him to the echo. One Timmins man who heard the cheering over the radio said that it reminded him of the visits paid years ago to the city of Toronto by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Sir Wilfrid was always given a rousing welcome at Toronto, but that was practically all he was given. On more than one occasion Sir Wilfrid remarked on this Toronto scheme of cheering him but voting against him. It is said, however, that the former Liberal premier of Canada and the eight present premiers of provinces were given a reception that for spontaneous enthusiasm overshadowed any similar tribute given to any other public man or group of men in the history of Toronto. The fact that Hon. B. B. Bennett, the premier, has been similarly acclaimed at a half a dozen different centres, including his home city of Calgary, makes it more difficult to draw reliable conclusions from such reception.

The first provincial premier to go on the air was Premier Fattouh, of British Columbia; then the premiers of each of seven other provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Ontario, Premier Hepburn of the provincial premiers being the last to speak before Hon. Mr. King was heard.

Man Who Jumped off Train has Died from the Injuries

Herbert Babineau, the 29 year old Rogersville, N.B., man who made the fatal error of jumping off a T. & N. O. freight train at Englehart on Wednesday night last, died in the hospital at Halleybury on Friday morning. Babineau was in a very serious condition when brought to the hospital, and was found to be suffering from serious internal injuries as well as fractures of the lower limbs.

Matatchewan Man Given Call to French Air Force

According to a despatch from New Liskeard, the Italo-Ethiopian conflict has been reflected in this part of Northern Ontario. A call from Premier Laval, France, for mobilization of former war aviators, was received by J. L. Benson, Matatchewan, ace of France's flying corps during the Great War.

Mr. Benson was in Montreal recently intending to respond to the call, but a medical examination revealed his physical condition would not permit him to rejoin his old corps.
