This is the great Sennar dam built in Egypt to back up and control the waters of the Blue Nile. Britain's interest in the Italo-Ethiopia dispute may well lie in the fact that the source of the Blue Nile reposes in Lake Tsana in the heart of Ethiopia's mountain region. Control of Lake Tsana means control of the Nile. This dam was completed in 1925 at Sennar, in the Anglo-Egyptian Soudan, which is not far from Khartoum, the junction of the Blue and the White Nile.

Gains Made in Three Lines Carry Figure to Level of Basic Year, 1926. Reference was made some weeks ago in the Advance to the charges laid against W. H. Phillips, recently of Ingoldsby, but formerly said to have been the owner of a store at Thornloe. One of the charges arose from the burning of the store at Thornloe, Phillips being charged with arson in this connection. While out on bail of $2000 on this arson charge, Phillips was charged with false pretences in securing an old age pension. The false pretences are alleged to consist in misrepresentations as to his assets at the time of his application for the pension. On this charge of false pretences he was committed for trial at the next assizes, in the meantime being allowed out on the same bail that covers the arson charge.

Bride-to-be Given Many Showers at North Bay

In recent weeks there have been a number of showers given at North Bay in honour of Miss Elizabeth Stockdale, whose marriage to Alvin W. Leach, of Timmins, takes place on Monday of next week. In addition to several similar events in previous weeks, there was a shower on Saturday in honour of the bride-to-be, the following reference being made in The North Bay Nugget on Monday of this week:—

Niagara Falls Review:—One need not always agree with Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, to agree with him that the strongholds of war are countries where there is no free press. When one looks around, one finds the fiercely militaristic nations are Italy, Germany and Japan, and in none of these countries is there a free press or freedom of opinion. In these countries the press has been shackled and changed into propaganda machines for the government or the dictator of the moment. There is a definite connection between the urge for war and lack of knowledge of the true inwardness of the dispute.

Huntingdon Gleaner:—China has announced that after May 1, 1935, anyone in Nanking between the ages of six and 50 who cannot read will be fined. Appalled at the ignorance of the people of the capital, the Chinese authorities have issued a primer of 1000 characters and ordered students to teach the ignorant from it or give up hope of graduation. As half of the population of the city cannot read, the students will be kept busy until the new law goes into effect. The police will be the official examiners, and will stop anyone they wish who if he fails to read the primer, will have to pay the equivalent of half a cent on the spot. The penalty is called the Ignorant People's Tax.

Sault Daily Star: Johnny Chubb, of Mainside, it is related, was fishing in one of the nearby streams that flow into Lake Superior when he heard a noise behind him. Turning, he saw a wolf. Johnny was so surprised that he fell backwards into the stream, and supporting himself on his hands to keep his suit dry, was surprised to find that he had lit on a beaver with one hand and on a trout with the other. The matter was settled amicably by him tossing the wolf the trout. As it is now illegal to take beaver, the animal was returned to the water. The Mail and Empire won't believe this story of course, although an earnest effort has been made here to tone it down for general acceptance.

Many Novelties at Lions' Event Friday

Circus of Frivolity at the Schumacher Croatian Hall, To-morrow Evening. Big Time Assured.

There's guaranteed fun at the Schumacher Lions Circus of Frivolity to-morrow night in the Croatian hall at Schumacher. It begins at 9.30 and with the start it's to get, nobody seems to be able to tell when it will finish. Jimmy Ormston's orchestra has been engaged to supply the music and a large number of novelties have been arranged for the short time between dance numbers.

Lions Club members report that tickets have been selling well all week long, but there are still a few available. Proceeds go to help establish a baby clinic in Schumacher, to erect outdoor rinks for the children of the town and to carry on the work of sight conservation.

One Way to Handle the Car Parking Problem

Down in Oklahoma they have discovered a solution for some of the parking problems which is claimed to do two very desirable things, viz. get rid of the "parking hog" and bring very considerable returns to the civic treasury. Lining the streets in the business section, there have been installed 174 parkometers. Parking in these streets is allowed—for a consideration—but is restricted as to time and the period is measured by the parkometer which is an enclosed timing device, mounted on a pipe standard which is embedded in the sidewalk or curb. The timer is operated by a coin—they're set for nickels now—and at the end of the parking period a red lamp flashes on to attract the attention of a policeman, who gives the auto owner a little while to deposit another nickel, move on—or else. The first 30 days' operations brought financial returns of $2186. Strange to say, this money-making device was invented by an editor. Police state that the plan has proved a great convenience to shoppers, has eliminated

"parking hogs" and has provided sufficient funds to pay for regulating traffic. Enquiries from all over the world have come to Oklahoma regarding the device. Dick Wilding Winner of Canadian Marathon Title Dick Wilding of York A.C., Toronto, won the Canadian marathon championship at Toronto on Saturday when he outsped a field of 48 and covered the distance—26 miles, 385 yards—in two hours, 46 minutes and one second. Vic Callard of Toronto Monarchs A. C., and Wilding's club mate, Fred Bristow, were second and third respectively. Wilding had a time margin of one minute and 58 seconds over Callard who was nearly two minutes ahead of Bristow. Jimmy Bartlett, Oshawa, finished fourth, Jim Shaw of Monarchs fifth, and Norm Dack of Hamilton Olympic Club sixth. Dave Komonen of Sudbury, defending titleholder, was forced out of the race at the 10-mile mark. Komonen raced well up with the leaders most of the way. Try The Advance Want Advertisements

The rise in wholesale prices in the week of September 29 was not maintained in the week under review. Grain prices showed recession, No. 1 Northern wheat averaging 91.1 cents per bushel against 94.2 cents. Each of the coarse grains except flax was at lower levels. The index of non-ferrous metals in Canada rose from 71.7 to 72.06 on a firmer list with copper at a new high. The index of wholesale prices was 72.7 against 72.9 in the preceding week. The gain over the same week of last year was 1.3 per cent. Dominion government bond prices rallied. The bid quotation of five per cent, 1934 bonds was 105 1/2 on Sept. 21. The 4 1/2 per cent, 1944 and 1946 bonds advanced from 103 to 104 1/2 in the same comparison. Advances were shown in bank clearings and speculative trading on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Fort Erie Times Review:—In Russia, a woman factory worker is condemned to death for the theft of a chocolate bar. The punishment recalls the barbarous laws of mediaeval times. A system which inflicts such heavy punishment for a trivial offense must indeed require considerable bolstering. Protagonists of communism in Canada—or agitators, as they should be termed—will find it difficult to obtain converts while such conditions remain.

The funeral of Mervin James Baker, who died at his home at New Liskeard, on Friday, after a prolonged illness, was held Sunday afternoon to the St. John Baptist Church for service, with Rev. F. J. Helps officiating.

Mr. Baker, who was in his 52nd year, had been confined to his home for several months by a serious illness, and although his death was momentarily expected, it came as a shock to many of his friends. Members of the Hill-Clarke-Francis Co., Ltd., fire department attended the service, and accompanied the funeral cortege to the New Liskeard cemetery where burial took place. The pallbearers were six members of the fire department and fellow employees of the deceased man: A. Douglas, George McKelvie, G. Ecken-swiller, W. Raymond, A. Rose and A. Ritchie. Left to mourn the loss besides the widow are four daughters and three sons, Alma, Freda, Glenn, Bruce and Wilfred at home, and Mrs. Russell McNeil, Kirkland Lake, and Mrs. L. Alderice, Matachewan.

In addition to several similar events in previous weeks, there was a shower on Saturday in honour of the bride-to-be, the following reference being made in The North Bay Nugget on Monday of this week:—

"In honour of Miss Elizabeth Stockdale, whose marriage to Alvin W. Leach, Timmins, takes place next week, Mrs. W. J. Stockdale entertained at a largely attended trossou tea Saturday afternoon and evening. Mrs. E. W. Lewis presided at the tea table in the afternoon while Mrs. Homer Stockdale presided during the evening. The table was laid with a beautiful cut-work and lace cloth, centred with a hand-painted vase of yellow chrysanthemums and cream tapers in silver candlesticks. Those assisting in the tea room were Mrs. T. Jackson, Misses Hazel Sage, Catherine Forrester, Muriel Stockdale and Betty Stockdale. Misses Marjorie Cockram, Claribel Francis and Hazel Smith displayed the lovely trossou and numerous wedding gifts in upstairs rooms."

Elsewhere in The Nugget of Monday, there is also the following reference to still another shower in honour of Miss Stockdale:—

"Miss Elizabeth Stockdale was guest of honour Friday evening when Miss Georgina Smith, Worthington street east, entertained at a delightful shower at her home. The evening was spent in sewing dusters which were presented to the honoree. Bridge was played and a honeymoon contest enjoyed, for which Miss Catherine Foster won the prize. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Millicent Smith, her sister.

Chesley Enterprise:—A little grandchild asked the other evening when she came home from school if she would read to us from a book of fairy tales. To this we replied: "No, thank you, dear, we have been reading several fairy tales this afternoon in the dailies by political speakers." Hans Andersen's stories can't compare with the fairy tales of $25 a month to adults, a pension to all workers over 60, and a job at $5000 a year and free hospital treatment to everyone. Children's fairy books should be laid away until after October 14.
