Cercle Canadien Not Criticizing Town Clerk

Officials and Members of French Canadian Club Here Object to Misrepresentation of Recent Meeting and to Unfounded Reflections on Organization.

Messrs. U. Aubry and J. Leclerc, president and secretary respectively of the Cercle Canadien, told The Advance this week that officers and members alike of their club regretted and resented the misrepresentation of a recent meeting of the club and the misleading mis-statements contained in an article published in a local newspaper and purporting to report the meeting. In the first place the meeting was not as suggested in the article a "meeting of ratepayers" as such, though most of those present were ratepayers. It was a regularly called meeting of the Cercle Canadien with the special purpose of discussing and considering the power franchise by-law and other matters of interest to members. Like the meetings of other clubs it was not a public meeting but a private one. While the officers of the club feel that there is nothing secret about their meetings, and that they have nothing to hide, they also believe that they have the same rights as other organizations to hold their own meetings without misrepresentation by outsiders. All present were members, with one exception. There were 75 or 80 members in attendance, not 200 or 300 as reported. The meeting was held in the usual hall and not in St. Anthony's Church, as suggested. There was nothing about the meeting or the calling of the meeting to justify the statement that the meeting took a stand in opposition to the town clerk. "We have no criticism for Mr. Montgomery," said President Aubry, "and resent very keenly the suggestion that the club would interfere in a matter of this kind in the way suggested. Individual members may have expressed opinions, as was their right and privilege in their own private meeting, but Mr. Aubrey made it plain that the members of the club as a whole were friendly to Mr. Montgomery and resented the suggestion otherwise. The statement that the meeting chose candidates for the coming municipal election was equally untrue, Mr. Aubry said. Any mention of municipal politics at the meeting was purely incidental," said Mr. Aubry, "and there was nothing about that line undertaken by the club at all." Mr. Aubry also noted the mis-statement to the effect that Councillor Chateaufort in replying to a criticism of the town clerk in reference to employees now before the court had suggested that the town engineer's department and not Mr. Montgomery's department was to blame. "That is a serious misrepresentation of what was said," declared Mr. Aubry. "Councillor Chateaufort was very fair and very careful in his comment. He urged the British principle that none should be judged guilty of anything until they were proved so. He simply pointed out the facts of the case and urged that blame be withheld until the case was proven."

"It is unfortunate that such misrepresentation should be made," said Mr. Aubry, "and the Cercle Canadien would like the public to understand that this association has not taken any such attitude as imputed in regard to the town clerk or to other matters as falsely reported."

Gov. General's Son Arrives with Lady-in-Waiting

Son of the new Governor-General of Canada, Hon. Alastair Buchan is seen arriving at the Quebec legislative hall accompanying Miss Spencer-Smith, lady-in-waiting to Her Excellency Lady Tweedsmuir. They were present when the vice-regal incumbent was officially welcomed to Canada.

for next year but it is expected that a large part of the work will be done this fall. The softball diamond will not be touched this year but will probably be moved to a turf part of the park in the spring of 1937.
A road is being built as a continuation of Lakeshore road, from the east side of "The Hill" right across the cyanide to the golf course. The present entrance to the golf course from the western boundary will be closed.
The sodding of the cyanide will serve more than one purpose. It will make available a large stretch of level turfed land for park purposes but it will also remove from the town and the mine the nuisance of dust blowing from the slimes.
"It is an expensive project but will undoubtedly be carried through with the same care and attention to detail shown by the Hollinger in other community works."

GRADUATION OF NURSES AT COCHRANE HOSPITAL

Graduation exercises are to be held in Cochrane Nov. 15th, for the final class from Lady Minto hospital. Some time ago, it was decided that the training school at this hospital would be abolished and the younger probationers were transferred to other hospitals to finish their courses. The more advanced pupils, however, were kept in training at Cochrane and having completed their course, graduate this year. The pupils to be thus honoured are Misses Mabel Wright, Louise White and Alice Taylor. The chief speaker on that evening is to be the rector of the Anglican Church at Kapuskasing, Rev. Mr. Atkinson.

Eighty-eight Register for Timmins Boys' Band

Keen Enthusiasm Shown for Boys' Band Here, Sponsored by the Timmins Lions' Club. Co-operation of Parents Desired. Auspicious Start Made.

Eighty-eight boys turned out last night to register in the proposed Timmins Boys' Band, sponsored by the Timmins Lions Club. The boys ranged in age from 9 to 18 years, the average age being about 12. Out of the 88 registering there were 43 who had previous musical training and are able to play some form of musical instrument. This previous experience in music will be a great asset to the boys in the proposed Timmins Boys' Band.
Last night was devoted chiefly to registering the boys who turned out, and arranging for future activities. The boys showed the keenest enthusiasm and all the signs suggest the successful formation of a boys' band here. F. J. Wolno, bandmaster of the Timmins Citizens' Band, and a member of the Timmins Lions Club, will be in charge of the boys' band, and so the boys start out with a remarkable asset in the way of a particularly gifted leader and teacher. W. King, another member of the Lions Club committee was another present last night at the meeting and gave valuable assistance in getting things under way.
The committee of the Lions are formulating plans for the financing of the boys' band and expect to have this all worked out at a very early date. The committee of the Lions solicits the co-operation of all not only in the financing but also in general support. The co-operation of the parents of the boys concerned is specially desired. With this co-operation the fullest success is assured. Without such co-operation the way will be much more difficult.

Of course, it will be impossible to take all the eighty-eight boys registered for active work in the band, especially at the start. Possibly a class of thirty-five or forty will be the largest that can be properly handled at first. F. J. Wolno told The Advance last night after the meeting that while the first class might be forty or less, the others wishing to join would be kept on a waiting list and the band would be recruited from time to time from this waiting list. Possibly at first it will be necessary to limit the active band members to those with previous musical training. This (Continued on Page Eight)

Board Will Not Cut Beverage Permits

While Agreeing that There are Enough in Timmins Now, the Liquor Control Board does not Promise Change.

Although sympathetic with the views of the council on the superfluity of beverage room licenses in the town of Timmins, Z. Mageau, inspector of beverage rooms for the Liquor Control Board of Ontario said on Monday when he met the council that the board could not promise that no more authorities would be issued here.
He did intimate, however, that the board considers there are enough in Timmins at the present time, and it is unlikely that many, if any more, will be allowed to operate.
The matter of beverage rooms was called to the attention of the council a few weeks ago by the Cochrane District Hotel Keepers Association, who stated in a letter that there were more beverage rooms per capita in the town than in any other Ontario centre. Nineteen are already in operation and it is understood that application has been made for five more.

In Serious Condition From Knife Wounds

S. Woon Hong in St. Mary's Hospital Only Making Fair Progress in Recovery from Stabbing. John Wah, Another Chinese Cook, Under Arrest in Connection with the Stabbing.

S. Woon Hong, Chinese cook, recently living at 79 Pine street south, is in St. Mary's hospital suffering from two serious knife wounds, one just above the heart and the other in the stomach. His condition yesterday was not any too favourable, but he had a good night last night and this morning while his condition is reported as unchanged, he has a fair chance for recovery. John Wah, aged 44, another Chinese cook, recently employed as cook at a boarding house at 49 Fifth avenue, is in jail and is being held pending the recovery or otherwise of Woon Hong.
The stabbing occurred at 79 Pine street, south, on Monday evening shortly after six o'clock. At 6:15 p.m. the police were called to 79 Pine street south, where they found Woon Hong suffering from two deep knife wounds, one just above the heart and missing the heart by a small margin, and the other just below the heart. Both wounds seemed to be driven straight in, suggesting a sharp instrument and a powerful thrust. The injured man was hurried to the hospital so that his life might be saved if possible, it being evident that he was seriously injured. Search was then made by the police for the person responsible for the stabbing. At the premises at 79 Pine street the police picked up what appeared to be a knife case made of paper and string. It had apparently been dropped by the user of the knife. There was no sign of the knife that had been used. There was the usual difficulty in securing information, but eventually the police secured a clue and proceeded to 49 Fifth avenue. As they entered the front door John Wah was coming in the back door, which showed that the police lost no time if their theory of their affair is correct. John Wah had with him a kitchen knife about eight inches long. It was a worn knife but sharp and strong. There were marks on the knife suggesting blood stains. Eye witnesses of the stabbing said that Wah had been at the house on Pine street. Wah was taken to the cells and is being held under a section of the Criminal Code pending the recovery or otherwise of the injured man. In case Woon Hong recovers Wah will face a charge of wounding with intent to kill or maim, the extreme penalty for which is life imprisonment. In case Woon Hong dies a murder charge will be preferred. It is not known what caused the quarrel ending in the stabbing of Hong. Various reasons are given, including suggestions that one coming from Canton and the other from Shanghai led to the serious difference of opinion. By the time the trial comes, however, there may be more information available.

Woon's injuries are quite serious and though he seems to have a fair chance for recovery, it will likely be a day or two yet before his chances for recovery are definitely known.
