Remembrance

"They went with songs to the battle.
They were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted,
They fell with their faces to the foe.
They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old;
Age shall not weary them, nor the years
condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them."

Little Hope in Town's Case Against the Mines

Decision in High Court of Justice Goes Against Township of Teck. Timmins Case the Same as Teck's. Courts Seem to Confirm Former Reading of Act.

The case for an increase in income tax from the mines of Northern Ontario, begun by the township of Teck and the Town of Timmins some months ago, looks hopeless now.

Justice Kingsford of the High Court of Justice for Ontario handed down a judgment in Toronto on Thursday that effectively disposes of the township of Teck case against Wright-Hargreaves, Lake Shore and Teck Hughes. Although Dean Kester, counsel for the town of Timmins in the case against the Hollinger, could not be reached, it is unlikely that the town will proceed any farther with its case against the Hollinger, which involves about $50,000 in taxes.

Judge Hayward of the Temiskaming District Court ruled some time ago that the mines were correct in their interpretation of the assessment act in regard to assessment for income, but Teck appealed to the High Court for an injunction prohibiting the mines from acting on that judgment. This has now been refused and it is believed that the battle for higher income tax from the mines is finished. The only remaining action possible is to apply to the provincial government for a change in the reading of the mining tax act.

Three Mining Centres Agree

The three largest gold mining municipalities in the North—Town of Timmins, Township of Tisdale and Township of Teck, agreed during the summer to press their contention that they were entitled to large income taxes from the mines.

The Timmins case which is parallel to those in Kirkland Lake was based on the assumption that the mine, according to the assessment act, should pay one and one-half per cent. on profits up to $2,333,333 and two and one-half per cent. on all profits over that total. The mines claimed that the reading of the act meant that they were to pay one and one-half per cent. on all profits up to $2,333,333, and only one per cent. on all profits over that sum. The additional one-half per cent. on additional profits, would, in the case of Hollinger, mean the payment of an extra $50,000 to the Town of Timmins. To date all mine taxation in the North has been based on the assumption the mines were defending.

Wording of Act Not Clear

The paragraph of the act over which the controversy has been raging is subsection nine of section 40 of the Assessment Act, Revised Statutes of Ontario (1927) Cap. 238: "Notwithstanding anything in this section contained, the income tax payable to any municipality upon a mine or mining work liable to taxation under section four of the Mining Tax Act, shall not exceed one and one-half per centum of the annual profits of the mine or mining work upon which the tax payable under said section four is based, unless the amount of such annual profits exceeds a sum which will yield $35,000 in respect of such income tax when an additional one per centum of such excess annual profits shall be payable to the municipality."

Council Takes Opposite View

The municipalities took the "additional one per centum" to mean the "one and one-half per centum" plus the "additional one per centum," mak-

Leg Broken by Car Starting Suddenly

L. Heil Meets with Accident on Friday Night. In Hospital with Broken Leg.

L. Heil is in St. Mary's hospital with a badly broken leg as a result of an accident on Friday evening last. While on a visit to friends in Moneta he parked his car at the top of a hill. When about to return home he found his car engine was cold and so did not start readily. Thinking the engine would start itself he commenced pushing the car down the hill, being ready to jump into the car and put it into gear. Unfortunately, however, he did not reckon on the steepness of the hill and as he attempted to jump into the car he was thrown to the road and the car passed over his leg, breaking the bone below the knee. The car itself continued down the hill, crossed the road, and continued into a field where it came to a standstill. Mr. Heil was able to drag himself to a nearby house. A call to the police office resulted in a hurry run to the scene and Mr. Heil was taken to the hospital where he is making good progress to recovery from the injury sustained.

To Observe Tenth Anniversary, Legion

Special Celebration of the Tenth Anniversary of the Formation of the Canadian Legion Now Planned

The tenth anniversary of the formation of the Canadian Legion will be marked in Timmins by a special celebration at the Legion hall, it was learned this week. The form the entertainment will take has not actually been decided but it will undoubtedly be a fine one.

The event will take place on Friday, November 28th, and in all probability a concert of some of the leading local talent more especially those from the new Canadian societies will feature the evening. A special for the night will be the radio programme and the address of the Dominion President Alex Ross which is to be carried on the Canadian Radio Commission's coast-to-coast network.

All ex-soldiers will be invited, whether members of the Legion or not.

Annual Fall Dance of the High and Vocational School

Invitations will be mailed within a short time for the annual fall dance of the Timmins High and Vocational School, to be held in the high school auditorium on Friday, November 22nd. Al Pierini's orchestra has been engaged for the affair.

Thousands Observed Remembrance Day Here

All Classes, Creeds and Races Represented in Parade This Morning. Impressive Service at Cenotaph and Scores of Wreaths Placed in Memory of the Fallen Heroes.

Despite the cold morning, nearly two thousand citizens of Timmins gathered at the cenotaph at 11 o'clock to do honour to those who died in the Great War and to remember those who served their country and returned.

"Our men died; our men suffered; and some are still suffering to tell us that the strong nation has no right to usurp the weak, nor the armed nation to demolish the unarmed," said Rev. Bruce Millar in a short address. "They died to tell us that might is not right; no dictatorship of any kind holds any hope for the betterment of the world."

"Even though war clouds are gathering in Europe," said Austin Neame, president of Branch 88 of the Canadian Legion, "let us carry on in the hope that peace will be maintained." Even as he spoke, the clouds that had darkened the sky all morning were swept away and the cenotaph was bathed in a warm glow of light.

"The Legion is coming to you again this year in order that we may have a cenotaph worthy of this town," said Mr. Neame. "Let us forget the war; say some. I say let us not forget the war. Let us remind the coming generation of the futility of war; of the terrible aftermath of war. Let us instill into the minds of those coming up the principles of world peace."

"I am very pleased to see such a grand turnout to-day and to see so many different units of different nationalities responding to the call of this Remembrance Day," said Mayor Richardson, the first speaker for the occasion. "It shows the spirit of friendship and good fellowship which should exist in all municipalities. I believe that here in Timmins we have as mixed a population as there is in the country, yet we have harmony and good fellowship second to no place in the world."

The service opened with the playing of "Fight the Good Fight," by the Timmins Citizens Band. A Scottish lament, played as a pipe solo by Pipe Sergeant O'Neill, followed this. Four members of the Algonquin Rifles, under the command of Lieut. Leo Charlebois, marched up the steps to the cenotaph and remained at "present arms" as the flags of many nations dipped. The Hollinger whistle blew for eleven o'clock and the huge crowd remained silent for two minutes, as did hundreds of thousands of Canadians in other celebrations of a similar kind. Bandmaster F. J. Wolno blew the "Last Post" and, following a short pause, "Reveille." The flags rose again; the town flag in the park was hoisted to full staff.

During the service, the band played two hymns, "Abide With Me," and "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

Following Mr. Neame's address, wreaths were placed on the cenotaph by a large number of organizations. Mrs. Alex Borland Sr. laid the first, the mark of respect from the government of the Province of Ontario. The playing of "God Save the King" concluded the placing of the wreaths.

Warns Against Slick Magazine Salesman

Offers Cut-rate Prices for Subscriptions to United States Publications.

Warning is issued against some slick salesmen pretending to sell subscriptions to different United States magazines but in reality not authorized to collect for these journals. These salesmen have visited several towns in the North and have collected money from a number of people who did not know they had been swindled until they found this out when they wrote the magazines to enquire the reason why they had failed to receive the numbers of the journals for which they had subscribed. The magazine selling racket is one that has been worked repeatedly in the North, and will likely be worked again and again. The police of the several towns have repeatedly given warning. Timmins has escaped easier than some other towns because as soon as the racket was worked elsewhere in the North it would be known that Timmins would likely be included in the itinerary and so preparations could be made to stop any fake soliciting when the salesmen arrived here. A good plan in this matter of subscriptions is to refuse all but local people or those who can present proper authority as representing the publication represented.

Kiwanis Club to Present Musical Comedy Event

Plans are being laid by the Kiwanis club for a musical comedy to be presented at one of the local theatres late in January, it was announced to-day by the club. Local talent will be used in the performance and a skilled director has been engaged.

Many Mentioned for the Coming Municipal Race

Most of the Prospective Candidates, However, Not Ready to Definitely Commit Themselves. Only One Definite Announcement for Mayor and One for Council.

The political pot is beginning to boil in Timmins once again. At present it's no more than simmering, but there should be plenty of steam let off before the end of the week.

The first definite announcement in regard to the coming municipal elections was made by Mayor R. Richardson, first citizen of the town for the past two years. "I am definitely retiring from the mayoralty," he told The Advance. "It takes up a lot of time and I feel that I have done my share of the job."

Asked if he would consider running for council, Mr. Richardson declined to commit himself but admitted that it was a possibility.

In an address over the local radio station on Friday evening, Councillor J. F. Bartleman announced his candidacy for the mayor's chair. "I know the job requires a lot of time," he said "but fortunately I am able to arrange my business affairs so that I will have the necessary time to devote to the job." Mr. Bartleman is at present chairman of the fire and light committee of the council.

Councillor Chateaufort Not Sure Yet

Councillor J. E. H. Chateaufort, chairman of the finance committee of the council for the past two years, and a member for one year previous to that time, is mentioned as a logical mayoralty candidate. "I feel I would be justified in running for mayor," Mr. Chateaufort told The Advance, "but there are circumstances that have yet to be straightened out before I will definitely announce myself. If there are only one or two others stand for the mayoralty, I think I will run." He would oppose Mr. Bartleman for the position, he stated.

Mr. Chateaufort said that the statement made in a local publication that he would accept the mayoralty only if it were an acclamation, is not what he said at the time. What he did say was that he was not sure he would enter the contest, he told The Advance in an interview on Saturday.

W. O. Langdon Will Make Statement

W. O. Langdon, also mentioned as a possible mayoralty candidate was questioned about his intentions. "I haven't made up my mind yet but will within the week," he said. He admitted that he had been approached by a number of people who have asked him to stand.

Dr. S. L. Honey has not given much thought to the matter, he said, although it has been rumored that he would be a candidate. He too, will make an announcement within a week.

Of the members of this year's council, aside from the mayor, it is probable that three will be missing—Mr. Bartleman, Mr. Chateaufort, and Alfred Caron. Mr. Caron says he will not run if he can help it. "I have been approached by quite a few," he told The Advance, "but I have made up my mind that it takes up too much time. I intend, as things are now, to pull out."

Dr. Day, also a member of this year's council, has not made known his intentions yet. He is at present out of town and will not return until the middle of this week.

Councillors Wm. McDermott and John Morrison have not yet announced their intentions.

P. Lacroix, proprietor of the Lady Laurier hotel and director of the Ontario Hotel Keepers Association, will be in the race for council. His candidacy is one of the few that is definite.

Flyer Missing

Here is Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, celebrated Australian flyer, now more than three days overdue on a flight from England to Australia in which he was attempting to break his own time record for the flight. His aeroplane was last sighted out over the Bay of Bengal where it is feared he crashed.

Weather will Stay Cold, and More Snow

That's the Weatherman's Forecast for This Week. "Generally Unsettled," he Says.

The weather will continue cold, the weatherman predicted this morning and there appears to be a strong possibility that there will be more snow this week. "Generally unsettled," was the way he expressed it.

Last night the temperature changed suddenly about midnight. The drizzle stopped and the mercury began to sink. Early this morning it was as low as 13 degrees, but rose to 15 at eight o'clock.

Temperatures have been: Thursday, max. 37, min. 13; Friday, max. 18, min. 8; Saturday, max. 34, min. 14; Sunday, max. 44, min. 15.

The rainfall total has been 61 inches since Thursday, 21 inches of it from 2.30 p.m. to 8.00 p.m. Thursday, and 40 from 8.00 p.m. Saturday to 8.00 p.m. yesterday. Thursday's snowfall was one-eighth of an inch and this morning a trace had fallen.

Schumacher Lady Killed When Hit by Motor Car

Accident on Main Street, Schumacher, on Saturday Night, Results in Death of Mrs. Donald K. MacDonald, Resident in the Camp for Many Years and Highly Esteemed.

Struck by a motor car on Saturday night about 9.30 while crossing the main street in Schumacher, Mrs. Donald K. MacDonald died almost instantly. The car was driven by Harvey Perreault, 19-year-old Timmins youth.

Ice on the windshield of the car is given as the primary cause of the accident. Perreault had been driving with the door of his car open in order to see the road ahead, he told police, and when about 150 feet from the intersection past the west end of Schumacher, thought he had grazed a car. He stopped instantly and found Mrs. MacDonald on the road. Medical aid was summoned at once, but it was too late.

It is believed that she did not see the approaching car, and crossed in front of the automobile.

The late Mrs. MacDonald had been in the camp for a number of years, coming here to join her husband, Donald K. MacDonald, who was employed here for some time before bringing his family from their native Scotland. Mr. MacDonald, who has been in poor health for the past two or three years, is at present in Scotland on a visit for the benefit of his health. Two daughters, Miss Mary MacDonald, residing at the family home, 114 First avenue, Schumacher, and Mrs. Keene, of Gold Centre, Schumacher, and a son residing in the Old Country, are among the near surviving relatives. The family have nests of friends in Tim-

Kiwanis Buy Land for Fresh Air Camp

Thirty Acres Bought by Timmins Service Club at Barber's Bay for Camp for Boys.

Thirty acres of land has been purchased by the Kiwanis Club at Barber's Bay, it was learned to-day. Hundreds of Timmins boys will benefit from the club's purchase, since the site is to be converted into a "fresh air" camp next summer and will be operated for two months, it is understood.

Schumacher Community Night Classes Popular

Increased Registration in Each of the Groups Makes Changes Necessary in the Timetable. Continued Enthusiasm on the Part of Membership Assures Success.

Night classes for adults at the Schumacher high school are proving more popular with Schumacher people than was hoped when the idea was first broached.

The increased registration in each of the groups makes certain changes in the time-table necessary. Because several are registered in the English class who do not understand English very well while others registered in that class have a fair knowledge of the language, the school is establishing two classes in English—the class for those who already know something of the English language will begin at 7.30 p.m.; the class for beginners will commence at 8.45 p.m. It is the desire of the school that this information be passed around so that every man or woman wishing to learn English will know that these classes are being offered at the High School every Wednesday night at the times mentioned, and every Sunday afternoon from 2.00 to 4.00 p.m. The classes are free and are in the charge of Mr. Smook who has had several years of experience in this work.

The membership in each group is large enough to permit the immediate organization of the year's work. It must be remembered that the members of the various groups themselves are to provide the instruction. While leaders have been obtained for each of the activities, final success depends upon the enthusiasm and co-operation of each individual member.

Those who are interested in athletics should bring running shoes with white soles, and, if possible, a gym outfit.

The members of the needlework group should bring work with them. If possible bring some material with which to make rugs because a part of the hour will be devoted to a discussion of this art.

The topic for discussion in the Civics group is the "Political Organization of Canada," and the discussion will include a consideration of the various political parties.

The following is the timetable for the night:

7.00—8.00—Athletics for the ladies.
7.00—8.00—Needlework group. (This group may carry on as long as the members wish.)
7.30—8.45—English class for those who already understand some English.
8.00—8.40—Civics and Citizenship.
8.00—8.40—Music.
8.40—9.20—Drama.
8.45—10.00—English class for beginners.
9.00—10.00—Athletics for men.

"If you intend to take these classes," Mr. Blake said in a statement to those interested, "please register immediately, and come prepared to take part in the work. Do not wait to see what we are going to do; come and help to decide the issue yourselves. It is your night, not ours; the work will be what you make it."

Wednesday is Community Night in Schumacher. Place—Schumacher High School; time—7.00 to 10.00 p.m.

Lived Five Days with Deep Cut in His Heart

S. Woon Hong Died Saturday Afternoon from Results of Being Stabbed on Monday Evening. Post Mortem Showed Cut Half-inch Deep and Inch Long on the Heart. Murder Charge to Follow.

S. Woon Hong died at St. Mary's hospital on Saturday about 5 p.m., five days after he had been stabbed with a knife while at 79 Pine street, south. There were two knife wounds, one above and one below the heart. It is understood that the wound above the heart punctured the lung, and the post mortem held Saturday evening also showed that the upper wound included a cut on the heart about three-quarters of an inch deep and an inch long. That the man lived so long after such injuries showed his remarkable vitality and the skill and care given him after the injuries had been received.

Within a very short time after the stabbing on Monday evening last the Timmins police arrested and held John Wah, another Chinaman, in connection with the stabbing. They found in Wah's possession a knife that they believe was used in the stabbing. Wah, who has been held in jail here pending the recovery or death of Hong, will now face a charge of murder.

The Semi-Weekly Smile

In a country newspaper appeared the following advertisement:—
"The man who picked up my wallet in the High Street was recognized. He is requested to return it."
The next day this reply was published:
"The recognized man who picked up the wallet requests that the loser call any time and collect it."
