Term of Two Months for Fake Hold-up

have accepted the car when the starter was fixed, but was to have paid for the putting in of windows himself. According to Bouliane, Morin was to have put the car "in good shape."
Morin claimed he had paid $250 for the car last year, although it is of a make that has not been on the market for some years. He valued Bouliane's team at $200.
After the taking of a great deal of evidence Magistrate Atkinson instructed Bouliane: "Put the horses back where you got them. I do think it's only reasonable that the least Morin can do is pay for the glasses. The case appears to have arisen more from pure ignorance than anything else."
Stole Blanket From Car
Joseph Beaton admitted having stolen a gray blanket from a parked car. He will spend the next 30 days in jail. He was convicted earlier in the day of being drunk.
"I told him the horse he had bought was no good," said a boy who charged a young man with having assaulted him. "He hit me once in the chest."

"He called me names and he hit me first," said the defendant in his turn. "Go home and behave yourselves," ordered the magistrate. "When I was that age we had fights and didn't need a police court."
Conducts Own Defense.—Wins
J. Rosario conducted his own defence in a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Although the police had plenty of proof of traffic, the case was dismissed. "Traffic might mean another kind of business," said his worship. "The liquor must be connected somehow."
Constable Downey told of having noticed many taxis deposit their loads at 264 Spruce street south and of the raid in which he had taken part. A part bottle of Scotch had been found in the place after one door was broken down to gain entrance.
"When we arrived they turned off the lights and barred the door," said the constable.
Bureau had told him he hadn't had a job for two years, Deputy Chief Saley testified.
"Was I on oath at the time I said that?" asked Bureau through Sergeant Gagnon who acted as interpreter for him when he asked the magistrate that all the evidence should be interpreted to him as it was given.

"I didn't swear him, your worship," said the deputy chief.
"You can go," said the magistrate at the conclusion of the case, to Bureau. "Don't tell him that," he added to the interpreter.
Bureau needed no interpreter for that remark. He left quickly.
Max Brandwein, who had occupied the place up to the time that Bureau took it over, pleaded guilty to having kept liquor for sale and was sentenced to three months in jail. The place was made public for one year.
Keep Liquor for Sale
Norman Simpson pleaded guilty to having kept liquor for sale at 173 Balsam street north and was sentenced to three months in jail. The place was also made public for one year.
Joseph Forget is still too ill to appear in court to answer a charge of keeping liquor for sale. His case was again adjourned one week. He may never be well enough to stand trial, the court was told.
Neva Barrett and Marcelle Odette, released on $50 bail, failed to appear to answer charges of vagrancy. Their bail was estreated and bench warrants issued for their arrest.
A vagrancy charge against another woman was withdrawn and a "drunk" charge substituted, to which she pleaded guilty.
Two young men, charged with vagrancy last week, but who were given a week to leave town, did not answer to their names.
John Beaton took 30 days in jail for consuming liquor in a public place.
Altogether, eight first offence drunks were fined $10 and costs or 30 days, and one second offender, Eddy Mc-

Evoy, took 30 days in jail.
One man from South Porcupine had his $25 bail estreated and in addition a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. He is charged with being drunk.
C. Lemieux had been partly under the influence of liquor when picked up by police and charged with reckless driving, he admitted. He paid $25 and costs.
One speeder paid $10 and costs, and other $5 and costs. One charge of driving without a permit was adjourned when the defendant stated he had had a permit but lost it and had applied for a renewal.
A minor assault case under a town by-law brought a fine of $5 and costs.
Joseph Henry Pescod Dies at His Home in Cobalt
Joseph Henry Pescod, who had lived in Cobalt for many years, died at his home there on Sunday night from heart trouble. He came home from the Artfield Mines where he had been engaged as cook, some two weeks ago. Mr. Pescod, who was 57 years of age at the time of death, was born in England, coming to Canada when a young man. After living for a time in Toronto he moved to Cobalt in the early days and followed the business of cook at mining properties in the district. He was well-known and had many friends, having served as cook at many of the mine properties in the Silver Camp. He was a member of the Masonic Order. The funeral took place under the auspices of Silver Lodge A.F. and A.M. on Wednesday and was largely attended. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Hilton at home, and Jack at Red Lake.

Terms of New Trade Treaty with U.S.A.

Summary in Brief of the Agreement Made Between Canada and the United States.
Countries signing—United States and Canada.
Effective date—January 1, 1936.
Expiration date—December 31, 1938, if either country serves six months' advance notice.
Canada Agrees to:
Make concessions on goods accounting for three-fourths of U.S. dutiable exports to Canada in 1929-30. Duties are cut on 180 commodities, some of the leading concessions being:
Reductions on wheat (from 30 to 12 cents a bushel); off-season fresh vegetables (50 per cent.); vegetables imported in marketing season (35 per cent.); most classes of farm machinery (50 per cent.); industrial machinery (35 to 25 per cent.); mining and textile machinery, radios (30 to 25 per cent.); electric refrigerators, tinplate manufactures, dressed lumber, building materials, motor vehicles, cotton fabrics, furs, chemicals, silk fabrics, cotton manufactures, electrical apparatus.
Also rate cuts on oranges, grapefruit, nuts, iron and steel manufactures.
An agreement to place magazines and potatoes on the free list.
A pledge to grant the United States, on 767 articles, the lowest rates paid by any non-British country.
A promise to seek legislation to permit Canadians visiting the United States to carry $100 in American goods duty-free back to their homes each month.

A pledge to liberalize the system of establishing arbitrary valuations on American products. (United States officials considered these valuations equivalent to higher and unreasonable duties).
A promise to keep raw cotton on the free list and to put tractors on that list.
United States Agreed:
To grant concessions to Canada on 79 major commodities which amounted to two-thirds of America's imports from Canada in 1929. Chief among these concessions were: Tariff slash on 4-year-old whiskey from $1 to 50 cents per fifth of a gallon.
Reductions in duties on specified quotas of beef cattle (from 3 to 2 cents per pound on animals over 700 pounds); dairy cows (2 1-2 cents to 1 1-2 cents); cream (56.6 cents to 35 cents per gallon); white or Irish seed potatoes (75 to 45 cents per 100 pounds); Douglas fir and western hemlock (50 per cent.); some of the quotas, which include imports from all countries, are 155,000 beef cattle; 20,000 dairy cows; 1,500,000 gallons of cream; 250,000,000 board feet of fir and hemlock.
Also reduced duties on lumber and timber or other kinds; cheddar cheese, turnips, apples, hay, maple sugar, live poultry, horses, halibut and some other fish; some leathers and ferromanganese.

A pledge to keep on the free list Canadian pulpwood, newsprint, unmanufactured wood, shingles, lath, lobster, certain furs, crude asbestos, artificial abrasives and fertilizers.
A promise to maintain the present 10 per cent. duty on feedstuffs for animals.
Scope of American concessions:
All reductions in American duties on Canadian products will be extended to all other countries except Germany, which has denounced its most-favoured nation pact with the United States.
Local Mining Institute to Meet To-morrow Night
A good attendance of mining men of the Porcupine is expected to-morrow night at the Empire hotel at 8.15 o'clock when the first of the winter series of meetings of the local branch of the C.I.M.M. will be held. The address to be delivered by Mr. Dick of the Ingersoll Rand company is to be on mine hoists.
