Iroquois Falls Rector to go to Saskatchewan

Word last week from Iroquois Falls is to the effect that Rev. Roy Manwaring, who has been in charge of St. Mark's Anglican Church, Iroquois Falls, for the past seven years, has accepted the pastorage of the Anglican Church at Battleford, Sask., and will leave the Falls on January 7th to take up his new duties. The leaving of Rev. Mr. Manwaring will prove a serious loss to Iroquois Falls. Rev. Mr. Manwaring has been active in many community affairs at Iroquois Falls. His sermons in Boy Scout work, for instance, has won him hosts of friends and admirers. He was personally popular at Iroquois Falls and his place will be hard to fill. Rev. Mr. Manwaring was formerly stationed on the Yukon, but later moved to Edmonton where he was on the staff of Emmanuel College. The children at the Children's Aid Shelter are pleased this week at the kindly gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cuthbertson who sent them a big hamper of fine apples for Christmas. The youngsters agree that the apples are great, and they act as if they were sure of it.

Very Gratifying Sale of Christmas Seals Here

Eighty per Cent. of Letters Sent Out have Been Answered Committee Hopes to Hear from Many Yet. Porcupine Tuberculosis Association's Campaign has been Educative and Helpful.

The sale of Christmas seals by the Porcupine Tuberculosis Association is meeting with considerable success. Of the letters sent out to date about 80 per cent. have been answered and most of the answers have been accompanied by currency or cheques. Some of those to whom seals were mailed replied that they could not afford to take a whole dollar's worth, but they were taking part of a dollar's worth. This is particularly gratifying in that it shows that the sender really wanted to help to the best of his ability and that he appreciated the fact that the work was worth assisting.

The largest personal contribution came from a man who at first was not in sympathy with the work but who took the trouble to make intelligent enquiry regarding its scope and then sent in a most generous cheque. This is gratifying as it shows that the association will stand the closest investigation as to its methods and its manner of expending the funds received.

All of the important producing mines have made substantial contributions while others have signified their intention of contributing.

The bigger business houses have made contributions and the larger business men. Lesser business houses, it is necessary to admit, have not given proportionate support, but it is hoped that they will contribute as much as they can before the campaign closes. Many persons to whom stamps have been mailed have made no return of seals or of funds. The committee in charge of the campaign would greatly appreciate hearing from these persons. If they cannot afford the dollar, it is no disgrace to return the stamps or such part of them as they cannot purchase.

The sum required for the work in view for the coming year has not yet been received, but it will not take a great deal more to make it up, so that it is to be hoped that all who have not responded to the request to make contributions will do what they feel they can afford to do.

It is a curious thing that many persons who are employed on public funds have informed the committee that they have made contributions to the funds in other districts. While such loyalty to the old home has commendable aspects, the committee feels that it is a debatable point whether this is exactly fair to the community supporting those persons.

It is also a curious thing that some of the business firms which maintain a branch business in this district have not contributed to the local fund. They may be contributing elsewhere, but the fact remains that some support should be given to the district wherein they do a very large business.

It is particularly hoped that the clever children of parents who do not read English will call the attention of their parents to the protection that the association gives all and will ask their parents to take at least a small part in the campaign by buying such seals as they can afford from the various places where they are on sale.

Christmas Concerts at South Porcupine

Concert in South End United Church. Concert by Pupils of South End Public School.

South Porcupine, Ont., Dec. 22rd, 1935. Special to The Advance.

There have been so many children's Christmas concerts given this week in Sunday and Public schools that it is impossible to give an extensive "write-up" of them all.

The concert in the United Church on Wednesday was a credit to any Sunday School. The children were so well-behaved and the little girls so pretty in their Christmas "dress-ups"!

Tiny children were wonderfully quiet and round-eyed with amazement as their brothers and sisters were up there on the platform singing and "speaking pieces." Admiring parents and friends filled the church literally to overflowing.

The true Spirit of Christmas, which did not fail to bring in the real Christmas story of the Mother and Child, was present too, and very effective in its influence. The following is a complete programme of the concert:—

Christmas hymns everybody standing to sing. Invocation, Rev. Dr. Fraser. Address of Welcome, Terry Wilson. Piano Solo, by Betty Couch. A Christmas Story, by Mrs. Coffey's

Class and Betty MacIntosh. The Sandman's Coming, Miss Armstrong's Class and Betty Cameron. Violin Solo, by Hilda Harry. The Sunshine Club, by Mrs. Purdy's Class. Ten Little Stockings, Miss Brown's class. A Fandamine entitled "Silent Night," by Mrs. Smith's Class. Solo part taken by Annie Kelly. Doll Exercise, by Miss Wanless' Class. Great Men, by Mr. Kelly's Class, some of the boys. The Enchanted Boxes, by Mrs. Weir's Class. Star Drill, by Mrs. Purdy's Class; singing parts by Viola Laffin and Joyce Coffey, durt; Betty McIntosh. Superintendent's Remarks, Mr. R. S. Ship.

All school sings "Jingle Bell's," first verse and chorus, while waiting for Santa Claus. Santa arrives. Distribution of treats. National Anthem. Dr. Fraser, chairman. Christmas Programme of Public School Pupils. Thursday afternoon saw us at the High School to witness the Christmas programme of the public school children who are being taught there by Misses Cummings, Walker and Higgins. We saw there the thing that has moved us (and others) more than anything else in these Christmas entertainments.

It was the "Story of the Christ Child's Birth," told beautifully in pageant and carols, with the small children seeming to feel the necessity for reverence, as they spoke and sang: "It came upon a midnight clear," "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks," "Away in a Manger," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "We, Three Kings of Orient Are," and "Holy Night."

Three children—the little girl Doris Gannon, who made the angel—Audrey Jamieson, who made a most beautiful and calm Madonna—and Terry Pullin, who played a trumpet solo.—stand out as very wonderful little people, to do so very efficiently, something that could have been utterly spoiled by a wrong word, smile, or note.

Terry has the makings of a real trumpeter or cornetist; he played "Holy Night" as well as we have ever heard it played. And altogether we were very much impressed by the pageant.

A little play, "Cinderella," was most capably performed. Little Donna Reed, as Cinderella, looked marvelous in her beautiful green (crepe paper) frock which blended so nicely with her copper curls, and the ugly sisters were only ugly in their manner. Peggy McLellan thoroughly enjoyed herself in trying to be nastiest ugly sister, but she didn't fool anybody—she only succeeded in being a very charming young person. The stepmother (Bethel Boves) and Teresa Smith as the other ugly sister were both well played. A charming minuet with little boys in court (paper) suits, and little girls in beautiful (paper) dresses were very pretty.

Mary Harper in blue, Mary Elizabeth Pearce in mauve, Minnie Rabeaca, Helka Salanen, and Wilma Mawhiney in pastel shades, with John McLellan, Cyril Freeman, Bobby Tomchick, Paul Joki and Oliver Hukkela as the courtiers, were the dancers.

Paul Pearce acted the part of Prince as a prince would. The Godmother was Helka Salanen.

"The Little Irish Girl," costume song by Leslie Costello and Ruth Steeves was wonderfully done.

John Mozda danced a Russian dance; Hilda Harry played a violin solo, as did Stewart Reed; and Billy Lamb gave the flag salute in the opening number.

Mr. S. Kennedy was present as chairman.

Christmas Day Services at St. Matthew's Church

Christmas Day services in St. Matthew's Anglican Church will be held at 8:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. At both these services there will be celebration of the Holy Communion. Special Christmas music has been arranged for the 11:00 o'clock service.

The Watchnight service on New Year's Eve, a popular service in Anglican churches, will be held this year as usual, on Tuesday, December 31st, at 11:30 p.m.
