Address on late King at Schumacher Lions

Big Brotherhood Movement Being Sponsored by Schumacher Club. Other Activities.

"The Life of King George," was the subject of an address delivered last night at the Schumacher Lions Club by H. F. Hisecks, inspector of public schools. The subject matter of his speech was most complete and was delivered in an interesting manner. The inspector was introduced to the club by W. Wylie.

Schumacher Lions are preparing a big brotherhood movement in which a large number of Schumacher boys will have the opportunity of joining. The ultimate object of the club is to establish a club for the boys in the town.

An amateur night will be held in Schumacher under the direction of the Lions Club in the near future, it has been announced. Further details will be made known next week.

A Valentine's Day dance on February 14th is to be held in the Croatian hall. A splendid programme has been arranged and a good turnout is expected.

To Follow Example of His Royal Father

King Edward VIII Pledges Constitutional Rule and Asks Support of His Loyal People.

The following is the full text of the address by His Majesty Edward VIII at the proclamation of his accession to the throne before the Privy Council at London on Tuesday:

"Your Royal Highnesses, My Lords and Gentlemen—The irreparable loss which the British Commonwealth of Nations has sustained by the death of His Majesty, my beloved father, has devolved upon me the duty of sovereignty.

"I know how much you and all my subjects and, I hope I may say, the whole world, feel for me in my sorrow and I am confident in the affectionate sympathy which will be extended to my dear mother in her overpowering grief.

"When my father stood here 26 years ago, he declared that one of the objects of his life would be to uphold constitutional government. In this I am determined to follow in my father's footsteps and to work as he did throughout his life for the happiness and welfare of all classes of my subjects.

"I place my reliance upon the loyalty and affection of my peoples throughout the Empire and upon the wisdom of their Parliaments to support me in this heavy task, and I pray that God will guide me to perform it."

Duly Proclaimed King As Edward the Eighth

Former Prince of Wales Follows in Father's Footsteps in Pledging Constitutional Rule. Sketch of the Life of the Present King.

At London, England, yesterday morning in a ceremony almost as old as England itself, the royal son who but a day or so before had been Prince of Wales, was formally proclaimed—"Edward the Eighth, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland, and the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India. The ceremony was broadcast from London and many in Timmins were at their radios at five o'clock Canadian standard time, to hear the broadcast. Lords temporal and spiritual swore allegiance to the new king. Before the Privy Council in whose presence the ceremony takes place, the Lord Mayor of London being also present for the occasion, King Edward VIII spoke of the grief at the death of his father, the emotion he experienced at the words of sympathy from all parts of the globe, he pledged the same devotion to constitutional rule that had been given by his royal father.

A sketch of the new King's life may be of particular interest.

The new king is the eldest son of King George V. and Queen Mary, when they were known as Duke and Duchess of York. The prince was born at White Lodge, Richmond park, on June 23rd, 1894 and was baptized 23 days later Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David. The tutor appointed in 1902 remained with the young prince until 1914. In the meantime the prince had been prepared for the Navy. In 1911 he was made a Knight of the Garter and on July 13th, 1911, after his father's accession he was created Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, and shortly after made Duke of Cornwall. He was invested as Prince of Wales in Carnarvon Castle, and on this occasion for the first time an English prince addressed the Welsh people in their own tongue. Shortly after he became a midshipman on H. M. S. Hindustan, in which ship, he served three months. During the spring of 1912 he spent five months in Paris and was coached in the language and history of France. He entered Magdalen College, Oxford, taking part in all activities and mixing freely with his fellow students. He left college in 1914. In the meantime he had paid several visits to Germany, Norway, Denmark and other nations. On Aug. 7th, 1914, he was gazetted to the Grenadier Guards. In 1914 he went to France as aide-de-camp to Sir John French at St. Omer. He served with distinction on practically every battle front. In 1918 he was attached to the Canadian Corps, with whom he was serving at the time of the armistice. On his return to England in February 1919 the prince took up a number of public duties that had been deferred during the war. On August 5th, 1919, he left Portsmouth in H.M.S. Renown for Newfoundland and Canada. On his visit to Canada he was everywhere received with the greatest kindness and affection. After the Canadian tour he paid a short official visit to the president of the United States at Washington, as well as visiting New York. In the next few years he visited—New Zealand, Australia, San Diego, Honolulu, Fiji, Gibraltar, Malta (where he opened the first Maltese parliament), Aden, Mandalay, Bombay, Singapore, Hong Kong, Tokio, Manila, Borneo, etc., etc.

In 1923 he paid a visit to Brussels in order to dedicate the monument erected by the British government to show gratitude for kindness to British prisoners of war after the armistice. He then revisited the battlefields of France and Flanders. On Sept. 5th, 1923, he sailed for Canada on a private visit to his famous ranch in Alberta. In 1924, as president of the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, he received King George at the opening ceremony. Later in the year he returned to his ranch in Canada for a visit. In 1925 he visited West and South Africa, South America, Cape Verde Islands, etc. In 1927 he visited many of the industrial centres of Canada as he had done in many years past. The same year saw him in Canada again. In reference to the travels of the former Prince of Wales, it may be said that he visited practically every part of the globe, every nation enjoying the visits thus made. Some indication of the pressure of his public life is given by the fact that in May 1928, an aeroplane was placed at his disposal for travelling on his official duties. He and his brother left for South Africa in the same year.

Nomination Meeting I.O.D.E. This Week

Resolution Passed of Sympathy to Queen and Royal Family in the Death of King George V.

The Timmins Golden Chapter of the I.O.D.E. held their combined monthly and nomination meeting on Monday of this week.

The Chapter deeply regretted that the sad news of the passing of our beloved sovereign, King George V., arrived just half an hour before the meeting and did not permit time to cancel the meeting.

The meeting opened with the presentation of the chapter's flag at half-mast.

The Regent read the prayer of the Order including a clause for the comfort of Her Majesty the Queen and the Royal Family in their great bereavement.

A minute's silence was then observed. Only the necessary business was transacted.

A resolution of sympathy on behalf of the Chapter to the Queen and Royal Family is to be sent to I.O.D.E. headquarters to be included in the Dominion sympathies.

The Chapter also regretted the passing of an early member, Mrs. J. T. Hefferman.

The regent on behalf of the Chapter welcomed four new members, Mrs. Cuthbertson, Mrs. Lawry, Mrs. Cain and Mrs. Barnes.

The educational secretary, Mrs. T. E. Pritchard, had just completed the plans for a scholarship for 1936 in the local High School, assumed at the December meeting.

Nominations were then taken for officers for the coming year.

Two appeals the child welfare committee received just before Christmas have been duly attended to.

North American Life Co. Continues Good Progress

At the annual meeting of the North American Life Assurance Company at Toronto on Monday the reports, financial statements and addresses indicated that the company had had a successful year and that the company was continuing its steady progress and expansion. The finances were in eminently satisfactory condition with the interests of the policy-holders most carefully guarded.

In the address by the president of the company, T. Bradshaw, reference was made to the proud record of the company in its 55 years of service. In referred to Canada's stability and continuity, Mr. Bradshaw instanced the cases of the Hudson Bay Co., the Bank of Montreal, the C.P.R. and other institutions of long life and usefulness in the growth of the company. Mr. Bradshaw quoted figures to show that, while affairs beyond the Dominion and especially overseas, with the notable exception of Great Britain, have not shown much, if any betterment, it was gratifying to note the material improvement which has taken place in Canadian business and affairs. To maintain and hasten the recovery, he pointed out, it will be necessary to hold fast to the reputation earned through the years for strict adherence to honesty and the fulfillment of obligations as a people as well as individually. He warned against superficial thinking and any attempt to evade obligations.

D. E. Kilgour, general manager, noted in his address that there had been notable increase in the company's new business during the year. There was an increase of over $10,519,549 in the business of the company for the year. He referred to the sound position of the company and the many services given policyholders.

All Slot Machines Disappear in Town

Following Complaints Police Warn Against Devices Used for Gambling Purposes.

Recently there have been complaints in regard to slot machines in town used for gambling purposes. Special objection has been taken to the fact that boys and others have been allowed to use these machines with the objectionable results that might be expected. Recently the number of these machines had increased to a great number, some places having two, three and even four of the devices. Some of the machines were partly games of skill but even these had gambling features that gave them their chief attraction. Others were purely gambling devices. In some cases there would be an actual line-up waiting to play the machines. As soon as complaints were made the police investigated and warning was given. A couple of the machines were seized. This was all the warning that seemed to be needed. Last week there were literally scores of these machines in town in stores and other places. Today there is not one to be seen. All have been taken away and either stored or shipped from town. Several in town have been making good money by renting out these devices.
