Writers' Club Hopes to Aid Literary Men

Plan to Publish Stories that Appear Worthy. No Pay for the Stories, but Royalties Assigned.

From the Writers' Club, Toronto, The Advance has received a letter and circular in regard to a plan adopted for helping young authors. The plan includes the publishing of a magazine which will print stories by young Canadian authors who would otherwise be unable to introduce their stories to the public. The venture is not a profit-making one for the Writers' Club, indeed the club is prepared to lose money in the plan, and intends to bear all costs of publication. The details of the plan are announced as follows by the Writers' Club:—"Canadian short-story writers will have an opportunity of procuring publication of their efforts through a non-commercial venture of the Writers' Club, Toronto. The Writers' Club, stimulated by E. J. O'Brien, famed compiler of the "Best Short Stories" each year, has decided to finance a publication to be known as "Fiction." Mr. O'Brien will be advisory editor, and the manuscripts will be read by ten persons. "The purpose of the publication is to discover the writer and to help the writer discover his market. The so-called formula type of story, for which there is already a commercial market, is not sought. "Fiction," says the announcement from the Writers' Club, will not pay for contributions, but the publication will be copyrighted and the copyright for each contribution will be vested in the author so that if it has a future market value that value will accrue to the writer. The Writers' Club will pay printing and other costs. There will be no advertising and it is stated that profit is not the objective. The limited edition will be circulated largely among editors throughout the world.

"Mr. O'Brien has consented to act as advisory editor, and to give these stories consideration in making his annual selection and listing. It is hoped that in this way "Fiction" will prove a really successful means of developing the art of the short story in Canada. In the United States, one non-commercial magazine of this type has served to gain permanent recognition for half-a-dozen front-rank short story writers in that country. "Manuscripts of not more than 5000 words should be mailed to the Manuscript Editor, Writers' Club, 1606 Northern Ontario Building, Toronto."

under Coroner F. C. Evans on Wednesday afternoon next. Miss Nelda Sky of Sky's staff left on Friday for Toronto and Philadelphia. Mrs. Herrington is spending some weeks in Toronto, Windsor and Hamilton. We are sorry to hear that Mr. J. Trueblood is very sick with what is supposed to be an attack of scarlet fever. Mr. Eilo Silminen who has been away for the past three months taking treatments for rheumatism is back in camp, much better in health. The little Consumers' orchestra will now take up their studies and practice again under Mr. Salminen's tuition. On Tuesday next at 10.30 a.m. a united community memorial service is to be held in our high school auditorium. Timing it as nearly as is possible to be synonymous with the funeral rites of His late Majesty King George V, this service is open to all loyal subjects of the King, regardless of creed or tongue. It will be conducted by Drs. Woodall and Fraser and hymns, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," "Abide With Me," and "For All the Saints" will be sung. Prayers will be said and addresses given. Those who can lead the singing are requested to sit as near the piano, which will be played by Mr. M. Smith. This memorial service has been arranged for the high school auditorium on account of its size, and as an official holiday has been proclaimed for the Dominion, undoubtedly it will be filled to capacity.

Address on King George and King Edward at H.S.

At Timmings High and Vocational School on Friday morning there was an address of special interest and value. Austin Neame, president of the Timmings branch of the Canadian Legion and zone representative for the Legion in the North, speaking to the pupils assembled in the large auditorium on the life and work of the late King, His Majesty King George V, with a few added words on the character and ability of the present King, His Majesty King Edward VIII.

Drug Stores to Remain Closed Tuesday Morning

Timmings drug stores will remain closed to-morrow morning and until two o'clock in the afternoon on Tuesday, it was announced over the weekend. Other Timmings stores will remain closed all day, but on account of the many necessities handled by the drug stores, it was thought advisable to have them re-open early in the afternoon.

Our heads are bowed in sorrow . . . we mourn the loss of a good and beloved sovereign, King George the Fifth.

Promoting Consumers' Co-operative Movement

Guild for Social and Educational Work Organized in Timmings. Guild Movement Considered of Great Value. Plan has been Successful in England, Scotland, Wales.

A friend of The Advance has submitted the following and it is gladly given space as of interest and importance to the community. Many in this district have been interested for many years in the co-operative movement, and the success of the Consumers' Co-operative Society in Timmings, South Porcupine and Schumacher shows how effectively and profitably the co-operative plan may be made to work for the members of a consumers' co-operative association. The following is the article telling about the formation of a Consumers' Co-operative Guild:—"It is anticipated that the Consumers' Social and Educational Guild of Timmings will carry on its work along these same lines. Although the Consumers' Co-operative Society, Ltd., is one of the largest consumers co-operative societies in Canada and its speedy growth has broken all records, it is admitted that very much has still to be done to educate the public so that they will understand the fundamental ideas of Consumers' Co-operation. The Timmings Guild will therefore have quite a task to accomplish." "The guild movement is very important and influential in the old co-operative countries, such as England, Scotland and Wales, where co-operative social and educational activities are carried on in a large scale. They tend to foster a better understanding of co-operative problems and draw the greatest possible number of people into practical co-operation. In addition to this, the guilds serve as social centres, uniting co-operators into fraternities very much the same way as the various service and welfare clubs, etc. An important part of guild activity is women's work. The mother and housewife is the all-important factor in domestic life and this is fully recognized by the co-operative movement.

Young South Porcupine Hears Solemn Service

Guides, Brownies, Scouts and Cubs Attend Memorial Service for His Late Majesty. Community Memorial Service to be Held on Tuesday at High School Auditorium.

South Porcupine, Jan. 25th Special to The Advance. A service which we believe will live long in the memory of every child who attended was held on Thursday evening in the Anglican church. Archdeacon Woodall conducted the service which was held as a Memorial Service for His late Majesty, and was the official tribute to his memory by Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies. In spite of the bitter below zero weather one hundred and fifteen children and ten adult leaders were present. They met at the Scout hall and came in a body to the church afterwards. Hymns were sung—among them His Majesty's favourite, "Nearer My God to Thee," and Kipling's hymn which is in the Anglican hymn book beginning "Father in Heaven Who Lovest All." Land of our birth, we pledge to thee Our love and toil in the years to be, When we are grown and take our place As men and women with our race. Prayers were said and two minutes silence in prayer were observed. The Archdeacon read from the Lectern the special bulletin to all Scouters issued by the Boy Scouts Association re the death of His Majesty King George V. The Archdeacon spoke in simple terms of our beloved King who was a good Christian, a good King, and a good Scout. Every child present understood and will remember his words. A church full of children—some of them quite small, yet, in the silence of the two minutes not a single movement was heard—the silence was absolute and complete. A better behaved group of children than our Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies on this occasion could not be found anywhere which is a tribute truly great to the leaders of these companies. Play for Sky Cup Rinks for the Sky Cup now being played at the Curling Rink—with results as follows:— Pearce won from Miller. Twenty-one games are yet to be played in the two groups. Group winners will play off. Teams are drawn to play from January 28th to February 4th inclusive. Mr. A. Leishman of North Bay is taking the position of assistant telegraphist at the T. & N. O. station temporarily, until a permanent man is appointed for the position.

pointed for the position. Mr. Vic Evans, who has been visiting his parents in Winnipeg since Christmas returned on Saturday. Excursion Well Patronized The week-end excursion on the T. and N. O. was well patronized by South End people, twenty-one taking advantage of it. Mrs. Gordon Cross, Miss Marita Abour, Mrs. H. M. Turner and Mr. J. Magee were among those who left on Friday for Toronto. Mr. Norman Shaw is a week-end visitor to North Bay. Archdeacon Woodall left on Saturday to conduct morning and afternoon services at Iroquois Falls and Porcupine Junction. At present no Anglican minister has been appointed to take the place of the Rev. Roy Manwaring of Iroquois Falls, who left three weeks ago to accept a new cure of souls in Saskatchewan. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Owens announce the engagement of their elder daughter Leta Anne Amy, to Mr. Ben Mitchell. The wedding will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 29th in St. Paul's Anglican Church at 4.30 p.m. Death of Gordon McKinley We are sorry to report to-day the death of Gordon H. McKinley, druggist, who some eight or nine years ago lived here in South Porcupine. For about five years he owned and operated a drug store on Golden avenue and while here made many friends. After selling out to Mr. F. Farrant he left here to go to Toronto, with the R. S. Williams Co., with whom he stayed for about two years. He then went to Windsor as manager for the R. H. Packard Drug Co.'s store there. We have had no particulars yet, but we understand from a wire that was received by Mr. Ed. Richardson that he dropped dead at the door of his home, after returning from work on Wednesday. Our deepest sympathy goes out to his wife and little daughter who was born a year after they left South Porcupine. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McKinley, of Barrie, Ontario, and to his mother's home his remains were shipped for interment. The deceased leaves, besides his wife, daughter Nancy and his mother, two sisters, Marguerite and Anna, to mourn his loss. The funeral takes place to-day (Saturday from 192 Bradford street, Barrie. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Richardson of the Dome Mines left on Friday to attend the funeral. Miner Killed at Dome A Polish miner, Konstantin Kotula, was injured while at work at the Dome Mines on Thursday. At 9 p.m. he was admitted to the Dome hospital suffering from injuries to the head caused by being hit with a broken rail while helping load a car at the chute. At first it was thought he was not fatally hurt, but he succumbed to his injuries at six o'clock next morning. The unfortunate man leaves a wife and children in Poland. An inquest is to be held
