KING'S LOVE OF RIDING STARTED ILLNESS

His Majesty King George V, though known to his people as the "Sailor King" was an enthusiastic horseman. It was while riding that he caught the chill inducing a seizure of bronchial catarrh, which placed a heavy strain on his already weakened heart, and precipitated the critical illness which resulted in his death. The beloved monarch is shown on his favourite hunter during a canter in Hyde Park.

a half interest in the property and he with his early associates carried the LaRose through to become one of the most fabulously wealthy silver mines of the world. He was quick to see the possibilities of other properties in Cobalt and soon was buying and selling claims with great success. On one occasion he bought a group of claims for $200,000, did a few thousand dollars worth of work on them, and sold them within six months for $600,000.

Determination Well Known
So was the Timmins fortunes founded. He became known in those days for his eagerness to carry a job through to a conclusion. Difficulties cast in the way of his progress appeared to make him all the more determined and he went to great lengths at times to have things done in exactly the way and at exactly the time he wanted them.

Although he had resolved to stay out of active mining, the Porcupine rush was too great a temptation and he purchased an interest in the claims staked by Benny Hollinger, later to become Canada's greatest gold mine. From the time the Timmins camp was a real success, a large part of the Timmins money went back into Northern Canada. His latest venture is said to have been the acquiring of gold mining rights in the Yukon. He had interests in mines of the Northwest Territories, British Columbia, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, as well as in South America.

He founded and built the St. Lawrence Paper mills, and held large interests in Brompton Pulp and Paper, Lake St. John Power and Paper, Canadian Vickers, Towagmac Exploration, Sin Mac Steamships, Red Barge Lines, Investment Foundations, W. D. Beath and sons and a large number of other concerns.

Had Nine Children

He married, 1891, Leila Pare, who predeceased him. They had nine children, five of whom survive: Noah, Leo, Gerald, Rodolphe, and one daughter, Juliette, Mrs. J. S. Dohan. J. B. Pare of Timmins is a brother-in-law and several other relatives live here. A sister, Mrs. Bert Fitzpatrick lives in El Paso, Texas.

He was an enthusiastic courier and golfer. As a member of the Thistle club of Montreal, he was present here at the official opening of the Timmins curling club. His most recent public appearance in Timmins was at the banquet in honour of Father Theriault's 25th anniversary in the priesthood, when he delivered a short address to the thousands who attended the function.

Noah Timmins was the last of a group of mining men who made Canadian history. The others were his brother Henry, John and Duncan McMartin and David Dunlap.

Scouts Hold Service for Late King George

Nearly Hundred Local Scouts and Cubs Attend Memorial Service Here.

Nearly a hundred Scouts and Cubs of the Timmins troops and packs gathered yesterday afternoon at the St. Anthony's Parish hall headquarters in a short memorial service for His late Majesty King George V.

The usual opening ceremony of the flag break was varied when the flag was lowered to half-mast after being unfurled. With Scouter Wheeler as chaplain, a short but most impressive service was held. Scouter Anglin addressed the boys on the life of King George and on the second Scout law—loyalty.

The whole group re-affirmed the Scout and Cub promises, after which there was a two minute silence. The service closed with the singing of "God Save the King."

Dinner Meeting of the Mining Institute

Annual Meeting to be Held on Feb. 4th for Election of Officers and Other Business.

The annual general meeting of the Porcupine branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy will be held in the Legion hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th. The chief business before the meeting will be the receiving of reports for the past year, and the election of officers for the ensuing year. It was intended to hold the meeting on Jan. 28th, but on account of the death of King George V. it was felt that the event should be postponed.

In addition to the formal business of the meeting, there will be an interesting paper on a matter of special interest, the paper to be given by a local mining man.

Another feature will be the presentation of a formal motion to set the date for future annual meetings in the month of May in each year, instead of in the winter or fall months as in previous years.

Musical Director Leaves for Montreal

Paul Revis, whose Services have been so Valuable Here, to Take Part in Montreal Event.

Paul Revis, the very capable musical director and teacher of dancing, who has given such notable service among the Roumanian people of Timmins and district, left on Friday for Montreal, where he will direct the large group of Roumanians who are taking prominent part in a great musical and dancing festival to be held in His Majesty's Theatre, Montreal. Mr. Revis has been in Timmins over a year and has made wide circles of friends and admirers by his undoubted talent and pleasing personality. As assistant to Rev. John Pascari, of St. Mary's Orthodox Church, Mr. Revis gave outstanding service in organizing and establishing the parish, and in contributing to the successful carrying on of the church work. As leader of the choir and director of concerts and other events his service was of the greatest value. He directed a number of dancing and musical events in Timmins, all of these reflecting the greatest credit on him and on the talent he gathered round him. It is felt that he will do honour to the Roumanian people in his new work at Montreal. He may return to Timmins later, and there will surely be a warm welcome for him here.

Dome Mine Brownies Honour King George

Minutes of Silence Observed as Gesture of Sorrow for the Death of Late King George V.

The First Dome Mine Brownie Pack held their regular meeting on Monday. Magic Chain and Fairy Ring around the totem toadstool opened the Pack meeting. Brown Owl reviewed the health rules for Golden Bar test, and the Pack then went to their corners, where the Sixers marked the attendance. The Six retains two cents from each five cents Fairy Gold collected and the remaining three cents go into Pack funds.

A singing game, "Oats, Peas, Beans and Barley Grow" was greatly enjoyed. Golden Bar tests were passed and Semaphore practised. Six Brownies go up into the Guides at a "Flying-Up" ceremony next month and Brown Owl discussed test work with them.

The Jelly Bean Bag game was played and following this, Pow-wow was held. A banquet is being planned for "Baden-Powell" night in February.

A few minutes silence with bowed heads, was observed, as a gesture of sorrow at the passing of Britain's King.

Brown Owl then spoke a few minutes on the Brownies' promise, "I promise to do my duty to God and the King." Meeting closed with Brownie good-night.

Huntingdon Gleaner:—Beer was used to quench a fierce blaze in a brewery at Mainburg, Bavaria. Firemen found the water pipes in the street frozen, and the leader organized a bucket brigade stretching from the brewery vat to the wing in which the fire was raging. The famous beer put out the blaze.

South Porcupine Guides Wear Mourning Bands

Aims and Ambitions of Girl Guides Cleverly Described in Alphabet Poem Written by Luella Johnston. All South End Guides, Scouts, Brownies and Cubs Honour Late King.

South Porcupine, Jan. 25.—Special to The Advance.

The Guides met on Wednesday in their hall as usual. Patrol inspection then took place by Capt. Naish and Lieutenant Walker. Horseshoe was formed and, as this was the day King Edward VIII was proclaimed King the flag was raised by the colour party, Myra Cantor, assisted by Helen Haneberry and Valerie Bessette. One minute of silence was then observed in honour of our late beloved King George V. It was then announced that mourning bands will be worn by guides and officers of Guide Companies until July 20th.

Work was then done on badges by the different patrol corners. Irene Disher, second leader of the Snowdrops directed the games. Valerie Bessette was appointed keeper of the time chart. A competition knot game was played, the Oriole patrol winning and gaining a mark for the patrol.

Campfire followed. Patrol leader H. Lafurgy was in charge. Instead of the regular story Luella Johnston—a guide 11 years old—read a clever composition of her own describing the aims and ambitions of the girl guides. She gained enthusiastic applause, and because we think it is quite good too, we are putting the poem in this corner (if we are allowed!) Here it is:

A is for "Animals"—we save their hides,
B is for "Badges"—we earn them as Guides,
C is for "Cards" which we put our marks on,
D is for "Deeds" to be done right—not wrong,
E is for "Edith"—our lieutenant fine,
F is for "Fun"—which we have all the time,
G is for "Girl Guides"—be honest and true,
H is for "Honest"—which applies to you,
I is for "IF" we were angels with wings,
J is for the "Jump" we take from evil things,
K is for "Knots" which we learn to tie well,
L is for "Laws" which to no one we tell,
M is for "Many" good deeds done each day,
N is for "No" (which to parents don't say),
O is for "Often" we do our kind deeds,
P is for "Pliers" to pull out bad weeds.

Q is for "Questions" which often we ask,
R is for "Ropes" to tie things up fast,
S is for "Songs" that we sing to a tune,
T is for "Tenderfoot Test"—we try soon
U is for "Understanding"—as in making a cake,
V is for "Vows" which each girl guide will take
W is for "Work" which we must do to live,
X the "Excitement" which games always give,
Y is for "Yes" which to captain we say,
And Z says be "Zealous" is work every day.

Luella gained a mark for her patrol for this. Betty Cummings the favourite songster of the Company gave a song—And the meeting ended with "The End of a Girl Guide Day," and "Taps."

The Brownies held their meeting on Friday. They opened with the Fairy Ring—and were inspected by Tawny Owl and fairy gold taken by Brown Owl. Then Brown Owl gave the story "Why the Woodpecker has a Red Crest."

A new twenion "Ruth Burd" was introduced into the fairy ring, each little brownie in turn giving a note of welcome with a word of instruction on Brownie aims. They then discussed the party that will take place the first week in February when the Sixers and those who have passed their tests will be enrolled.

Donna Reed and Mary Harper each played the piano very nicely for "musical chairs." The meeting ended with the Brownies lined up at the door to say "Good night" in true Brownie fashion.

First South Porcupine Cub pack met on Friday at 6 p.m.—which in future will be the hour set for Cub meetings. A very quiet meeting—this one—(after the Grand Howl which marks the commencement of Cub-time) in honor of the death of His Majesty—and one minute silence was given to his memory. No games were played and after inspection work was done on first and second class "Stars." Campfire with stories finished the meeting.

Collingwood Bulletin:—West Gwillimbury Township has possibly a record in respect to its municipal council. It is exactly the same for 1936 as it was in 1930 and the intervening years. Few municipal bodies please so long.
