Ontario Mines Make New Record in 1935

Mineral Production Last Year Struck an All-Time High Record Says Department.

Ontario mineral production in 1935 reached an all-time high record at $159,044,887, according to figures released by the Ontario Department of Mines.

Dividends totalling $39,173,240 were paid by Ontario mining companies in 1935 and aggregate dividends from Ontario mining companies to the end of 1935 had reached $479,922,839.

and effectively filled the vacancy. Under the direction and training of Geo. E. Hale, the choir gave an inspiring performance. The quality of tone was consistently fine throughout. The articulation of words was crisp and precise (contrary to a feature often met with in such choral societies when listeners are unable to distinguish the words of song or chorus).

The sopranos were in fine form and confident in attack. The contraltos, though numerically weak, contributed warmth and coloring. The richness, resonance and virility of the male sections added to the balance and blend of the whole.

Choir—(a) Now is the Time for Maying (Thomas Morley, 1595); (b) My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose (Arthur Collingwood, University of Saskatchewan). God Save the King. Pianist—Miss Laura Shaw. Director—Mr. Geo. E. Hale. Accompanists—Miss Shaw and Mr. Hale.

To those in the community who are interested in the development of the Society on a large scale, augmenting the membership to 150 voices, the members and director of the Society extend a cordial welcome to attend the rehearsal on Monday, May 11th, held in the basement of the United Church at 8.30 p.m.

Harry O'Donnell Dies for Murder of Ruth Taylor

Harry O'Donnell, of Toronto, was hanged early on Tuesday morning at the Don Jail for the murder of Ruth Taylor, a Toronto stenographer, whose dead body was found in a Gerrard Street East ravine last November. The girl had been ravished, apparently after being stunned, and then murdered in brutal way before recovery. A strong circumstantial case was made out against O'Donnell, his record also being against him. He died without making a confession, but the appeal courts and the Minister of Justice and cabinet alike found no grounds for upsetting the verdict against him. O'Donnell, who was an attendant at a garage, was 26 years old. At the time of the crime his wife was in hospital having just given birth to a child. Efforts were made at the trial to show that coat hairs held to be from Ruth Taylor's coat were instead from that of a coat for the man's baby, but this was not shown in a way to impress the judge or jury. Mrs. O'Donnell however, stood by her husband to the end. She stayed a great part of the night before the execution on the street in front of the jail but was eventually persuaded to enter a motor car and was driven from the scene.

League of Nations has Cost Canada $4,216,045

Canada is a fully paid up member of the League of Nations because since 1920 the Dominion has paid in fees and other expenses incidental upon its League membership. $4,216,045.99, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons on Tuesday, says a despatch from Ottawa. The expenditures cover maintenance of an advisory officer at Geneva, expenses of delegates to League assemblies, International Labor Conference and other parleys. The return said this country has 'no treaties or undertakings which involve the supplying of armed resistance' either separately or as a member of the British Empire.

The Government has no information respecting any proposals to re-organize the League 'with a view to making it a more practical agency for peace and security to meet changed conditions,' the return said.

Cross-Eyes (one eye turning inwards)

A case was promised for those interested. Typical case: Child 2½ years old, left eye turned in continuously but for only two weeks. For one month before this it turned in only at times when looking at things close to the face.

Medicine was used to prepare the eyes for examination. Glasses of 3½ degrees fitted and tied on with ribbon. The medicine was used a few days to counteract the turning. The eyes were in line in two weeks. The cure was quick and easy.

The chief points for you: (1) The child was presented early before the turned eye lost its usefulness. (2) Child presented at 2½ years when the brain centre is in the developing stage. (3) By use of medicine the eyes were in condition for precise examination, not possible in any other way. Another point: Without the glasses the eye would still turn in. You needn't worry about that. Human aid has no way to change that part of it. The parents, a professional man, and wife were of course delighted.

Walter Little, M.P. in 435-Mile Drive

Member for Temiskaming Said to Have Gone from Kirkland to Ottawa in Thirteen Hours.

A remarkable record for motor car driving is credited to Walter Little, M.P., of Kirkland Lake, according to word from Ottawa this week. The record is doubly remarkable when the condition of some parts of the road is considered. As a matter of fact such a record could not have been made if there had been "Ferguson highway" all the way along. The word from Ottawa is to the effect that Mr. Little, who wished to resume his duties as representative for Temiskaming in the Dominion House, left Kirkland Lake at 6 o'clock Monday morning and reached Ottawa the same evening at 7 o'clock. This means that he travelled the distance—estimated at 435 miles—in 13 hours. This would be good travelling for so long a trip were the road a paved one all the way, but for parts of the 'Ferguson highway' and also, no doubt, for parts of the way from North Bay to Pembroke, there must have been some stretches where the 30-mile-per-hour rate could not be safely reached. Word from Ottawa says that Mr. Little had to make only one detour. At Tomiko river, about 20 miles north of North Bay, he found a bridge washed out and a detour was accordingly necessary. The rest of the way would seem to have been "plain sailing."
