ABOUT SWEET ADELINE

From the "Chronicle News Bits" in The Huntingdon Gleaner last week The Advance gathers the startling news that Harry Armstrong, the composer, and Richard Gerard, the author, have instituted action for $250,000 damages for violation of their copyright of the old song, "Sweet Adeline."

Most of the fame of Sault Ste. Marie came from its hungry wolves and the gatherings at the lamp-posts where "Sweet Adeline" was sung. The Sault has always claimed the sweetest wolves and the sweetest "Sweet Adeline" in all the world.

NO DICTATORSHIP WANTED

In a letter published elsewhere in this issue Mr. William Stewart, a ratepayer of the town for many years, expresses the general feeling of the ratepayers of the town—astonishment that the mayor and chairman of the public school board should without the authority of the bodies they represent, present to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board a scheme for the taking over of the Central School property here for town hall purposes.

The Advance does not believe that the people of this country will accept a dictatorship. But the easiest and the best way to stop it is at the start. There have already been a number of instances of the tendency to attempted one-man rule in municipal matters.

weeks ago protested against the action of the mayor in securing the services of a lawyer without the authorization of council. Dr. Day and other councillors have found it necessary from time to time to protest similar tactics.

It seems to The Advance that Mr. Stewart has done a public service in emphasizing the mistake made in attempting to foist this "Central-Public-School-Town-Hall Cocktail" on the people.

GRAVEL AND SAND—AND PLACER

Some people have feared that Harry O'Donnell, recently hanged for the brutal murder of a Toronto young lady, may possibly have been innocent. There are always people like that.

To-day is "Goodwill Day" in the schools, the Dept of Education expecting teachers to inculcate in the pupils the feeling of goodwill among all the nations of the world.

Chairman Charlesworth of the Canadian Radio Commission would not have been far out if he had told the House of Commons radio committee that he had received more complaints in one month about one private radio station than he received all the time from all the Canadian Radio Commission stations.

Man has come forward to say that he saw Ambrose J. Small in Muskoka after the theatre man's disappearance from Toronto. That's nothing! A man in Timmins saw Meisner in Timmins at the same time that Meisner was really in the United States.

"Do you agree with the mayor on that question?" a local citizen was asked. "No, sir," he replied, "I think for myself."

Have you picked out your lot, yet? There are liable to be so many petitions for paving streets this year, that there won't be any streets paved this year.

Compensation Board Here on Annual Trip

Dr. Russell Asked Board to Secure List of Complaints from Mayor.

Timmins, Ont., May 15, 1936 To the Editor The Porcupine Advance, Timmins, Ontario.

Dear Sir:—The mayor has been doing a lot of howling about silicosis in the mines. What about silicosis on the streets? The same silica dust is blowing around on our streets. Does the mayor care? Why doesn't he give some of his marvellous ability and use his power as an autocrat to see that the streets are watered or oiled? If the mayor can order a building permit issued without consulting council, and even sell a school and buy a town hall without a word to council, surely he cannot blame the rest of the council if he neglects to use his powers to have the roads watered or oiled.

Yours truly, CITIZEN (But Not Citizens' League, as I never run for anything).

Among the names of those graduating in chemical engineering from the University of Toronto is that of H. J. Ostrowski, of Timmins.

Another Fire-proof Store at South End

Also New Chain Store to Open at South Porcupine at Early Date.

South Porcupine's business section will soon have another fireproof store building. The Advance learned last week from John Dalton, immediately west of his present building there, Mr. Dalton is proposing to erect a building 35 feet wide and 100 feet long, of the same concrete block and steel construction as the present block.

Mr. Dalton also announced that the R. A. Beamish company, of Ottawa, who operate a chain of 5 cents to $1.00 stores have rented the store in the bus headquarters building.

The Legion Smoker Scores Big Success

The Only Cheese was the "Gorgonzola." Everybody Knows it. But the Programme was Good.

Another of those happy evenings was held in the Legion Club on Saturday. It may have been the aroma of the "cheese" that kept some of the talent and patronage away, but the biscuits made up for the uninviting look of the "Gorgonzola." Tommy Parsons had gathered together a fine array of artists and each and everyone did himself credit. Scotty Wilson, assisted by H. Hopkins and W. A. Devine, were the pianists for the event.

Herb Stewart opened the concert with "Roses of Picardy," and later in the evening "The Old Refrain" and "Danny Boy," each of the numbers being well received.

Archie Pearce, on his whistle-bite (as the chairman called it) rendered two good selections.

William Ashton gave two old favourites, "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," and, as an encore, "Grandfather's Clock."

Harry Nicholls, the "bon's challenger," did his stuff and also stood on his head as predicted.

E. O'Rourke, with his funny ways, gave two good comic songs.

Jean Pare delighted all with his solo, "All Alone."

Ted Jones made a hit with his singing of "My Sweetheart."

Collin Watkins gave two songs that pleased the gathering—"On the Road to Mandalay" and "Gypsy Love Song."

Bill Docton, as usual, was good. By special request he sang "Good By-ee." His monologues, "The Hospital Patient" and "Modern Psychology," were special favourites on the programme.

There was general applause for Hugh O'Neill in "Mother Machree," and George Allen, in his song.

Two good stories by Dr. J. B. McClintock added to the interest and enjoyment of the evening.

Bert Hammond's rendition of "Down in Thompson's Ground," also made a general hit with the crowd.

There was a very good attendance at the event on Saturday night, and altogether it may be said to be another one of the series of smokers under Legion auspices that can be classed as a complete success.

London Advertiser.—Of course, the rescuing miners of Nova Scotia had the stuff of heroes in them before this test came. The mine tragedy did not create their heroism, but evoked it.

Boston Herald.—After all, a bald-headed barber touting a hair tonic is no less convincing than Bachelor Hitler blandly advocating marriage for everybody else.
