Tenders Called for Roads in the North

Not Much in View for This Section of the North, but There is a Little.

This week notice comes from Toronto in regard to another call for tenders. In this list there are a few items for there was not even that much. Just out a mechanic's lien. what is to happen to the Ferguson highway seems to remain a matter for doubt-and worry for those who may have to use that highway. Of course, hope still remains. Without hope, there would be no North, and no people here. A Toronto despatch gives the latest list of possible work in the North on roads and bridges.

Tenders have been invited by the Ontario Department of Highways for road and bridge work in Northern Ontario. The tenders are to be in by July 27. Among the contracts to be awarded are the following for grading and culverts and special work in the mining area:-Grading and Culverts Battle at Ball Park Cost One Young Man $10 and Costs and Another $5.00 and Costs. Man charged with "Stealing a House." Police Court This Week a Record for the Year-Only Half an Hour.

Lightning Blamed for

A brief docket and a number of adjournments in cases that might have taken some time made it possible to have police court over in half an hour on Tuesday this week-the shortest session of the year.

Just one case was fought-that of a young man charged with creating a disturbance by fighting and wrestling in the ball park while Gray's Shows were there last week.

"They attracted a crowd of 150 or 200 around them," Constable W. Harris been so many wonderful stories from "Was this man trying to get away?"

asked Magistrate Atkinson. "Do you know whether this was part of the show or not?" asked S. C. Platus, counsel for the defence. "Oh, it was a good show all right," eplied the constable.

The young man said he had been walking through the midway when he was attacked by a man who said "Now I've got you." "It was a good fight, was it?" the magistrate asked him.

"Quite fair," replied the accused. "That'll be ten dollars and costs. You vere up here before." "He punched my brother and I went up to help," the second young man charged with creating a disturbance said. It was the first time he had been charged, so he paid only a $5.00 fine. Mrs. Jean Lefebvre pleaded guilty to having been drunk on July 10th and admitted having been convicted on March 3rd and May 19th. She was sent to Halleybury jail for three months

Fruit Dealer Buys License

"He refused to buy a license to sell fruits and vegetables," said Sergeant Olson of a local man, charged with breaking the peddlers' by-law. "He has been seen several times and on this particular occasion was noticed carrying a basket of apples into a provision store. Asked if he was going to get a license, he said 'No'."

Since that time, the man has obtained a license, the officer told the magisrate, so the charge was withdrawn. William Houle, charged with keeping iquor for sale, was granted a remand of a week. Bail was fixed at $500 cash or $1000 property. Lloyd Gloster, charged with the theft of a car, was granted a remand and renewal of $100 bail. A juvenile charged with the same offence involving the same car will also appear next week. One charge of having liquor in place other than a private residence was adjourned until next Tuesday.
