ISNOR—In loving memory of Norman Isnor, who was killed August the 15th, 1925, at the Vipond Mine. Had we but got one last fond look Into your smiling face, Or had we only got the chance To kneel down in that place! Could we have held your dying hand Or heard your last farewell, Parting would not have been so hard, For you we loved so well. No one he loved was at his side, To hear his parting sigh, To whisper just a loving word, Or even say good-bye.

—Sadly missed by his loving wife and sons and daughters, Mrs. Ida Isnor, 118 Elm Street South, Timmins. -65p

Beloved Parish Priest to Leave Matachewan

Matachewan, Aug. 18—Not only do his parishioners sincerely regret the departure of Father Raymond, but they are further concerned over the fact that he leaves this district through ill health.

For 30 years Father Raymond has ministered to a wide and sparsely located flock covering the territory of Osseo, Gowganda, Elk Lake and Matachewan, and though now these places are comparatively thickly populated to what they were when he commenced his arduous mission in this then virgin North Country, nevertheless they still remain isolated, and call upon fortitude and spirit to carry out the fullness of his mission in imparting the word of Christianity to miners, farmers, and those following the various callings of this country. Particularly however was he interested in the Indians, this perhaps following a habit of the long past years, when they were practically the sole inhabitants of the country.

In those years there were no Government roads, no well-defined trails, and no modern means of conveyance, and year after year Father Raymond used the waterways, paddling his canoe, fully stocked with food and camping equipment, up the Montreal River, to Moynour's Landing, as Matachewan was then known. In the winter time, over the ice-locked rivers he would snowshoe, or use the dogs, making his way to his wide-spread parishioners the best he could.

Until a church was erected at Fort Matachewan, adjoining the Hudson Bay trading post, there was none in the country, and though now still isolated, it stands out towering its mission over the wide Montreal River, just a beacon of hope and comfort to the Indians who use it for their worship. Prior to this erection, all services were held in the home of Mr. J. B. Moynour, and even to-day owing to the church being four miles away from Matachewan townsite, Father Raymond helped his parishioners by holding mass in Moynour's hall in Matachewan.

Nothing was allowed to withstand his determination to carry the Gospel to his ideal heights, and in truth all members of the community in full realization of his idealism and practical aid bore him the respect his personality demanded.

The whole community deeply regrets the cause of his relinquishing his mission, and only hope that rest and care will again bring back to him the strong constitution that was worn low through strenuous years of pioneering work.

Iroquois Falls Friends Honour Gordon Duncan

Farewell Dinner and Presentation on Monday Evening to Popular Citizen, who Recently Resigned as Manager of Iroquois Falls Branch of Gamble-Robinson Co.

Iroquois Falls, Ont., August 19th, 1936. Special to The Advance.

About 60 friends and business associates of Gordon Duncan, who recently resigned as manager of the local branch of Gamble-Robinson, gathered at a farewell dinner in his honour at the Paris hotel, Ansonville, on Monday evening. Following the dinner G. L. Cameron, Mayor of Iroquois Falls, on behalf of those assembled, presented Mr. Duncan with a travelling bag, commenting on Mr. Duncan's popularity both as a businessman and citizen. Mr. Duncan replied fittingly, thanking his many friends for their good wishes. The goodwill of the gathering expressed good wishes to Mr. Duncan in any new endeavour.

Mr. Duncan, who joined Gamble-Robinson at Sault Ste. Marie about 1920, shortly after he returned from overseas, came to the Falls from Kapuskasing in the fall of 1934, as manager of the local branch. His genial personality has made him a popular member of the community and genuine regret will be felt if Mr. Duncan's plans for the future will entail his leaving the district.

Barney Nosov, Ansonville, and Herb Reid, of Gamble-Robinson, were in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

Noted Expert on Tour of North.

Touring Northern Ontario, Stuart Baits, chief engineer for Hudson in the United States as well as Canada, has been studying roads and highways in addition to holidaying. Enthusiastic about the north country, he also states that Canadian-built Hudsons and Terraplines are specifically built and engineered to suit the driving conditions under which they are actually operated and that can best be determined by first-hand motor tours. Other Hudson officials will also holiday in Northern Ontario this year.

Consumers Concert

The Consumers Co-operative Society gave a concert on Tuesday, August 18th, at the rink. A large number of people attended and the proceedings opened with Mr. Teinonen as chairman giving a short talk on the various benefits of co-operative methods and the strides they had made in the past five years. This concert was given to celebrate the fifth anniversary of the local store. The programme was as follows: Opening with a selection by the Tisdale band under Mr. Welsh, the local bandmaster. The Welsh miners' choir sang very beautifully, "Juanita," and gave as an encore "My Lady Sleeps." Fred Taylor, baritone, sang "Anchored," and as an encore, "Nirvana," accompanied by Mr. Geo. Hale, Little Miss Grace Larcher, accompanied by her mother, sang "The Cod Fish Ball," and gave a very clever tap dancing display. This was encored repeatedly. Mr. W. C. Good gave a speech on co-operation, its progress and the merits one derived from it. Mr. Good is general secretary of the Co-operative Union in Canada. A recitation was given by Miss Mary Jones entitled "Little Orphan Annie." Songs by Mr. T. Williams, "For You Alone," and "Absent," accompanied by Mr. Geo. Hale. Then the ladies of the Arrow Club, which is the athletic club of the Consumers' store, gave a very nice display of rhythmic dancing and drills. Then there was a very clever Dutch dance by four young ladies, two to represent Dutch boys.

Mr. James Halliday sang "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," and as an encore, "Queen of the Earth." Then a closing number by the band, and ending with "God Save the King," bringing a very pleasant time to a close.

Attacked by Men Given Ride in Car Near Rouyn

That it is not always safe to oblige a man with a lift in your car was demonstrated to Armand Bolly who last Wednesday was driving from Amos to Rouyn and let Arthur Clement have a seat in his automobile. When they got as far as Dufresnoy township, Clement, who had more drink than was good for him, set upon Bolly and snatched his watch. It so happened that another car was not far behind and it turned out that the driver was a cousin of the assaulted man and named Lavoie. On learning what was going on he matched strength with Clement and proved too powerful for him with the result that his cousin's assailant was taken to the police station in Rouyn.

The following day Clement appeared before J. O. Tardif, J.P., on a charge laid by the provincial police of theft from person and was remanded for re-appearance this week.
