

Kirkland Wins Baseball: Week-end Games Rained Out

Wright Hargreaves Wins First Ball Championship

McIntyre Has Eight Errors as Kirkland Lake Team Gets Third Victory in T. B. L. Final Series.

Wright Hargreaves ball players took home their first Temiskaming Baseball League championship on Thursday as they defeated McIntyre 11-7 in the fourth final in one of the craziest looking games ever seen in the McIntyre park. They'll meet the winners of the E.O.B.A. in playdowns for the Journal trophy.

The Hargreaves machine was working almost perfectly. When the McIntyre batters did begin to find Holtz' speed balls and curves it was too late to save the day. The home team was beaten in the third inning when they made five miscues, letting in five Hargreaves runs off one hit. It was a discouraging frame but one that provided plenty of entertainment for the spectators.

When Fred Callery, the Macs' chief pitcher for the day, hit three batters in a row in the eighth to load the bases, and McIlroy drove out a double to bring in three runs, the game was on the ice.

Gilbert and Malloy Get Homers

The Macs hung on doggedly right to the end, and heartened by Gilbert's and Malloy's home runs of the lucky seventh, they did get down to some serious hitting and in those last three innings got six of their seven runs.

Those runs didn't rattle Sam Currie's men at all. They just went on playing the same steady brand of ball that won two other games of the series for them. Although Holtz was showing signs of weakening toward the end of the game, he held on gamely and finished the nine innings with a record that looked not so bad considering the slugging both teams were doing.

Callery pitched himself into a couple of holes in the first two innings, but pitched himself right out again. Don Price, first batter, who shared the batting honours of the day with McIlroy, hit a triple to start the ball game right. He was left sitting on third and Little, who had walked, on second.

Macs Led in First

The Macs made it look like their ball game in the first inning when, with one out, Hann singled between first and second, went to second as Quinn was out at first, and scored as Cybulski smashed a hot one just inside the first base line.

The second inning was normal enough but that third saw the McIntyre go to pieces as they never have before. Rodney and Little walked and Schonfeldt went in to lay one down.

He did and the ball rolled just out in front of the plate where Joe MacDonald, McIntyre catcher, picked it up. He threw toward first as Schonfeldt was nearing the base and the ball caromed off the runner's shoulder into right field. Rodney and Little both had good leads and went pounding around the bases. MacDonald turned to argue with Umpire Joe Teich, claiming Schonfeldt had run off his base line to interfere with the play. Gilbert had picked up the ball in right field and fired it home as he saw Rodney and Little nearing the plate. Joe was more interested in the argument and let the ball go through. Both runners scored and Schonfeldt reached third on the play. Teich stuck by his decision, saying that Schonfeldt had not on the base line at the time. Lora grounded to Callery who took his time on the throw to first and held Schonfeldt at third.

More and More Errors

McIlroy found a safe spot in left field for what should have been an easy single but Malloy booted the ball and Mac reached third without much trouble. Fries grounded to third and Osborn threw wild to leave him safe. McIlroy scored. Fries stole second. Gallipeau loaded the bases by taking a walk.

Inky Wood made a nice catch as Holtz lifted one over second but both runners advanced. Inky pegged hard for the plate as he saw Fries going down the home stretch. MacDonald missed the ball and Fries was safe. Osborn fumbled Price's grounder to third for the Macs' fifth error of the inning before Rodney, batting his second time in the one inning, was out at first.

Three Perfect Innings

During the next three innings Hargreaves played perfect ball in the field. Not a McIntyre man reached first. In the fifth, the visitors added another to their total. Fries had fanned and Gallipeau had given Gilbert a fly in right field when Holtz drove one by second base for a single. Price followed, dropping a safe hit over second. Holtz reached third on the play. Price started to steal and Joe MacDonald threw wild to that base, letting Holtz cross the plate with Hargreave's sixth run. Rodney grounded to third and was out.

The local fans gave the Macs some support as they went into the last of the seventh, determined to score a few runs. Wood led off with a single that sizzled down the first base line. He tried to steal second and was caught as Schonfeldt pegged accurately to McIlroy. Gilbert picked out one he liked and drove hard to deep left where Lora made a good effort to get it. The fielder jumped as high as he could after backing up and the ball glanced off his glove to roll to the fence. Gilbert made the circuit and the fans began to get interested again. Callery grounded to short for an easy out, but Malloy again raised hopes by hitting the ball farther than it has been hit in the McIntyre park this year. It went way over Price's head in centre field and was the second homer of that inning. The rally stopped abruptly as Hann was out at first.

The Sad Eighth

The eighth was another sad inning for the Macs. Rodney had grounded to Callery who threw him out at first when Little stepped up. He was hit with a pitched ball and took first. Schonfeldt was hit and two were on. Lora stopped a fast one with his elbow and the bases were loaded. McIlroy ducked a couple then socked one to centre field for a double. Little, Schonfeldt and Lora scored. Fries followed with a hard hit over third base into left field. McIlroy came in easily. After Gallipeau had found a bare spot in short left field and Fries had scored, Callery was pulled. Forty-four batters had faced him up to that time.

"Brother" McShane, speed ball specialist, took his place on the mound, though he had pitched seven innings the day before. Holtz missed the first three pitched balls, but Price picked out one for a single that went screaming through short. Fries crossed the plate with the eleventh Hargreaves run—the last. Rodney was out at first.

Gilbert Drives in Two Runs

The Macs started another rally in the eighth. Quinn and Cybulski got on with clean singles that went through the infield. Joe MacDonald found another hole and Quinn scored. Osborn gave a fielder's choice and Cybulski was out on Gallipeau's throw to Schonfeldt at the plate. Lefty McDonald, who had replaced Wood in centre field, was out at first but both base runners advanced. Gilbert picked that moment for his second long hit of the day—a double that was just inside third base. Both MacDonald and Osborn scored. Callery was out on a centre field fly.

Norm Malloy led what appeared to be a last inning rally with a three-base hit to deep left. Hann grounded out but Quinn placed one between first and second and Malloy scored. Cybulski's liner was caught by Little. The last play of the game was a high fly from Joe MacDonald to Lora in centre field.

Football Fever In The District Again

Football fever has broken out again in Timmings. Each year about this time the lads who used to play high school rugby, inter-faculty rugby, inter-collegiate and O.R.F.U. buy or borrow a ball and kick it gleefully around the town ball park, the McIntyre or the school grounds.

Of talent there's plenty. Canadian and American college graduates, stars of the gridiron a couple of years ago, could make the backbone of two or three good teams in the Porcupine. Already there have been a couple of workouts for a proposed Moneta team, similar to the one the lads had last year.

But there's no league for which to draw a schedule. This is the time to organize—not September 15th, a football player remarked the other day.

Managers Looked On

R. J. Ennis, general manager of the McIntyre, was sitting close to the players' bench in the first game and M. W. Summerhayes, general manager of the Wright Hargreaves, was there for the second game.

Built Just in Time

Hargreaves' new park, ready for use just a few weeks ago, will get plenty of use this season. The five-game series with the winners of the senior E.O.B.A. opens there on Labour Day.

Executive There Next Year

According to a sort of gentlemen's agreement at the last annual meeting of the Temiskaming Baseball League, the majority of the executive next year will be in the southern group. They'll have a cash balance with which to work, somewhat different to the deficit with which the league began operations this year.

"Home" Team Next Year?

At least 200 of those six or seven hundred fans at the games came from Timmings.

They weren't overly enthusiastic for McIntyre for it wasn't really a "home" team to them.

But they did show their interest in baseball. That ought to be some encouragement for the chaps in Timmings to organize a club this winter, not next spring when it's too late to do anything.

And according to some real fans, there will be action this winter, enough so that Timmings or the Hollinger will have a team in the league next year and a good one at that.

Kirkland Softball Team Disappoints

Softball Games Yesterday Between Two Local All-Star Outfits.

Kirkland Lake's Famous Players team, representatives of this part of the North in the Ontario softball play-downs, failed to turn up yesterday when they were to have played an exciting game with a local all-star outfit. Rain earlier in the day probably discouraged the lads.

Enough softball players turned up so that evenly-matched teams could be chosen and so the fans who did arrive at the cyanide had something to watch. Millionaires won from the Paupers by a score of 12-11 when the seven innings had been played.

SPORT-ORE

From All Levels

It's too bad the baseball season had to end so abruptly on Thursday. But it seems that for the first time, there's really been more baseball interest in the Kirkland Lake district than there has been in this end of the T. & N. O. territory.

Series Sidights

Sidights on the series here: He'd come from Timmings to see the game because he'd heard about what a great sport this baseball was. He might even have had a modest wager on the McIntyre. When it was all over and the Hargreaves had won, he was heard to remark: "Oh, yes, it was great game but I don't like that judge. He's no good." Judge Joseph Teich, Joe might have opened a court for that last game and listened to the McIntyre and Hargreaves' pro and con decisions. There were some nasty ones for both him and Lloyd Chambers to make.

Busy Ray

Ray McCauley, in a red baseball cap, green sweater, brown golf knickers, rust socks, one of the hundred Kirkland fans who was in steady (or unsteady) attendance at the games, had a real time collecting signatures. He wanted Tup Gilbert's at the top of the list after that first, home run and when Norm Malloy hit one a minute later, Ray was having a tough time arguing with himself as to which should get the honour. In the end, he reserved the cleanest spot on the ball for Sam Currie, the Hargreaves pitching manager and coach.

One lad in a ringside seat bet five to one hundred and fifty that McIntyre would win the game. The score was 10-3 at the time—the last of the eighth. The chap who put up the century and a half wasn't feeling quite so spry after Gilbert's and Malloy's home run hits.

Six of the 11 runs the Hargreaves scored, six of them were off the McIntyre's eight errors. All of the Macs' seven runs were of the "earned" variety. But it isn't earned runs that win ball games.

Had the McIntyre won the series, they would have had permanent possession of the great glistening Gold Belt trophy. It's safe now for another three years.

Managers Looked On

R. J. Ennis, general manager of the McIntyre, was sitting close to the players' bench in the first game and M. W. Summerhayes, general manager of the Wright Hargreaves, was there for the second game.

was five-all when both teams had little trouble in finding the pitching. In the second Paupers took a four run lead and lead and knocked Buckman out of the box. Cattarello relieved him. Another in the third made it look as if they had the game on ice but in the fourth, Millionaires came suddenly to life and scored four to make it 10-9. Paupers got one in the sixth when Rodney hit and George Walsh drove him in with a double. Millionaires were on the spot when Coleman took a walk. Anderson, next batter chose one that suited him and drove the ball to the tracks for a home run. The score was tied. In the seventh the Millionaires won the game when Pee Wee Chartier accepted a walk, took second on a passed ball, and was brought home by Cattarello, who singled over first.

The fans seemed to want some more, so a second game was begun between the same two teams, with Don Price of the champion Wright Hargreaves' baseball team on first base for the Paupers. In the second inning heavy rain began to fall so the game was called.

Gig Carswell handled both umpiring jobs from behind the pitcher.

Regular Meeting of Boy Scouts on Thursday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the local executive of the Boy Scouts will be held in the town hall, Timmings, on Thursday evening, at 8 p.m. Business in connection with the Scout camp and Apple day to be held in October will be the main items of business.

May Be Three Games

Both Lake Shore and McIntyre are entered in the Byrne Charity Cup, another N.O.F.A. trophy series, and, if the

Lake Shore-McIntyre Soccer Rained Out; Will Play Again

To Play Three Games at Kirkland Lake During Week-end of September 12th, if McIntyre Wins Byrne Cup Series Here.

Kirkland Lake, August 31st 1936—Special to The Advance.

Even the hardy Old Country folk who tell you that "it's got to rain a bit for real football" and who, it is suspected are sometimes the victims of "civic pride" as they stand out in heavy down-pours and say it makes them "homesick," were forced to call it quits at a Foster Cup soccer final here Saturday when the bottom fell out of a sky which was one solid black cloud bank.

Lake Shore and McIntyre teams went out there at the start of the cloudburst, but were forced to leave the field when the rain came down in sheets and Referee George Cadman stopped play, the only thing to do.

At a conference afterward, Fred Bennett, secretary of the Schumacher squad and Tom Ramsay, one of "Shore's" committee, made tentative arrangements which, if all things come out right, will make for a real "field day" week-end for football to get the rained-out game played off.

Both Lake Shore and McIntyre are entered in the Byrne Charity Cup, another N.O.F.A. trophy series, and, if the gods of football fortune smile, the Foster final will be played in conjunction with those games.

If McIntyre triumphs over Hollinger and Dome in the north end and Lake Shore defeats Noranda in this section the same two teams rained out last week-end will be pitted against each other in the Byrne Cup final.

"If" that happens, and it has to be capitalized that "if" with deference to sport's uncertainties, McIntyre will move in here on Friday, September 11, for the start of a three-game series. Friday's game will be the Foster Cup final. On Saturday, September 12, they will play the first game of the Byrne Cup and on Monday, September 14, the second game of the Byrne Cup will be played here. McIntyre counting it as their home game.

Is Cheaper Way

Both team representatives at Saturday's conference took the view that it was not fair to consider the contest finished by the rain. McIntyre had the expense of coming down and Lake Shore had reason to expect a gate return to help look after their expenses in fulfilling their end of the cup final by going to Schumacher on August 8 and, of course, rain refunds had to made on Saturday.

If the two clubs are successful in getting through to the finals of the Byrne Cup it would be cheaper in the point of travelling expenses to play the three-game series here (one Foster, two Byrne) than to have McIntyre make two trips down and Lake Shore go up once.

Three games here with the classy McIntyre club would just complete the revival in football here. All local teams have been getting better patronage and turning in better games and an outstanding attraction such as the three-day McIntyre visit would be a proper cap.

Kiwanis Club to Have Golf Match With Mine

Kiwanis Club members and the Hollinger will meet this Wednesday afternoon in a golf match, it was announced this week. Both the mine and the club have selected teams for the event that should be one of the most interesting of the season. Dinner at the clubhouse at 7.30, rain or shine.

Dome Takes First Round in Boxer Cup from Hollinger

Score Was 5-2 at Dome's New Grounds Saturday Night. Hollinger Better in Second Half

South Porcupine, August 31—(Special to The Advance)—A football game between Hollinger and Dome for the first round of the Boxer Cup was played on the new grounds at the Dome on Saturday. The ground was in excellent condition after the heavy rain for most of the day, and there was a fair crowd.

Dome kicked off, and in a very short time Chambers and Whyte had each placed the ball in the net, making it 2-0 for Dome. It was the general opinion that Whyte was very much offside for his goal. Shortly after, Munro carried the ball down the field, drew the defence and drove a beautiful shot to the corner of the net.

Chambers made it 4-0 for Dome before the whistle blew for half time.

Holly Better in Second Half

In the second half Hollinger were far more effective, and scored two goals to Dome's one. Hollinger certainly missed Walsh on defence and their young goal keeper, Laing, was in no way to blame for the balls that passed him. Stan Laing is one of the local boys of the camp and is only 18, with a little more experience he will be one of the best. The writer believes that the local boys should be further encouraged to follow this great sport.

The game ended with the score, Dome 5, Hollinger 2.

Timmings Wins First Game in Series for Harold Wilson Cup

South Porcupine Loses out 11 to 6 in Opening Match of Series for the Lacrosse Championship of the Porcupine. Rain Keeps Crowd Away. All Present Well Pleased With Game.

Timmings took the jump in the six-game series for the Harold A. Wilson cup, emblematic of the lacrosse championship of the Porcupine district when they turned back South Porcupine's effort 11-6 at the local arena last Friday evening. Only a handful of fans were on hand to see the struggle and they all left well-satisfied. The rain had a lot to do in keeping the attendance down.

There wasn't any doubt about the way the game was going to end at any stage. Timmings undoubtedly had the better-coached team and didn't take long to establish a lead. In the first 39 seconds of play Daniels scored the first counter to put Timmings one-up. He checked two Porcupine forwards near the boards and shot from thirty feet out. Timmings kept up a terrific drive headed by Daniels and Bill Arundel that had the Porcupine defence worried.

Porcupine's scored their only goal of the first period after almost six minutes of play Emden getting the shot in on a solo rush. Arundel and Daniels each added a pair for Timmings before the first period closed.

The second spasm opened with King knocking in a long pass from Sauve, Timmings goalie, after a little over three minutes. Hanneberry retaliated with a counter for the Porcupine crew six minutes later. Four minutes later Hanneberry repeated and it began to look as though Porcupine was going to close up the gap between the two teams. Daniels took a pass from Sauve and worked right in to score Timmings' seventh goal. Just before the period Gauthier shot from the corner and the ball was lost. A search revealed that it had slid into the net and Timmings was five goals to the good.

Hanneberry scored his third goal as the last period opened and Billy Arundel came back with another two minutes later. Turner scored for Porcupine midway through the canto and the Timmings lead was cut down to four. Four minutes later Daniels took Cowan's pass to score his fifth goal. Three minutes later Daniels again scored his last goal of the night and incidentally Timmings' last goal. Two minutes before the period ended Emden finished the scoring on a nice solo rush.
