South Porcupine, Sept. 12th. Special to The Advance.

A very pretty wedding took place in the United Church here on Thursday, September 10th, at 12.30 p.m. when Eva Thursa Campsall became the bride of Robert Henry Hill. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Murray Tait, of Schumacher, in the absence of Dr. Fraser.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of white satin and lace made on long lines and wore a bridal veil. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas and lilies-of-the-valley. Her brother Russell Campsall, gave her away.

The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Smith of Golden City, as bridesmaid. She was attired in a dress of maize-coloured satin with accessories of white and mauve, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

Little Donna Reed made a charming flower girl. She looked very sweet in a nice green organza dress made in Princess Elizabeth style, with white accessories and carried a basket of sweet peas and lilies-of-the-valley. The brides' brother, Bert Campsall, acted as best man.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Robert Bulmer.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of Mrs. A. Dillman in Golden City where the wedding-breakfast was prepared.

The bridegroom's gift to the little flower girl was a beaded purse and to the bridesmaid a lovely manicure set.

pair much happiness and prosperity in their married life.

Infantile Paralysis Cases at Sault and North Bay

Fifteen cases of infantile paralysis have been reported at Sault Ste. Marie—ten of these being in the city itself. There were four new cases reported last week in the city and five for the district. Many parents were reported as keeping their children home from school at the Sault in the fear that the youngsters might come in contact with the disease. The baby show at the fall fair at the Sault last week was cancelled because of the outbreak of infantile paralysis cases.

There was one case of infantile paralysis reported at North Bay last week. The case was taken in time, however, and the youngster is now fully recovered. The home was quarantined, but the quarantine was lifted again in a few days. It is believed that the speedy administration of the preventative serum in the early stages of the disease halted the development of the paralysis in the North Bay case. Some years ago in Timmins there was a somewhat similar incident, where the early diagnosis of the case and the use of the serum apparently stopped what was believed to be a case of infantile paralysis.

Dr. Ranney, medical health officer at North Bay, is quoted as saying that he believes Northern towns likely locations for development of infantile paralysis, because of the large influx of tourists and others this season. Concerning symptoms Dr. Ranney advises that if a child develops an unusually high temperature, seems exhausted, has upset stomach, headache, general muscular soreness, especially of the neck and back with more or less stiffness of the neck muscles, a doctor should be summoned without delay.

The physician will administer the special serum which will prevent paralysis if given within the first two days of the illness but will not act as a cure if the disease is well developed.

"We have no known cases in North Bay but we should be on the lookout for it if we want to save life and prevent deformity," the health officer is quoted as saying in conclusion.

"Dad" White Eighty-four Years Old To-day (Sept. 14)

Today (Sept. 14th), is the 84th birthday anniversary of W. M. White, affectionately known to all old-timers as "Dad" White. Part of the observance of the birthday will be his attendance at this evening of the banquet to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the Timmins Oddfellows' Lodge. For many years "Dad" White has been prominent in the order and no event of the lodge here would be considered complete without his presence and one of the able and happy addresses he seems to be able to make on every occasion when called upon. On the banquet programme there is a special place of honour for "Dad" White who has made the noble principles of Oddfellowship ruling factors in his life. Mr. White in recent years has been living retired, but is in great demand by fraternal, church and other organizations for addresses and attendance at events. For many years in the early days of the camp he was a leading business man of the community, as well as being prominent in public and community life. At different times he held high office in the Oddfellows. To Mr. White on the occasion of his birthday will go sincere good wishes from hosts of friends not only in Timmins and South Porcupine, but throughout the whole North.

Creemore Star.—Rev. A. W. Downer, Duntroon, is now the champion skunk exterminator in that district. Clad only in his pyjamas, the rector challenged one of these noted animals that was making a raid on his chicken coop. A garden fork was used in the melee that followed and when the odour cleared away there was one less skunk in the world and also one suit of pyjamas that had to be burned. After a good bath the victor of the battle returned to his bed.

Carnival of Legion Opens This Evening

(Continued From Page One) ing and interesting one. There will be general agreement that Saturday night at the Legion Fall Carnival will be an occasion that none can afford to miss.

While the above gives some details of the extra special features for each of the six nights of the Legion Fall Carnival at the Timmins skating arena this week, it should not be forgotten that each and every night there are scores of other special carnival attractions that are regular features of the six evenings. There will be all sorts of games—"Bingo", "Ring the Goose", "Pot the Ball," and scores of others. Then local merchants will also have a large number of very attractive displays, including several interesting demonstrations of various kinds. The prizes for the games will include live geese, live chickens, live canaries, and some bird cages. There is to be on display a quantity of coal and the person guessing the closest to the weight of that coal will be allowed to take home that coal. There will further be nightly draws for special prizes.

Legion events are always pleasing and usually attract large crowds, because the Legion seldom fails to present the best kind of a show in any line undertaken. The committees in charge have worked particularly hard to make the Legion Fall Carnival an extra special. Nothing has been too much time or trouble to assure the complete success of the occasion. It seems an assured fact that the Legion committees have fully done their part and that each and every night this week will be a delight to all attending. It remains only for the people in general to do their part by piling up a bumper attendance each night. All can be assured of a very happy night each and every evening they attend the Legion Fall Carnival. There is also the opportunity to take home some of the many pleasing prizes. Still further there is the satisfaction that all good citizens enjoy in helping along a good cause. And the Legion Fall Carnival certainly represents a good cause. The proceeds from the event will go to the Legion funds to assist returned men and their dependents during the coming winter.

Lions Club Learns of Romance of Medicine

Dr. M. J. Kelly Gives Interesting Review of Advances of Modern Medicine. Wonderful Value of Discovery of Insulin. Diphtheria Could be Wiped Out of Existence, Dr. Kelly Said, if All Would Take Advantage of Inoculation.

"The Romance of Medicine," the story of how a few of the advances of modern medicine have made life possible for thousands of people throughout the world, was the subject of an address before the Lions club on Thursday, given by Dr. M. J. Kelly.

The discovery of insulin by Dr. Banting in Toronto was one of the chapters briefly reviewed. Although not a cure for the disease that used to take thousands of men, women and particularly children each year, insulin has made life possible for them. One diabetic, Dr. Meno, whose life would have had but a little time to run had it not been for insulin, was able through the years that followed its use, to perfect a treatment that has helped those suffering from pernicious anemia. In 15 years the amount of happiness brought to the world by insulin has been incalculable.

All Should be Inoculated

No parent should fail to have a child inoculated against diphtheria, said Dr. Kelly. The inoculation can do no harm and may be the means of saving life or preventing life long unhappiness. If every child in the world were inoculated, the disease could be wiped from the face of the earth, the doctor told the Lions. The treatment was found many years ago by two German experimenters and although great progress has been made, there are still millions of children who could and should have the protection offered.

In honour of one of the departing members of the club, Ben Spence, the Lions sang, "Till We Meet Again," and presented him with a token of their esteem.

"Home on the Range" was sung in chorus as the contribution to the programme of those who had arrived a few seconds or minutes late.

"I Must Go Down to the Sea," and "When Song is Sweet," were two solos by Keith Henderson, a guest at the meeting. Other guests were James Murray and John Taylor, the latter being one of the oldest members of a Lions club in Canada.

Says Less Mother-in-Law Might Help Family Peace

Too much "mother-in-law" was partially responsible for the marital difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Leblanc, Magistrate Tucker said in court at Kapuskasing Wednesday when he dismissed a charge of assault brought by Mrs. Leblanc against her husband.

Although both said their married life had been a 10-year failure, Magistrate Tucker advised that they go home with their six children and try once more. Mr. Leblanc said their difficulties started three weeks after they were married, when his wife wanted to go to a dance and he refused. Life since then he said, has been a succession of quarrels.

Mrs. Leblanc had been living with her mother since the previous Saturday night, when, she claimed, her husband choked her, threw her down, and dragged her from one room to another.

The husband claimed his wife came after him with a stick when he remonstrated with her about beating their children. She visited her mother frequently, Mrs. Leblanc said, and Magistrate Tucker suggested that this might be the cause of much of their discord.
