

Bankers Bowling League is Set for Six-Month Schedule

Opening Games on Thursday Night Show Competition Will be Keen This Year in Four-Team League.

Six months of bowling have been planned by the Bankers' League here, in which four five-man teams are competing. The first games, played on Thursday night, showed that competition is to be keener than ever this year and there will be a real race for the individual trophy presented to the bowler having the highest average for the season and taking part in 75 per cent. of his team's scheduled games.

At the annual meeting last week the following officers were elected: President, Paul Grant; vice-president, T. Brown; treasurer, L. Langs; secretary, W. Clark.

The season's schedule is divided into two parts, the winner of the first half to meet the winner of the second half in the final series. Members of the championship team will be presented with individual cups.

These are the scores of Thursday's games:

Mrs. A. Porter Wins Ringer Competition

Mrs. Rinn and Miss Roma Porter Tie in Nine-Hole Ringer

The "ringer" competition at the Timmins Golf Club, in the ladies' section, was finally settled last week. Mrs. A. S. Porter won first prize with a score of 73—that is the total of her lowest scores on each hole during the season. In the nine-hole competition, there was a tie between Mrs. Rinn and Miss Roma Porter. Mrs. J. P. Burke won the second flight.

Although the Friday competitions for the ladies were concluded a week ago, the members were given until October 1st to turn in their low scores for the "ringer."

Dr. Stahl Wins Knox Trophy on Last Hole

Defeats J. Sandwith in Final Event of Golf Season Here

It was a grand match on Saturday when Dr. O. J. Stahl won the Knox handicap trophy at the Golf Club in the final against J. Sandwith. The last hole was the one that decided which of the two golfers would hold the trophy for the next year. There was a good gallery following the men around the course.

Mr. Sandwith was one up toward the close of the match and it looked, even going down to the last green, as if he would get at least a tie out of it. But a drive to the green by the doctor gave him the edge he needed.

BOY SCOUTS IN TIMMINS

This has been a busy week for everyone—from the president of the Local Association to the newest Cub. For there has been something doing for everyone who has any part in Scouting in Timmins.

First, and most important, was the annual meeting of the Local Association, at which a new president was elected, J. D. MacLean, the town engineer. Scouts may not feel they have very much to do with the association, but really they have. For these men are the ones who are "tops." Through them, Timmins Scouts have their connection with the world-wide movement. The most interesting meeting to the Scouts at least was that in the Hollinger hall on Friday night when the First and Second troops had their final competition for the Geo. Drew shield. Tied in the competition at camp this year the two troops had to decide which was to hold the shield until next year's camp. They certainly showed what good Scouts they are when they played competitive games, tied knots, had a verbal relay, fire lighting test, and inspection. Second Timmins won by 38 points to 29. Mr. MacLean presented the shield to Troop Leader George Skelly but George gave it right back to him and said in the name of his troop that they felt the First troop had won it just as much as the Second and they wanted the president to keep it for both troops until next year. Mr. MacLean promised to let them know where it will be placed.

A. E. Paddon, Geo. Lake and Bert Rowe spoke briefly at the meeting, encouraging the Scouts in their work and promising every assistance.

The competition was in charge of Scouter Wright, under whose direction the camp was operated this year.

On Thursday night, before the meeting of the local association, 60 Cubs, from all the Timmins packs, gathered at Hollinger hall, had a joint meeting at which there was a lot of noise and fun, games and refreshments. Mr. Paddon got acquainted with them all and showed them lots of interesting things.

This is Mr. Paddon's second visit to Timmins this year. He's always glad to come, he says, because Scouts and Cubs seem to be getting along so well. Forty-seven boys, patrol leaders, troop leaders, and scribes, attended the conference on Saturday afternoon at the Hollinger hall headquarters. A. E. Paddon, of provincial headquarters, was in charge. Questions discussed at the conference were:

1. Are patrols any value in Scouting? How large should they be?
 2. Who should be patrol leader and how should he be elected?
 3. How long should a patrol leader hold his job?
 4. How should the patrol Second be chosen?
 5. What relationship should patrols have with one another and with the troop?
 6. What place has some religious observance or prayer in our troop programme?
 7. Do you emphasize enough a Scout's duty to God? How?
 8. How can you make your troop headquarters more attractive?
- So the leaders really did get over a lot of work on Saturday and they agree that every patrol in Timmins is going to be better for the ideas they heard.

There were lots of games and a fine talk by Mr. Paddon on "Patrol Leadership" after dinner. Scouter Rowe was chairman at the meeting and Mr. MacLean, Mr. Lawry and a number of was formed and a story read. The meeting closed with the Grand Pack Howl.

ANOTHER PITCHING HUBBELL ON MOUND

Not all the pitching glory in the Hubbell family of Oklahoma goes to lanky Carl, New York Giants' might southpaw. Around Meeker, O., the Hubbell's home town, it is Carl's sister Mildred, who is the hurling sensation in the softball tournaments. Mildred, also a southpaw, is seen in action on the mound.

Yanks Take Strangle Hold on World Series

Beat Giants 5-2 in Fourth Game, Yankees Third Win of Week.

Yankees made the World Series 3 games to 1 in their favour yesterday afternoon when they took the Giants by a score of 5-2.

Yanks had the edge all the way through from the second inning when Powell was safe at first as Jackson, Giants' third baseman, let one go through. The runner made second as Lazzeri rolled one to Whitehead off second for an out at first. Selkirk drove a liner between third and short that scored Powell. Dickey had fanned to open the inning and Selkirk was left on when Pearson flied out.

Three runs in the third inning almost cinched the game for the American League pennant winners. Crossetti slammed out a double to right field and scored when Rolfe hit to centre. DiMaggio's foul was caught by Mancuso at the plate. Gehrig had two balls and a strike on him when Hubbell threw a wild one, letting Rolfe have third. Then Gehrig chose the next one for a high one to the bleachers—a homer. Dickey gave a fly to Moore in left field and Pearson finished off the inning with a fly to Ripple in centre.

Bartell Scores for Giants
Bartell started the Giants' rally of the fourth in which they scored their first run of the day. His hit was just a single to right field, but it gave the team a lot of pep. Terry followed and accepted a walk, but Ott forced him by grounding to Crossetti at short. Ripple's single to left field brought Bartell across the plate. Mancuso grounded to Crossetti, who tried for a double but got only Ripple at second. Whitehead popped out to Crossetti, to give the short-stop his third put-out of the inning.

Giants collected one more in the first of the eighth. Leslie opened with a single to left field, batting for Hubbell. Davis did the running. Moore followed with another single to left. The run was scored as the next three men up went out at first, but not before Davis had crossed the plate.

Yankees took another for good measure in their last appearance at bat, the last of the eighth. Hubbell was done in the previous inning and Gabler relieved him at the mound. Gehrig lifted Gabler's first pitch for a two bagger. Dickey was out at first as he grounded to Bartell at short but Powell singled to left field, scoring Gehrig. Lazzeri failed to beat Whitehead's pitch to first. Selkirk was passed to first. Pearson sent one hopping down to third where Jackson picked it up and threw him out at first.

patrol leaders from Dome and South Porcupine were there. Songs and stunts brought the big day to a close.

The Scouts' Club met yesterday at three o'clock in the Hollinger hall and the men discussed plans for Apple Day, among other business of the movement. Mr. MacLean and Mr. Paddon were visitors.

It was decided to send a delegation of four of Kapuskasing this month to attend the leaders' conference. The delegates will ask that the Cochrane-Temiskaming Scout leaders' conference be held in Timmins next year.

Brantford Expositor:—A life insurance authority says that a woman may now expect to live four years longer than a man, the average expectancy standing at sixty-three in her case is compared with fifty-nine for the lord of creation. This hardly seems fair in view of the amount of time wasted by masculines in waiting for members of the fair sex.

GOLF

By ALEX MORRISON

Number 1044

The outstanding players among the women are those who hit a fairly long ball. Practically all women are able to play a good short game but few have acquired anything like the long game that is possible for them.

The only reason I can find for this is the notion that they are not strong enough to get distance with the longer clubs. The feminine players who get distance are generally of such size as to support this notion, nevertheless it is wrong.

The necessary length can be had without any great amount of strength. The rule that golf is not a game of strength certainly applies to women as well as to men. Consistent length comes from proper alignment and an approximation of the correct swing.

The correction position and movements are just as practical for women as they are for men. Furthermore, if women learn these positions for short shots they can also learn them for longer ones. All they have to do is to make up their minds that the job can be done and make a start.

Spode Game Service

We were indeed fortunate in securing for display one of Spode's rare Game Services. This delightfully quaint earthenware is in a typical early Spode style. Each of the thirteen pieces depicts a game bird of the English moors, hand painted in natural colours under the glaze. Included in this collection of fine art, preserved on china, are pheasants, partridge, grouse, quail, turkeys, ducks and geese, and other game birds sought and prized by English gentlemen. No two plates are alike. These paintings are as though framed with the quaint gadroon rim in a royal blue tone relieved by touches of strawberry red.

This set, a large turkey platter and twelve dinner plates, will be a prized possession of any sportsman or lover of fine tableware. The price is one hundred dollars. The Service will be on display in the window for a few days. You are cordially invited to see this Spode creation.
