Dome Scouts Entertain South Porcupine Scouts

Happy Event Tuesday Night. Death of Mrs. Schneider. Passing of Mrs. R. J. Bennett at the Pamour Mine on Monday of This Week. Other News of South Porcupine and Dome.

South Porcupine, Ont., Nov. 4, 1936. Special to The Advance.
The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from the United Church of Mrs. Hannah Schneider, an old resident of the town from the early days. Mrs. Schneider was 52 years of age and had been sick for over nine months. She died from cerebral hemorrhage in the Tisdale hospital on Wednesday, Oct. 28th, and was interred in South Porcupine cemetery. She was born in Sortavala, Finland, coming to Cobalt around 1909, and to South Porcupine in 1912. Her eldest son Kaarlo died at the age of 15 in 1924, and another—George—at the age of 2 years some years previously. Left surviving are her husband, son Jack, and daughter Aili (Mrs. C. Laamanen).

Scouts, C.G.I.T. girls and Guides from South End attended under the chaperonage of Lieutenant Walker (Guides), Bill Hall (Scouts) and Mrs. Jamieson (C.G.I.T.). A wonderful display of costumes was noted, prizes being given for the best. As a mechanical man Bob Pearce took first prize; Norma McCaw and Mamie Richards, as bride and groom, took second honours. Mr. and Mrs. Letterman and Bill Skeldon and Mrs. Flander acted as hosts and gave these young people a delightful party. Competitive games and a wonderful lunch were also enjoyed. The party came to an end with the singing of "A Girl Guide Day." Thanks are due to Mr. W. Fairhurst for the use of his truck for transportation of Scouts.

The funeral was very largely attended by both Finnish and English-speaking friends all of whom held the deceased lady in the highest regard. An unique feature of this service was the singing to the same tune in both languages of the two hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Shall We Gather at the River." The Rev. Heinonen, of Timmins, conducted the service and a choir of Finnish singers from Timmins sang two funeral hymns unaccompanied. The late Mrs. Schneider was a member of the Lutheran faith, but in the early days, before a branch of that religious body had established in South Porcupine, she had joined with the United Church Finns, and the Rev. Heinonen had christened her children and been associated with the family for 23 years—therefore the family requested him to conduct the service. He spoke feelingly of the way in which Mrs. Schneider in the early days had gone after the little Finnish children in the camp, and brought them to him to be baptised.

Brownies now meet on Tuesdays in the parish hall, with a new Brown Owl (Mrs. Stark) in charge. Their little pack is now full, and all little girls ever eight years who wish to join may go onto a waiting list to be taken in when some of the Brownies "fly up" into the Guides—which will happen soon.

Many beautiful floral tributes were sent, among them being:—From the husband; C. Laamanen, Toivo Anderson and family; "To Mother" from Aili and Jack; Aili and Pakko Jylha; Mr. and Mrs. Haapala; Mr. and Mrs. J. Townsend (Schumacher); Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McInnis; Mr. and Mrs. Ilander; Tilda and Hulda Bostrom; W. Gernecki and family; Mr. and Mrs. R. Mansfield; Mr. and Mrs. Klinga; Mr. and Mrs. Janakka and Lila; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mak; Mr. and Mrs. Ruusiter; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Curby; Mr. and Mrs. Kautto and Savijarvi; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell-Smith; C. V. Gallagher and staff; Mr. and Mrs. Gannon and Mrs. Mima Turin; Dr. and Mrs. Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. Kinnunen; Mr. and Mrs. Iola; the Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church; the congregation of the Lutheran Church of South Porcupine; the Loyal Finns of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Flander, residing at the New York Porcupine Mine, are leaving for Nova Scotia to live, on Friday. They will be much missed from the Dome community, especially Mrs. Flander who has done such excellent work in the Guide movement since coming to the camp. We wish them well in their new home.

Mr. Dave Evans met with an accident to his hand while working at the Buffalo-Ankerite Mine that will incapacitate him from work for two or three weeks.

The Junior Bridge Club was entertained at the home of Miss W. Naish on Monday. Those winning the honours were Miss Betty Martin and Mr. Hugh Gilroy.

The death occurred at the Pamour Mine on Monday, November 2nd, of Mrs. R. J. Bennett, aged 71, death being due to a succession of strokes. She had been residing at the mine for a few weeks, having gone from South Porcupine with her daughter, Mrs. McQuarrie, when she left here. The body was brought in to the home of her son, Mr. Al Bennett, of Powell avenue, from whence it was taken on Wednesday to the United Church prior to interment in Tisdale cemetery. The deceased lady had only three children survive her—Mr. Bennett, of South Porcupine, Mrs. McQuarrie, of Pamour, and Leslie Bennett of Washago, who came up for the funeral. Her former home was Campbell's Bay, and many of her old friends were present at the funeral, which was conducted by Dr. Fraser, who spoke beautifully on the duties of motherhood and her exemplification of them. Pallbearers were Messrs. Geo. Helmer, Tom Mahon, Jack Coyne, Jack Ostrom, Ken Farrell and Bill Smith.

Among the floral tributes were those of Mr. G. Longworth, Mr. Gus Pirie, the Mill Staff of the Dome Mines, Mr. and Mrs. Duggan, Mr. and Mrs. Connelly and Mrs. J. Johnston, Mrs. Wilson.

The Men's Club of St. Paul's met as usual on Tuesday but their discussion, "Sunday in Relation to Work," was postponed for a future date.

Miss K. Gallagher is on a few days' visit to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johns returned on Saturday from an extended visit to the home of Mrs. Johns' parents in Portland, Oregon.

Quebec to Force Higher Pay in the Lumber Camps

In the Quebec Legislature this week Hon. Maurice Duplessis premier of the province, said that the Quebec government plans to see that lumberjacks in Quebec provinces employed by pulp and paper companies are paid a minimum wage of $40 a month.

The premier was speaking in answer to a question from Opposition Leader T. D. Bouchard who asked Lands and Forests Minister Drouin when the order-in-council calling for the lumberjacks' $40 a month minimum wage had been adopted. The lands and forests minister denied he or anybody else had ever stated such an order-in-council had been adopted.

"You let the people of the province understand an order-in-council had been adopted obliging companies to pay a minimum salary of $40 a month to lumberjacks," Mr. Bouchard told Government members.

"Such is not the case," replied the premier. "When we assumed office we consulted the paper companies from Gatineau in the west to Gaspe in the east and we made them understand that the Government was going to exercise a severe control over the lumber and pulp and paper industry. This we plan to do."

"Under the orders-in-council which we have adopted the Government is the sole judge of what constitutes reasonable wages and living condition. As far as wages are concerned the Government believes that in general, insofar as lumberjacks are concerned, $40 a month is a reasonable salary under present conditions."

Trinity United Church are holding their anniversary service on Sunday, November 15th, 1936. Rev. R. S. Laidlaw, D.D., of Iroquois Falls, will conduct the services. On Tuesday evening, the 17th, the W.A. are serving one of their well known turkey dinners.

Mrs. Leo Budrick returned Monday from a vacation spent in Kirkland Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. F. MacDonald and son Bill, of North Bay, are guests of Mrs. MacDonald's sister, Mrs. A. H. Cooke, over the week-end.

Subject to Approval of Town Solicitor Cobalt to Take Lots at Hon. Mr. Latchford's Offer.

Cobalt, Nov. 5—(Special to The Advance)—The two lots which Hon. Francis R. Latchford, Chief Justice of the Appeal Court of Ontario, has owned here for a generation, and over which a lawsuit between him and the municipality is still continuing, have been offered for sale by his Lordship and the town of Cobalt is willing to purchase them at the price he set, deducting payment from the tax bill it is alleged the judge owes the corporation.

Provided the town solicitor, J. A. Legris, K.C., approves this proposal, the town will offer to buy the lots at the $250 price the Chief Justice has asked for each of them, and Mr. Legris has been instructed to draft the letter making the proposal. The municipality claims that apart from the judgment the municipality has against his Lordship for more than $1,100, there are further taxes and arrears on the property since 1934, the total for the three years involved being far more than the purchase price asked for by the judge.

Following the judgment obtained by the town in its Supreme Court action against Chief Justice Latchford, the defendant has appealed the decision of Mr. Justice Makins and this appeal is pending. The original suit covered an action for taxes allegedly owing from 1928 to 1933, inclusive, and the judgment allowed the claim, except for the year 1929. Subsequent to Mr. Justice Makins' finding, the lots, purchased when the Whitney Government held a sale in 1906 of land here, were advertised for sale by their owner.

Inquest into Death of Wallace C. Laut

Coroner's Jury Finds the Death was Accidental.

Wallace J. Laut came to his death on Monday afternoon when two wheels of a freight car passed over his body at the T. & N. O. yards, a coroner's jury under Coroner H. E. Montgomery decided at an inquest held at the town hall yesterday afternoon at five o'clock. They attached no blame to anyone.

No one had seen the man as he slipped under the freight car wheels. No one had seen him even immediately prior to the accident.

Joseph Cole, car clerk at the T. & N. O. freight sheds, was the first to see the body. He had been up to the front of the freight train sealing a car just as the train was ready to pull out. He went from the east side to the west side between two box cars and had not walked far down when he saw something on the rails, almost beneath the wheels. He shouted, seeing that it was a man and tried to pull him out, thinking he might have escaped the heavy wheels. Then R. Richardson, local railway agent, had arrived.

Coupling Had Been Completed

Mr. Richardson produced a rough sketch of a part of the yards. He had been watching the freight train switching. The locomotive had just picked up some cars on Track 1 and had backed down Track 2 to couple with the rest of the train. The coupling had just been completed when Mr. Cole's shout warned Mr. Richardson that something was wrong. The agent immediately signalled the engineer not to move his train until further orders were given. "I felt sure it was a man," he told the jury.

"Just leave him be," the agent told the men who gathered. He called Dr. Mackechnie.

"From the appearance of his clothing, I would say that two wheels had passed over him. If there had been any more, even clothing would have been cut in two," he said, explaining that the man must have fallen between two freight cars and only the one set of trucks passed over him before the train stopped.

"The train had gone back as far as it needed to, and if not more wheels would have passed over him?" asked A. DesRoches, foreman of the jury.

"That certainly would have," replied Mr. Richardson.

"He had no business over there?" asked Chief Alex Borland, a member of the jury.

"Not to my knowledge."

Was Badly Crushed

Dr. Mackechnie said that when he arrived at the scene of the accident the man was lying across the track with his head toward the centre track. He was slightly inclined in a north-east-south west line. Death had already occurred. The lower part of his chest and upper part of his abdomen had been crushed, the backbone broken, and the left arm severed near the shoulder.

Dr. Porter had attended the dead man for several days previous to his death. "He had been drinking for several days and was nervous from it," he explained. He had seen him Monday morning, the day of his death. He had been in bed at the hotel at ten o'clock in the morning and was "nervous but not as bad as previously."

"Did he appear to be despondent?" asked a jurymen.

"He didn't impress me as a despon-

Try to Find Missing Man by Use of Dogs

Practically No Hope of Finding Dan Willens Alive but Search Continues.

There is rather general opinion now that all hope of finding Dan Willens, the well-known prospector, may well be abandoned. In any event it seems to be most probable that the chances of finding him alive are practically negligible. He has been missing now for several months. He disappeared from the Dillabough camp in the Lightning River area not far from Matheson. He was seen around and well, and then a few days later no trace could be found of him. After a time the fear became general among his friends that either he was ill or disabled through some injury. He was a good man in the bush and well able to look after himself under ordinary circumstances.

The length of time that he has been missing, however, is flatly against any optimistic theory that he may still be alive. There are those who even discredit the idea that his body may be found. They argue that the whole area in the bush in the region has been thoroughly searched and that he can not be in nearby place without being discovered dead or alive.

October Big Month for Excelsior Life Company

Confirmation of the continued upward trend in general business is supported by the fact that The Excelsior Life Insurance Company achieved the largest volume of new business in its history when it secured $3,034,782.00 of new applications in October. The previous high month was March, 1930, when new business for a month totalled $2,933,130.00.

There is a continued trend, on the part of the average man, to buy new types of policies which provide for guaranteed retirement income to the policyholder if he lives to a stated age as well as providing the customary insurance protection to his family if he should die prematurely. An unusually high percentage of the October business was made up of application for Personal Pension units, a plan whereby the man of average income can start buying retirement income insurance on a modest scale and add to it from time to time.

The first ten months of 1936 show a gratifying net increase in business in force, a decrease in the amount of policy loans, and a distinct tendency on the part of policyholders to maintain and increase their insurance holdings.
