Hon. Earl Rowe Only Makes One Promise

Ontario. They "put bump signs where there had been bumps. They put bump signs where there were bumps. They put bump signs where they thought there would be bumps."

Dr. McClellan said that a wave of feeling had been sweeping the province that had increased to a torrent of discontent. "That wave is almost big enough to sink a Wasp," he said.

Mr. Hepburn said that he was through pouring money into the sink-hole of the North. Thank heaven he's kept one promise.

Bert Waters said that the Henry government had worked out a land clearing bonus scheme and a marketing idea but that Mr. Hepburn when touring the North previous to his election in 1934 had said: "The land clearing bonus—they stole it from us!"

Charges Forests Allowed to Burn

Twenty five million dollars of the best assets of the province had been consumed by forest fires during the past summer, Mr. Rowe said. And although he realized it was a dry year, he said that capable fire fighters had been fired by the Liberal regime, equipment had been allowed to rot, trails had not been cut through the bush.

The Wasp—Again

"When Mr. Hepburn came to Kapuskasing in 1934, he caused a great deal of amusement by his attack on the wisdom of Mr. Finlayson buying a yacht they call the Wasp and placing it in Lake Temagami." The truth of the matter is this. The Ditchburn company of Gravenhurst had been forced to lay off skilled men because of the depression...

KIND OF TREES THAT ARE BEING PLANTED IN SUBURBY

They tell about a Sudbury gardener who was becoming bored by the persistent questions fired at him by visitors who watched him at work. One day a visitor found the old fellow planting trees along the boulevard. "What kind of trees are you putting in there, my good fellow?" enquired the visitor. And the gardener replied: "Wooden ones."

Says Millions Wasted for Lack of Insulation

(Canada Lumberman)
A recent survey conducted by the Dominion government estimates a possible saving of 30 million dollars in fuel bills alone if every house in Canada was properly insulated. With the most thickly settled part of the country a considerable distance from the nearest coal field, with a winter temperature which makes furnace firing necessary for seven months in the year, Canadians of all people should be "insulation-minded. But as a matter of fact until the last few years, this was a factor of construction almost entirely neglected. Yet in new residential buildings, adequate provision for insulation, it is contended, is a very small cost, probably amounting to not more than 10 per cent. of the total for a complete job. Moreover this outlay, it has been definitely proved can be actually saved in fuel purchases in less than five years.

Silver Jubilee of Cochrane Pioneers

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Warrell, of Cochrane, observe 25th Anniversary of Marriage.

A despatch this-week from Cochrane says: "Married in North Bay, 25 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Warrell, Cochrane, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home here Sunday, when they received the congratulations of a host of friends in Cochrane and Northern Ontario."

"Both are former residents of North Bay. Mrs. Warrell, being the daughter of Mrs. William Hicks, North Bay, and the Warrell family, well-known through the North, also resided for some time in North Bay.

"The wedding was solemnized Nov. 1, 1911, with the Rev. T. G. S. Ferguson officiating. After marriage Mr. and Mrs. Warrell took up residence in Porcupine for one year moving to Cochrane in 1912.

"Mr. Warrell is court clerk for the District of Cochrane, which position he has filled for some years. He was previously clerk and treasurer of the Town of Cochrane. Enlisting in the 159th Battalion, Mr. Warrell served as lieutenant in Canada, United States, England and France.

"Taking a keen interest in community matters, Mr. Warrell is chairman of the Lady Minto hospital board here. He is also a member of the High School board and the Library Board, as well as vice-president of the Church Community Club.

"An enthusiastic Oddfellow, he is a past grand of Cochrane lodge and past district deputy grand master of District No. 59. He has also served a term as president of the Lee Golf Club and is a regular competitor in the Northern Ontario golf championship event.

"Elected for many years to the Housing Commission by town council, Mr. Warrell acted as chairman of that body and was also for some time secretary of the Cochrane Board of Trade.

"Mrs. Warrell's interests have also led her into the active life of ladies organizations of the town, and she is much respected for her kindly interest in the ladies' hospital auxiliary, the Ladies Aid of United Church and other organizations. Seven children have blessed the union, all residing in Cochrane, the eldest, Miss Gertrude, having the honor to be the first native-born resident to be a teacher on the High School staff. Celebrations were of a quiet nature owing to the sudden death of Mr. Warrell's brother-in-law, Dr. McVicar, of Cochrane."

Liquor Privileges Cancelled
Victor Fauvelle, charged with having beer illegally purchased under the Liquor Control Act, admitted that his privileges had been cancelled under the Act, and that the only way he could get beer was to have his wife buy it for him.

Sergeant Walker had searched Fauvelle's premises twice, once on October 18th, and again on October 24th. On the 24th at 11 p.m., he had found 41 pints of ale.

"Where did you get it?" asked the magistrate.
"My wife bought it."
"Where did you get it from?"
"From the grocery store."

He had signed the order for the beer, Fauvelle said, because when the driver called with it, his wife had been busy getting the money from her room and the driver was in a hurry to get away.

"And you gave her this money to buy liquor for you?"
"Yes," Fauvelle answered finally. He was fined $25 and costs.

Expensive Chinese Battle

A fight between two Chinese citizens of Timmins resulted in injury to one of them, who laid a charge against the other. This charge of assault was withdrawn when the one against whom the complaint was made paid the doctor's bill. The costs of court, assigned to the man who was accused of the assault, were heavy. The doctor who had treated the wounds was present, there were several other witnesses, as well as an interpreter—$26 in all.

Cosma Doneson placed a charge of assaulting Nick Russel, as the result of an incident here the other day that resulted in Russel being taken to the hospital. The injured man was not able to appear, so the case was adjourned. Doneson laid a counter charge of assault against Russel.

Grant "Working Permits"
Working permits are being granted to the children of some parents who were summoned to police court for not having their daughters in school while they were still under the age of 16.

Some were asked to produce birth certificates.

One young man sued a local merchant for $2.00 wages. He said the employer had agreed to pay him $10 a week for delivering and doing odd jobs around the store. But the lad had taken $8.00 for his week's work and had signed a receipt for "wages in full."

The case was dismissed.
A man accused of peeping in the window of a Fifth avenue home said he "had been looking for a blind pig." There was just the one offence, so the magistrate accepted the excuse and allowed the man to leave the courtroom free.

In two assault cases that were called, neither the defendant nor the complainant materialized, so the charges were dismissed.

Eight Drunks
Two second offence drunks were assessed $50 and costs or 30 days in jail and six first offenders were given the options of $10 fines or 30 days in jail.

Those who "took the time" had their terms dated back to the time of arrest.

Six men were charged with gambling on Sunday and were assessed $10 and costs. One couldn't raise the money so took 15 days in jail instead. It was an expensive game.

Paul Bigras, charged with reckless driving, was adjourned one week. One speeder paid $10 and costs and
