Remembrance Day at the Schumacher High School

Peace Among the Nations the Theme of the Occasion. D. E. Keeley, Rev. Fr. Martindale, Rev. M. Tait, P. A. Boyce and W. O. Langdon the Speakers at the Event.

Peace among nations was the theme of an appropriate Remembrance Day ceremony at the Schumacher High School on Tuesday afternoon. Visitors to the school for the occasion were D. E. Keeley representing the high school board, Father Martindale, Rev. Murray Tait, P. A. Boyce of the Schumacher public school, and W. O. Langdon, from the Canadian Legion.

From the portion of scripture read, Mr. Keeley chose a sentence and said that charity and common sense could make it possible for the world to avoid any conflict or any lack of balance in the international structure.

Father Martindale stressed the fact that all must be kindly in this life in order that the peace of the world be maintained. Inability to see the other's point of view leads to much of the "causes" over which wars are fought, he said.

Rev. Mr. Tait's message was three-fold. He said that the day stood for three great things: remembrance of the sacrifice of those who have gone on; the duty owed by all to their community, church and school; and the hope that war may be obliterated through a better understanding among all people.

Mr. Boyce illustrated his remarks with true stories of the fine men who went to the last war and of those who did not come back. He said it was a shame people of such calibre should be killed for no good purpose.

Armistice Day in London was recalled by Mr. Langdon in an address that had much effect on the high school students. He spoke of the change in the name of the day from Armistice day to Remembrance day and pointed out that "remembrance" was much more in the best spirit of the age. Every man and woman has a duty to do in furthering the interests of his country, Mr. Lang-

10th Birthday Celebration

VALUES

Ten Years Ago. . . . .

Shragge's introduced "style" to Timmins. From that day until this it is "The Store that Sets the Pace." Women were quick to realize the genuine satisfaction that style-right clothes bring. Through the years when price-cutters have tried to hoodwink the public with inferior quality clothing, Shragge's patrons have remained loyal. Firm in their belief that it must be priced right and styled right if it comes from Shragge's. Now, on the Tenth Birthday of our Timmins shop, we pause to review the past and look with confidence to the future. We thank our patrons for the compliment they have paid us in the past by entrusting us with their personal appearance—their wearing apparel. We are sure they will come to us in the future. We wish to say a simple and sincere, "Thank You."

By way of celebration and to show our appreciation we offer this week EXCEPTIONAL VALUES in quality clothing, that you have come to know so well. All these special offerings are from our regular stock—but all are marked away down in price. Be sure you get your share of these Birthday Specials.

Schumacher Church Anniversary Event

To be Held Nov. 15th and 17th. Other Schumacher News.

Schumacher, November 11th, 1936. Special to The Advance.
 Born—On Tuesday, November 3rd, in St. Mary's hospital, Timmins, to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hall, 45 First avenue—a daughter.
 Mrs. Clarence Fiendel, who has been visiting in Amos, and at the Sullivan Mine, Quebec, returned home last week.
 Merton Wilson is a patient in St. Mary's hospital, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis last week.
 The Child Welfare clinic will be held in the public school on Friday from three to five in the afternoon.
 Mrs. R. Robinson left last week for Toronto, where she will spend the winter.
 The Young People's Society entertained their members and guests to a chicken dinner in the church hall on Monday evening. President Allan Fish, presided for the evening, and Mr. S. A. Wootkey gave a very interesting talk on Bermuda, after which three of the Society's members, two brides, Mrs. A. MacMurray (Dol Craig), Mrs. N. Williams (Mamie Green) and a bride-elect, Miss Mina Hembuff, were presented with silver mayonnaise bowls on behalf of the members for their work and co-operation in connection with the Society. The young ladies responded ably stating that their associations in the society will be pleasant memories.
 Mr. J. Posten, who has been visiting relatives in town, left Sunday for his home in New Liskeard.
 Born—Monday, November 9th, in St. Mary's hospital, Timmins, to Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacMillan—a daughter, George Leck, of the Omega Mine, spent Sunday at his home in town.
 Armistice Day was fittingly observed on Wednesday, the stores and business places being closed, in some cases all day. On Tuesday the Legion had young ladies out selling poppies and they seemed to do a good business, it being the mine's pay day.
 Mr. Hiscocks, of Monteith, inspector of public schools, was a visitor to town last week.
 Born—Monday, November 9th, in St. Mary's hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. (Happy) Woods, Third avenue—a son, Mrs. White who has been visiting her son for the past few months, left Sunday for her home in Sault Ste. Marie.
 Mr. M. McQuarrie, of Matachewan, is visiting at his home this week.
 The anniversary services of Trinity United Church, will be held on Sunday, November 15th, when Rev. R. S. Laidlaw, of Iroquois Falls, will conduct the services, and those hearing Rev. Laidlaw last year will be pleased again to have the opportunity of hearing this eloquent speaker. The choir are preparing special music for the services. On Tuesday evening, November 17th, the W.A. are putting on one of their famous turkey dinners from three to five—an event that no one should miss. Last year the ladies were unable to cater to the large unexpected crowds, but they will be fully prepared to give service next Tuesday evening. On Wednesday the children will be served turkey dinner at 12 o'clock.
 Mrs. E. Robinson, Goldale property, is entertaining at a tea and bedroom shower for Father Martindale's home. The ladies of the C.W.L. are sponsoring the shower.
 Mrs. Schillier and daughter, Barbara, are visiting in Toronto.

Names Pacifism as Being Chief Cause of Great War

Blaming pacifism in the pulp and press for Britain's unpreparedness in the Great War, Rev. P. F. Bull, rector of the Church of Epiphany, at Sudbury, in a militant sermon Sunday morning heard by the members of the Canadian Legion and "A" Company of the Algonquin Regiment on the occasion of the annual Armistice Day church parade, urged a programme of defence upon the British Empire, particularly Canada.
 Taking for his text, verse 21, chapter 11, of the gospel according to St. Luke: "When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace." Rev. Mr. Bull, chaplain of the Sudbury company of the Algonquin Regiment, urged the necessity of a strong defence and charged that Great Britain to-day was only 70 per cent. as strong as it was in 1914 on the eve of the Great War.
 He contended that had Great Britain been fully armed on the eve of the Great War that great catastrophe would never have overtaken the world. But instead, the Anglo-Celtic and Saxon people let it be known that they hated war and urged by a pacific pulpit and press lay down their arms until they were unprepared for the events of 1914.
 Had Great Britain been armed as it should have been on the eve of the major conflict the loss of life would have been materially reduced and the battle much shorter lived. At the present time he observed the people were observing Armistice Day, which was after all but a temporary cessation of hostilities.
 Not six months ago people had spoken of future events and future wars and the question had been prefaced by the preposition "if," but today that preposition has given way to the question "when." He urged upon the people to look up to the young men who comprised Canada's militia and make them feel the admiration of their fellows for the task which they have undertaken in preparing themselves for the defence of their country.
 The service at the Sudbury church was attended by the Sudbury branch of the Canadian Legion, "A" Company of the Algonquin Regiment and the Nickel District band. Following the service the units paraded to the Canadian Legion rooms.

Kirkland Lake Plans to Revive Board of Trade

Kirkland Lake, Nov. 11.—(Special to The Advance)—Unable at present to be represented at the meeting of the Northern Associated Boards of Trade to meet at New Liskeard next week to formulate a policy for the provincial meeting of trade boards and chambers of commerce, Kirkland Lake, largest commercial centre of the district, today took the initial steps to form a trade board in order to take an active part.
 Invitations have been extended to representative mining, business and professional men to attend an organization meeting in the township hall on Thursday evening.
 Acting on the invitation of the Toronto Board of Trade to air the grievances of the T. & N. O. country and Northwestern Ontario, the various boards of the North are preparing for the forthcoming North and South meeting.
 The invitation from the South came as a direct result of continued representations by the North for closer cooperation.

Two Thousand at Remembrance Event

 tries at the four corners of the cenotaph, presented arms. Reveille was sounded. The men in uniform "sloped" arms. Pipe Major McLennan and Pipe Major Stewart and Cowan played "The Flowers of the Forest." Then the second bomb and the Hollinger whistle indicated the end of the tribute.
 Mayor J. P. Bartleman told the gathering that the Legion hoped "to erect a more appropriate memorial in memory of those who sacrificed their lives" in the war. "Let us resolve to uphold the ideals for which our Canadians died," he said, "and respect and honour those who are still with us."
 Mass singing of "O God Our Help in Ages Past" followed the mayor's remarks.
 Rev. Bruce Millar referred to the words of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King on his return to Canada from the League of Nations assembly, and to the thoughts expressed by Louis Pasteur 50 years ago at the conclusion of the Franco-Prussian war when he said the world faced two contrary laws: the law of blood and destruction and death, and the law of peace and work and health. The "humanity of life" had emerged victorious from the last war, he said, in making a plea to all to cast in their lot with humanity for "peace, sanity and true progress."
 Remember the Living
 After the singing of "Abide With Me," Austin Neame, president of the Legion, congratulated the organizations who turned out to honour the day. "Yesterday and this morning you have remembered the living," he said. One of the most wonderful things about the service was to see the people of different nationalities all under one flag. "It is a great thought," he said. The number of those who returned from the war is diminishing and their duty to-day is to educate the children of the country never to forget those who died for Canada and the Empire, he reminded them.
 During the singing of "God Save the King," militiamen once more presented arms.
 The laying of wreaths on and about the cenotaph concluded the service; the parade re-formed and returned to the Legion hall.
 Those who took part in the parade were: The Timmins Citizens Band; Mayor Bartleman and Councillors Dr. E. A. F. Day, J. E. Brunette and L. H. Cousins; the local, provincial and mounted police, 15 strong, led by Chief Paul; 14 regular and volunteer firemen, led by Chief Borland; more than a hundred Legionnaires, led by two standard bearers and Austin Neame;

Kirkland Lake Carries Tarantula on Shoulder

The latest story to come from Kirkland Lake is to the effect that a clerk in the R. A. Trussler store in that camp one day last week was carrying a bunch of bananas from the store to the storehouse, when another clerk noticed that a live tarantula spider was clinging to the fruit. There was naturally some excitement for a time, but eventually through the co-operative effort of some of the other clerks, not to mention sticks used cautiously, the spider was forced into a tin box which was very hastily covered with cellophane. The spider could thus be closely studied without danger. The fact that the spider was chilled by the Northern atmosphere, and consequently somewhat sluggish, made it easier and safer for those making the transfer from the banana bunch to the tin box. Once in the box the spider came in for a lot of study and comment. The general opinion seemed to be that it was a repulsive-looking gentleman. It was described as brown in colour and covered with silky hair. When its legs were extended it would cover an area of fully five inches in diameter, the accounts say. Probably further description would only mean that some scientific gent would come forward to say that was not a tarantula spider. Even if the boys could prove it was a tarantula, then someone would be asserting that the tarantula is a harmless insect and not the poisonous reptile of average imagination. There have been a couple of these tarantula spiders found on fruit coming to Timmins in years past, but there was also always someone to say they were something else. Like's like that.
 Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Maxwell and daughter, of Hamilton, were visitors to Timmins this week.
