Had Agonizing Pains in Her Back

Free from Pain Since Taking Kruschen

Like many other sufferers from backache and rheumatic ailments (this woman decided to try Kruschen Salts in a last attempt to obtain relief from pain. To her surprise, the pains did grow less, and in a few months the backache had disappeared. Having made sure of the results she now writes as follows:—"For about four months I had agonizing pains in my back, and could not turn in bed. During that time I tried various remedies, but obtained no relief and was seriously considering going into hospital. However, seeing a case similar to mine described in an advertisement for Kruschen, I thought I would try it, and was more than surprised to find the pain getting less. I have been taking Kruschen for four months, and would not be without it for anything. I must say I am free from those dreadful pains."—(Mrs.) B.C.

Kruschen is an excellent diuretic—that is it helps to stimulate kidney functions. When kidneys are restored to healthy, normal action, poisonous waste is properly eliminated, the blood stream is purified, and you get welcome relief from the dragging pains of backache.

Fear Sort of Peace Talk That Tends to Cause War

(St. Catharines Standard)

The Toronto Star takes issue with "several Conservative newspapers" which have criticized the speech which Prime Minister King delivered at Geneva, and praises Mr. King for his utterance. It bases its adulation on the undoubted fact that no one in Canada wants war. "We as a people do not want war. Mr. King said we did not, and was he not right?"

The whole point is missed. The criticism of the speech of the Prime Minister has been almost entirely based on the fact that it was a deliverance conducive to war, having in view the state of mind of the dictators of Europe, and the avidity with which they would seize on the indication by a Dominion Prime Minister that the British Empire front was not united. It was the emphasis Mr. King put on autonomy, independence, disunity of the Empire which was deplorable, the most encouraging thing he could possibly give to Mussolini or Hitler in their ambitious plans for dominance and aggrandizement.

If Mr. King wanted to deliver a peace speech which would have been true to Canadian character, he would have told the Geneva delegates that Canada stood four-square behind Great Britain in the patient, persevering effort of that government to ensure peace and to make for it permanently. He did no such thing. The only hope of peace in the years to come is the determination of the British people to be strong enough to defeat any aggressor and it is also the only hope for security, perhaps our very own, if we could look very far into the future.

Canadian Mounties Prove Popular in United States

Regina Leader-Post: The visits troops of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have been paying to the United States complying with requests from over there for those "musical rides" that make the "Mounties" and their horses an embodiment of rhythm, grace and charm without forfeiting the dignity and rigor for which they stand with respect to law and enforcement, can hardly be without good publicity value for Canada across the border.

Good Advice on Elections Though It's 400 Years Old

(New York Times)

Erasmus, the 400th anniversary of whose death is to be celebrated next month, gives some very timely advice as to the choosing of a ruler by election—be he prince or president or governor. In the first place, those who have the choosing should seek "a nature staid," in no way rash and not so excitable that there is a danger of his developing into tyrant under the license of good fortune and casting aside all regard for advisers and counsellors. On the other hand, not so yielding "as to be turned now this way and now that by whomsoever he meets."

Again, his experience and age are to be considered—not so severe as to be entirely out of sympathy with frivolity nor so impetuous as to be carried away by flights of fancy. As in navigation the wheel is not given to him who surpasses his fellows in birth, wealth or appearance, but rather to him who excels in his skill as a navigator, in his alertness and his dependability, so with the ruler of the state the power should be entrusted to him who "excels all in requisite qualities of wisdom, justice, moderation, foresight and zeal for the public welfare."

And Erasmus adds this cautionary word across the centuries: "That the more difficult it is to change the choice, the more circumspectly should the candidate be chosen or else the rashness of a single hour may spread its retribution over a lifetime."

Erasmus belonged in a special sense to the Middle Ages, but his mind, as these observations suggest, was of our own day.

Now It's Some Christmas Cards that are Condemned

The "Woman's Point of View" column in The Mail and Empire takes a well-merited rap at some objectionable Christmas cards that are circulated every year. The writer says:—

"By one of those curious undesigned coincidences upon which books have been written, we received by the same post two widely differing types of Christmas cards. A boxful, sent us by Mrs. Harry Roesler, of the Catholic Women's League, depicted varying scenes in the Christmas story, the story of a Mother and a little Child that caught the imagination of the world and ushered in a new conception of the value of the individual and of a Deity who was love and not wrath. The other consignment was from a correspondent who had found so-called "comic" Christmas cards being advertised and distributed in her locality. We readily understand her desperate distress that such things should be circulated with the tender and holy name of Christmas upon them. We are rather at a loss to understand how it is that such disgusting affairs as these cards are, and the advertising that solicits patronage, should be allowed in the mails. There is a law against the dissemination of such matter and we cannot quite see why it is not enforced.

Kirkland Lake Mail Delivery on Dec. 1st.

Letter Carriers Pass Examinations and are Duly Appointed.

A despatch yesterday from Kirkland Lake says that the opening date for Kirkland Lake's new post office, on which construction was commenced early this year, was tentatively set for December 1 on Tuesday, as the seven letter carriers who were successful in the examinations held recently, commenced a survey of their routes to prepare for the actual delivery of mail. Door-to-door service will be commenced at the same time as the opening of the new building.

In order to insure prompt and efficient service at the time of the change over, Postmaster A. J. Elliott has issued the official request for residents to immediately start dating their letters with their house address in writing to outside points. Household are also requested to have letter boxes or door slots installed at once.

Coincident with the inauguration of the house-to-house service at Kirkland Lake, all residents must take delivery through the carrier, it was officially announced. Business men will be allowed to choose between the delivery of their present box in the post office for faster service. Mail will not be delivered to any point within the district to be served where there is not a sidewalk, was another official decision.

Names of the seven new carriers are T. J. C. Smith, D. Hodgson, J. D. McDonald, M. E. Ferguson, L. A. Roy, D. McNiven and J. D. Boucher, all of Kirkland Lake.

Besides the new delivery system, another service is to be put into effect as soon as installation of the necessary equipment has been effected. Twenty-three drop boxes for the posting of mail in the outlying districts are to be installed, starting this week, and will be put into service at once. The boxes will be cleared daily in time to catch both north and south-bound mails.

Call of Bermuda Beaches at This Time of the Year

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 17.—If all Bermuda beaches were laid end to end, their combined area would comprise a surprisingly large portion of the Island's total area—19.4 square miles. And here is an instance of quantity equalling quality for more beautiful beaches than Bermuda's are non-existent.

The sand, rather coarse in quality (and thus more easily shaken from bathing suits and beaches robes) is lovely to look at—lovely to lie on. It has a pronounced pink tone and, looking at it very closely, you'll find tiny particles of powder blue, turquoise and mauve scattered among the coral grains. Miraculously free from litter of any kind, the coral rock nooks which line every island beach are extremely inviting to beach-loungers.

As for bathing—nothing can compare to Bermuda water! Warm and gentle, its brilliant sun-spotted turquoise shading is irresistible to swimming addicts. So unusual and striking is the colour that Fashion authorities christened the season's smartest blue Bermuda Blue.

A distinct comparison to the monotonous shore line of northern resorts is the scenery which provides background for island beaches. Knotted and gnarled cedars, vivid cleander and hibiscus blossoms and the deep green of shrubs soften the glare of sun on the sand.

There are any number of beaches to choose from—and all are conveniently reached by bicycle, train or carriage. Coral, Elbow, Elba and Pink Beach are all popular. Should you prefer sunning in seclusion, there are many small beaches—Horseshoe, for example—to which you may pedal with a day's supply of food, reading material, or pen and ink, with no fear of intrusion. Be gay, be grim, be idle or active—you're sure to find a Bermuda beach to suit your mood!

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennelley, 15 Crescent avenue, at St. Mary's hospital, on November 17th—a son.

Consecration of St. Paul's Church, South Porcupine

Interesting Ceremony on Sunday, Nov. 29th, With Bishop Anderson, Bishop of Moosonee Officiating. Some Interesting Notes in Regard to the History of the Church

The formal consecration of St. Paul's Church, South Porcupine, is to be on Sunday, Nov. 29th, with the Bishop of Moosonee officiating. Reference to this is made in the last issue of St. Paul's Parish Magazine, together with some historical notes in regard to the church. Ven. Archdeacon Woodall in his parish letter saying, in part:—

"It is just 25 years ago that a very small but loyal congregation of Anglicans built to the glory of God the first St. Paul's which stood on the site of our present church which replaced it.

Of those early worshippers, so far as the writer knows, only the Brinton family, the Mansfield family and Mr. R. Vaughan are connected with the church now.

"Rome was not built in a day, and after she was built her people went on adding to her as beauty and necessity demanded. So has it been with our Church.

"When the first St. Paul's was erected in the fall of 1911 under the leadership of Rev. W. M. Trivett, God put it into the hearts of first one and then another of His people to lead in furnishing it. Miss Pettigrew, happily still with us, and Mrs. Frisby collected the money and purchased the holy table which is worthy of any church. The paneling behind the holy table and the kneeler which he made were the gifts of Mr. C. E. Morgan. The cushion for the kneeler was made and given more recently by Mrs. J. Porter. The brass alms dish was presented by Mr. Maxwell-Smith and the British oak bracket on which it stands found a place a hundred years ago in the church at Hatfield, England, the seat of the Salisbury family. The sedilia was given by the Sewing Circle and the peas by the W.A. on the occasion of the writer's completion of 40 years' service as a clergyman. The brass communion rail was put in by Mr. R. Vaughan in 1932. Other gifts in the sanctuary are the brass cross donated by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wilkins, the brass book rest by Dr. and Mrs. Barry and the service books by Mrs. James Boyle. The font was the gift of relatives and friends in England of Ven. J. E. Woodall in memory of his 25 years' service in the Diocese of Moosonee and the lectern was presented last Christmas Day by Mr. and Mrs. Fairhurst. For the bell we have to thank Mr. Richard Brinton who solicited it from the late Mr. Englehart, chairman of the T. & N. O. Railway Commission. The church with all these gifts free from all legal incumbrances will be solemnly consecrated and set apart for ever for the worship of God on Sunday, November 29th, 1936, by the Bishop of the Diocese of Moosonee. We trust that this interesting service will be well attended by earnest worshippers.

Your friend and rector,
J. E. Woodall."
