Carnival and Moccasin Dance at South Porcupine

Second Annual Event to be Held on February 3rd. Interesting Meeting of S. P. Men's Club. Wedding Announced of Popular Couple. Other South Porcupine and Dome News.

South Porcupine, Jan. 21st, 1937. Special to The Advance.

The Dome Extension Bridge Club met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Barnes. A lovely time was enjoyed, and a nice lunch served. The winners this week were 1, Miss L. Niemi; 2, Mrs. Wm. Thomas and 3, Mrs. Barnes.

Mrs. Albert Harris, of Gananogue, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ellis Wright, of Connaught Hill, for a week or so.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams of Dome Ex., met at their home on Saturday night to offer congratulations and a nice gift to Mrs. G. Williams on the occasion of her birthday. Over twenty-five friends were present and a happy evening was spent.

Miss Claire Harty, of the post office staff, who has been quite sick is now able to resume her duties at the post office.

Mrs. Gabriel, of Schumacher, is relieving for Miss Lucas at the High School this week.

Mr. James Fell left this week for the Sigma Mine, where he will work for a time.

The second annual winter carnival and moccasin dance held under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose is slated for Wednesday, Feb. 3rd in the South Porcupine arena. Game of broomball with South Porcupine Fire Dept. vs. Schumacher F. D. will be played and skating, speed skating, obstacle racing, grand parade, balloon competition and other sports will be indulged in. Prizes will be given for costumes.

At last Thursday's meeting of the Men's Club of the United Church a special feature was the address given by Mr. Wylie, of Schumacher, on "Mental Health." This was well received by those present and evinced evidences of well thought out statements and facts. One fact given is rather startling. Out of an average class of 40 school children, 2, says Mr. Wylie end in institutions. However, the consoling thought that mental ill-health is not on the increase despite our pessimism, was a bright spot. Athletics, and wholesome interest for our children, will be the remedy, was his opinion. The very nice lunch served on this occasion was put up by the ladies of the Missionary Committee under the leadership of Mrs. Coffey.

Miss Eloise Ray, of Iroquois Falls, was the guest of Mrs. R. Gemmill over the week-end.

Don't forget the Eastern Star Bridge party on Wednesday next in the Masonic hall.

The whist drive sponsored by the Rebekah Lodge takes place to-morrow (Friday) in the Parish hall.

Sees Great Future for This Dominion

Canada's Grand Old Man's Faith in Country Grows with the Years.

Tell, patriarchal Sir William Mulock, one of the most distinguished figures in Canada's public life, entered his 94th year Tuesday, January 19th, believing in a restricted immigration policy.

"The country would be benefited by immigration of the right class of people, but only in such numbers as the country can assimilate," he said. "Regard should be had for conditions in the country at the time of the contemplated immigration.

"Immigration of an undesirable class should be avoided—an empty house is better than a bad tenant," remarked the venerable owner of highly-valuable business and residential property in Toronto and York county.

Faith in Canada's future and pride in its past are evident as he looks forward to another year.

"Canada is a land of promise, and its people are of the stuff to make it great," he said.

A leader in many public activities—principally law, education and politics—Sir William is proudest of his record as postmaster-general when he introduced penny postage. "I was told it couldn't be done, but I did it," he said.

For years he has had one prime advice for young people: "Be fair, always keep your word."

Respected by leaders of the bar for his depth and clarity of thought, Ontario's former chief justice is mentally alert and physically active. Bedtime is not governed by any set rule, each day is filled with personal and business appointments. His kindly personality has won him friends in every walk of life.

His resignation as chief justice relieved him of endless reading of briefs and gave him more time for his books, his "friends" he terms them. He still devotes much time and thought to his post of chancellor of University of Toronto, a position he assumed in 1924 on the death of Sir Edmund Walker. As head of Ontario's courts he retired last June.

During the summers he lives at Aurora, 30 miles north of Toronto and only a few miles south of Bondhead, where he was born in 1844, son of a pioneer doctor.

The black walnut trees he planted at his extensive Aurora farm when he had already passed the normal span of life, have "grown into money" and his experience has been cited in many parts of the world as a fine, practical result of reforestation.

An ardent fisherman, he looks forward each spring to the trout season in June. Only a few years ago he acquired a tract near Georgian Bay and planted thousands of trees, sheltering in this area many winding streams and trout ponds.

London Free Press:—Some 380,000 bottles of Mayence wine are being shipped to Canada to settle interest payments. No doubt the creditors feel that the German debtors are meeting their obligations in the proper spirit.

Quotes Shakespeare in Referring to Edward VIII

A quotation from Shakespeare's Otello best expressed the apparent attitude of former King Edward VIII to the problems with which he last had to deal. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett suggested Monday in the House of Commons in discussing the abdication proceedings. The quotation was: "I have done the state some service, and they know it; No more of that—I pray you, in your letters. When you shall these unlucky deeds relate, Speak of me as I am; nothing extenuate, Nor set down aught in malice then must you speak Of one that loved not wisely, but too well."

How Prisoners Were Fed at Guelph Prison

Also Some Other Particulars of the Riot and Aftermath.

Despatches in some of the daily newspapers in regard to the riot at the Ontario Reformatory say:—

The old cry of the lumber camps, "Come and get it," seems to have been made up of fighting words for prisoners of the Ontario Reformatory. Many of them claimed there was not enough food, and what there was wasn't too palatable.

But officials at the reformatory were eager Monday night to place all their cards—menu cards they were—on the table in answer to the food complaint.

Dr. J. D. Heaslip, reformatory superintendent, brought out a pile of menus for meals in recent weeks.

Here is what Dr. Heaslip's pile of menus disclosed was served January 8—Breakfast—rolled oats, sugar and milk, bacon, buttered toast, bread and coffee; luncheon—salmon "au gratin," steamed potatoes, lima beans, raspberry pudding, bread and tea; supper—cold ham, pickled beets, stovio potatoes, sponge cake, pears, bread and tea.

For breakfast January 9 there was oatmeal, sugar and milk, eggs, buttered toast, bread and coffee; luncheon—rice soup, roast beef and gravy, boiled potatoes, succotash, apple pudding, bread and tea. Supper was assorted cold meats, pickled beets, hash browned potatoes, spice cake, plums, bread and tea.

Breakfast, January 11, consisted of wheatlets, sugar and milk, boiled eggs (not steamed), bread, toast and coffee. The luncheon menu offered cream of tomato soup, boiled cottage roll, buttered turnips, steamed potatoes, vanilla pudding, bread and tea. Main course for supper was sausage and fried potatoes. Trimmings were rhubarb and raisins, sponge cake, bread and tea.

Both Dr. Heaslip and Hollingshead told of a recent visit to the reformatory by Dr. J. K. Blair, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Wellington North, who ate from a tray intended for a prisoner and said his only criticism was that he could not eat so much as was provided.

Asked if he had any intention of altering the prison fare as a concession to the riotous inmates, Dr. Heaslip said, "No, because I think that food is just okay."

One of the grievances mentioned by prisoners was a ban on receipt of parcels from outside sources, especially at Christmas.

The Official Notice

Here is the notification inserted in all outgoing letters last November to tell of the new ruling: "The Ontario Reformatory, Guelph, will supply in future everything necessary for the comfort and welfare of its inmates. No parcels containing anything whatsoever will be allowed to any inmate at Christmas or at any other time. Do not send a parcel and put us to the trouble of returning it to you."

"If you wish to do something for an inmate, put it into tangible form at the time of his discharge and his return to society."

Unofficially, it was said there were a number of reasons for this ruling. One of the more important ones was that prisoners with no relatives or connections were made unhappy when more fortunate prisoners received parcels. This sometimes led to theft and friction. Another objection was that sometimes alcoholic toilet fluids were sent as presents and the prisoners drank them.

Through the agencies of Chief Constable Harold Nash's Guelph city police force, 22 escaped prisoners were rounded up last night. Of this total, about half surrendered either through hunger and discouragement, or on learning of the amnesty offered for those who returned voluntarily.

They included: Ernest Evans, Ottawa, theft of an auto; John Charron, Ottawa, breach of parole, breaking and entering and theft; James Peace, Toronto, theft and receiving; Arnold J. Cameron, bigamy, forgery and escape; Frank Kirkland, Toronto, theft and receiving; Kenneth Nolan, breaking and entering and theft; Albert Elson, Toronto, robbery while armed and wounding with intent; David Freedman, Toronto, breaking and entering and theft; Romeo Lattulippe, Ottawa, breaking and entering and theft; Arthur Clostre, Westboro, Ont., breaking and entering and theft; George Kazy, Smith Falls, theft, assault with intent to rob; Teddy Gabriel, Kirkland Lake, theft of railway hand car; George St. Amand, Hull, Que., breaking and entering and theft; Ralph Cheney, Ottawa, breaking and entering and theft; George Ufnal, Toronto, receiving and burglary; Cecil Smith, Toronto, taking auto without owner's consent; Gordon Walker, Toronto, counterfeiting; George Bishop, Ottawa, breaking and entering and theft; Leopold Desjardins, Hawkesbury, assault and breaking jail by force; John Pauze, Ottawa, breaking and entering and theft; Eugene Leblanc, Ottawa, breaking and entering and theft.

Guards Carry Rifles

A dozen uniformed guards carry rifles this week as they patrol the grounds of the reformatory. This is the first time in the history of the 22-year-old institution the guards have been armed. It is understood the prisoners, still kept in close confinement in cells have not emerged from their ugly temper.

Medical Record:—In the twenty-first verse, second chapter of Genesis, it is stated that "the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept; and He took one of his ribs and closed up the flesh instead thereof." This is not only one of the early records of surgical anaesthesia, but incidentally is perhaps the first report of a thoracoplasty.
