Suggests Timber Case Go to Division Court

Two Men Dismissed on Theft Charges in Timber Cases. Said They Had Mistaken Lots. Sundry Gambling Proves Costly. Had Driving Permit but it Was Wrong Year.

Although John Boterolt admitted in police court on Tuesday that the 380 pieces of timber he had cut in Ogdan township had apparently been cut from Charles Pierce's timber limits without the owner's permission, the charge of theft against him and Nick Petro was dismissed.

Boterolt's defence was that he had purchased two lots in adjoining Deloro township from a Mr. Latour and that he had made a mistake in his directions. The cutting was going on at least a thousand feet into Mr. Pierce's lots according to George Wallingford, government timber cruiser.

Magistrate S. Atkinson advised Mr. Pierce to take the case to division court as a suit, to recover the value of the timber taken.

Heard Sounds in Bush
 Mr. Wallingford and George Sheridan were cruising in Ogdan one day in December when they heard sounds of cutting. On investigating they found Boterolt and Petro cutting and skidding timber out. When the timber cruiser learned that the men had no permission from Mr. Pierce, he told them to clear out of the bush. "They were a thousand feet into the Pierce limit," Mr. Wallingford explained. "There was no reason for any mistake. The line is well defined."

The following day he and Mr. Sheridan scaled the stumps and found that 380 pieces of 16-foot timber had been taken.

Said He Was "Smith"
 Mr. Pierce, on learning of this asked Petro and Boterolt to come up to his office. They had not appeared and when Mr. Pierce telephoned, he was told that the person on the other end of the line didn't know whether Petro was in or not. Mr. Pierce said his name was Smith and was then able to speak to Petro, he said in court. Under questioning by the magistrate, Mr. Pierce said Petro had mentioned the timber first, and that he thought it might be "straightened up."

"What do you mean by 'straightened up'?" Paying you for the timber?" "Yes."

"And is this charge laid just because he wouldn't pay?" "Well, no. This is theft."

Saw No Line
 Boterolt produced a paper in court that he said proved he had bought some nearby lots from Latour.

"Whose lot did you think you were cutting on?" asked the magistrate. "It's me," replied Boterolt.

Questioned by Assistant Crown Attorney Charles Yates, Boterolt said he hadn't seen the line referred to by Mr. Wallingford.

"Are you willing to pay Mr. Pierce for what you took off his land?" asked the magistrate.

Boterolt demurred, saying something about dry timber and price.

The magistrate then advised Mr. Pierce to sue.

Mrs. Auger Fined
 Despite a plea for leniency by Defence Counsel Charles Kerr, Mrs. Margaret Auger was fined $100 and costs, her house was made public for a year, and 96 bottles of beer and a half bottle of liquor found there during a police raid were ordered seized.

Police had laid two charges against Mrs. Auger, one of having liquor not obtained on her individual permit and the other for having beer in her possession illegally. Police were willing to let the liquor charge drop and proceed with the beer charge for which the penalty is a fine of from $10 to $500. Minimum for the liquor is $100.

The defence had pleaded that Mrs. Auger had six children dependent on her for support.

"For a woman who hasn't any money that's a lot of beer," said the magistrate, referring to the 96 pints. "I don't feel like consenting to the withdrawal of the liquor charge."

Mr. Kerr pleaded guilty to the more serious charge on behalf of his client.

Sunday Gambling is Costly
 Clinton Powers, Otto Fabbro, Aldo Pierini and Don Pierini pleaded guilty to gambling on Sunday and were fined $10 and costs each.

Alex McDonald, who pleaded guilty to begging on the streets, said he had come here a week ago "by train."

"What were you doing begging around on the streets?" asked the magistrate. "I have to get something to eat occasionally," answered McDonald.

He was given the chance of paying a $10 fine or going to jail for 30 days. He couldn't raise the money.

Her Limbs Were Almost Crippled Suffered with Sciatica for 25 Years

Those who are subject to sciatica should read this letter from one who suffered for years before she found out how to obtain relief.

"For 25 years I suffered from sciatica in my right side, and I had backaches which forced me to remain in bed for two or three weeks at a time. When I got up in the mornings, my arms and legs used to pain me almost unbearably. One day I heard of Kruschen Salts. I took a bottle of them without feeling much improvement. I tried a second bottle, and that time I felt better. I have kept on taking Kruschen ever since."—(Mrs.) H.L.

The pains of sciatica are frequently caused by an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients of these salts assist the internal organs to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

Had 1936 Permit
 One driver who was found by police driving a car when he could produce no license, came to court triumphantly with a driver's permit in his hand. It turned out to be a 1936 permit and he paid $10 and costs.

Two others who had not proper lights on their cars both pleaded not guilty but police evidence showed they had had plenty of opportunity to right the condition, one of them having been warned half an hour previously. They were fined $1.00 and costs.

Other police court news will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Advance.

Successful Way to Make Moulded Cream Desserts

In making moulded cream desserts, gelatine is a necessary ingredient, used in the form of granulated gelatine, jelly powders, or marshmallows. To ensure successful results, the following rules should be carefully observed: Measure all ingredients accurately; if granulated gelatine is called for in the recipe, soak the gelatine in cold milk or water, using at least twice as much liquid as gelatine; add soaked gelatine to hot milk or other liquid and stir until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved; if jelly powders or marshmallows are to be used, dissolve the powder or marshmallows in the hot milk or other liquid without previous soaking; allow gelatine mixture to partially set before folding into whipped cream, beaten egg whites, fruit, and such like; rinse mould with cold water before pouring in the dessert and loosen with a knife around the edges when ready to unmould.

Grape Supreme
 2 tablespoons granulated gelatine
 1/2 cup cold water
 1 1/2 cups grape juice
 4 tablespoons sugar
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1 cup whipping cream
 Soak gelatine in cold water. Heat grape juice and add sugar and gelatine. Stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice, and when mixture is partially set, fold in whipped cream.

Peach Delight
 1 package lemon or orange jelly powder
 1 cup boiling water
 1 cup peach juice
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 cup diced peaches

Marshmallow Delight
 1/2 lb. marshmallows
 1 cup diced pineapple
 1/2 cup blanched almonds
 1 cup whipping cream
 1/4 cup maraschino cherries
 Cut marshmallows into small pieces. Add diced pineapple, chopped cherries, and shredded almonds. Allow to stand for several hours. Whip cream and fold into fruit mixture. Turn into mould and chill until firm. The above recipes are taken from "Cream Desserts" by Laura C. Pepper, a copy of which may be obtained on request from the Publicity and Extension Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Recommends New Film in Highest Possible Terms

(From Ottawa Journal)
 Mr. Will McLaughlin, The Journal's cinema critic, strongly recommends the current photo-play "Rembrandt" to the "ever increasing and important public who choose their entertainment with discretion." There are still many people who for varying reasons—usually because of some disappointing experience—rarely attend the picture houses. "Rembrandt" can be highly recommended to them as a sample of "good theatre" well worth while. Charles Laughton's restrained presentation of a famous and lovable figure in the art world, his pleasing voice, his reading and recital of beautiful passages from the Scriptures are an altogether delightful study that can be enjoyed more than once and that remains in the memory.

Number of Cases at Juvenile Court Here

One Boy Sent to Industrial School. Several Placed on Parole.

The first Timmins juvenile to be sent to the industrial school for many months was committed to the St. Joseph's institution on Tuesday by Magistrate Atkinson when a charge of inebriability was laid by the Children's Aid Society.

Left motherless in 1931, he was made a ward of the society and has since then lived in the shelter and in various boarding houses. In none of these did he behave himself. He formed a habit of running away and not coming back until a week or so later with his clothes in rags. This time the boy admitted receiving a camera he knew was stolen.

"What makes you take auto?" the magistrate asked three boys who had pleaded guilty to taking cars without the owner's permission.

"I don't know," answered the only one of the trio who could drive.

"Where did you learn to drive?" "Truck."

Took Car "Just for Ride"
 Another said it was "just for the ride" that they had taken the autos belonging to J. Nicolson, Alfred Caron and Dr. M. J. Kelly.

Two of them were 15 and the other 14 years old. A. G. Carson, superintendent of the Children Aid Society, said it was the first time the lads had been in trouble and suggested parole.

"If I give you boys a chance, will you take advantage of it and not take any more cars?" asked the magistrate.

"Yes, sir," they all replied.

He told the parents to consult police and find out how much damage had been done to the cars so that restitution could be made. "You boys are old enough now to know better. If you come before me again I'll have no option but to send you down." They will report to Mr. Carson each week for a month.

Two boys who had stolen a wrist watch from a room in the Green Apple Pie and a camera from a room in the Reid block, pleaded guilty. They had been selling papers when they stole the things. Both will report to Mr. Carson for three months once a week. The magistrate warned them that if they appear in juvenile court again, he will have to send them to industrial school.

Funeral of Mrs. T. Sloan at Campbell's Bay Saturday

Campbell's Bay, Que., Feb. 10—Tribute to the memory of Mrs. Thomas Sloan whose death occurred Thursday was paid at her largely attended funeral which was held Saturday, from her late home in Vinton to Elizabeth's Catholic Church, Vinton.

Requiem high mass was chanted by Rev. John Kempton, parish priest, and interment was in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Sloan was the former Rose Ann Kavanagh, daughter of the late Edward and Catherine Kavanagh, and was born in Vinton 71 years ago. Forty-eight years ago she was married to Mr. Sloan who survives.

Chief mourners besides her husband are four daughters, Mrs. P. J. Cole Mrs. N. J. Sullivan and Mrs. B. C. Kavanagh, all of South Porcupine, Ont.; Mrs. D. J. Cotnam, Timmins, Ont.; three sons, Edward of Ottawa, Ont.; John and Clarence, at home. Many messages of sympathy and spiritual offerings were received by the bereaved family.

The pall-bearers were, Thomas O'Brien, Daniel Shea, Michael Flynn, Thomas Wrenn, Charles Sloan, Ernest Sloan.

Any Day a Fish Day Says N.S. Premier

Message to the People in General from Hon. A. L. Macdonald.

How often we hear the remark, "Health is the first consideration!" We seem unanimously to agree that this precept should guide us in all the ordinary affairs of life. Yet in one important particular—the selection of our diet—do we consistently observe that rule?

Take, for example, the matter of sea foods. It has been proven conclusively that these foods, properly prepared, have unusual health-giving power. Palatable and easily digested, they help the human body to resist disease and they promote the growth of children. They possess a great deal more protein than either chicken or beef and provide the best balanced flesh foods available. As to cost—they are relatively inexpensive.

Nevertheless it is said that the average Canadian family is content with perhaps one meal of fish a week. Our leading dietitians deplore this apparent blindness to the intrinsic value of fish foods. For this reason we heartily welcome the present newspaper campaign to encourage the consumption of fish inaugurated by Hon. J. E. Michaud in his capacity as Minister of Fisheries at Ottawa.

Deep sea fishing is a hazardous calling. Our Canadian fishermen imperil their lives day after day in order to make available a constant supply of wholesome and delicious sea foods. These hardy and courageous men form a highly important element in our population. For their sake, for your own sake, for the sake of your family, patronize their products. Serve more sea fish and remember that every day may be fish day.

The Oatsmobile

(From Blairmore Enterprise)
 Oh horse, you are a wonderful brute. No buttons to push, no horns to toot, You start yourself, no clutch to slip, No spark to miss, no gears to strip.

No license buying every year, With plates to screw on front and rear, No gas bills climbing up each day, Stealing the joys of life away.

No speed cops chugging in your rear, Yelling a summons in your ear, Your inner tubes are all O.K., And, thank the Lord, they stay that way.

Your spark plugs never cease to fire, You never get stuck in snow or mire, Your frame is good for many a mile, Your body never changes style.

Your wants are few and easy met— You've something on the auto yet.

Reader Writes Interesting Letter About "Contrary Mary Club"

I hope "Contrary Mary" is reading a bit, not enough to warrant her wearing glasses. She uses make-up rather heavily on her lids, looks quite languorous and interesting. Another has a wee, up-tilted nose and friends call her "pus." And what does she do but play it up with lighter powder than she uses on the rest of her face. Still another has high cheek bones and I believe the usual theory is to apply rouge slightly under them. But this "contrary Mary" uses rouge "plump" on the cheek bones and her eyes seem brighter and her whole face more interesting because of it. I'm thinking, too, how many women with mouths like Joan Crawford's would have the courage to play it up as she does for the unusual, interesting feature it is? And how many with strong large hands would tint their nails to call attention to the bands, providing they're kept smooth, of course. It seems to me that it is far more important for the face to be animated than merely beautiful and for one's points to be interesting rather than "good" . . . anyway that's the theory of our "Contrary Mary Club" and we'd like your views.
