Eighty Cases on Police Court Docket Tuesday

Fifty-two of These were Charged with Being "Found in a Common Gaming House." Adjudgment in the Gambling Charges. Fined for Assault. Some Traffic Cases. Other Police Court Notes.

There was "Standing Room Only" in Timmins police court on Tuesday afternoon when 80 cases appeared on the docket. Long before two o'clock all the seats in the court room had been taken by accused citizens, and in the end many had to stand around the walls.

Of 52 men charged with "being found in a common gaming house," all but three appeared, to be told by the magistrate that their case would be heard at two o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. George Ellies and Frank Piro, two of those who failed to answer to their names, will have to explain to police why they couldn't come to court or warrants will be issued for their arrest. The third man who didn't appear, is ill.

Bail is Increased
Bail for Charles Holgevak and Frank Ellies charged with keeping common gaming houses, was raised by Magistrate Atkinson to $200 cash or $400 property. Previously they had been released on $100 bail.

"It seems to me that the bail's pretty light," said the magistrate. "I think I should go at least what the fine is."

"They were arrested late at night," explained Crown Attorney S. A. Caldwell. "It was difficult to get bail at that time. It was only a short time to court and having that in mind they were allowed out on $100 bail."

Holgevak agreed to post another $100 for his bail, but when Ellies was called he did not appear. Charles Kerr, acting for Dean Kester, attorney for Ellies' defence, explained that the accused was not in court; that he had not thought it necessary to be there.

"I'll cancel his bail if he doesn't appear," said the magistrate. "He's got to appear. This is an indictable offence."

Ellies appeared later to post his bail. All the "gaming house" charges came as a result of raids made here last Thursday night by local police on the Mountjoy Social Club and the Miner's Club.

Assaulted Sam Feldman
For assaulting Sam Feldman, Louis Renaud paid a fine of $5.00 and costs. According to Mr. Feldman, Renaud had left one of the Feldman Timber Company's cookiecans early, before finishing his job properly. In the office at the mill, Mr. Feldman spoke to him about it. "I was behind the counter and he leaned over and hit me," said Mr. Feldman.

"They were in a clinch when I came in. I walked in and parted them and went right away again," said Tom Brennan.

"Renaud took exception to Mr. Feldman's remarks," said Jack Mussell, another witness. "Mr. Feldman told him he'd better pack up and move. Renaud got kind of sore and hit him."

Renaud claimed that Mr. Feldman had come after him first with a stick, though this was denied by other witnesses. "I hit him first, that's all," was Renaud's explanation.

Magistrate Atkinson rebuked Renaud for having struck a man who was crippled, as he found him guilty and ordered the fine paid.

Louis Cocher, charged with reckless driving by Stanley Madryk, was dismissed. Madryk admitted that he had stopped his car on the Delrite road to pick up a passenger, leaving no room for Cocher to pass when the other came up from behind, tried to pass, and struck the left rear fender of the Madryk car.

Had 1936 License Plates
Driving cars in Timmins with 1936 license plates on them cost two motorists a $10 fine. Felix Clermont pleaded guilty to reckless driving and was fined $10. Improper lights was the cause of a fine of $1.00 for another motorist; failing to stop at a stop sign brought a fine of $2.00.

Three vagrants appeared in court. Leo Wallace had been calling at people: "Hey, Buddy, have you got a dime?" John McCarthy arrived at the police station one evening, slightly drunk, and demanded to be locked up in the cells. "I don't care what you do with me," he had told police. Magistrate Atkinson gave him 30 days rest at Halleybury. The third vagrant was a young chap who, on explaining that he was in court for the first time, was allowed to go on suspended sentence. He said he had the chance of a job at Larder Lake.

Five first offence drunks paid the usual $10 and costs, and two like cases were adjourned a week.

Charges under municipal by-laws against Marshall-Ecclestone, S. A. M. Bucovetsky and I. K. Pierce, were adjourned another two weeks to March 2nd. Crown Attorney S. A. Caldwell explained that the motion to quash the Wednesday afternoon closing laws is still in the courts.

New Public School Trustee Selected

Fred W. Simpson Appointed to Fill Vacancy on School Board Here.

Fred W. Simpson, candidate in the December elections for public school trustee, was appointed a member of the board of trustees on Monday night, to take the place of Wellington Armstrong, who was unseated by Judge J. E. T. Caron in a recent court action at Cochrane.

There were to be chosen for the board in the December polling and Roy Dunbar, W. R. Rinn and Mr. Armstrong were the three declared elected when the votes were counted. Mr. Simpson had only 148 votes less than Mr. Armstrong. This was given as one of the reasons why Mr. Simpson was appointed to fill the vacancy, although the board would have been within its powers in appointing any properly qualified ratepayer to the position.

To Appoint Chairman
At the next meeting of the board when it is expected all six members will be present, the chairman for the year will be appointed and committees struck.

Trustees whose terms of office are for two years are: Mr. Dunbar, Mr. Rinn, and Mr. Simpson. These elected in December, 1935, whose term will expire this December are H. W. Hooker, J. H. Baker and A. Skelly.

Family Anxious to Locate Stanley Benn

Said to Have Lived in Timmins in 1920 or 1921.

The Advance has received a letter from Mrs. Fred J. Gosselin, Nebel Apartments, Munising, Michigan, seeking information about Stanley Benn.

Mrs. Gosselin is a sister of Mr. Benn, and informs The Advance that the family, and naturally the mother in particular, are very anxious to locate Stanley Benn. At one time, about 1920 or 1921, she says, Stanley Benn lived in Timmins, though it is thought that afterwards he went to Toronto. The family think that some one in Timmins might have some information to give that might assist in tracing Mr. Benn. The family have not heard from him for about seventeen years, and his mother and sisters and brothers are very anxious indeed to hear from him. If he has died, they would wish to know the facts. If he is still alive they would be most grateful to anyone who could assist them in getting in touch with him. Stanley Benn is about 32 years of age. Any reader of The Advance who knows him or knows anything about him would be doing a kindness indeed by passing along any information that will lead to his relatives getting in touch with him. If this should meet the eye of the missing man himself, he should at once write to the family.

Moose Carnival Will be Colourful Event, Feb. 24

Attractive Programme for Fancy Dress Carnival Next Wednesday. Hockey, Broomball, Skating Events and Other Features. Good List of Prizes.

Only a Few Cases of Scarlet Fever Here

Complication in Disease the Worst Feature. Two Deaths Recently.

Although there have been two deaths recently from scarlet fever in Timmins, there is no widespread epidemic. Medical Officer of Health Dr. H. H. Moore told The Advance this week. A few cases have been reported during the year. Complications along with the scarlet fever are believed to be the worst feature of the present situation.

The rash that goes along with scarlet fever appears two or three days after a sore throat and fever. Dr. Moore said, warning Timmins people to take particular care of children who develop sore throat and chills. School children should be kept at home for proper care of sore throats, he said.

Mrs. H. Hudson, spent the week-end visiting in Toronto.

The Timmins arena will be blazing on the evening of Wednesday, February 24th. The blaze won't be fire, but colour. For that's the date chosen by the Moose for a fancy dress carnival into which it is expected Timmins people will enter with real joy.

In addition to a brief girls' hockey game being arranged by the T.P.A.A.A. a broomball game, races and competitions, there will be skating for all who take part. The fancy dress parade on the ice alone should be worth the admission price.

Prizes are offered for the best fancy dress costumes, most original costumes and for comic costumes. The only condition is that the entrants must wear skates.

Men's races include a half mile event, 800 yards, and 600 yards, a barrel race and a backwards race. Women's events are races of 400 yards and 600 yards. A small entry fee is charged in these and good prizes are offered to the winners.

Hockey is being arranged by the T.P.A.A.A. The broomball match will see the Timmins Fire Department team in action against the St. John Ambulance Brigade team.

Golden Chapter I.O.D.E. Had Good Year in 1936

Reports for Past Year Show Order to be Doing Notable Work in Timmins and District. Officers Elected for Ensuing Year at Annual Meeting. Presentations Made to Mrs. Geoffrey Morris, Secretary for Past Three Years.

Monday evening the Timmins Golden Chapter of the I.O.D.E. held their annual meeting and election of officers in the St. Matthew's Church meeting room.

The meeting was of special interest and importance for several reasons. The reports for the year were very satisfactory. Many of the officers for the ensuing year were elected by acclamation. Presentations made on behalf of the Chapter to Mrs. Geoffrey G. Morris, secretary for the past three years, and Captain of the Timmins Girl Guides sponsored by the I.O.D.E. expressed the appreciation felt for her earnest and able services and the good wishes extended to her and her husband on their recent marriage.

Reports for the past year were most encouraging and indicated the progress being made. More funds had been raised in 1936 than for any year for many years past, and due to this fact a more extensive programme of educational and child and family welfare work had been carried on. The average attendance, the reports showed, had been good, and fourteen new members had been enrolled during the year. Girl Guide work had progressed and expanded.

The following officers were elected by acclamation for the ensuing year:—

Regent—Mrs. H. L. Traver (for third year).

First Vice-Regent—Mrs. L. E. Dorway.

Second Vice-Regent—Mrs. J. Keane.

Secretary—Mrs. A. Booker.

Treasurer—Mrs. W. F. Lawry.

Educational Secretary—Mrs. T. E. Fritchard.

Echoes Secretary—Mrs. J. E. Gurnell.

The following were the other officers elected:—

Standard Bearer—Mrs. Lawlor.
Councillors—Mrs. P. Theriault, Mrs. R. Anderson, Mrs. J. Geils, Mrs. E. Robinson, Mrs. A. F. Carriere, Mrs. N. Perrault, Miss Terry, Mrs. J. P. Barthelemy, Mrs. G. Morn, Mrs. A. Shabean.

At the conclusion of the regular business the Regent drew the attention of those present to the fact that since the last meeting of the Chapter the Guide Captain and Secretary had changed her name from Miss Cranston to Mrs. G. Morris. On behalf of the Chapter, the Regent expressed the deep appreciation felt for the services that Mrs. Morris (as Miss Cranston) had rendered to the Chapter as a most devoted and efficient Guide Captain during the past five years. In the latter three years also serving the Chapter as a most willing and faithful secretary.

In reference to the occasion of her recent marriage the Chapter wished to convey their appreciation in some tangible form. At this point Mrs. L. E. Dorway, Honorary Regent of the past year, presented Mrs. Morris with a beautiful floor lamp, and Mrs. A. F. Carriere, 3rd Vice-Regent for 1936, presented a hand blocked water colour picture, on behalf of the Chapter. The Regent added that these two articles were accompanied by the warm and most sincere wishes of the Chapter for a happy and prosperous future for Mrs. and Mr. Geoffrey Morris. Mrs. Morris thanked the Chapter for this thoughtful gift to their home-furnishing and the accompanying good wishes.

Refreshments were then served from a table laid with lace cloth and decorated with flowers and candles in honour of the bride. Mrs. Morris, Mrs. L. E. Dorway and Mrs. Carriere poured tea. Mrs. P. Theriault was convener of the committee looking after the refreshments, assisted by Mrs. T. E. Pritchard and Mrs. Geils.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a happy social hour.

The Chapter appreciates very much the interest and kindness of Mrs. Morris in continuing as Guide Captain.
