No Fireworks Heard at Tisdale Council

Big Crowd Gathered at South Porcupine at Regular Meeting of Council.

South Porcupine, Ont., March 24th, 1937. Special to The Advance.
A huge gathering of interested and curious townsfolk attended Monday's council meeting, brought there by the anticipation of something spectacular—the police resignation requested by Councillor Helmer at the last regular meeting having, no doubt, caused the interest.

There was no fireworks. Reeve Kerr was not present at the meeting, and Dr. Harper was appointed to the reeve's chair.

At the commencement of the meeting some one shouted "Speak up." Dr. Harper did not raise his voice but took a firm stand appreciated by all present. "I will have no heckling," he said—"The police will put out any disturbers of this meeting."

The regular routine was gone through. The minutes of the last regular and two special meetings were read and adopted. Correspondents was read regarding:

The audit of 1936.
The question of tallings in Pearl Lake.

A letter quoting a letter written to the press regarding the police dept. question.

A Water Survey report, and a letter

A tale of a sawbench took up a lot of the magistrate's time and was finally dismissed by him. A settler in Shaw had been using a sawbench belonging to another man, to saw up some wood. The man who bought the wood (and bought the sawbench) did not come across with the cash, so the settler hung on to the sawbench. The owner of said bench then came to demand his property which was not given to him. The provincial police were called into action, and the case was brought with result noted.
