WORTH CONSIDERING

Anyone who has followed public affairs in this North during the years must admit that the Northern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade have given the people unusually helpful and effective service.

ABOUT THE HIGHWAY

There will be general agreement with the hope expressed by President Langdon of the Timmins Board of Trade that the protest made by the people of South Porcupine against the proposed route of the highway through their township will not delay actual work on the highway this year.

cent years have deliberately sought to have through highways near to their borders rather than passing through the main section of the municipalities. Conditions and circumstances are altogether different in the North.

In the North Porcupine there are some who appear to think that Timmins was in some measure responsible for the proposed new route of the highway. This is not the case. The route was selected by the department of highways after a careful study of the situation.

GRAVEL AND SAND—AND PLACER

If all school examinations are abolished, as seems to be the desire of some of the educational authorities of the province in the present day, where will newspapers hereafter secure their supply of schoolboy howlers?

The story of the boy who cried, "wolf" has become a classic. This historic lad in a sheep-raising village used to amuse himself by giving the warning cry, "wolf," when there were no wolves endangering the flocks.

Last week a cruel rumour was started to the effect that there had been a fall of rock at one of the local mines and that one man had been killed and seventy-five others were buried under the fallen rock.

LOCALS

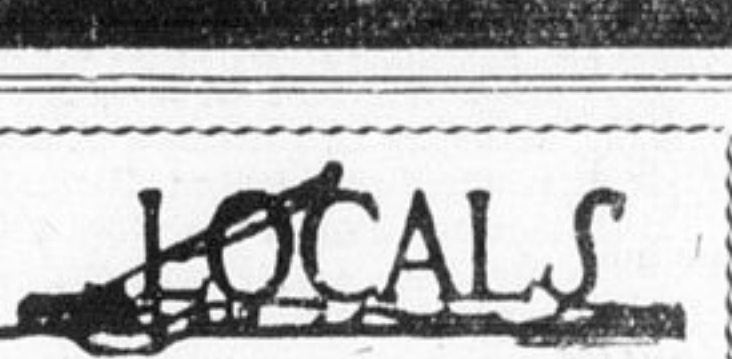

Dionne Boyer was a visitor last week to his home at Sturgeon Falls. Mrs. A. Doucette and daughter visited Mrs. Doucette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bastien, Mattawa.

It's Surprising....

what a difference glasses can make—not only to your sight but your entire disposition. Before Mr. Curtis prescribed my glasses I was irritable and cross. It seems that eye-strain had affected my nerves and the smallest things would completely upset me.

Optical Service is well worth the small cost. CURTIS OPTICAL COMPANY 14 Pine St. N. Phone 835

Mrs. Jean DesLoges of Cochrane, who has been the guest here this week of Miss Margaret Beadman, returned on Sunday to her home at Cochrane.

If You Like Books

Poetry will give real enjoyment if read because you are seeking enjoyment, and not because you are told to read it. There are several types—poems about nature, poems about people, and poems that tell a story. Most poets deal best with one particular type.

THE MARE'S NEST

Jane Austen Beacher Stowe De Rouse was good beyond all earthly need; But, on the other hand, her spouse Was very, very bad indeed. He smoked cigars, called churches slow, And raved—but this she did not know.
