

South Porcupine Mourns Death of Mrs. S. Kennedy

One of the Most Esteemed of the Early Residents Passes On. Flags at Half-mast. News of Guides and Brownies. Children's Choir Makes Progress. C.W.L. Elects Officers. Other News of South Porcupine and Dome.

South Porcupine, April 10th. Special to The Advance.

It is with very real sorrow that we note to-day the death of Mrs. Sylvester Kennedy, aged 71. She died after a very brief illness of heart trouble at her home on Crawford street on Thursday evening. A woman of sterling character and without an enemy in the world, Mrs. Kennedy lived for her children and her home, and her sweet and kindly disposition made her endeared to all who knew her.

She was devoted also to her church and will be greatly missed among the congregation of St. Joachim's church.

Her life of Christian usefulness and unselfishness is an example to us all, and our community is grieving truly over the loss of one of its oldest and most highly-respected citizens.

We sorrow with the husband and family who have lost a dearly loved wife and mother, and offer our sincerest sympathies with them in their time of trouble.

The late Mrs. Kennedy was born Mary Kelly in Sheerboro', Quebec, and almost fifty years ago (in July 1889) married Sylvester Kennedy at Portage du Fort. His business connected with the lumber industry brought them further north and in 1910 the family came to the Porcupine Camp and established the first hotel here. This was burned when the fire of 1911 swept the district but after the fire they became once more re-established and they have resided here ever since.

The first great blow to come to Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy was the death of their eldest son Patrick, who then a promising young law student, joined the Air Force during the Great War and was killed overseas.

Later in 1920 the death of their eldest daughter, May, in Toronto, after an operation, was another sad shock. She was a graduate of St. Michael's hospital.

The children, who now mourn the loss of a dear mother, are Gerald, of Northern Manitoba (who was too late to see mother alive), Edward and Pearl, both at home.

Requiem High Mass was held in St. Joachim's Church at 11.30 this morning (Saturday). The Mass was sung by Father Gelinas assisted by Father Theriault as deacon and Father Lereau as sub-deacon. A full choir was in attendance and the body was borne to and from the church by John Costello, Joseph Gallagher, Fred LaForest, Hyacinth Ferrigan, Alexis Loneragan and John Dalton.

The body left on the noon train for interment beside her daughter in Ottawa. The esteem in which the deceased lady was held by all is shown by the many wonderfully beautiful floral tributes sent and the mass-cards offered.

(At time of writing it is impossible to get a complete list of the tributes, but they will be published in an early issue.)

The flags on both public schools here and at the Dome were lowered to half-mast, today in respect, Mr. Kennedy having been a trustee of S. S. No. 1 Tisdale for so many years.

Guide and Brownie News
Brownies met on Thursday this week and had as usual a wonderful evening. There are now ten Brownies in full uniform and each Brownie has some parts of it. They look very smart in their brown belted smocks with brown ties and little brown hats and the shining Brownie pin!

A new pack leader—Elaine Dague—is helping with the full pack, and we hear a rumour that Brown Owl is considering making another pack to accommodate a very long waiting list.

Phyllis Cahill amid the grand howl of the pack was at this meeting made a Golden Bar Brownie, and renewed her Brownie promise.

Rangers met on Wednesday in the Guide Hall and Captain Bessette gave them their second lecture in first-aid work.

Captain Naish is on holiday in Toronto, so the Guides on Wednesday were in command of Leut. Helen LaFurgie. A Scout, Lewis Pyke, was present, instructing the Guides how to tie up the flag properly. The patrol-leaders were busy reviewing tenderfoot work.

Here for Funeral
Mr. Jos. Watters, of Little Long Lac, was in town to attend the obsequies of Mrs. S. Kennedy.

The Children's Choir
The Children's Choir under Co-Operative auspices was away to a good start on Saturday morning. Miss Burns graded over 60 children's voices, forty of whom came from the Dome. Mrs. Boland assisted.

C. W. L. Elect Officers
The Catholic Women's League, of whose annual meeting on Wednesday we gave an account in Thursday's Advance, elected the following ladies to serve as officers for the coming year, at this meeting:—President, Mrs. LeRay; first vice-president, Mrs. LaForest; second vice-president, Mrs. P. Cole; treasurer Mrs. Vendette; secretary, Mrs. J. Cunningham.

One of the rules of the Society is that no president serves a longer term than two successive years, so that Miss Anna Sullivan, who has served faithfully and done all in her power to make the League here a success, was not eligible for re-election. The ladies of the League recognizing Miss Sullivan's efforts and worth presented her on this occasion with a gold and pearl rosary, as a tribute and memento of her presidential term. Mrs. T. Cahill who was the first president of the League here, was also made the recipient of a similar gift.

Personals
Mrs. Nitschke, of Connaught Hill, who has been quite ill in the Tisdale hospital is reported to-day as somewhat better.

Mr. Wm. Harry is in hospital here suffering from pneumonia with serious complications.

The Timmins Welsh Choir is to make an appearance here in South End soon. The A.Y.F.A. of the Anglican Church is sponsoring a concert to be given by the Choir under the direction of Mr. Hale in the Parish hall on Wednesday April 28th. Keep this date in mind for a special musical treat.

Mr. Omer Arsenault, who has been spending the winter in New Brunswick returned to town this week.

Banquet to Red Wings
A very nice wind-up for the hockey season of our Juvenile Red Wings, was the banquet tendered them on Friday night in the Parish hall. This little team of hockey players has done excellent work this season. They bid fair to become champions next year for Junior Hockey if they continue as they have begun. They have played 21 games this season and have made 169 goals with only 39 goals scored against them—quite some record! Their manager, Charlie Edgecombe, and their coach, Carlo Cattarello, have been at some pains and financial output to keep this young team up to its excellent record, and are to be congratulated on the success of the venture. Last night's banquet was catered for by the ladies of the Rebekah Lodge and was excellent. The three tables were arranged with the colours of the team, maroon and white, very much in evidence, and were prettily decorated with flowers. Guests of the evening included Mr. T. Gibbons, Mr. Joe Miller (who has refereed several games for them) Frank Huggins, Hubert Doran and Mr. Copp. After the banquet speeches were made by the guests all of which emphasized the fact that by keeping up their efforts and keeping straight and in trim till the hockey season opened again, great possibilities were in store for them. They were also reminded that both "Bum" Doran and Mike Miller, now with the Maple Leafs, started their hockey careers with the "Red Wings" Juvenile team. Photographs were taken of the team and presentations of windbreakers to the older lads and sweaters to the younger ones were made by the manager and captains of the team. Officers were elected for next season, Mr. T. Gibbons being made president and Mr. Hubert Doran, secretary-treasurer. The following players received windbreakers:—Fred Andrews, Don Pecore, Ed. Brown, B. Harris, Charlie Giavanelli, Johnny Howe, Neil Pire, Robert Dysart, G. Smith, Pat Cunningham, Lloyd Doran, Harold Helmer Steve Capyk, Russell Dillon; sweaters were received by:—J. Cunningham, Nick Toderan, B. Richardson, Bob Pearce, Clayton Kavanagh, Billy Honer, M. Giavanelli, Jack Pecore, R. Mitchell, T. Talantino, P. Babando (massed).

Congratulations to Messrs James and George Morgan, who celebrated their twenty-first birthday here on Thursday. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morgan, they were the first twins to our knowledge to be born in South Porcupine.

Marriage on Thursday at Baptist Parsonage
A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church, Timmins, on Thursday, April 8th, at 1.30 p.m., when Miss Dorothy Hirschfeld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hirschfeld, 255 Pine street south, was united in marriage to Arthur Garraway. The wedding was attended only by close relatives and friends. Miss Hazel Neary attended the bride and Horace Garraway, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride and groom left on the afternoon train for a honeymoon trip to Ottawa. On their return they will live in Timmins.

BOY SCOUTS IN TIMMINS

"Let George do it!"
That's what I heard last Saturday afternoon when I was looking for a Scout from one of our troops to do fire try friction for me. Yes, on Saturday we had a short meeting of the top-ranked Scouts and Cubs from all but two of our troops. These fellows are getting into a little practice so that they will be able to demonstrate a little Scouting at the leaders' and committeemen's dinner on April 22nd. And so a George is going to do fire by friction. And April the 23rd is St. George's Day. As I'm sure, you all know St. George is the patron saint of Scouting. So in planning the programme for the district meeting of all Scouts in the basement of St. Anthony's Church we are going to keep this in mind and bring out something interesting about St. George.

And then there is the Coronation of our new King; he is a George—George the VI.

Do you ever remember seeing or hearing read the code on "The Rules of the Game" which hung in the bedroom of our late King George V. Here they are with brief comments:

Article One: "Teach me to be obedient to the Rules of the Game."

I believe that life itself is the greatest of all games and he who obeys its laws gets the most out of it.

Article Two: "Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentality, admiring the one and despising the other."

I believe in letting my admiration for good and great people run at full steam, for that is sentiment, and I admire it. I do not believe in whining and getting excited just to attract attention to myself, or to get out of a tight place, for that is sentimentality and I despise it.

Article Three: "Teach me neither to prefer nor to receive cheap praise."

I believe that an occasional slap on the back is about all the praise that a real boy needs.

Article Four: "If I am called upon to suffer, let me be like a well-bred beast that goes away to suffer in silence."

I believe that a fellow should keep his troubles to himself, since it is likely that other people have enough of their own.

Article Five: "Teach me to win, if I may; if I may not, teach me to be a good loser."

I believe that when I win I must be a good winner, giving due credit to my companions and awarding generous praise to those on the other team.

I believe that when I lose I must be a good loser, taking my share of the blame, unwilling to hide behind alibis, and eager to admit the skill of my opponents.

Article Six: "Teach me neither to cry for the moon nor to cry over spilled milk."

I believe that it is foolish waste of time to wish and long for things I cannot have. I tell myself that the big fish that got away cannot decorate my fry-pan—this time. So I get a stronger line and practice for more skill. I believe in common sense.

And before I close may I repeat the special meetings for this month. Committeemen's—Scouter's Dinner in the Masonic hall at 7 o'clock, April 22nd. Scouts are requested to wear uniforms.

District Scout meeting at 7 o'clock in the basement of St. Anthony's Church on St. George's Day, April 23rd.

District Cub meeting in the Hollinger hall Saturday afternoon at 2.30, Apr. 24th.

Mr. Paddon, Field Secretary, Toronto will be at the three meetings.

Sixth Timmins Troop

The weekly meeting of the 6th Timmins (Mattagam) Troop came to order at 7.15. The attendance was taken and then the collection was taken up.

To start the ball rolling we had a game called "Poison."

Scouter Fisher explained the new system of points agreed on. A few changes occurred in the patrols. The fellows from the Cubs will be in one patrol so that they will be with boys of their own age. This patrol is the "Panthers."

The patrols then went to their corners where they passed tests. We found that the Panthers came on top with 21 points.

We then had a relay game with lighted candles. If the candle went out while you were running you had to go up to the front, light the candle and start again. The officers won this but they wouldn't count us in on it.

Then they had a fish game. After these games they had a knotting competition, which the Beavers won.

The patrol was called into a horse-shoe and Scouter Fisher talked about uniforms. Scout Lacey spoke a few words. Akela Wheeler paid us a visit also.

The meeting closed in the usual way. A certain person said that I have a car to knock off, well, I must remind him that I happen to have a cranium. —Troop Scribe.

Husband's Account of Missing Spouse

Frank Dolan's Story Does Not Throw Much Light on What Happened to Elk Lake Mother.

Haileybury, April 12.—(Special to The Advance)—Missing from her home at Elk Lake for more than three weeks, Mrs. Frank Dolan, well-known resident of that community, still was unreported to-day, so far as provincial police district headquarters here is aware. Officers, following up a trail comparatively cold, have located her husband without difficulty, and Dolan is held here in custody pending an appearance before Magistrate Atkinson on Friday on a charge of non-support, laid after he had left for the Val d'Or region nearly nine days after his wife had last been seen by either him or any of her six children.

Dolan's story, according to Inspector F. B. Creasy, in charge of the police district, is that he attended a hockey match in Elk Lake on the night of March 21, leaving his wife alone in their house, and that when he returned she had gone. Previously, police had been told all six children—five of them are Malcoms, Mrs. Dolan having been married twice—also had been at the hockey game, and Dolan said he had seen some of them at the match, played in an enclosed open air rink. He left the house after the children and was home just ahead of them, Inspector Creasy said Dolan had told him, and he had seen all of the game except a brief part of the third period, when he went with a companion in search of a "blind pig," police said they had learned.

Apparently, Dolan was absent from the house not much over two hours that night, and the four boys and two girls a slightly longer period. The husband told police that there had been no quarrel between his 38-year-old wife and himself before he left for the game, although there had been a slight disagreement earlier in the day, allegedly over who was to prepare a late breakfast for him. He got the meal himself, it is stated. The man, according to Inspector Creasy, said that his wife washed the supper dishes and he had dried them for her, and he told police also that he had given her $30 that same week-end.

When the children came home that night, Dolan said he had asked the oldest boy where his mother was, the answer being that he did not know. Subsequently, this son went to Matachewan to look for his mother there, allegedly at the suggestion of his stepfather. Dolan told the police his wife often had been away from home before, for varying periods, on one occasion staying away three weeks. She had threatened to leave him entirely to look after the children, Inspector Creasy said Dolan had claimed. Dolan remained in Elk Lake until the morning of March 30, then took train for Rouyn and going on from there to the Sullivan mine, where a close relative is employed. He was picked up there by Quebec police at the instigation of Provincial Constable S. V. McClelland, of Elk Lake, who took with him a warrant charging him with non-support. His movements have been quite open, it is said, and he had made no secret of his destination before leaving Elk Lake. He was remanded for a week when he appeared before Magistrate Atkinson here on Saturday.

Meantime, there is no report of Mrs. Dolan. Relatives in Porcupine, Kirkland Lake and Cobalt have had no word of the former Leona Villeneuve, formerly a resident of the silver camp. How she got out of Elk Lake on the Sunday night she disappeared is proving puzzling to police. Apparently, she did not travel on the next day's trains, nor at any other time on the Elk Lake branch of the T. & N. O. where she is well-known as a resident of many years' standing. No one in Elk Lake has been found who could throw any light on that phase of the mystery, and police are enquiring among members of the Latchford hockey team (who played in Elk Lake on March 21) whether they had seen anything of her on their homeward trip by motor.

Another rumor being enquired into is from near Sarnia, in which district it was reported a woman answering Mrs. Dolan's description had been seen on one of the main highways. Inspector Creasy has asked Sarnia post of the provincial police to check up on this report, and meantime Constable McClelland, back at Elk Lake after his journey to arrest Dolan is continuing to enquire into the local angles, assisted by Constable William Byrne, of headquarters staff here. Over the week-end they had made no new reports to the inspector, but they are enquiring also into the story told by Dolan of his movements on the night he last saw his wife.

Porcupine Ski Club to Hold Chalet Dance April 16

The Porcupine Ski Club are offering something new this season to close out the winter sports festivities in the form of a Chalet dance to take place in the Riverside Pavilion on Friday, April 16. The fixture has been carefully planned and is sure to be worth while.

The novelties are to include a setting suitable for a ski club dance, the names of the dances and the signing of the register of the ski club at the door for a permanent record.

Andy Cangiano's orchestra will be in attendance and old patrons of Mr. Wilson's famous dance emporium will know that the music will not let them down. Andy's boys are going to start something when they play the stem Turn Fox-trot and the Liniment Waltz.

In addition to the novelties, a further attraction is introduced by serving punch to the thirsty dancers.

If You Like Books

(By A. H.)

Russseau (1712-78), who wrote several works on revolt against existing social order, says: "I have always said and felt that true enjoyment cannot be described." This is so true that I often give up hope of ever telling you (convincingly) about the joys of a good book.

Richard Halliburton is an American author, one whose books always give pleasure. Some of his books are "The Royal Road to Romance," "The Glorious Adventure," "The Flying Carpet," "New Worlds to Conquer," and "Seven League Boots." Mr. Halliburton tells of his travels in foreign lands so vividly that we seem to be with him. He writes about historical places, beautiful places, and events of interest, in a manner that is human and charming. "The Royal Road to Romance," his first book, tells about his journeys in European countries such as France, Spain and Switzerland, to India and Greece. These journeys were made after he graduated from Princeton College. He climbs the Matterhorn, meets young ladies of different countries (remember Richard Halliburton is a young man), visits jungles, sees the Taj Mahal, and has other adventures that anyone would enjoy. And he does not seek to be conventional—not Mr. Halliburton. He does much that is not allowed and somehow manages to scrape through. Read this and other books by Richard Halliburton and you will thoroughly enjoy the journeys to other lands.

Over Fifty Young Friends at Happy Birthday Party

On Saturday afternoon from three o'clock to six o'clock Master Billy MacElwee entertained over fifty of his friends at the Hollinger Recreation hall. The occasion was Billy's sixth birthday, and the youngsters all had a very enjoyable time. They played games, and amused themselves with the many gifts that their young host received. A lovely lunch was served by Billy's mother, Mrs. Chester MacElwee, assisted by Mrs. Ormston, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Chynoweth.
