

Address to Kiwanis Club on the Ukrainian People

Dr. Wenger Speaks of the Appreciation of the Ukrainians for the Educational and Other Advantages Enjoyed by Them in Canada. Also of the Obstacles They Had to Overcome in Coming to a Strange Land.

The guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Monday was Dr. Peter Wenger, graduate of Queen's University, now practising medicine in Timmins, who spoke on the Ukrainian people both in Europe and Canada.

Dr. Wenger was born in Canada of Ukrainian parents and was educated in this land. In his talk, he spoke of the difficulties that the Ukrainian people had to overcome when they first came to Canada, being strangers in a strange land, and how the obstacles had been overcome until at the present time these people were in all professions and businesses.

He also spoke of the appreciation that they felt for the educational advantages which were to be obtained by life in Canada and which they could not get in the Ukraine.

The topic chosen by Dr. Wenger was very interesting and his talk was greatly appreciated by the members present.

Dr. Wenger was introduced by Kiwanian Dr. G. S. Mackechnie, and the thanks of the club were tendered by Past President Moisley.

President King announced that the Kiwanis Street Carnival would be held again this year and plans were being made that would tend to make it bigger and better than ever before.

Kiwanian W. F. Lickley of New Liskeard was a guest at the meeting.

The meeting was terminated after the usual business discussion.

Local Ukrainians Enjoy the Mandore

Programme of Music by Prof. Jemec at Prosvita Hall.

On Tuesday, April 13th, Prof. Jemec, educationalist and musician, was the talented artist at a concert in the Ukrainian Prosvita hall. This was the first appearance of Prof. Jemec in Timmins, and the audience was delighted with the programme. The concert was conducted in the Ukrainian language.

Between the numbers which he played on the mandore, the professor spoke about his native Ukraine. The mandore, famous Ukrainian musical instrument, has many strings and is played in somewhat the same manner as the harp. When played by a skilled artist like Prof. Jemec, the tone of the music is beautiful as well as different from that of any other musical instrument. Prof. Jemec played and sang Ukrainian songs, and the audience, some of whom had never before heard the music of their own national musical instrument, eagerly showed their appreciation of the professor's kindness in appearing before them.

Prof. Jemec was born in Ukraine and has recently been teaching in Czechoslovakia. He is at present on a tour of Canada.

ON THE CANADIAN GENERAL MOTORS' STRIKE FRONT

When employees of the General Motors plant at Oshawa, Ontario, went on strike, their wives backed them up by joining the picket line and establishing an emergency commissary, above. So far negotiations have failed to solve the problem, and Premier Hepburn has refused to confer with the strike leaders who are lieutenants of John L. Lewis.

Dr. Langford Review Geology of McIntyre Committed for Trial on Charge of Murder

Interesting Meeting of Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

The meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy which had been postponed a few weeks ago on account of the illness of Dr. George Langford, was held in the dining room of the Empire hotel on Tuesday evening.

Dr. Langford, speaker at the meeting, gave a paper on geology which was very interesting. Dr. Langford said that it was difficult to know just what to say because of the different stages of advancement in geology of the members present, but he seemed to have reached a happy medium judging by the ovation he received.

The subject of the paper on which he spoke was "The Geology of the McIntyre Mine," and the talk was illustrated by a number of slides showing the rock formation of the McIntyre area. After the paper had been finished, Dr. Langford invited the members to question him and satisfactorily disposed of the several queries put to him.

Dr. Langford is to enter the University of Toronto as Professor of Geology next term, and though he will not leave here until August, he will leave the McIntyre Mine in a short time. Regret at his departure and appreciation for his work were expressed by Mr. R. J. Ennis of the McIntyre. Mr. Ennis caused a great deal of amusement with his humorous stories and witty sallies.

A motion picture of a cross-section of a Simons Cone Crusher was shown and thoroughly discussed by some of the gentlemen who had had experience in crushers. The picture, first of all, showed the machine as a whole; then with a hole cut in the casing showing the gyration at work at top speed of 329 gyrations per minute. Then the picture was shown at one-eighth the original speed to show how the rocks were crushed.

The whole programme seemed to be enjoyed greatly by the assembly and they showed their appreciation in whole-hearted applause.

When discussion on the Simons Cone Crusher had been ended, the meeting adjourned for refreshments. Needless to say this part of the programme was commendably taken care of.

Found Beneath Train Car at Kapuskasing Monday

Found beneath a train car at Kapuskasing suffering from a badly crushed left foot and right hand, Lawrence Kelly was admitted to the Sensenbrenner hospital, Kapuskasing, on Monday. His injuries are considered serious. He is believed to be about 30 years of age and from Val Gagne.

A member of the train crew, making switching operations in the yard at Kapuskasing, was directed to the injured man when he heard groans.

It is not known yet how Kelly met with the accident or how he came to be in the yard. It is believed he may have been a transient in search of work, and that he may have been "riding the freights."

Mrs. Emma Beaudoin, charged with the murder of Evelyn Lepine, who died here on March 23, was committed for trial at the Fall Assizes Tuesday afternoon when she appeared before Magistrate Atkinson for a preliminary hearing.

Evidence from a former hearing of a charge against Mrs. Beaudoin was admitted by the magistrate on request of the Crown Attorney and with the consent of S. C. Platus, counsel for the defence.

Dr. G. S. Mackechnie, of the Moore Clinic, who had conducted the post mortem examination, testified that Miss Lepine had died from peritonitis. The doctor described the results of his examination with commendable clarity and was in the stand only a short time. He had not attended Miss Lepine before death.

Dr. G. E. Irvin, of Timmins, next took the stand and testified that he had attended Miss Lepine during her illness except for a period of two weeks when he had been out of town. Dr. Irvin described the condition of the patient at various times which had never been good.

The evidence of the two practitioners was sufficient and Mrs. Beaudoin was committed for trial. Mrs. Beaudoin was warned in the usual manner that anything she might say would be taken down and used as evidence against her.

Arrangements were made that the morning devotional periods which come over the radio every morning from 8:00 until 8:20 were to be continued until the end of May when they will be discontinued for the summer months.

Differing members of the Association have been conducting these broadcasts every morning.

It is expected that they will resume sometime in the early autumn.

Some Tall Fish Stories Being Told in Bermuda

When bigger and better fish stories are told, the Bermuda Royal Gazette and Celenist aims to be right there telling them.

At Angel's Cove, Bermuda, says the Gazette, you can prove to your satisfaction that some "believe-it-or-not" fish stories are true.

"A certain fish there, when told, will stick his nose out of the water and blow a bubble-kiss at you; while his wife lies on her side and winks. Another will stay still and let you stroke its side. Still another will pull his blanket of sand over himself and show you how he sleeps.

"When you approach a school of Groupers, all heads pop out of the water, mouths open wide, not for peanuts, but begging for a fish without a line attached. Drop them a line and they'll examine the bait for a long time, before taking it, to make sure there's no hook in it."

But the Gazette saves the best one until the end:

"The octopus won't hurt you, even if you shake hands with it."

To Present French Play at High School

French-speaking students offering happy comedy, orchestral selections and French folk songs also on programme.

On Friday evening April 16th, the French-speaking students of the Timmins High and Vocational School will present a two-act play, "La Poudre Aux Yeux." The author, Labiche, is ranked as one of the world's finest writers of comedy—and this play, with its mirth-provoking situations and witty dialogue, proves this statement.

The plot deals with the attempts of two middle-class families to bluff each other. The husbands pretend to be men of importance and wealth, and aided by their wives, arrange a marriage between the son of Ratinois and the daughter of Malingear. The discussion of the marriage "dot" and the preposterous promises made by the fathers is one of the highlights of the play. A lavish dinner is ordered by Ratinois to celebrate this occasion, but he cannot pay the check. Uncle Robert appears and saves the situation but exacts a promise that there will be no attempt in the future to "keep up with the Joneses."

The play is under the direction of Mr. Gauthier. Orchestral selections and French folk songs will add to the evening's entertainment.

At the regular meeting of the Timmins High and Vocational School Board held on April 12th, it was decided to advertise for the services of a gardener for the summer, to put the school grounds in better shape than they have been to date. It is decidedly an important issue that the school grounds be made to look beautiful because environment has a great deal to do with the feelings of the students toward their place of learning.

A student's club to engage in the beautification of the grounds is to be organized under the supervision of Mr. W. O. Langdon. A club of this nature should be able to do a great deal towards improving the appearance of the school grounds and it will also instil in the members a knowledge which will be of use to them in later life. The club will also arrange for suitable decorations for Coronation Day.

Another decision which will be beneficial in many respects is the formation of a nutrition course, to be instituted next autumn under the supervision of the Canadian Red Cross. The course will last for eight weeks and the classes will be held one night a week.

The usual general business followed consisting of the minutes being read and passed, and the discussion of salaries and monthly accounts.

Tournament May be Held Between Clubs

St. Matthew's Men's Club Considering the Matter.

The regular business meeting of St. Matthew's Men's Club was held on Monday evening and some time was spent in arranging for the meeting next Monday evening when St. Paul's Club from South Porcupine will be their guests.

The rest of the evening was spent in playing a new game called "disking," which is along the line of indoor curling. The game is played with wooden discs approximately eight inches in diameter and an inch and a half thick. Concentric circles are arranged at each end of the floor as in curling and the teams consist of four men, each with two discs.

The game is thought to have been originated by Rev. H. A. Sims of Cobalt, who is moving from North Bay to Kirkland Lake in a short time.

The Schumacher Men's Club and one other club in Timmins are thought to be playing this game also.

They are thinking of arranging tournaments at St. Matthew's and the idea should be received with enthusiasm.

Mining Editor Leaves Rouyn-Noranda Press

A. G. Bridger, who for the past four years has been mining editor of the Rouyn-Noranda Press, left that position last week to join the staff of Bidgood Kirkland Mines in the Kirkland Lake camp. Mr. Bridger who was among those pioneering Cobalt, Porcupine and other mining camps in this North, did an unusually able job for the Rouyn-Noranda Press, whose mining news has gained the deserved reputation for authenticity and knowledge of the situation.

Blind River Boy Loses Four Toes Under Wheels of Train

Slipping beneath the wheels of a C.P.R. freight train as it was pulling out of the station at Blind River at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Gerard Dionne, 9 years of age, had four toes cut off on his left foot and narrowly escaped more serious injury.

Along with a number of companions, the young boy was stealing a ride on the train as it moved slowly out of the station. In some manner he slipped off the side of a freight car and his foot went under the wheels. He was rushed to the Red Cross hospital where he was given medical attention by Dr. J. M. Robb.

Meisner Suit Amended by Order of the Court

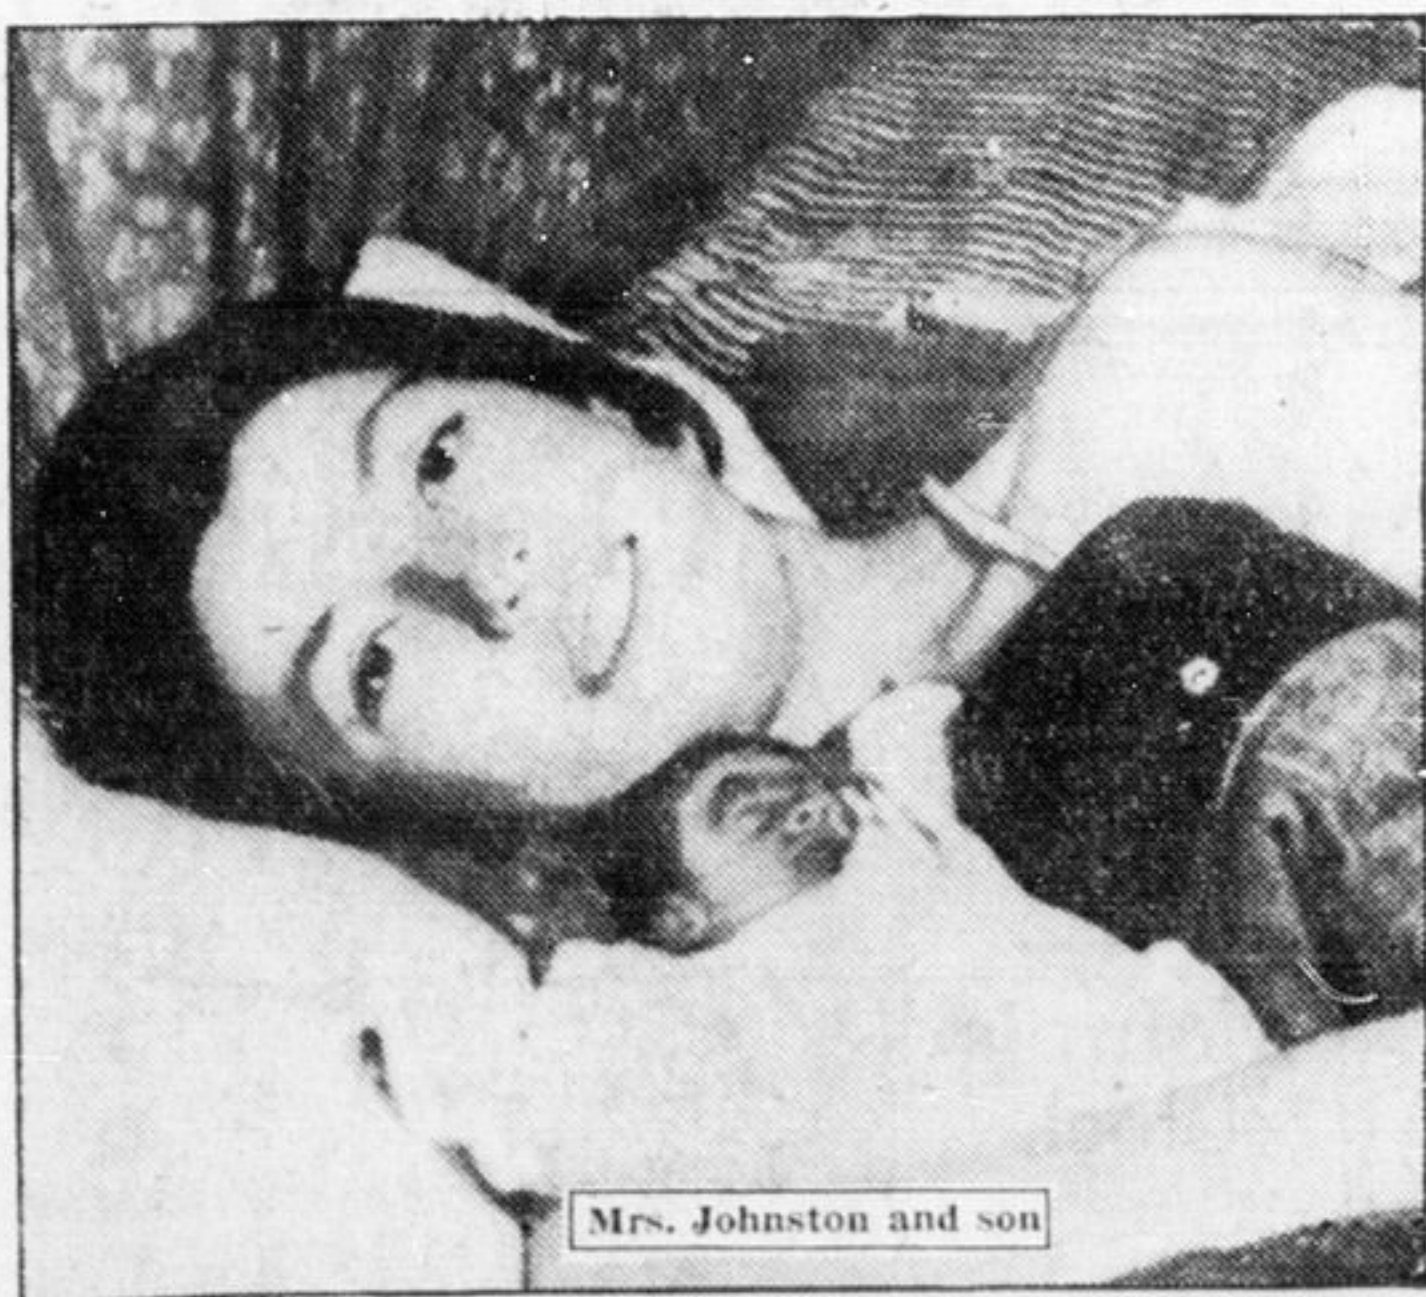

One paragraph and a portion of another was struck out of the statement of claim of David Meisner, Windsor, in a $50,000 damage action launched against John Labatt, London brewer, on an order by F. H. Barlow, K.C., master of the Supreme Court at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Saturday.

In his suit Meisner claims damages for alleged malicious prosecution and alleged negligence in identification. Meisner was first convicted on a charge of kidnapping Labatt in 1934 and later acquitted at a new trial. At his first trial he was sentenced to 15 years in penitentiary.

The paragraph eliminated as embarrassing is one in which Meisner alleged Labatt conspired with certain persons unknown to "procure the conviction of an innocent man." From the next paragraph, number 16 of the statement of claim, is struck out an allegation that Meisner "sustained the loss of his mother in her death as a result of the charges laid against him and his conviction and incarceration on the said charges."
