Rev. B. Millar Honoured at Father and Son Banquet

Presentation of Gold Chain and Pocket Knife to Rev. Bruce Millar. Notable Addresses at Annual Event on Monday Night Under Auspices of Tuxis and Trail Rangers

The annual Father and Son Banquet of the Tuxis and Trail Rangers was held on Monday evening last in the basement of the United Church.

It was attended by the largest gathering for some years and there were only three chairs vacant when the old and young sat down.

The girls of the C.G.I.T. took care of the refreshments, and did well to serve the wants of the younger set, for it was "ice-cream and more ice-cream," without the pie.

The repast was preceded by the singing of "God Save the King," and prayer by Rev. Bruce Millar.

After the supper, Mr. Millar led the singing of old favourites. He had the fathers show the young lads how they should sing.

Mr. P. T. Moisiey then called order, and said at the close of the indoor activities it had been the procedure to have a father and son banquet, to polish off things, but some time ago, they did away with it for a time, owing to such a small attendance. But on starting it again, the interest came back, and "by the looks of the gathering to-night, it will continue," he said.

He thanked the Kiwanis Club members, the reporters of the different newspapers and also the C.G.I.T. for their presence.

Miss Jean McDonald responded for the girls, by saying they were taught to help the Tuxis and Trail Rangers, and this was one way they could do it, and came along to do their part.

Mr. Moisiey then gave an insight into the workings of both the Tuxis and Trail Rangers for the benefit of the fathers, telling how the boys earned their efficiency badges. The boys, he said, were under the able leadership of the following gentlemen:—Messrs. A. Jackson, W. Allen, L. Morley, W. M. Livermore, J. McClung, W. Burns and P. T. Moisiey.

He then called on a pioneer of the Trail Rangers work to present the badges to the boys who earned them. Mr. Arch Gillies was then asked to come forward.

Mr. Gillies spoke a few words before he presented the badges to Ralph and Carl Redden, J. Rodda, D. Ramsay, T. Warren, R. McIntosh, A. Everett, T. Kelly, W. Burns, J. McLean and J. King.

Each boy was congratulated as he received his badge.

A Trail Ranger spoke up, and said he thought he should have one, but Mr. Moisiey explained the reason why he had not received one. Mr. Moisiey said there were one hundred and seventy-five boys had earned badges, but besides earning them the boys had to pay a small fee to get them. He also explained the chevrons, and before sitting down, he said besides craftsmanship, the boys took up sport, and there had not been one gathering that a cup was not presented, and to-night there was still one.

He said that three cups—Junior, Intermediate and Senior—were presented to the boys, and in turn they had been turned over to different organizations to be contested for, and last hockey season the cups were in the hands of the Kiwanis Club.

Mr. E. King, president of the Kiwanis Club, was called on to present the senior cup. Mr. King said it was team play that counted, and if a boy's mind did not function with the body, he could not get team-play. He also pleased the boys with a joke, a Scotchman's game, and then called on Jackie Dewar, captain of the Tuxis senior hockey team, to accept the cup on behalf of his team, and congratulated them on their win.

Jack thanked the Kiwanis Club and his team, for without the good team work of his squad the cup would not have been won.

The most touching part of the evening was when Mr. Moisiey said he was going to call on a man who had put his whole heart and soul into the boys' work, and that it was a farewell gathering, and called on Rev. Bruce Millar.

Mr. Millar said he was pleased to have the opportunity to say a few words to the boys and was surprised to see the girls present also.

His address was one of the best that has been given to such a gathering. He spoke on his own life, telling the gathering of the loss of his father. He was only nine years old when his father died, and the counsel, the guidance, the example enjoyed by most of the boys present in having a good father were missing in his case. As a result he had gotten into bad company and learned some bad habits that were injurious to health, progress and happiness. Rev. Mr. Millar did not advise fathers to just tell their boys what to do. "That is not the way," he said, "but if you do the right thing, play the game, give the example your boy will pattern after you and keep on the right road." He referred to instances he knew of the delinquency of boys in Timmins. "It is not the fault of the boys, but the blame is on the parents for neglecting their boys," he said. He advised parents to make friends of their boys, go out with them, and join in their interests, gaining their confidence and guiding them.

Disastrous Fire at Matachewan Friday

Seven Families Rendered Homeless by Fire at New Gold Camp.

Cobalt, May 20.—(Special to The Advance)—Bringing with them information they were one of seven families rendered homeless in a disastrous fire at Matachewan late last Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Turcotte and their four children arrived here at the week-end to seek temporary shelter. They have relatives in Cobalt. So quickly had they to vacate the premises where they lived that the children, who were in bed when the alarm was given, had to be carried out clad only in their night attire, and the family, with the others affected, saved very little of their belongings, Mr. Turcotte told the correspondent.

Origin of the fire apparently was due to the removal of a stove pipe stopper in the frame house occupied by a Mr. and Mrs. Champagne, information available here indicated. Sparks from a fire which the woman started in her stove are believed to have ignited other parts of the building, which was soon ablaze and from which flames spread to a bakery adjoining over which were living apartments for six families. This structure, also of frame construction, went up in flames, and citizens had a difficult task to prevent the blaze spreading even farther.

A stiff fight was waged to save other buildings in the townsite, the correspondent was told. Pumps and hose from the fire rangers' equipment were available, it was stated, but these did not function to their usual capacity until after some time had elapsed, the correspondent was informed from one source. There was little pressure of water for some time, it was alleged, and subsequently a meeting of the citizens was held at the week-end to consider the problem of fire-fighting, according to one man from Matachewan out here on Monday. The absence of wind helped to keep the flames from spreading.

Estimates of the damage were not immediately available here, but the loss would be quite heavy, with little insurance carried. While some of the occupants of the apartments managed to save part of their belongings, they lost most of them and even what was salvaged suffered through hurried handling. It was stated that people who had been living in part of the Champagne house had moved out earlier in the day and it is considered that one entrance to the chimney had been left open, allowing sparks from the stove to find their way into the vacant part. The bakery was owned by Mr. Champagne, but rented to a man named Rousseau, it is said.

Kiwanis Encouraging Pig-Raising in District

Club Votes $120 to Buy Pedigreed Pigs to Allot to Youngsters on Farms in the District. Club President Boosts Good Work of T. P. A. A. Other Kiwanis Notes.

The regular meeting of the Kiwanis club was held in the Legion hall on Monday, E. H. King, president of the club, acting as chairman.

Frank Feldman spoke in connection with the work being carried on by the agricultural committee. On a motion forwarded by Mr. Feldman and seconded by Jack Walker, the sum of $120.00 was voted to be used to buy pedigreed pigs which will be distributed among children of certain farmers in the district. The children will be responsible for the care of the stock and in this manner will become accustomed to the raising of good stock.

The Kiwanis club will hold a dance at the Riverside pavilion on Friday, June 18th. A committee, consisting of W. M. McLarny, Gordon Archibald and Sam Bucovetsky, was appointed to look after the arrangements for the event.

The President, Mr. King, drew the attention of the members to the boxing and wrestling bouts which are to be held at the arena on Friday night. He outlined the fine work carried on by the T.P.A.A.A. who are sponsoring the bouts, and asked the members for their support.

Tickets which will be sold on the car, which is being given by the club, were distributed among the members. Mr. King spoke briefly in connection with the plans arranging for the sale of the tickets. The members of the club were divided into three teams, and each will compete against the other in disposing of the tickets.

CORONATION DAY PARADE AT TIMMINS

View of the remarkable parade at Timmins on Coronation Day, showing the beautiful arch erected by the Empire Hotel. Part of the crowd on the park at the station can be seen as well as the parade approaching the arch along Fourth Avenue.

Arthur Leblanc and Mac Buckmire were arraigned in police court Tuesday afternoon on charges of vagrancy. Both men pleaded not guilty and the officers were called to state the case. Neither of the two officers who had brought them in had seen them begging. The officers had simply learned that the men were said to be begging and they had taken them to the jail. The crown was unable to produce any witnesses and the case had to be withdrawn. The amusing note in the case was that both Magistrate Atkinson and Crown Attorney Caldbick recalled being accosted by the men in question.

Gusta Homfeldt, Timmins, appeared before Magistrate Atkinson on an assault charge and was assessed one dollar and costs.

It was alleged that the accused struck Kusti Lakanen on Toke street, while the latter was on his way to work.

Homfeldt swore that Lakanen had struck him with the handlebars of his bicycle earlier in the day, and that when the assault took place he had just gone across the street to ask Lakanen why he had hit him. According to the evidence, Lakanen saw the accused coming and swung his bicycle up in front of his body for protection. Homfeldt had grasped the frame of the bicycle and swung it to the ground and then had hit the complainant on the face. Both men swore there was just the one blow struck and then they had separated.

Joseph Janik appeared on a charge of operating a motorcycle while under the influence of liquor. Through an interpreter he told the court that he had not attempted to ride the machine, but had proceeded to push it home when the officer had warned him.

The incident occurred on May 12 and when this was drawn to Magistrate Atkinson's attention he had the case withdrawn.

"We have to make a few allowances for Coronation Day," he added. A charge of peddling fruit without a license was laid against the Kirkland Lake Fruit Company. They were unable to appear and the case was remanded for one week.

Napoleon Barrette and Albert Labelle were both charged with having beer in their car and were fined $25.00 and costs.

A charge of selling liquor illegally was preferred against Rita Giroux. This case was remanded for one week.

A fine of $10 and costs was imposed upon Albert Legault for driving his car with defective brakes.

James Wiseman appeared in court on a charge of driving a car without an operator's license. The case against him was withdrawn when it was proven that he had a driver for the car. Wiseman gave his occupation as an automobile salesman.

A similar charge against Bert St. Louis was also withdrawn.

When D'Arcy Phillip was asked by an officer to produce his operator's license, he was unable to do so. It was proven that he was in complete charge of the car and consequently was assessed $10 and costs.

Henri Boulanger, William Allen and Paul Lemay all pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving. They were each fined $10 and costs. The last two mentioned also had their operators' licenses suspended for one week.

Paul Leduc appeared on a charge of stealing a police dog. He stated that he had bought the dog and has a bill of sale to prove it. Magistrate Atkinson instructed him to appear for trial next week and be able to produce the paper in court.

Herman Major and Ernest Sabourin, both of whom appeared two weeks ago on a charge of stealing a bicycle, were put on suspended sentence by Magistrate Atkinson. The boys were placed under bond to pay for the damage they had done to the bicycle. The damage amounted to $20.45, and the boys were each instructed to pay $10.25 into the court.

Three men appeared in court on charges of being intoxicated and were each fined $10 and costs or thirty days.

Hollinger Reported as Dropping Work on Horwood

(From Sudbury Star)
Exploration work has been suspended by Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines on the Smith-Thorne group of claims in the Horwood Lake district. It is learned unofficially. The properties are located near Tonaga on the Canadian National Railways, about 120 miles northwest of Sudbury.

Hollinger took an option on the claims in the fall of 1936, and during the ensuing time has sunk an inclined shaft to a depth of 600 feet and opened up four levels. Results, it is understood, have been variable, with sections of good and lean ore. The development was centred on the Smith claims.

Gold was first discovered in the area by W. E. Smith, of Duluth, Minn., and George Olskamp, of Sudbury, in the fall of 1933, and discoveries were also made by Bert Jerome of Westree, and Joseph Burke of Ottawa, prospec-ors, on the Thorne group. Early in 1935 considerable diamond drilling was done and it was on the results secured that Hollinger was induced to undertake underground development.

While nothing official is available at the moment, it is reported in Sudbury that W. E. Smith, staker and owner, may resume development, and install a small mill, probably of 25 tons daily capacity, to treat the ore so far proven.
