NEW CANADIANS

Chatham News:—Formation of a practical policy with regard to immigration is a task that will devolve on the government one of these fine days.

Adequate development of the widespread resources of this great Dominion calls for a much larger population than we have to-day. The time is not far distant when settlement of our vacant lands will become imperative if Canada is to progress and become a greater nation. And when that time arrives with an influx of newcomers to settle in this country, we will have to do something about it.

It is interesting to know what Canadians do with their new citizens and how they cultivate the raw material into something better than mere labour to till the soil and garner the harvests into the barns.

Member of Legislature for Glengarry Passes

James Alexander Sangster, M.L.A. for Glengarry, died in the Cornwall hospital yesterday afternoon. Mr. Sangster had been ill for several months and underwent a serious operation recently from which he did not recover. He was 76 years old.

Are There Any Orators Left in the Dominion?

(Pembroke Bulletin) Speaking in Saint John, N.B., Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, remarked that we have not had since Sir Wilfrid Laurier another orator of his standing.

It is not clear if there was any real occasion for this remark, and possibly it was one of those things which it would have been better to have not said. However, passing over this phase of the subject under review it is just possible that it is not true to fact for there may be many orators in Canada from Nova Scotia to British Columbia whom we know very little about, but even then, was Sir Wilfrid the greatest in his day?

The writer heard both Sir Wilfrid and the Hon. G. W. Ross from the same platform in Toronto, and in his humble judgment Ontario's then premier was the speaker of the evening. This is in no way intended to detract from the well established reputation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier as "the silver tongued" orator of his day. As a political speaker he was not in the class of Sir George Foster, nor R. B. Bennett, and others whom we could mention, but there was to him a charm of manner, a stately dignity, a possession of surprisingly large vocabulary of the English language for one of a different nationality, and all these contributed to his reputation at the time. In our humble opinion Lord Tweedsmuir may be quite in error, however, when he stated that we have not had a like orator since his day.

AT ITS BEST

St. Catharines Standard:—These are no longer the horse and buggy days. The average motorist can knock off work around 3 o'clock or later in the afternoon and make a survey of the countryside well before supper time. It is well worth doing in the Niagara Peninsula right now. One of the oldest residents informed this writer this week that he had never before seen the district look better. There are favourite drives for everyone. Some of us like to get off the beaten track. The beautification job at Queen Victoria Park, Niagara Falls, will prove one of the finest assets of this province when completed. And from the Falls to Queenston Heights, to Niagara-on-the-Lake, to Port Weller, with its beautiful horticultural garden is a dream now and for months to come. Is there anything better on the continent of America?

OFFENDING CYCLISTS

While the City Council have instructed the traffic officer to watch for motorists who run through traffic lights, a special watch should be kept on cyclists. Many of them do not pay the slightest attention to the traffic signals, believing, apparently, that they are for automobiles only, so they rush right past to the danger of pedestrians crossing.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

J. L. Murray Passes Away at Noranda Yesterday

Joseph L. Murray, of Renfrew, president of the O'Brien Gold Mines Limited and vice-president of the M. J. O'Brien Limited, died suddenly in his hotel room in Noranda yesterday afternoon. He was well-known and popular throughout the North and in financial and mining circles.

Ontario Leads in the Production of Gold

Increase in Output Shown for First Four Months of 1937.

Gold production in Canada for the four months ended April 30 totalled 1,288,231 ounces, an increase of 12.8 per cent, compared with the same period in 1936, a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reveals.

Gold produced in April amounted to 328,337 ounces, against 299,269 in April last year.

Ontario led the provinces in production during April with 205,511 ounces. Quebec was second with 56,606 ounces, and British Columbia third with 41,865. Manitoba and Saskatchewan produced 17,378 ounces. Nova Scotia 1,906, and the Yukon's alluvial gold production was 71 ounces.

The average price of gold in April was $34.95 per ounce, at which price the Canadian output was worth $11,300,628.

During April jewellery and scrap containing 2,357 ounces of gold were received at the Royal Canadian Mint.

Excellent Results from Work at Hislop Gold Mines

Excellent results are reported as being obtained in programme of flat diamond drilling being carried out from the 150-foot level at Hislop Gold Mines, Temiskaming district. According to unofficial but reliable reports, the No. 4 flat hole, drilled about 100 feet from the shaft on the 150-foot level, cut several sections and no blanks were encountered in 70 feet.

Four five-foot sections and one ten-foot section were cut, the former returning assays of $3.85, $11.55, $17.50 and $25.20, while the latter assayed $2.80 per ton. Average for the 30 feet is approximately $10 per ton.

Drilling was started at the beginning of this month and flat holes are being put out at 25-foot intervals.

Distinguished Visitors to be Here for Next Week

Among the visitors who have signified their intention to be here next week for the Silver Jubilee and Old Home Week are: Mrs. Benny Hollinger, widow of the staker of the Hollinger Mine; and Leo Timmins, one of the directors of the Hollinger, and son of one of the original backers of the Hollinger.

OH, WHAT A DIRTY TRICK!

Windsor Daily Star:—And what do you think the old meanies in the Detroit hotels are doing about the Shriners? They have clipped the corners off the paper laundry bags.

And why are they doing that? They are taking precautions against the Shriners filling the bags with water and dumping the missiles on the heads of people in the streets below. 'Tsk! 'Tsk! Such cuttings-up and such goings-on. The Shriners will be here in a few days and they'll be adding some excitement to life. Like the American Legion, the Shriners have a way with them and they like everyone to join in the fun and frolic of a few brisk days of carefree boisterousness.

PRESERVE THE PEACE

And money is said to hold the key to future events in the Far East—money in the shape of a $40,000,000 British fortification programme at Hong Kong and a consistent investment policy in Southern China. The Japanese are thought to be seeking a new Anglo-Japanese pact of friendship as a means of securing a place in the new world economic plans looked for out of the Imperial Economic Conference held in London and possible co-operation of Great Britain and the United States.

DANGERS OF THE LAWN

To ladies who run lawnmowers we draw attention that a woman in Hamilton cut her hand badly when working one of these contraptions. And to men we bring the reminder that a gentleman suffered a stroke shortly after shoving a lawnmower. Just who should cut the grass we do not know.—Peterborough Examiner.
