South Porcupine, Ont., Sept. 15th. (Special to The Advance)—The Catholic Women's League of South Porcupine offer each year a prize to the child coming first in the Entrance examinations in both South Porcupine and Dome schools. These marks are based on the principal's record of the year's work. At the first meeting of the fall session of the C.W.L. which took place on Friday, Sept. 3rd, in the vestry of the Roman Catholic Church, Mrs. Pat Cole, first vice-president of the League, presented nice fountain pens to the two students—Margaret Foster, of the Dome, and Helen Haneberry of South Porcupine. This is the fourth year that the C.W.L. have done this commendable thing, and it speaks well for the community spirit of the League as neither of these girls is of the Catholic faith.

some of which are made by the blind. In regard to the latter, however, the goods are all plainly identified by means of labels to prevent imposition on the public.

Recently Kirkland Lake people were approached by telephone or personal call to buy goods said to be made by the blind. Similar canvass is being made this week in Timmins and for this reason it is well to refer the letter sent to Kirkland Lake by Mr. Lawley in connection with the matter. Mr. Lawley is well known in the North as the field secretary for the Canadian Institute for the Blind. Mr. Lawley's letter reads: "Look for the label marked: "Blind Craft"

"The sale of floor wax and wash powder purporting to have been made by the blind is not, in any way, associated with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

"We understand that canvassers are now in Kirkland Lake and district endeavouring to sell such articles by telephone canvass.

"All goods made by the blind under the direction of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are distinctly marked with the label "Blind Craft" and the public is warned against unwarranted sales.

"Whenever the accredited sales agency of the Canadian National Institute make regular visits to this or any other community they will carry the "Blind Craft" label and will operate from a stated address.

"We do not know of or give any recognition to the sale of floor wax or wash powder in association with the blind."

Ask Uniformity in Compensation Laws

Labour Congress Suggests Number of Changes in Law.

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada sitting at Ottawa this week voted to instruct its incoming executive to press for amendments to Workmen's Compensation Acts throughout the country that would give 100 per cent. compensation, place the full cost on industry and provide for blanket coverage of occupational diseases.

The Congress convention instructed the executive to prepare a uniform amendment to all Provincial Compensation Acts, embodying those features, and to forward it to all provincial executives or provincial Federations of Labor with a request they press it upon their provincial governments.

Says Administration Disgrace The amendment, the resolution said, should be designed to make Compensation Acts uniform throughout the country and to bring every disease attributable to employment within their scope.

The resolution was passed after discussion in which Bruce Magnusson, Port Arthur, said administration of the Ontario Compensation Act as it affected those engaged in the mining and lumbering industries was a "disgrace."

Sometimes, he declared, it was necessary for an injured man to wait years before he obtained compensation. He asked that a clause be inserted in the resolution asking the executive to press for more efficient administration of Compensation Acts.

Moe Starr of the Toronto Fur Workers' Union objected to the practice of the Ontario Compensation Board in computing compensation on the average number of days an employee worked during a full week. The existing method of calculation, he said, worked a severe hardship on persons engaged in needle trades who often worked only a few days each week.

From Deputy Reeve John Doggett of East York, near Toronto, came the suggestion that an appeal board be established under the Ontario Compensation Act.

Plea for Kitchen Workers A. R. Johnstone, Toronto, made a vigorous plea for inclusion of hotel and restaurant workers in provisions of Compensation Acts. Often, he said, such workers suffered painful burns, scalds or other injuries and were forced because of lack of money to continue at their jobs, aggravating their injuries in some instances to the point where they became permanent disabilities.

Jack Quinn, Port Arthur, said the resolution was not definite enough on accident insurance. Lumber workers had a hard time, he said, with operators who sought to save money by "killing" claims to compensation for injury, seeking by that means to minimize the number of reported accidents. Lower their contribution to the Compensation Board and increase their profits at the expense of the workers.

Charge of Manslaughter Follows Road Fatality Following the inquest held at Englehart on Saturday night into the death of George Fordyce, farmer, of Englehart, a charge of manslaughter was laid against Fred Villeneuve, of Schumacher, Fred Villeneuve was the driver of the car which was said to have struck Mr. Fordyce on the highway near Englehart where he was riding his bicycle on the way to Englehart. With Mr. Villeneuve was Eugene Montgomery also of Schumacher. Evidence at the inquest seemed to imply that the car struck Fordyce as they were attempting to pass the cyclist, the car, apparently swerving in the loose gravel, and the slight fog hanging over the highway at the time contributing its share to the accident. Doctors expressed the opinion that Fordyce died instantly. The preliminary hearing in the case against Fred Villeneuve will be held in Englehart on Sept. 20th.

The late Mr. Fordyce was a well-known and respected resident of the Englehart area, having been in the North for 26 years. He was clerk of Chamberlain township and secretary of his local school board. He is survived by a widow and a daughter, Mrs. S. Stevens, of New Liskeard.

Institute for Blind Labels All Its Goods Goods Made by Blind Marked with Words "Blind Craft"

Because the reputation of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind is so high in this part of the North and the officers of that institute are so sincerely appreciated, there may be a chance that this reputation may be used by others and that reference to "the blind" may be used as a password for business not connected with the Institute. The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is the only organization generally recognized here in connection with work for the blind. All its officials are themselves blind, and this makes them easy to identify. They make a regular yearly canvass for funds to support the work for the blind and also some of their protégés sell goods,
