Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burns, of North Bay. Father Martindale conducted the marriage service. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue velvet suit, brown velvet hat, and matching accessories, and wore a corsage of American Beauty roses and lily-of-the-valley. She was attended by her sister, Lucy Proulx, as bridesmaid, wearing a light blue taffeta dress and navy blue accessories and wearing a corsage of roses and sweet peas. The groom was attended by Mr. Len Dunn, of Timmins. You May be Among the Dead or Maimed
 Look at This Picture. And Then Do Your Best to Avoid Such Scenes.
 (From Ontario Dept. of Highways)
 Take a good "look" at this picture—it's a verbal one, but it tells the story just the same. Even though you won't like it, still it is something you must face if Ontario's annual highway slaughter is to be stamped out.
 It is a gruesome picture—and one that happens every day on our streets and highways. This accident happened because the driver was careless. He died—his face a grotesque caricature with his skull split open like a coconut, his chest a gaping hole where he had been stabbed by the jagged steering column.
 His wife was less fortunate—she lived. But every time she looks into a mirror she wishes she had died, too. Modern plastic surgery can perform miracles but it has its limitations. When she looks at herself in the mirror with the eye that isn't glass she still shudders, even though the accident happened three long years ago.
 Their five-year-old daughter lived, too. But she doesn't realize it. Her skull was fractured and her brain injured. It's much more difficult to rebuild a brain than a face.
 Don't say it can't happen to you—because it can and you know it! Today's headlines of dead, dying and injured people may be telling a story about you in tomorrow's papers. But you can help to protect yourself. How? DEMAND SANE AND CAREFUL DRIVING FROM EVERY MOTORIST. Report those you see driving dangerously. And more important—drive sanely and carefully yourself.

Poulin, Mrs. Fred Poulin, Mrs. Earl Gannon, Mrs. Rosario Prudlx, Miss Martha Martin, Miss Rosa Deluca, Mrs. Gedde, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Charlebois, Mrs. Paul Piche, Mrs. Jerry Chenier, and the guest of honour, Miss Martha Charron.

Thinks Streets as Bad as the Highway

Opinions on Cause of Accidents and on Women Drivers.

Timmins, Ont., Sept. 15th, 1937
 To the Editor of The Advance, Timmins.
 Dear Sir:—I have just returned from a three thousand mile trip over various kinds of roads, and all this talk about bad roads gives me a pain in the neck, for most of the talk comes from motorists in this town. They take a trip down south and then advise others not to do so as the roads are rotten. What do they want? A paved road before the men make the road suitable for a pavement, or expect a grader to follow the scoop shovel so they can speed over it to get nowhere quick?
 If these people would only go to the council here, and ask them to do something about the roads in this town, they would get the support of everybody, for when one talks about rotten roads, he has only got to travel around this town, and he will have travelled on the rottenest in the country. At least the main highway has a few graders. That is more than this town can boast about, or if it can, one would like to know where they keep it.
 Women Versus Men Drivers
 Much has been said about the driving of the weaker sex. Statistics taken in the States say that women are far the worst drivers. They state that women have weaker eyes, not so alert, and slow in making their movements, and are easily flustered. There are lots of people that won't agree with the above. My experience with women drivers, some are far better than men but to every one of these, there are a dozen bad ones. These are the kind that can't make up their mind which way they want to go on a one-way street, and like to hang on to the middle of the road at a speed of ten per.

 Accidents
 Every time there is an accident the first thing you hear is that he was drunk. Some people will argue that drunken drivers cause the majority of wrecks. My argument differs greatly in this respect, and also to bad roads. I saw at least twenty wrecks on my trip, and only one was caused by a drunk; so I was told, I did not see this driver as he had just been carried into a house for first aid; two were caused by blow-outs; and the rest were caused by cutting in or crowding.
 Some are inclined to think that the raising of the speed limit has something to do with the upward trend of accidents this year. This is not so, for I found that motorists were driving much slower than other years. It is just the odd numbskull that wants all the road.
 My version of so many accidents is, the ease that a driver can secure a driver's license. All some of the testers think about, is the almighty dollar, for all I did was to drive along Spruce street to the Hollinger mine and back. My son drove around one block. And they call this a test. If someone were to come in this town and demanded every driver to go up and down hills, park in a tight place, how to act in case of an emergency, I wonder how many would fail the test? And that is just what is wanted—someone to test drivers, instead of one who only thinks about the dollar, for nearly every town is as bad as this for people behind the wheel instead of pushing a wheelbarrow.

 Railroad crossings take a big toll in lives every year. Here again it is only madness, for ninety-nine out of every hundred know the crossing is there, and they are familiar with the movements of the trains, and they still try to beat them. Most strangers look before they leap the metals.
 If something is not soon done, it won't be safe to walk, let alone drive.
 Yours Sincerely,
 Carr Dryver.

Generous Response at Pantry Shower

Pleasing Event on Monday Night, Auspices Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion.

The pantry shower which was held jointly by Mrs. V. Jacklin and Mrs. W. A. Devine, at 15 James avenue on Monday night may well be termed a very responsive event. The ladies attending all were laden with suitable commodities to fill the pantry shelves. Two large cartons of groceries was the outcome, this being donated to assist in a deserving cause.
