Inquest in Iroquois Falls' Child's Death

Coroner's Jury Recommends More Care be Taken to Keep Firearms from Reach of Children.

Iroquois Falls, Ont., Sept. 22, 1937. (Special to The Advance)—An inquest into the death of Ruby Davis, aged 5, was held Monday, Sept. 21st. Coroner W. J. Grummett presiding. The jury composed of C. D. Morrison, foreman, G. Brown, C. S. Jessup, E. A. Frowe, C. Brown, F. Foley, F. G. Charron, H. Ross and A. A. Howard found that Ruby died from a .22 calibre bullet fired from a rifle in the hands of an older brother, Leslie, aged 7, and recommended that parents be instructed to exercise more care in the handling of fire-arms.

Dr. H. M. Young testified he attended Ruby Davis around 6 p.m. Sept. 17th and that she died from collapsed lungs and hemorrhage. The post mortem revealed the bullet entered the right breast and passed diagonally through the body puncturing both lungs and perforating the left shoulder blade, lodging just beneath the skin. The doctor also testified that there were no signs of any burns, indicating the rifle had not been fired at close range.

Other witnesses to give evidence were members of the family, neighbours and playmates. Members of the family were at a loss to explain how the boy came in possession of the rifle and ammunition as they were kept in a clothes closet upstairs and had not been used for some time.

W. Arnott Enlarges Schumacher Store

Family Shoe Department Added to Business in Enlarged Premises.

Many references have been made to the new buildings, enlargements and improvements in the Timmins business section recently, and it is well to note that Schumacher has been keeping pace along the same lines. One of the more recent cases in Schumacher is that of the enlarged and improved W. C. Arnott store. In order to better serve the needs of the people of Schumacher and district W. C. Arnott has leased the property next door to his present store. For some weeks past workmen have been busy preparing the premises for the expansion of the business. An archway now connects the former premises with the new, making them in effect one large modern store.

the new and greater ARNOTT'S

where quality is never sacrificed to price

Happy indeed, are we, to announce the completion of alterations and re-modelling and to invite you to visit the "greater" Arnott's. For some time we have felt that fast-growing Schumacher deserved a larger store and when the opportunity arose, we took in the store next door and are now pleased to say that the "Greater" Arnott's is ready to serve you with an even greater selection of quality clothing for men and boys.

MEN'S DEPARTMENT

With our store just twice as large as it was before, we can now display attractively a much greater selection of all men's wear. At this time of year, men will be particularly interested in the new overcoats. Our stock this season is the largest ever shown in Schumacher, if not the entire camp. This group includes many at very modest prices and also represented are the fine imported coatings that have proved so popular with well dressed men of this district.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT

Greater space has been given over to boys' wear. Mothers know that it pays in dollars and cents to buy sturdy well-made clothes that won't wear through in a few weeks. As a rule boys will not take care of their things but they like the clothes that they get from the same store as dad and take more care of them.

SHOE DEPARTMENT

Ladies', Men's, Children's Footwear

The new Shoe Department is a complete shoe store in itself. Discriminating ladies will find displayed shoes for every occasion from high fashion evening slippers to extra smart daytime shoes. Ladies hosiery needs can be completely satisfied in this department. A full range in all weights and the new shades. The kiddies too will be well taken care of at Arnott's. Growing feet will be comfortable and healthy in "Red School House" shoes properly fitted.

Homeless Dog Helps Friends Get Borilko

Scents Lost Man in Dense Bush and Barks. Bark is Answered by a Shout.

At least one homeless and nameless dog has found itself a place to sleep, plenty to eat, kindness and attention. That is the one which accompanied searchers on their hunt for Bill Borilko, twenty-two-year-old Timmins youth who was lost in the bush for almost a week.
The dog was found wandering in the bush by one of the search parties. It was adopted and became a sort of mascot.
On Tuesday when searchers were still going through the bush sure that they were in the vicinity of where Borilko was, but discouraged at not finding him, the dog began to growl and then to bark. His bark was answered by a faint cry of "Frank, Frank," from the lost man.

Death of Mrs. Mary Ross in Timmins on Monday

Frank Boychuck and Lawrence Godin, who were in the lead, crashed through the bush after the dog and came to where Borilko was.

Ten minutes after the dog and Borilko arrived home yesterday a member of the family ran out of the house and came back with a new collar. The dog has received much attention ever since.
