The international football teams, composed of Scots and English players, who have been battling at intervals during the past soccer season, were guests of the Lions Club at the regular dinner meeting held on Thursday night in the Legion Hall. Winners of the second international series, the Scots were presented with a shield.

Among the team members who were present were: Bannerman, Hampton, Mair, J. Dawson, Morrison, Cooper, Wishart, T. Morrison, White, C. Dawson, Rodgers, Brockbank, McAdam, Nes, Paynter, Urquhart, Waddell, E. Dunstan, Paynter, Urquhart, Waddell, E. Dunstan, wood.

The guests were introduced by Pat Larmer, referee, who said that the Dome and McIntyre clubs were making a determined effort to train young boys for future soccer teams. Mr. Larmer thanked the McIntyre club which donated a ball this year for the use of the boys in the Hollinger townsite.

Alex Rose presented the shield to the Scots players and Jock Morrison thanked the club for the shield and for medals which were presented earlier in the year.

Bill King introduced the speaker of the evening, Charlie Yeates, who defended the legal profession from its many critics and outlined the lives and careers of two great barristers, Thomas Erskine and John Philpot Curran.

Plans were discussed for the proposed boys' bands concert to be held on a Sunday evening at the end of the month. Thanks were tendered Leo Mascioli who has arranged to allow the Lions to use the Empire Theatre for the concert.

Bill King, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Dr. Ray Hughes.

Airships Play Part in North Elections

Snowstorms Braved to Bring Election Returns to Cochrane.

In the recent provincial election the airship played an important part, as it does in so many activities in the North. Thursday night the deputy returning officer for Fort Albany in James Bay area, brought in to Cochrane the results of the balloting in his sub-division. This airplane trip proved somewhat exciting, as fog was encountered on James Bay and there were also snowstorms to be passed through. It was necessary at times to fly quite low over the water of James Bay and at one time it is said the airship actually touched the water. But the trip was successfully made and thus there was another instance of the way the air service has speeded up communications in the far North for elections as for other purposes. The air service was also used to send ballot boxes, etc., to outlying areas of the big riding of North Cochrane. Before the use of the airships this communication took several days' time, travel being by canoe and portage. In the election campaign A. V. Waters, the Conservative candidate, made use of the airship service to reach distant places for meetings and canvassing.

Globe and Mail:—While a general use of the franchise is desirable, more ballots in a box than there are voters, as reported from a subdivision of Victoria riding, is overdoing the thing.

Partridge More Plentiful in Town Than in the Woods

The Halleyburian last week had the following to say in reference to partridge this season:—"The partridge this year appear to be more plentiful in town than they are in the woods. This week we have been told of several being seen around local homes, in fact tried to get into a house through a screen door. The owner of the house heard something scratching on his screen and found the bird when he went to investigate. In another place a pair of the birds were seen feeding on a lawn and the observer said they were quite tame. It is believed that the partridge which have been coming into town are of the Hungarian species, a number of which were placed in this district some years ago. They have been protected since that time and are increasing in numbers. There is no open season for either these birds or the native partridge this year, their ranks having been sadly depleted in recent seasons."

Convention Featured by Physical Training Show

Ankerite Pupils Pleasing Teachers' Gathering Here Last Week by Demonstration of P. T. Address by Captain Cummings Touching on the Need for Physical Education in Schools.

An interesting part of the programme arranged for the education and entertainment of the teachers of the Cochrane district who convened here on Thursday and Friday morning of last week, was a physical demonstration of the pupils of Birch street and Schumacher public schools.

The pupils were able to give the demonstration because of the training given them by Sergeant Major John Young, of the regular army who was here for more than a week prior to the demonstration.

Sergeant Major Young was loaned to the Ontario Department of Education by the militia in order to go to schools throughout the province and give physical training and demonstrations. The pupils of Bulfafo-Ankerite school were chosen at random to receive the training in order to show what could be done with the pupils of a rural school.

Arrested on Charge of Raising $6 Cheque to $60

Last week a young man named Gordon Atkinson was arrested at Grimsby, Ont., by the provincial police there, and held for return to Enghart for trial on a charge of altering a cheque. Police say that the young man worked a short time at Enghart last summer and received a cheque for $6 for his labour. It is claimed by the police that the cheque was raised from $6 to $60 and then cashed after which Atkinson left the North. When the alteration of the cheque was discovered effort to locate the man was unsuccessful but the provincial police kept up the search, no doubt on the idea that they have as much right to always "get their man" as the Mounties or anybody else. In any case the arrest was made at Grimsby and the trial will likely take place this week at Enghart.

A complaint that a man had been shot in a blind pig sent police on a midnight raid on Saturday. Stopped at the door by the man of the house who had a revolver in his hand they rushed and disarmed him. The revolver was discharged but no one was hurt.

At about midnight police received a telephone call telling them to come to Leblanc's Garage. Arriving there they met Rudolph Latour who said that his friend, Raymond St. Jean, had been shot in a blind pig.

Sergeant Olson, Constable Culhane and Provincial Constable Strickland found St. Jean at 134 Hollinger Lane. He had a deep wound in his forehead. Dr. McClinton was called and he dressed the wound. He said, however, that it had not been made by a bullet.

The officers and Latour then went to 132 Hollinger Lane, where the alleged blind pig was. The lights were on when they arrived. When Sergeant Olson went to the back door and rapped the lights went out.

At the front door Constables Culhane and Strickland, covered by the latter's blanket warrant to search, demanded admittance. When it was refused they broke down the door.

Mrs. Anne Stacklard, of 134 Hollinger Lane, said no one lived there but her uncle, The uncle, Mr. Sam Lindsay, an aged man, came forward with a revolver in his hand. He warned the officers not to come in the door.

When he refused to put the gun down when ordered, Constables Strickland and Culhane rushed him. In the fracas the revolver was discharged but no one was hit.

In the house officers found a .32 calibre revolver as well as the .38 Lindsay was holding. Both were loaded. A Mrs. Knox, who was in the house, said she had only pointed the revolver at St. Jean when he wanted to take a case of beer out of the house. He had fallen and cut himself but the gun had not been discharged.

More than twenty cases of home-made beer were found in the premises as well as two gallons of wine and a part bottle of brandy.

On Tuesday, in police court, Mrs. Knox appeared on a charge of keeping for sale, Lindsay, an aged and feeble man, appeared on a charge of aggravated assault against two police officers by pointing a gun at them. Both charges were remanded for a week.

Timmins Man has Money Returned to Him at Bay

Reference was made in a recent issue of The Advance to the case of the young man from Timmins who was noticed in North Bay with a roll of bills and taken into charge by the police as he did not seem able to give an account of himself. The young man being deaf and dumb was handicapped in explaining to the police at the Bay, and he was held on a nominal charge of vagrancy. The North Bay Nugget had an editorial objecting to the action of the authorities in the matter, but it seems evident that the police and others at North Bay took the action and attitude they did in what they considered the best interests of the young man in question. The sequel was given in last Friday's issue of The Nugget when it was recorded that when the case came before Magistrate McCurry, he ordered the young man sent home to Timmins by train and his money given back to him in the form of a postal note that he could cash here where he was known. When he was searched at North Bay he had $92.00 in small bills. The night before the police picked him up he had spent at the police station, the police believing that he was unable to pay for a bed or meal on account of lack of funds. Chief Clark of North Bay asked for a week's remand on the vagrancy charge so that he could make enquiries about the young man. At court last week Chief Clark said that he had written Timmins but had received no reply. Magistrate McCurry considered the whole matter with all he could learn in view, and then directed the police to buy the lad a ticket back to Timmins, giving him the balance of his money in postal note form payable at Timmins.

Huntingdon Gleaner:—When a vacancy occurred on a rural mail route out of Holmquist, S.D., Thomas Cohn received the appointment as carrier. Patrons along the route were so dissatisfied because the new carrier was an outsider that 50 of them took down their mail boxes in protest. That left only 18 and since this is not sufficient to maintain a route, mail service has been discontinued. It is the mail patrons' next move.

Windsor Daily Star:—Take almost any Communist you can think of, fill his pockets with gold and put him on Easy Street for life—how long, we ask, would he continue to be a Communist? About five minutes at the most. Communism is merely a polite, social-sounding way of saying that you are jealous of the other fellow's possessions and would like to get them away from him.

Abolition of Entrance Examinations Forecast

In Address to Teachers' Convention Here, Toronto Educator Says that Secondary School System Must Adapt Itself to the Pupil. System of Marking Papers Assailed by Educator.

The modification or abolition of entrance examinations was seen by Mr. Thornton Mustard, M.A., B.Paed., of Toronto Normal School, speaking on Friday morning at the convention of primary school teachers of the district of North Temiskaming and Cochrane. Mr. Mustard's address was the final high spot of the day-and-a-half convention.

The system of marking papers was assailed by Mr. Mustard, who said that the marks received by the pupil, under the present system, depended entirely on the caprice of the teacher who sets the examinations.

Mr. Mustard believed that the competitive angle should be removed from school work. He cited instances where parents would exhort their children to do better in order to receive higher marks than a neighbour's child, or would be content with marks so long as they were higher than those received by particular other pupils in the class.

Printed reports were condemned by Mr. Mustard who believed that teachers should make it a practice to write personal notes to the parents of pupils periodically rather than send home a printed report.

The use of personal notes, in which the pupil was frankly and confidentially discussed might win parents to a more intelligent interest in their student children.

Referring to his forecast regarding the modification or abolition of entrance examinations Mr. Mustard said that it was time that secondary school teachers were prevented from hand picking their pupils via the entrance examination method. The secondary school system should adjust itself to meet the needs of the mass of children rather than the few. The same philosophy that was modifying the primary school system should be applied with secondary schools.

Mr. Mustard advised the teachers in the audience to give their pupils more liberty. Often, he said, he would go into a classroom where groups were working in different sections of the room silently. The room had the general cheerful atmosphere of a morgue.

Children could work busily and not make too much noise but their methods of expression should not be completely stifled.

Wedding Monday at United Church Manse

Miss Grace Belle Sinclair and Albert James Sinclair United in Marriage.

A quiet wedding took place in the manse of the United Church on Monday at 7 p.m. when Rev. W. M. Mustard united in marriage Grace Belle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. MacLean Sinclair, and Mr. Albert James Sinclair, son of Mrs. A. Cameron, of Nova Scotia, and the late Mr. Sinclair.

The groom was supported by Mr. Jack Dewar, acting as best man.

Brockville Recorder and Times:—It is only a step from Aberhart's proposed control of the newspapers of Alberta to the European dictators' absolute domination of the press of their countries with seizure of foreign publication presumed to be unfriendly.
