In the Kirkland Lake camp, several properties have materially added to the equipment, thereby increasing the demand for power in that area. These include the Wright-Hargreaves, Sylvanite, Macassa and Morris Kirkland mines.

Extension of operations is also quite marked in the district surrounding Noranda and Rouyn, where a new and more direct feeder has been constructed to serve the property of Aldermac Copper Corporation, Limited, which has recently increased its capacity and power load. Other properties in the vicinity which are enlarging the scope of their operations are Powell-Rouyn Gold Mines, Limited, and Waite Amulet Mines, Limited.

In the Cadillac area a contract for the supply of power to the property of the Pandora Cadillac Gold Mines, Limited was entered into early in July, and a short feeder to serve that property has been built. A branch transmission line five and one-half miles long has also been built to supply the property of Quebec Manitou Mines.

We are also gratified to report that domestic and commercial consumption of power is continuing to increase as indicated by record activity in the Merchandise Department, sales of electrical appliances having been 34% higher than in the corresponding period last year.

Sudbury Star:—More than 1000 British troops marched around the old city of Jerusalem on Monday, and though the walls did not fall down, the demonstration was impressive enough to instill fear into the hearts of the Arab terrorists and restore order in the holy city.

TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

Ten years ago on a Sunday afternoon the corner stone of the fine new addition of the Sisters of Providence hospital at Timmins was duly laid by His Lordship Right Reverend Bishop Louis Rheame. Despite the cold, damp weather, a large concourse of people gathered at the hospital for the ceremony. A platform had been erected in front of the building and both this and the building were decorated with British and other flags, and with the flag of the Sacred Heart. The corner stone was filled with coins, medals; pictures of the Premier of Canada, the Prime Minister of Ontario, Bishop Rheame, and other notables; a copy of The Porcupine Advance; a historical review of the hospital and the town; and other interesting documents and souvenirs.

A couple of sneak thieves made a nice haul ten years ago from the residence of Rev. Fr. Therriault. The sum of about $450.00 was stolen from the house, a pair of Rev. Fr. Therriault's trousers being taken away by the thieves.

Bennett was elected ten years ago as permanent leader of the Liberal-Conservative party in the Dominion of Canada on the second ballot, after leading from the start. Hon. R. B. Bannino property, corner of Pine street and First avenue, the land being assessed at $22,000.00, and buildings at $14,200.00, a total of $36,200.00. Both assessments were sustained.

Ten years ago The Advance carried the following note: "Fire Chief Borland this week passed on to the schools here a large quantity of literature relative to fire prevention. The material was used in connection with Fire Prevention Week observed all over Canada this week. The youngsters showed much interest in the literature and instruction given them by the teachers in the matters. The good influence of this teaching of the youngsters, the necessity for care and attention to prevent fires and thus save loss of property and menace to life, can not be easily overestimated. Also, as a feature of the Fire Prevention Week, Chief Borland last night gave an address to the Boy Scouts on the work that they must do in reference to preventing fires. He also mentioned to them that one of the good ideas that they might do would be to see to it as far as possible that no false alarms were turned in, but that all should co-operate with the authorities in the battle against unnecessary fires. The Fire Chief also interested the boys with his demonstration of fire-fighting appliances and equipment."

Ten years ago Mr. F. C. H. Simms picked a small box of delicious strawberries in his garden, corner of Second avenue and Maple street, south, on October 6th. The berries were of good size and the finest flavour, and in quality and maturity were well up to the average. They were remarkable for a second crop, and still more so for berries picked on October 6th, despite the wet and cold weather that had visited the district.

Mr. P. M. Bardesson got the surprise of his life on Sunday, October 9th, 1927, just as he came out from lunch. There was an airship in the sky and it was flying low. As if the pilot saw him and wished to signal him, the airship seemed to skim lower and there was someone waving to him from the airplane. So, naturally, Pete waved back. Then the airship made another dip downwards and something was thrown from the airship apparently with the intention of reaching him. The package from the airship struck the ground near where he was standing, and of course, it was promptly picked up. The package contained the key belonging to one of the rooms of the Empire Hotel, Timmins, Cpts. C. P. Cardwell and J. S. Allen, stationed at Moonbeam, had been visitors to the Empire hotel and had forgotten to return their key when leaving.

A very pretty wedding took place at South Porcupine ten years ago on October 12th, when Miss May Angrignon, second daughter of Mrs. J. V. At Cochrane ten years ago the Grand Jury in making its presentation to Mr. Justice Fisher who presided at the assizes recommended very strongly the building of a district jail at Cochrane. The recommendation of the jury followed a discussion of the procedure of taking prisoners to Haileybury jail to be held until the next court, and the consequent expense and inconvenience entailed by the transfer to and from Haileybury of such prisoners.

In the South Porcupine news ten years ago:—"There seems to be a real sling-shot epidemic around town among the boys, and considerable injury has been done. We understand the police may take a hand in this game if it is not dropped, and there is danger of both boy and sling-shot being confiscated when he is found using one where he has not been given the proper permission to do so."

Air Mail Speeds Intra-Empire Trade

Business links that bind the British Empire closer together are air mail letters which speed back and forth between Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., Windsor, Ontario, and its subsidiary companies and dealer points in far countries of the Empire. Pictured above are air letters recently received at Ford of Canada from Africa, Singapore, Australia and China. Inset is the "Cambria", giant British trans-Atlantic plane, anchored on the Detroit River not far from the Canadian Ford plant. As yet such mail crosses the Atlantic by boat having been flown to England. By 1938 ships much larger than the "Cambria" will establish regular schedules between England and Canada. Letters will go from Windsor to Montreal by smaller planes to be transferred to the trans-Atlantic planes. Less than two years ago Ford of Canada used air mail only occasionally but now all important letters go by air. Usual postage is from 12 to 15 cents per letter. Parcels with up to $40 in postage have been sent by air to Australia by Ford of Canada. The new service will save an additional three or four days on mail deliveries which are already 10 to 20 days faster than regular mail from the farthest Empire countries. Australia, South Africa, India and other British countries provide the great export market for Ford of Canada, absorbing thousands of Canadian Ford V-8's annually, and returning millions of dollars to be spent in Canada for labor, materials and services.
