New Town Hall Frontal Stone Laid Yesterday

Only Few Turn Out for Official Ceremony. Slab Goes Easily Into Place and is Sealed There. Mayor Receives Silver Trowel. All Town Office Staff Present.

The frontal stone of the new Timmins Municipal Building was officially laid yesterday afternoon by Mayor Bartleman. The large artificial granite slab bearing the crossed hammers and gold nugget of the town crest embossed on its surface went smoothly into place and was sealed there with cement.

The ceremony was brief. Only a few interested people, aside from the staff which will occupy the building, turned out in the snow to watch. The mayor merely laid the stone, made a short address, was presented with an engraved silver trowel and he and the members of council and others who climbed the gang plank leading to the scaffolding posed for an unofficial picture.

"It is an auspicious occasion," said the mayor. "This town hall will not only be considered a necessity from the standpoint of usefulness but also a monument to the prosperity and growth of the town."

The town hall, at one time, said the mayor, was a one roomed, wooden building, located where Kresge's store now stands. Then it was moved to Fourth avenue, to a spot almost across the street from where the new building now stands.

From there it was moved to the old town hall which stood on the site occupied by the new structure. The old town hall was overcrowded. It was inadequate for the staff and was a menace to the health of its occupants.

More room was necessary so in 1935 the ratepayers, by a vote, consented to the building of a new one. However, it was not until this year that the Municipal Board sanctioned the construction.

The new building would be a monument to its designer, the architect, Mr. O'Gorman, and to the town. It would be a boon to the staffs of town departments and would add to the efficiency and general economy of conducting the town's business, said the mayor.

In the wall just at the rear of the frontal stone was placed a copper coin containing coins, newspapers, and pamphlets outlining the growth of the town up to this year.

Councillor Laporte made the presentation of the silver trowel to the mayor. It was suitably engraved with the date of the laying of the stone.

Expect to Skate on New Rink by End of January

New Rink to be of Modern, Steel Construction. Will be Adapted to Receive Artificial Ice Equipment Another Year. Work to be Started Immediately.

The McIntyre Mine has definitely decided to build a modern rink at Schumacher and work will be begun on it within a week. Word from an authoritative source to that effect was received this morning by The Advance.

The rink will be ready for skating by the last week in January, it is estimated. It will be modernly constructed of steel, and will be built so that artificial ice equipment can be installed. Natural ice will be used this year however.

Location of the new arena will be on the north side of the tracks near the Schumacher station.

The construction of the new rink will be a boon to hockey clubs in the district. Even though it may not be ready for hockey before the end of January it will relieve a tangled situation caused by lack of ice space for Mine League games. Its benefits will be more appreciated next year, when there is a strong possibility that many of the mines in the camp will be entering senior teams in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association.

In Two Car Accidents Boy Decides He'll Run

Little Fellow Struck by Car was Being Taken to Hospital when Car Driver is Involved in Another Mishap. Lad Jumps from Car and Runs.

Two accidents occurred yesterday afternoon on Fourth avenue within two or three minutes. The same car was involved in both. And the same small boy!

Gilbert Bois was driving east on Fourth avenue when a small boy darted out on the road in front of his car and was struck. Bois stopped, picked up the lad and without stopping to examine him, put him in the car and started for the hospital.

He is said to have turned too short on the wrong side of the silent policeman at the corner of Fourth avenue and Pine street and crashed into another automobile, driven by Douglas Ogilvie.

The little boy, who was later found to be John Ryan, aged 9, had apparently had his fill of accidents. He did not stop to reason why or wherefore when the two cars came to a standstill but opened the door and took to his heels.

Both cars were damaged by the accident, but not seriously. In the second accident no one was hurt. When the boy was located he was found to have a sore arm but was not otherwise injured.

Bois will be charged with reckless driving.

Police Nab Men from Camp by Connaught

Charges of Theft and Illegally Having Liquor Against Men on Way South.

Halleybury, Nov. 4. (Special to The Advance).—The trip from a bush camp near Connaught to Norwood was interrupted here for six men when police, acting on a complaint from an official of the McNamara Construction Company, who had followed the party into New Liskeard and alleged they had taken two warning flares from the road operations being carried on north of the latter town. Fred Mullins, in charge of the group, subsequently paid a fine of $25 and costs on a charge of illegal consumption of liquor, and on the allegation of theft was allowed to go on posting bond of $200 to keep the peace for two years.

According to police, the six men were going home to Norwood in a truck they had used during bush operations in the Porcupine district last summer, and in which they had intended taking south a team of horses. They were stopped here by Provincial Constable Louis Neidham, who put them in the cells overnight, bringing them before the bench the next morning, when Magistrate Atkinson imposed a fine in the liquor charge, on which Mullins assumed full responsibility.

May Expect Below Zero Weather End November

Will be Cold During November Says Weatherman. Warns to Get Storm Windows on Before This Week-end and Generally Prepare Homes for the Winter.

Below zero weather may be expected during this month, said Sidney C. Wheeler, Hollinger weather observer, today, in his summary of October weather and prediction for November. "During the month we may expect some very cold weather and during the end of the month the temperature, at times, may go below zero," reads the report.

Storm windows, if not already put on, should be fixed in place not later than this week-end and general preparations made for the winter.

The past month was described as "very changeable, alternately warm and cold, mostly stormy and generally dull and cloudy."

There were nine days in October with the skies totally overcast, nine days with less than three hours of sunshine each and only three days with the skies clear and sun shining. Total sunshine was only 107 hours with an average of approximately three and a half hours a day. That was well below what was expected.

Highest temperature recorded during the month was on the fourth when the maximum was 78 degrees. On that day there was a minimum of 38 degrees. Mean temperature on that warmest day of the month was 58 degrees.

Lowest reading on the maximum thermometer came on the twenty-third with a temperature of 28 degrees. There were two days only when the maximum was below freezing, the twenty-third and twenty-fourth. The mean maximum temperature over the month was 43 degrees which was a little lower than the average.

Lowest minimum temperature over the month was on the thirteenth with a reading of 20 degrees. That day and the twenty-fourth were the coldest days of the month, both with mean temperatures for the day of 25 degrees.

The mean minimum temperature over the month was 31½ degrees, lower than average.

The mean temperature over the month was thirty-seven and a third degrees, which was slightly less than average and a little colder than what might have been expected.

Rain occurred on fourteen days of the month, with a total precipitation of two inches. Heaviest rainfall was on the fifth of the month when 58 inches fell. On the seventeenth 65 inches fell and on the other days only showers and light rain fell.

Snowfall occurred on nine days during the month with a total of thirteen and a half inches. Heaviest snowfall was the week-end of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth with 11 to 12 inches.

Total precipitation of water over the month was three and a half inches. Although above normal that figure is not exceptional for October.
