

PERMITS TO BE SECURED WHEN TENANTS MOVE

Tenants Must Register All Changes of Address

Council Makes Transport Firms Responsible for Securing Permit to Move Household Effects, so That Names of Tenants will be Available for Inclusion on Voters' List. Recommend Change in Hours of Voting.

Designed for the purpose of making certain that the names of tenants throughout the town will appear on the assessment roll from which municipal voters' lists are compiled, a resolution was unanimously passed at the regular meeting of Council Wednesday afternoon whereby all persons moving from one part of the town to another must first secure a permit from the town offices. The onus shall be on the transport firm doing the moving to see that the permit is obtained. In this way many names of tenants that are annually omitted from the voters lists will be included.

Mayor Bartleman in discussing the question, wished that it be understood that the new regulation, which may take the form of a registration rather than a permit, is designed not as a hardship but as a means of making sure that the names of all those entitled to vote will appear on the voters' list.

Coincident with the above resolution was a second motion which requested that the incoming council for 1938 pass a by-law amending the present hours of voting on election day to ten evening. This year the polls were open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The mayor felt that from 9 to 10 a.m. few votes are recorded while many persons are unable to vote if the polls are not open until 6 p.m.

Pay Salaries Early
A resolution was passed empowering the town treasurer to pay the volunteer firemen and all town employees their salaries in full to the end of the year on December 20.

Indigent Patients
The town clerk was authorized to get in touch with Hollinger Mine officials with regard to three of their former employees who are confined to hospital as indigent patients. A letter was read from the Sisters of Providence, in which hospital the men are confined, asking that they be transferred to other institutions.

Risk Insurance
A letter was received from Sullivan & Newton, local insurance brokers, giving rates for liability insurance for municipal skating rinks. They quoted a figure of $5 per rink with a minimum premium of $25. The amount of the coverage would be $5,000 for any one person or $10,000 for any one accident. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Express Service
The Superintendents of both the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Express companies advised council that they would consider as soon as possible the extension of their delivery service to new parts of the town annexed recently.

Accident Case
Mrs. Nancy Reault, who alleges to have broken several bones in a fall on an unguarded street, communicated with council through her solicitor, S. C. Platus, asking what action had been taken to reimburse her for damages. The mayor reported that the matter had been placed in the hands of the insurance company.

Two Absentees
Only the mayor and four of the six members of council were present at the meeting, the absentees being J. Emile Brunette, and A. DesRoches.

Halleybury, Dec. 9. (Special to The Advance.)—Brought back from Noranda under the name of H. O'Neill, an accused man who was compelled to spend one night marooned on the main road with his police escort when one of two cars conveying the party plunged down a steep bank in a snowstorm.

was recognised on arrival at district headquarters of the provincial police force here yesterday as Donald Last, said by authorities to be wanted on charges of theft and forgery. A third constable made the identification as his colleagues and their prisoner walked in just before noon. The trio were compelled to wait for hours in the Earlton district after the machine rolled down 20 feet when it left the highway.

The car, a coupe, allegedly had been obtained by Last from Binkley Motors, of New Liskeard, payment having been made, police said they had been informed with a cheque for $200 which was returned. Complaints by the vendors followed and O'Neill, as the firm knew him, and the coupe were found in Noranda. Constables Arthur Souliere and Louis Needham went there to bring both back to Ontario, making the trip by way of Kirkland Lake. Finally returning to Halleybury after having been absent nearly 27 hours, the officers brought "O'Neill" in to headquarters, their prisoner being promptly greeted by Constable Stewart Young with "Hello, Donald," and identified then as Last.

Teaching Finnish At South Porcupine

Some English Study Finnish Language at the Finnish United Church

The classes in English for Finnish-speaking people inaugurated by Rev. Mr. Heinonen, of the Finnish United Church at Timmins and South Porcupine, have become noted because of their outstanding value to Canadian citizenship in the better understanding of new Canadians and their English-speaking brethren. Rev. Mr. Heinonen has made a notable success of these classes in the English language for Finnish-speaking people. Now, he has gone one better—he has started classes in Finnish for English-speaking people. The classes are attended chiefly by English-speaking leaders in the church who wish to get in closer touch with the Finnish-speaking people and also to extend their own culture. They are showing great interest in the course of study mapped out by Rev. Mr. Heinonen, and find much pleasure in the acquisition of the new language. Rev. Mr. Heinonen admits that the classes in the Finnish language will never be as large as the present classes in English for Finnish people, but he is proud to be able to have both classes making such satisfactory progress.

Plan By-Law To Prohibit Newsboys Under 14 Years

Chief of Police Gagnon Describes Present System of Street Corner Sales as Breeding Ground for Juvenile Delinquency. To Confer With Crown Attorney Caldwell on New Regulations

With the preliminary groundwork being partially complete, Chief of Police Leo H. Gagnon is preparing a by-law to govern the sales of newspapers by newsboys in Timmins. Chief Gagnon will shortly confer with Crown Attorney S. A. Caldwell and the first draft of the proposed by-law will be presented to the Police Commission at an early date.

Chief Gagnon strongly recommends that no boy under the age of fourteen years be allowed to sell papers on the streets. This, the chief points out, is a well considered opinion and is the result of a close study of conditions as they now exist. Continuous complaints have been received that young boys from eight to ten years of age have been making a practice of going into hotel beverage rooms and annoying customers in restaurants in quest of sales. "The whole system as it now obtains is a breeding ground for juvenile court records will show," said the chief. "The police commission are in favour of this by-law and I intend to have it prepared at once," he said.

That the "gangster" type of boy is not unknown is clearly evidenced by young lads who have on several occasions complained to the police that bigger and stronger newsboys have forcibly taken their papers and money from them. This condition more than anything else has determined Chief Gagnon to take regulatory action.

It has also been noted by police that small boys are observed wandering the streets late at night vainly trying to complete sales of papers they were unable to peddle earlier in the evening. This practice which is in direct contravention to the eight o'clock curfew ruling is to be stopped at once.

When the by-law is finally passed all constables on the force will be given instructions to see that its provisions are rigidly enforced.
