in one another's road, lots of sco.ing off free. chances were smeared into obscurity by tinually, left wing became right wing Grandbois for no apparent reason, while the centre men, with a roving commission, might be found anywhere-behind the eight ball most of the time.

The game provided plenty of excitement and was wide open all the way but the brand of hockey certainly was not N.H.L. in calibre. McNulty, of Coniaurum, who alternated between a defence and centre position, was the best man on the ice and was the spark plug of the final drive in the last period that gave Conjaurum the game, the winners scoring six goals in succession after Hollinger had gone into the lead by one goal almost as the period opened.

In the first chapter, Coniaurum emerged with a one-goal lead, the score standing at 3-2. For the Flyers, Kerr, McNulty and Birkett bulged the twine with Plioplis and Chapman scoring for Hollinger. Proceedings were livened a bit in the early part of the period when Symons, of Hollinger, and Dundas, of Conjaurum, had a short but tempestuous flare-up. Both were given two-minute penalties.

Hollinger held a slight edge in the second period and outscored the Flyers 3-2 to tie the count at 5-all. Coniaurum, with Neddow taking a smart pass from Young, increased their lead in the first two minutes of play but Hollinger retaliated with two goals to tie the score, Booth and Auger being the markshmen. McNulty put the Flyers on top once more on a play with Birkett but Richard, of Hollinger, went through the whole Confaurum team alone to score the most spectacular goal of the night and again knot the count
