Potato the Cinderella of Vegetable Kingdom

Description Given by Culinary Expert, who Advises the Trying of Variations in the Various Processes of Cooking, Boiling, Baking, or Frying of the "National Flower" of Ireland.

The potato may justly be called the to dish almost every day of the year. Cinderella of the vegetable kindom. We could not get on without it, but we usually take it for granted. We recognize its homely virtues but too often forget how well it responds to careful treatment.

(By Edith M. Barber)

While the potato is usually considered to have a bland flavour, proper cooking brings out subleties. What is better than a hot mealy baked potato? And what is worse than a luke-warm potato? For good results, use a hot oven for fifteen minutes, a moderate temperature for the remainder of the time and as soon as it comes out of Miss Edna Salt and Mr. the oven, break it open. "Silence is the first point in the treatment of laryngitis. The patient should write out questions and answers. Inhaling steam from boiling water containing few drops of a saturated solution of camphor and menthol will relieve soreness. Freshly ground horse-radish, taken liberally on buttered bread will clear out the sinuses (and thus prevent re-infection of the larynx) better than any known substance taken by mouth."

I have spoken before of the friar's balsam (tincture of benzoin compound) for relieving the soreness of the throat and vocal cords. A teaspoonful is put in the bottom of a jug or other vessel, and a quart of boiling water poured over it. The patient puts a large towel over his head and the jug and inhales the steam.

Remember, then, that silence-not using the voice at all-is the first or main point in the treatment of laryngitis. Drs. Chevalier state that the eating daily of four tomatoes, one lime or lemon, and a head of lettuce will prevent laryngitis.

Little Six-year-old Anson-

Scalding Water the Cause of Boy's Death

Iroquois Falls, Ont., Janu. 28 (-Special to The Advance)-Little six-yearold Marcel Harvey Marman, bright eyed, javial and happy little youngster, died in the Anson General hospital yesterday, at 10 a.m., the results of cures received on Friday.

Harvey's mother, Mrs. Irene Marman, was doing her washing at the time, at her home, 64 Main street, Ansonville, and while taking a pail of scalding water from the stove to the nearby washing machine, Harvey, who was accustomed to run and tell his mother little stories, came running out of an adjoining room, to colide with the pail held in her hands. The little lad's story was never told, for the impact of the rush caused the boiling water to spill all over his back, burning it from the neck to the hips.

Dr. Boutin, Ansonville physician, was summoned, and on his arrival, the boy was immediately rushed to the operating room of the local hospital. The doctors proceeded to operate on his back in an endeavour to save his ife, and hopes were held for his recovery, after the boy came to. On Sunday, it was found that infection had set in, which later caused his death The boy suffered greatly from the agony of the burns, but all through the ordeal of the necessary treatments, Harvey stood it bravely.

Little Harvey was not yet of school age, but if he had lived, he would have started in 1938, at the Ansonville Separate School. He will be greatly missed by his brother and sister, who survive him.

On Tuesday, he was taken to the funeral parlours of R. W. Smith, where Rev. P. Pellitier, of the St. Anne's Rectory, held services for the little lad, would find a big food cache laid in the (Copyright 1937, by The Bell Syndi- and taken from his home he was buried in the Iroquois Falls cemetery this afternoon.

One device adopted-and it proved to be a risky one-was to put in "caches of food well ahead of the line of advance. These depots would be established in the summer months by water routes and the theory was that the survey parties would reach them just about the time that they would be out of food. It was a fine theory but sometimes it did not work out. For one thing, nobody knew what the surveyors were going to run up against in the way of rough or drowned country in between "caches".
