Iroquois Falls Cubs Defeat Timmins Canadiens 10 to 4

Game Interesting, Although a Little One-Sided. Iroquois Falls Cubs Have Not Lost a Single Game This Season Highlights of Friday Night's Game in the Junior "B" Series

Iroquois Falls, Ont., January 21, 1938. (Special to The Advance)—In a rather one-sided game between the Timmins Canadiens and the Iroquois Falls Cubs here to-night, the Cubs took the Canadiens to town with a score of 10 to 4, being part of the Junior "B" series.

Before the game started, the Canadiens team was slightly discouraged in that they have not won a series game this year, but they were game sports and put heart and soul into the tussle. Their regular goalie, Larcher, was indisposed in the first period, but played for his team in the second and third periods, trying hard, but unable to stop many goals that were netted.

Both teams fairly well matched, with the Cubs a little more experienced. The Cubs, with their usual excellent well-timed passing, made it hard for the opposing team, and with Dawson in complete run away plays, did not help the matter any. His brilliant hockey was accorded by the spectators, and he should go far in hockey.

The first period started out, both teams trying, Canadiens missing many passes and good breaks. After five minutes of play, Dawson slipped it past Lemieux, sub goal, first period for the Canadiens, to make a first count. With the Cubs hounding the Canadiens, the game was worrisome for them, and Ronholm passing to Lavallee, made a second count for the Cubs at 11 minutes of play. At changing players, McGrath came down with the other two forwards, and in a scramble when the goalie shot it clear, McGrath took the rebound and slipped it past to make three, at thirteen minutes play. D. Martin was trying hard, and was playing a very good game, with his colleagues. Dawson, picking up a loose puck, went up on one of his whirlwind plays, with Smith, and their neat passing baffled the Canadian defence, Smith taking a lovely pass from Dawson, netting it to make a fourth count in the first period.

In the second period, Larcher replaced Lemieux in the goal. The first part of the second period found the Cubs still chasing the puck up around the Canadian net, and they kept Larcher busy. J. Omara, with his fast skating and timely passing, made the first count in this period, at five minutes of play. Jimmy Omara again went up with Ronholm, and eked her past Larcher to score again at seven minutes. With the Cubs up around the Canadian net, Danny Omara, defence, slipped it in again at nine minutes play for the third count in this period. Defence for the Canadiens strengthened, and in a stick tussle, J. Omara and Cardinal were both put off together for penalties. McMillan, getting away from the Cubs, made a lone run, to score the first goal for Canadiens, when he put a fast shot past Wait, at 12 minutes. Dawson made the fourth count in this period when on a lone run hep laced it in the twine of the Canadiens. This first goal for the Canadiens gave them courage, and play livened up considerably. Porter was given a penalty in this period for tripping Martin.

The third period found Jimmy Clarke in goal for the Cubs, and Larcher in for the Canadiens. This change of goalie gave the Canadiens more heart and their plays were continuous. Poirier placed it past Clarke in the first minute, making the first count for this period. The Canadiens played a more aggressive game, but failing to pick up many loose passes before the Cubs had caught up, were unable to use them. Smith scored for Cubs at three minutes, taking the puck from a scramble to put it past Larcher. Charron then went up with Morin and McMillan, and Charron taking a lovely pass from Morin, slipped it into the Cubs' net for a second count. Lavallee was given a penalty for bumping. The Cubs tried out a passing stunt in this period, when four players, one in each corner, passed and re-passed, but missed a score. McMillan and Martin broke away, and Martin scored with an assist from McMillan at 10 minutes' play. Smith made the second count for the Cubs in this period when he scored with an assist again from Dawson. The passing between these boys was remarkable, being the result of practiced teamwork. Morin was given a penalty for tripping in the latter part of this period. The game ended with a score in favour of the Cubs, these lads winning their fourth consecutive game in the N.O.H.A. series. To date the Cubs have not lost any games in the series.

Line-up for the teams are: Canadiens: Goalie, Larcher; sub goal, Lemieux; defence, Grandbois, Morin and Cardinal; forwards, McMillan, Poirier, W. Martin, B. Martin, Richier, Charron and Savard. Coach for the Canadiens, Maurice Lauzon; manager, Father Theriault.

Cubs team: Goal, L. Watt; sub goal, Jimmy Clarke; defence, Dawson, Porter, D. Omara; forwards, Jimmy Omara, L. Lavallee, A. Ronholm, Bob Miller, A. McGrath and A. Smith. Coach for the Cubs, T. Cybulsky; manager, F. Miller; trainer, L. Lepage; mascot, G. Ronholm. Referee for this game was Joe Chircoski, Iroquois Falls.

A BALL TEAM HERE IN EARLY DAYS. The year 1912 may seem a long way off in this young country but the Porcupine had a snappy baseball team in that year. Here is the team—the South Porcupine team of that year. This is the first of a series of pictures of early days to be published in The Advance. Many will recognize old friends in the picture. Only one of the group has been called "out" in the game of life. Reading from left to right those in the picture are: J. M. McGill, manager, now resident in Hamilton; Geo. Quinn, now in Toronto; Joe Jackson, now manager of the Timmins Office of Loderhery Roadhouse; Dan McDonald, now in Windsor; Jack Bowles, who came from Arnprior but whose present address is not known; Barney Quinn, now in Toronto; Homer L. Gibson, now resident in California; Geo. Lake, Timmins; Lester Brown, who came from Owen Sound, but who since has passed away; Joe McDermott, now in Toronto; and A. C. Brown, president of the club, who for many years has been a resident of Timmins, and one of the leading baristas of the North.

Scouts and Guides Enjoy Happy Sleighing Party

A novel event took place on Saturday evening when the 6th and 7th Scout Troops of Timmins invited the 51st I.O.D.E. Girl Guide Co. for a sleigh ride party. After the ride there were games and refreshments in the Hollinger hall. The Guides and Scouts wish to thank all those who helped to make the evening a success.

Double-Header Basketball Here on Saturday Evening

Timmins Town Wins from Timmins High School and Kirkland Lake High School Girls Win from Timmins High School Girls. Kirkland Lake Also Won from Schumacher on Friday.

The High School gym was packed to capacity on Saturday night last to witness a double-header in basketball—the High School vs Timmins Town, and Kirkland Lake High Girls vs Timmins High School Girls.

The first game got under way about eight o'clock, and it was the queerest and roughest game played this season. Timmins High were two points up at the end of the game, but in some way, the official scorer missed two points, due no doubt to a quick play in the last quarter. Linder took a pass from Hornby and put it in the basket. The Town scooped up the ball; Millette got the long pass and put it in the basket. Millette was credited, while Linder's basket was not recorded. The play was so quick that the scorer must have overlooked the first basket.

The High School were robbed of another couple of points, when Empire Rollock ruled that the ball on another occasion hit the ceiling before going into the basket. It was impossible for the ball to go into the basket if it had hit the ceiling, for from the position that Bernard tossed it, the ball would have come back onto the floor had it hit the ceiling.

The referee and umpire allowed a basket to be scored by Roumaldi while he was off the floor, and while the boys from the High were inactive, expecting the whistle to blow. Millette made a basket. With thirty-seconds remaining a foul was awarded the Town and the basket was made to tie up the score.

In the overtime the school were quick in forging ahead but the Town were just as quick in the dying minutes to score baskets to win the game. Both teams were off on free tosses; out of thirty-seven, only eighteen were made.

W. Wylie, referee; S. Pollock, umpire. The official score:

In the girls' game, Kirkland Lake were successful in winning their second game of the trip, by defeating the Timmins High School girls 15-8. Both teams played good passing game, but appeared rather slow after watching the previous game.

The Lake girls were more successful in making baskets, but on the play, there was little to choose between the two teams, with the exception of Betty Donard who was outstanding when it came to putting the ball through the hoop.

At Schumacher Friday night the Lake girls won from the High School girls by a score of 19-7.

Boxing
You can argue, and call last Friday's scrap between Farr and Braddock how you like. Braddock won when the referee gave his decision after the other two scorers broke even, and even is a fair tally, but the Irishman, now an American, was on his feet and therefore got the fight.

No doubt the referee took Farr's low blows into account when he made his decision. Braddock's words through the mike about Farr about describes the fight. The next work-out fight will be Schmeling and Foudt at Hamburg, Germany, on Sunday next.

Basketball
The game between Timmins Town and Timmins High was fast, and if would be a good idea to have two scorers, for one man cannot handle so fast a game as the one last Saturday. The High School lost the game in the overtime, which should never have been played, for the school were two points up at the end of the full time. The basket not on the score sheet, is no doubt the one scored by Linder. The ball was caught as it came through the hoop, and went straight up the floor, and a basket was made. The two baskets came so quickly that the first must have been missed when the baskets were totalled.

Pollock robbed the school of another basket, when he ruled Bernard's beautiful long shot hit the ceiling. Had the ball hit the ceiling, it would have hit a girder and bounced back down the room.

All the writing won't alter things, but it would be as well to get two scorers. Another way out, would be for the officials to raise an arm when a basket has been scored in case the scorer didn't see it.

Hockey
There have been several phone calls in the past two weeks asking if Halleybury or Cobalt had a team in the quest of the Stanley Cup, and if so what year. Last Friday came a call asking the same question. The answer is both towns had teams and the year was 1909-1910. In the same year the Renfrew Millionaires made their debut. Montreal Wanderers won the cup that year, and strange as it may seem, Halleybury was very much in the limelight, for they were the only team to beat the Wanderers. The score was 4-2 at Halleybury. The Millionaires were the next victims. This match was more like a roped-off platform than hockey and only a couple of players of the Millionaires left off the injured list. This incidently cost the Renfrew team the cup for they were tied up with Wanderers, but the latter beat them

New Liskeard Editor for Better Watch Out for Joe!
The editor and staff of The New Liskeard Speaker had better watch out for Joe McGrath for the next few days! Fancy saying that an "eight-ender" "just seems to happen"!!! Well here is what The Speaker on its front page last week says, in full—"It doesn't happen very often, and when it does it comes in rather a simple manner, something like the "hole in one" we hear the golfers talk about. We are referring to the perfect end, or, in other words, an "eight-ender." To the uninitiated we might say that an eight-ender is when one curling rink places its entire eight curling stones in the circles without the opposition having one nearer to the tee. The latest incident of this kind happened in the Timmins rink last week when Sid McCoy's quartette secured an eight-ender from the Pickering rink. We won't give the personnel of the latter because some of the boys might think we were trying to "rub it in", which we are not. Those eight-enders just seem to happen."

Dean Kester, K.C., Supports Suggestions With Regard to Local Mines League

Requested by The Advance to make a comment on the sports article appearing on this page with reference to exhibition games in the Mines Hockey League, Dean Kester, K.C., vice-president of the N.O.H.A., expresses his opinion in the matter. The Advance quotes Mr. Kester verbatim as follows:

"The executive officers of the Porcupine Mines League and the officers of the various hockey clubs in the Porcupine Camp and the players have all done their utmost to provide the public with good hockey this season.

"There is, however, such a thing as too much hockey, particularly if games are played between teams of vastly different calibre.

"Strictly League games where leadership of, or standing in the league is at stake will draw good crowds, but the public cannot be expected to attend exhibition games between teams of different N.O.H.A. classification when the officials and players look upon the games as merely workouts or practices.

"For the sake of hockey and all those connected with it it might be advisable for executive officials to canvass the situation thoroughly and to take whatever steps are in the best interest of the game. The dropping off of the attendance at exhibition games and the excellent patronage given scheduled League games apparently indicates that 'exhibition' games are not in favor with the public.

"While I do not wish to interfere in any way with the arrangement of games between clubs, nevertheless as one interested in hockey I feel that steps should be taken to keep up the public interest. The dropping of exhibition games and the playing of juniors with juniors, seniors with seniors and Mines League teams playing only in their own league would, I am sure, be a step in the right direction."
