Unemployed Registered Here in Excess of 800

Little Chance of Outsiders Getting Employment in Timmins Area, Says D. J. Murphy, Local Government Employment Supervisor. Little Change Expected Until Spring Work Commences.

Despite the fact that about fifty men have been placed in more or less temporary employment during the past week, records at the local Government Employment Office show that a total of 836 men and women are still on the rolls as unemployed.

Delbert J. Murphy, employment supervisor, in an interview with The Advance to-day, was of the opinion that the number of unemployed would remain about the same until spring when the various mining companies will take on a considerable number of men for surface work. Other employment of a seasonal nature will also absorb the usual amount of able-bodied men when the spring break-up arrives. Fifteen pulp cutters were despatched to the Iroquois Falls district last week and a similar number left this morning following a request from one of the camps in that district. A few cordwood cutters have been given work supplying fuel for several diamond drill projects in this area and on Friday last ten men were sent to Big Water Lake at the request of the Hydro Commission, who are doing some maintenance and replacement work in that locality.

In revealing the number registered as unemployed Mr. Murphy pointed out that there are lots of men for all available jobs and that outsiders will have little chance of work in view of the large number of jobs at present on hand.

Schumacher Men's Club Hears All About Germany

Willson Woodside, Noted Traveller and Journalist, Reviews His Experiences and Observations on a Series of Visits in Recent Years to Germany. Excellent Musical Programme Adds to Interest.

The large audience that gathered in the Trinity United Church, on Thursday night last to hear the address by Willson Woodside, under the auspices of the Men's Club, were able to gather a great mass of information about Germany and the German people. The address gave a striking review of conditions in present-day Germany and added much light upon the problem of the "mad continent," as Mr. Woodside called it. The European situation was made much clearer by the address of Mr. Woodside. He suggested that in a measure the people of Germany were suffering from a form of delusion that

Radio, Movies Blamed For Juvenile Crimes

Youthful Delinquency Spreads as Result of Misleading Gangster Stories. Chief of Police Gagnon Claims. Twelve Youngsters Rounded up This Week to Appear in Police Court on Tuesday.

Radio and some motion pictures are blamed by Chief of Police Leo H. Gagnon for a recent epidemic of juvenile thefts which was climaxed this week by a sweeping clean-up that will bring twelve offenders before the magistrate in police court to-morrow afternoon. The majority of the boys charged are under sixteen years of age with the others just over the limit. In nearly every case the alleged thefts have been from articles left in unlocked autos. Some of the stolen articles have been recovered by Inspector Olson, who conducted the investigation.

"These boys are stealing from cars and selling the articles to adults for about one-tenth their value," the chief charged. "We won't spare any effort to get the receivers and when we do they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law," he warned.

"In the majority of cases the proceeds these boys get from selling stolen articles are used to buy cigarettes or go to the shows," the chief declared.

"While it may be the intention in gangster pictures and radio broadcasts to leave the moral that crime doesn't pay," the point in nearly every case fails to register with the juvenile. All he grasps as a rule is the insolent demeanor of the criminal in his questioning by police. Whether or not the criminal is finally brought to justice is of little importance as far as the young listener is concerned who gets an entirely wrong conception of what was originally intended. Young boys who are brought into the police station here sit in smug silence, their only remark being, "We won't talk, you got nothing on us." This is the sort of thing that boys get from gangster pictures and radio serials. In fact in my opinion there should be a definite age limit set for children attending theatres, particularly when gangster films are being shown. Adults appreciate and realize that the pictures are designed to discourage crime and place the underworld in its true light but the moral is entirely lost on juveniles," Chief Gagnon charged.

"We form a police athletic association to give these boys a chance to occupy their time and stay out of trouble and all our efforts are hindered by influences over which we have practically no control," he claimed.

Warmer Weather in Sight

Probabilities Forecast Partly Cloudy Days With Snow, Sleet or Rain.

The weather predictions of S. C. Wheeler at Hollinger Observatory are gradually containing a suggestion of spring and with daily maximum temperatures rising well above zero, the indications are that there may be an early break-up.

Last night the thermometer descended to a low point of five below zero and at eight o'clock this morning the mercury was at exactly zero. Two and three-quarter inches of snow have fallen since last Wednesday but the weather generally has been fair.

The probabilities are: Fair to moderate, becoming a little warmer, partly cloudy with snow, sleet or light rain. Maximum and minimum temperatures since last Wednesday are: Thursday, 22 above and 7 below; Friday, 23 above and 14 above; Saturday, 18 above and zero; Sunday, 14 above and 14 below.

The new orchestra is under the leadership of H. F. Schroeder. Mayor Bartleman occupied the chair.

Gruesome Discovery is Made Saturday Night

Immediate Investigation is Launched After Package Was Opened. Parcel Was Directed to Fictitious Address. Send Exhibits to Chief Coroner of Ontario.

Danger of Snow on Roofs

Weight May Damage Roofs While Passersby Also May Be Endangered.

The heavy snow on some roofs in town constitutes a double danger. The weight of snow may damage the roof, while snow slides from roofs with an overburden of snow may endanger the passerby. From both standpoints it would appear to be good policy to clean off roofs with too much snow on them, thus saving the roofs as well as people passing. The heavy falls of snow recently give special point to the advice to clear snow off the roofs.

A suspicious odour from a package in the mails at the local Post Office on Saturday led to the gruesome discovery of the dead body of an infant baby girl in one of the incoming parcels.

Police were immediately notified and an exhaustive inquiry has been launched. In order that the investigation may not be hindered the point from which the parcel was mailed has not been disclosed. The address on the parcel was apparently a fictitious one. On instructions of Chief Coroner E. R. Tucker, of Cochrane an autopsy was performed this morning and certain exhibits will be sent to the Chief Coroner of the province for further investigation. In all likelihood an inquest will be held at a date yet to be set. The body of the child, it is stated, was fully developed. This is the second instance that the dead body of an infant has been sent to Timmins, a similar package being addressed to Mattagami branch Post Office several years ago.

Impressive Wedding at Synagogue Here Sunday

Miss Rose Bucovetsky, of Timmins and Dr. Harry Magder of Kirkland Lake United in Marriage. Wedding Dinner After Ceremony. Five Hundred at Reception in Afternoon. Couple to Reside at Kirkland Lake.

An exceptionally lovely wedding, one of the season's most attractive, took place on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock when Rose, eldest daughter of Mr. Sam Bucovetsky and the late Mrs. Bucovetsky, became the bride of Dr. Harry Magder of Kirkland Lake, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Magder of Sudbury. The wedding rites were performed by Rabbi Linder and Monson at the Synagogue, where many friends of the popular young couple had gathered to witness the ceremony, which was a most impressive one.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father was charmingly attired in a gown of white chiffon, made on full flowing lines. She wore a beautiful three-quarter length bridal veil, with a headpiece of flowers, and carried a pure white Bible with mauve orchids.

Miss Ida Bucovetsky, sister of the bride, acted as maid-of-honour, wearing a gown of dubene marquisette, with a matching veil and headpiece of flowers. She carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Anna Bucovetsky, sister of the bride, wore a gown of dubene tulle, with a matching veil and headpiece of flowers. She also carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

Very pretty in dresses of peach georgette were little Misses Ruth and Miriam Bucovetsky, the flower-girls. They wore matching ribbons in their lovely curls and carried sprays of roses.

Mrs. Maurice Bucovetsky, the matron of honour, was becomingly attired in a black crepe gown, with contrasting rainbow shades in a lame bow, and wore a corsage of roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Y. Magder, of Sudbury. After the ceremony, a wedding dinner for relatives and close friends was served at the home of the bride's father, 11 Birch street north. Mrs. Magder, mother of the groom, wore a gown of black net.

In the afternoon, about five hundred guests were present at the reception in the Empire Hotel. The guests were received by the bride and groom and their respective parents. The tables in the dining room had been arranged in a horseshoe shape, another token of good luck for the bride and groom, and at each side of the beautiful wedding cake was a huge basket of flowers. Flickering lights from candles danced merrily over the table, which had been most attractively decorated for the occasion. An orchestra directed by Gordon Archibald played soft music, while the bride and groom received the best wishes of their numerous friends.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Sol Magder, of Sudbury; Mr. Y. Magder, of Sudbury; Miss Nettie Magder, sister of the groom, of Sudbury; Mr. Moses, uncle of the groom, of Sudbury; Mrs. T. Mallin, of Noranda; Mr. and Mrs. I. Bucovetsky, of Rouyn; Mr. and Mrs. J. Shain, of Toronto; Miss Rita Moses, of Toronto; Mr. S. Rabkin, of Cobalt; Miss Ida Rabkin, of Cobalt; Mrs. J. Rabkin, of Portage la Prairie; Mr. J. Lefcoe, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. S. Gerson, of Kirkland Lake; Mr. Phil Shephard, of Kirkland Lake; and Miss Lola Schlin, of Kirkland Lake.

Dr. and Mrs. Magder left on the 5.45 train Sunday afternoon to honeymoon at Toronto and Bermuda. For travel, the bride had chosen a black dress of light wool, with matching accessories, and she also wore a fur coat with a silver fox collar.

Mr. and Mrs. Magder will reside in Kirkland Lake.

$1,000 of High-Grade Ore Stolen

Storehouse at Hallnor Mine Entered Last Week and Valuable Ore Taken.

While one suspect was detained for questioning and later released, Provincial Police reported to-day that there are no further developments in the theft of approximately $1000 in high grade ore from the Hallnor Porcupine Mine last week. For several days the theft was kept in secrecy in the hope that the guilty parties would be apprehended but up to date no arrests have been made.

The valuable ore contained in five boxes, valued at approximately $200 each, was stolen from a storehouse on the mine property last Monday. The door to the storehouse was forced with a crowbar which was found by police nearby.
