A pretty wedding took place in Trinity United Church manse Saturday evening by Rev. Murray C. Tait, when Violat, eldest daughter of Mrs. Montigny and the late Mr. W. Innis, was united in marriage to David Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lamb, of Toronto.

The bride wore a smart afternoon dress of grey crepe with touches of blue, and her hat was one of the new spring models in straw and satin. She had matching shoes and gloves, and wore a corsage of carnations and lily-of-the-valley. She was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Bell Bevan, as matron of honour, wearing a beige rose crepe ensemble suit, with brown accessories, and wearing a corsage of sweet-peas. Mr. T. Bevan acted as groomsman. After the ceremony, a supper and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 129 Fourth avenue, where many friends gathered to congratulate the young couple. Miss Innis was a popular member of the public school staff here for some time, and many parties were arranged for her this past week. The young couple will reside in Swastika, where Mr. Lamb is employed.

Trinity Church choir members held a very delightful tea and bake sale at the home of Mrs. L. A. Wilson, on Saturday afternoon. The rooms were decorated with spring flowers and the home baking table in charge of Mrs. Calverly did a big business. The tea tables were in charge of Mrs. Kitchen, assisted by Mrs. Munford, Miss Kitner and Miss McGhee. Mrs. Shippam and Mrs. Huxley were hostesses for the event, which was a very pleasing one.

Gail, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilson, met with an accident on Wednesday while sleigh-riding on the street. The sleigh on which she was sliding was struck by a delivery truck. The child was taken to the doctor, and it was found necessary to x-ray the leg, which was broken. Trans-Canada Pilots Thoroughly Trained

Skilled in All Types of Flying. Special Meteorological Service

Vancouver, B.C., March 2.—Trans-Canada Air Lines has just begun a new phase of its pilot training programme by flying limited quantities of postal matter between Vancouver and Winnipeg. This is picked at random from ordinary mail by the Post Office authorities.

Air Line officers stress that the flights are experimental and operated during daylight hours. Since the major portion of the Trans-Canada route will be regularly flown at night to effect the best possible postal schedules, the experimental flights will not fully reflect the time-saving advantages of the regular service.

Schedules call for the 1168-mile flight to be made in 7 hours 45 minutes eastbound and 8 hours 30 minutes westbound. Lethbridge and Regina are intermediate stops in both directions. Lethbridge is the junction of what will be known as the mountain and prairie divisions.

Service is on a daily basis although certain limitations may occasionally be imposed due to weather conditions and functioning of airways facilities.

Coincident with the operations, the federal meteorological service is getting practical training in providing weather reports and forecasts under actual flight conditions and the post office department has been enabled to plan for maximum efficiency when regular airmail service begins.

The commencement of these flights was an important step in T.C.A. history. It opened the seventh and last stage of what is probably the most thoroughgoing pilot training program ever instituted by a major air transport service.

Last summer the air line commenced training its initial pilot group which has expanded until it now consists of 25 men, all of whom hold commercial sport licenses before they joined the service.

The first step was instruction in the mechanical functions of equipment and accessories. This was followed by primary instruction in the type of equipment used.

As a third step the pilot was required to fly by his instruments and radio alone without reference to the ground. Then came local radio range flying in which the planes followed a path through the air marked by radio signals to and from their base. The fifth step was night flying around the home field.

By mid-winter the pilot group was at the sixth stage, flying by instruments across country between widely separated points while following the radio range, or "beam" as it is sometimes called.

This last stage brought Trans-Canada Air Lines flying operations before a large section of the public for the first time as planes winged their way across the prairies between Winnipeg and Lethbridge, with a stop at Regina, and then between Vancouver and Lethbridge.

Two-way radio communications stations have been established at Vancouver, Oliver, Cranbrook, Lethbridge, Regina and Winnipeg and planes are constantly in touch with the ground over the entire route.

YES THERE'S BEEN SOME SNOW HERE!

Of course, the radio announcer was very wrong in saying thirty feet of snow fell in two days in January in the Porcupine. The picture, however, is an admission that there was a little snow here this winter.

The final step that made possible the experimental mail operation is the provision by the Department of Transport's meteorological section of a 24-hour weather reporting service.

Every Trans-Canada pilot is trained to interpret the changes in atmosphere. Hourly weather reports give him not only actual conditions every 50 miles along the route but also future trends.

Ansonville Club's First Ice CarnivalDog Derby Association Present Interesting Program.

Iroquois Falls, Ont., March 2, 1938.—(Special to The Advance)—The Ansonville Dog Derby Association had their first ice carnival in the skating rink there on Tuesday evening.

An unusually large attendance turned out to watch the proceedings of the evening, and with the arena lights all decorated, it presented a most colourful scene.

The second speaker of the evening, Mr. Bruce Moyer, addressed the gathering on credit unions, and gave the history of the credit union movement.

The movement, the speaker said, originated in Germany, and has spread to practically every part of the world. These "small man's banks", as Mr. Moyer characterized the credit union, are performing a splendid service, in supplying credit facilities to the working man and farmer, and thus releasing him from the clutches of the loan shark. Originally six credit unions were formed, possessing a very small capital which was contributed solely by the members. These six unions have grown to a world-wide organization, with a capital of millions of dollars.

At the conclusion of the address, a vote of thanks was given to the speakers, and then members of the Taxis Club gave an exhibition of boxing, which the members found very entertaining.

Special Addresses at the Men's ForumUnusually Interesting Meeting Held Last Night.

The Men's Forum of the United Church held a supper meeting in the basement of the church on Wednesday evening, many members being present to enjoy the delicious supper prepared by the Ladies' Aid, and to listen to the two addresses of the evening. Mr. E. B. Weir, president, occupied the chair.

Mr. D. Rymer, the first speaker, gave an interesting account of his banking experience during three and one-half years in Mexico. He told about the conditions at the time, stating that while he was there, seven revolutions took place, and there were four or five presidents. He also described the natives and their customs, and gave an entertaining account of the manner in which bull-fights were conducted.

The members of the Forum were then entertained by Mr. Bill Bridgeman, who contributed three vocal selections receiving loud applause.

The second speaker of the evening, Mr. Bruce Moyer, addressed the gathering on credit unions, and gave the history of the credit union movement.

action for hernia and had not the money to stand the expense, the Feldman Timber Co. kindly undertook the financing of the operation and were looking after the man during his convalescence after the operation. While the Feldman Timber Co. was not in any way obligated to do any of this for the man, it seems only fair to state the fact to show that they went far out of their way to be kind and generous in the matter.
