Canada Should Not Allow Communism or Fascism

(From The Globe and Mail)
Colonel George A. Drew is doing a public service by keeping in view the fact that the Communist Party of Canada never halts in the prosecution of its programme. Communists are active, as well as Fascists, and both are foes of democracy.
In Toronto there is supposed to be an organization of Fascists, in which one element of the community sees danger. It is a menace proportionate to its strength. But it will not do to forget the Communists, bolder to date and more aggressive. Colonel Drew states that this city harbors 40 Communist schools at which the doctrines of communism are taught including anti-religious propaganda. In addition are schools for Communist organizers in which more than 200 persons have taken a course since Jan. 1, going forth to spread their creed elsewhere.

A city which will elect two Communist Aldermen cannot pretend to be free from the evil influences of this organization.
In his address at Sherbrooke Colonel Drew stated that Tim Buck, Communist leader in Canada, returned during the past two weeks from Moscow, where he went on party business. The Reds operate under direction from international headquarters. There is little to the argument that the best way to pull their punches is by giving them what they want. What the Reds in Canada want is what the Reds in Moscow tell them they must get.

The gravity of the situation is that the reaction to communism is fascism, the former having arrived first. While the Reds are not likely to reach revolutionary strength here, their growth will intensify Fascist agitation, enlarging both Right and Left groups. This has been the result elsewhere.
If we want neither brand of dictatorship in this country it is the duty of citizens to keep both from developing. It is useless to howl at one and wink at the other.

New York Herald-Tribune:—There are, as we have observed before, many obvious elements in the contemporary world pointing toward Anglo-American co-operation, within understood limits and to specific ends. But we suspect that usefully to develop such co-operation calls for quite as hard-headed and "realistic" a diplomacy in Washington as any at Mr. Chamberlain's command. A mere genial impulse to do good to "make American influence effective" (beyond range of artillery) is likely to end only in such grief and face-burnings as some quarters in Washington now appear to be experiencing.

Warmer Weather On the Way

Snow or Rain and Milder is Prediction of S. Wheeler for Week-end.

S. C. Wheeler at Hollinger Observatory, had more cheerful news this morning than for some time when he expressed the opinion that the extreme cold of the past winter is practically over. Mr. Wheeler would not go so far as to say that there will be no more cold days and suggested that the district will experience the odd day of zero weather before Spring actually arrives. The weekend he predicted will be generally warm with snow or rain, becoming cloudy to-day.

Maximum and minimum temperatures since Sunday are: Monday, 16 above and 5 below; Tuesday, 13 above and 17 below; Wednesday, 23 above and 13 below. The lowest temperature last night was 2 above, rising to 7 above at eight o'clock this morning.

Amendments Help the Ex-Service Men

Review of the Benefits from Changes in Veterans' Allowance Act.

Timmins, March 9th, 1938
To the Editor of The Advance, Timmins.
Dear Sir:—There is every reason to believe that the new amendments to the War Veterans' Allowance Act will be passed by the House of Commons during this week, so that the recommendations made by the Veterans Assistance Commission may be put into force as soon as possible. The first amendment that of providing the sum of $18.50 per month for single "Unemployables" of the Great War and $30.00 per month for married couples, the municipalities to provide for the children," passed its first reading on Saturday.
This allowance will fill a long left want and will help the municipalities to a greater extent than appears from the surface. In taking in those who served in the Boer War, and were domiciled in Canada during the period 1914 to 1918, the Minister of Pensions has broadened out the original plan of the Commission and this will also be a feature that should help in carrying the measure through.
In all there is said to be around 5,000 in line for this allowance, but it was stated by Major Powers that as time goes on this number will steadily increase and the capital required will also grow in proportion.
For many years it has been clearly seen that hundreds of men who served Canada in the Great War would never be able to be absorbed into the industrial world. The causes are numerous for this—nervousness, slightly affected mentally, and a host of other minor disabilities for which there is no claim for pension. They became known as "burnt out" or the "Unemployables," and it is gratifying indeed to know that due to the efforts of the Canadian Legion, B. E. S. L. these men in all probability will in the near future be cared for and taken off relief rolls and become self-supporting and not a burden to charities and other administrators of assistance.
From present indications it does not seem as though there will be many benefit in Timmins, but the larger centres such as Toronto, Montreal and the other big cities will find the grant to these ex-servicemen a great help and a saving in municipal relief.
Several others items are also being planned in an effort to place those not available for this new grant. These include the collection of radio license fees, the Corps of Commissioners, new clauses in government contracts, etc. The outlook of the unemployed veteran is the brightest it has ever been. The Veterans' Assistance Commission has done a good work and after a very difficult task their findings should be the means of providing work for those who are able and for those in the "Unemployable" class the feeling of self-support and not a drag upon the country. Yours truly,
X Service Mann.
