

Kirkland Lake Had Nearby Bush Fire

About 700 Acres of Bush Went up in Fire.

Kirkland Lake, May 18.—Approximately six to seven hundred acres of slash and brush were burned in a small bush fire to the south of the Canadian Kirkland Mine property on Saturday evening and Sunday when a small fire, aided by a rising wind got away from some men burning a patch of brush on the old Highland Kirkland property.

The blaze, although never considered dangerous by Chief Fire Ranger Ed. Potter, of Swastika, proved to be a welcome one as it cleared out a strip of land which will act as a fire break for Kirkland Lake from the south.

The head ranger had eight men and two water pumps on the job from 11 o'clock Saturday morning, when the smoke was first noticed from the look-out tower in Swastika, until yesterday morning when the last spark was eliminated.

There was much concern felt on Saturday when the flames began to eat their way to the Canadian Industries Limited powder house, south of the Teck-Hughes Mine, and the caps and explosives were removed until the fire was extinguished.

Men who have been cutting wood for the Teck-Hughes Mine during the past winter were using the fire to clear the land of old timber and bark when the sudden wind came up and drove the flames past the power line and towards the outskirts of Kirkland Lake and Chaput-Hughes. The rangers were immediately sent to the locality. They remained there all Saturday and went back out early Sunday morning. The finishing touches to the fighting were put on yesterday morning when the men made a final check-up before calling it a job.

The only timber loss was two cords of wood cut by someone who failed to obtain a permit to cut on the property.

According to Mr. Potter the track cleared by the fire will provide an excellent firebreak for Kirkland Lake in case of a large blaze.

High School Losing Two Good Teachers

Mr. Worthington and Miss Boon Not to Teach Here Next Term.

Those who have been watching the progress made by the Timmins High and Vocational School will regret that two of the most talented teachers are leaving after the present term. Mr. J. W. Worthington, who has given eight years of excellent service on the teaching staff of the school as instructor in woodworking in the Vocational School, is leaving to accept a similar position in the Cornwall High and Vocational School. Miss Boon, for the past two years teacher of domestic science at the school here is also resigning from the Timmins staff. All who know the excellent work of these two valuable teachers will regret their leaving the Timmins school, though wishing them all success and contentment in their new spheres.

Miss Boon has done much to increase the popularity of the domestic science course, while her work in that department has been unusually skilled and conscientious.

Mr. Worthington in the eight years he has been here has done much to develop the woodworking department. His work has been thorough and most effective and the pupils have profited greatly by his knowledge, his skill and his personality. In addition to the valuable services he has given as an instructor, he also proved himself unusually helpful and valuable as a good citizen. He has been interested in many good causes and his readiness to help has been a proverb. Whenever there has been scenery or stage settings to make in town, the skill and services of Mr. Worthington were always assured. He has made scenery and effects for dramatic offerings here, and when there were events like the Turkey Stag or other public event, his notable skill and talent were always at the service of all. Mr. Worthington will be followed to his new home with the greatest of good wishes and appreciation for his eight years of service at the Timmins High and Vocational School.

Game and Fisheries Superintendent G. M. Parks and Overseer Wm. St. Pierre visited the "Northland" on its way to Toronto on Tuesday and seized a trunk that had been shipped from New Liskeard as baggage. The officers no doubt were acting on information received and the "tip" apparently was good as the trunk was found to contain $1,500 worth of beaver pelts. Effort is now being made to locate the owner of the furs, the fine on each pelt being very heavy for illegal possession of beaver pelts.

He Was Always Tired and Ill.

Three Complaints Gave Him a Miserable Time

Suffering from three complaints—disordered kidneys, sciatica, and rheumatism, how could this man be anything else but always tired and ill? This is what he writes:—
"Up to a month or so ago, I had suffered continually from kidney disorder, sciatica, rheumatism, and generally felt off colour. I was constantly tired, and under medical supervision. I tried many remedies, but without effect until I gave Kruschen Salts a trial. In four weeks, Kruschen has brought about a complete transformation. I have a healthy appetite and once more feel that it is good to be alive."—S.V.N.

The kidneys are the filters of the human machine. If they become sluggish, impurities find their way into the blood-stream, and the seed of half-a-dozen common ailments is sown.

The scientific combination of salts in Kruschen quickly coaxes the kidneys back to healthy, normal action. Soon your ailments are relieved and life becomes a joy again.

Ukrainian Flying Ace Visits North
Plan to Establish Ukrainian Flying Club in North

(From Kirkland Lake Northern News)

With the future possibility of making Kirkland Lake a training centre for Ukrainian and Canadian flying students, J. L. Morey de Morand, lieutenant colonel of the Ukrainian army and president of the Ukrainian Flying Club in Oshawa, is surveying the locality for a suitable site to establish a Northern Ontario flying school.

Before he returns to his headquarters in Oshawa, where he is conducting a successful training school for young Canadians and Ukrainians who wish to take up flying for the fun of it, Mr. Morey de Morand will examine Timmins, Val d'Or and Noranda as other possible training localities. He has already been in Sudbury. The flying instructor will take his findings to the executive of the club and they will decide at which place the only instruction centre will be located.

In speaking to a Northern News reporter yesterday afternoon, with an interpreter as a medium, Mr. Morey de Morand's vocabulary being of limited English and the reporter's being of limited French which the Great War flying ace speaks fluently, the army officer made it clear that the Ukrainians in Canada today are anti-Fascists and anti-Communists.

"To Be Loyal Canadians"
"Our people want to be true and loyal Canadians and we want to help this country of our adoption in case it is drawn into war. Our flying club is mainly to educate the Ukrainian and Canadian youths in the art of flying." Mr. Morey de Morand explained. "We wish to educate our young men in the art of flying and when the call comes they can protect Canada alongside native-born Canadians."

Frank Lakusta and Joe Peleshok, vice-president and president, respectively, of the local Ukrainian National Youth Federation, acted as interpreters between the army officer and the reporter in the interview. Michael Sharik, Dominion organizer and Northern Ontario representative for the Ukrainian National Federation, is travelling with the flying club president.

The flying club in Oshawa, which was opened in January in co-operation with the Dominion government, now has over 50 Canadian and Ukrainian boys in training and last week four of the students completed their solo flights. The organization has but one plane for training but has hopes of additions to the one-plane division in a short while.

Two instructors besides the president, are at the camp and the boys are receiving concrete ground work from Peter Anten and F. F. Gillies who are the other trainers. Mr. Gillies is the only flyer in Canada who holds an A-1 instructor's license.

Fought in Great War
The plan of the officer, who is also vice-president of the Ukrainian National Federation for Ontario and Quebec, is to establish one training school in Northern Ontario, suitably situated and in naturally good flying surroundings, to which air-minded young men of the North may take up courses in aeronautics. The success of the Oshawa camp prompted the move northward.

Mr. Morey de Morand first entered the Great War with the Imperial Guards of the Russian Army. He was a captain with the division. In 1916 he was made a Colonel of the Russian army on the French front in the Arras sector and five months later was called back to Russia and commissioned a commander in the Russian air force. Following the proclamation of the Ukraine in 1917 as a Free State he was made Lieutenant Colonel of the Ukrainian army.

Lt. Colonel Morey de Morand and Brig.-Gen. A. E. Swift fought on the same front in France during the Great War and met this morning to talk over old times with several others who were stationed on the Arras front.
