

Dome Defeat McIntyre 9-1 In Opening T. B. L. Game

Game Played in Downpour is Called After Five Innings

"Skipper" Bean Hits Home Run With One Man On to Start Dome Rally. Sunderland is Blasted from Box for McIntyre. Senese Pitches Steady Ball for South Porcupine

Playing in a continuous downpour of rain that finally halted the play at the end of the fifth inning, Dome defeated McIntyre, last year's champions, in the opening game of the Temiskaming Senior Baseball League in South Porcupine last night by the one-sided score of 9-1. The game was not attended by any of the formalities usually associated with the opening of the season, the umpire simply announcing the batteries and calling "play ball."

The defeat was an upset to the smart McIntyre crew that the Saloman has gathered together and while the game did not go the regulation nine innings, the South Porcupine squad with Bill Smith at the helm, were decidedly superior in the five frames played.

As the game started, rain was spitting quite freely and gradually increased in intensity until Umpire Chambers called time in the fourth inning. At this particular juncture, Dome were in the lead 7-1, with three men on bases and one out. Play was delayed for about fifteen minutes and despite the fact that a brisk shower was still falling, the game was resumed with McIntyre protesting that it was too wet. Schultz, the next batter for Dome, was struck out and Murray was tossed out at first, leaving three men stranded on the pathways.

Rain was falling like a veritable Niagara during the fifth but the umpires kept the teams in action despite the fact that everyone, including themselves, was soaked to the hide. With the five innings played constituting a game, the officials called it a day and waved the players off the field as they came out to start the sixth "innings."

It was the ever-durable "Skipper" Bean, star rearguard of last year's Dome hockey team, that started the South Porcupine miners on the road to success with a long home run in the second inning into deep right field with Murray ahead of him. Up to that point McIntyre were leading 1-0. There were two out at the time but Moreau followed with a smashing triple only to die on third base when Senese struck out.

McIntyre got their only run of the game on successive doubles by Prout and Quinn, the latter being thrown out at third base by Schultz when he tried to stretch his hit into a triple in the second inning.

Sunderland was Ike Solomon's choice for the pitching assignment and the stocky Westerner was given a 100-ft. passage in the second and third innings, allowing six hits and as many runs. He was sent, not to the show-ers for this was unnecessary considering the cloudburst the game was played in) to the bench and Callery started the fourth inning for the Macs. The burly righthander had everything but control, walking five, hitting Dowling twice and allowing one hit for three runs. He struck out one man while Sunderland, on the other hand,

Ottawa Pro Wins $100 But Doesn't Get the Money

(From Ottawa Journal)
Stan Horne, assistant pro at the Ottawa Hunt Club is probably wishing today he hadn't accepted. Sunday night, the courtesies of the Hole-in-One Driving Range on the Aylmer Road opposite the race track.
Horne dropped in at the range on his way home from the Rivermead where he had been playing in a foursome with Jack Littler, Bobby Alston and Frank Mann.
Bert Barnabe and Billy Touhey who operate the range invited him to try a few shots and they gave him an iron and bag of balls. He smacked out a few and then one landed close to the pin and popped into the hole. An excited caddy came sprinting to the tee with the ball.
If he'd paid the customary charge of 25 cents Messrs Barnabe and Touhey would have had to pay him the hundred dollar prize for a hole-in-one. Since he was being given a free ride he collected nothing but congratulations mixed with sympathy.

Given Gold Watch by T. & N.O. Railway

Presentation Made to Cobalt Man Who Saved T. & N. O. Train.

Cobalt, June 2.—(Special to The Advance)—Prompt action of Thomas Leaper, Cobalt Properties' employee, in giving the alarm when he discovered the cave-in on the main line tracks at the south end of the local railway yard in the morning of Good Friday, was recognized officially by the T. & N. O. this week, when Colonel Malcolm Lang, chairman of the Commission, presented Mr. Leaper with a gold watch, suitably inscribed, as a memento of the occasion.
In a brief ceremony on Monday, held in the office of the mining company, by whom Mr. Leaper is employed, the gift was formally presented by Colonel Lang, with whom was Arthur A. Coleman, mining engineer for the railway. In making the presentation, the chairman referred to the recipient's efforts in notifying Arthur Brocklebank, his manager, of the danger created by the cave-in, and in which part of the railway right of way had fallen into old mine workings.
Because of this prompt warning, Mr. Brocklebank was enabled to get in touch with the station staff on duty at the time, and a southbound freight train, which had not been scheduled to stop here, was flagged at the station and halted before it rounded the curve immediately north of the scene of the subsidence. While Mr. Brocklebank, who had not waited to don his regular clothes, was giving the alarm, Mr. Leaper returned to the scene of the accident, keeping watch until other assistance arrived.
Mr. Leaper told The Advance that he was going to work when he noticed the small hole in the track developing steadily into a large cavity. He could hear a train approaching, but could not tell from which direction it was coming and he thought that, since it was some distance off, his proper course was to get in touch with Mr. Brocklebank without delay. He ran all the way to the Brocklebank home on Cobalt street, roused him the manager out of bed and had him started off to the station, while he returned to the tracks.
The recipient of the watch is an old resident of the Cobalt camp who has been employed for years with Mining Corporation and latterly with Cobalt Properties, who took over the holdings of the other company. An Englishman by birth, Mr. Leaper is an overseas man, having enlisted from Cobalt in 1916, afterwards returning here. His home is at West Cobalt.

Two Goals in Dying Minutes Win Football Game For Dome

South Porcupine Squad Defeated Hollinger in Spectacular Game Here on Tuesday Night by Score of 2-1. Winning Goal is Scored Just Before Expiration of Time.

Shaded on the play by their opponents, but battling to the last ditch, Dome snatched a spectacular 2-1 victory over Hollinger in a torrid Northern Ontario Football Association match at the ball park on Tuesday night.

Alibis That Crop up All the Time in Playing Golf

When the game of golf was ended in the locker room we stayed. Reciting our excuses for the dismal scores we'd made.
We could all explain our failures in a self-consoling style. Which made even Joe, who serves us, turn away to hide a smile. And he said to his companion: "I will bet you when they die For the sins they've all committed they will have an alibi."
"I've been here for twenty summers, serving golfers night and day. And I've yet to hear a player say he'd thrown his chance away. I have yet to hear one mutter as he passes through the door:
'Had I tried a little harder, I'd have made a better score.' It is always: 'Wind was blowing,' or 'I had a cuppy lie.' For the most imperfect golfer has a perfect alibi."
"When this game of life is over, and St. Peter meets them all, I should like to stand and listen as their failures they recall. I should like to hear them telling, as he runs their score cards through, Why the records show no listing of the good they meant to do. When they're summoned in for judgment, just too late to change a thing. I'll bet St. Peter chuckles at the alibis they bring."

S.A. War Veterans to Meet at Englehart

Many from Timmins to Attend Notable Event on Saturday, June 4th.
The South African War Veterans of Northern Ontario are to hold their annual re-union this year at Englehart. The event is to be held on Saturday, June 4th, and the occasion is expected to be one of the most interesting gatherings of the year. A. C. Brown, well-known Timmins lawyer, is the president of the South African War Veterans' Association of the North and for several years past he has been busy directing the preliminary arrangements that are expected to make this re-union the biggest and best yet. Other S. A. War Veterans' re-unions in past years have proved outstanding successes. It is intended to equal or excel this record with the event on Saturday of this week, June 4th. Most people would be surprised to know how many South African War Veterans are living in the North at present. Timmins has a good representation, and so has South Porcupine, Schumacher, Golden City and other towns in this district. The re-union was held in Timmins last year and was an unqualified success. Englehart expects to do equally well.
The programme for Englehart on Saturday includes the following:
Annual meeting.
Election of officers.
Banquet
That banquet is always a big affair with many noteworthy features, including a collection of reminiscences, grave and gay.
Several cars will leave Timmins on Saturday to take part in the South African War Veterans' Association re-union. Those going from here will include members of the Canadian Legion, executive officers, and standard-bearers with Legion standards. These will take part in the dedication of the Englehart war memorial that will be a feature of the re-union.

Importance of Swimming to Children of Timmins

A. R. Fisher in First of Series of Articles Touches on the Benefits of Swimming. Every Child Should Learn to Swim. Swimming One of the Best Forms of Exercise.

Mr. A. R. Fisher, who has plans under way to conduct the Riverside Pavilion swimming pool this year for the benefit of the children of the town, is writing a series of articles on swimming with the purpose of rousing further enthusiasm for this excellent summer sport. In the first of the series of articles, given herewith, Mr. Fisher makes it plain that all children as a matter of health and safety should learn to swim. They will have opportunity for this when the swimming pool is opened at the river by Mr. Fisher. He also touches on the fact that swimming is one of the safest and healthiest of sports when carried on under proper supervision. Mr. Fisher is an enthusiast in regard to swimming and with the hope that his earnestness and interest in swimming will be passed on to the general public, The Advance is publishing the series of articles referred to. Below will be found the first of the series of articles:—
Swimming
(By A. R. Fisher)
It is not my intention, in this series of articles, to teach champions. Rather it is to point out several points concerning the sport that are essential. It is generally conceded by all that swimming is the one recreation in which everyone should be proficient. Throughout this series I shall dwell briefly on the value of swimming and life-saving and to drop hints on methods of learning the various strokes.
There are many methods of teaching this sport, each having its own advantages and disadvantages. I shall claim neither of these but shall endeavour through these articles to give some little aid in the art of keeping oneself above water. Many thousands of people are drowned each year. Most of these could be saved if swimming and life-saving had been learned at an early age.
The benefits derived from swimming are so important that all should have, at least, a chance to receive them. Swimming is considered by many authorities as the very best form of exercise. It exercises practically every muscle without the risk of bruises, sprains or strains. It can be as gentle or as strenuous as the swimmer desires it. It aids in carrying away the impurities of the pores of the skin. The tan which generally accompanies swimming is proven to be of benefit if taken on sensibly.
It develops within the individual a self reliance, courage and willingness and ability to come to the aid of others if the necessity arises. At the same time it is probably the easiest sport to learn that there is. The learning of it can be fun and while learning the advance is so rapid that one does not,

Rebuilding Temagami Being Rapidly Carried on

(From New Liskeard Speaker)
Last week-end we paid a visit to Temagami and noticed that the parties who suffered the heavy fire loss on Monday of last week are already busy on new buildings. Temagami Trading Company have the framework for a new store and expect to again open for business within two weeks. This time they are erecting only a one-storey building instead of the two-storey structure that was burned. Frank Goddard is rebuilding his garage, next to Lloyd's store and on the same side of the road is his hotel. There will be considerable rock to be removed before actual building can be gotten underway. However, the drilling has been done and it was expected that construction could be commenced this week. The advantages of using the fire resisting shingle on the walls and roofs of buildings was clearly demonstrated at the fire, when practically the entire front of Goddard's Hotel was scorched so badly that it will be necessary to replace the shingles. They were practically melted off the side but withstood the tremendous heat to such an extent that the building did not catch fire.
RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF TEMISKAMING MOTOR LEAGUE
F. E. Thompson was re-elected president of the Temiskaming Motor League last week. Frank Kemp was elected secretary-treasurer. The club had a useful and successful year last year and hopes to be of still greater service in the ensuing year.

Compliments for the 1939 Ontario License Plates

(From Northern News)
Ontario's 1939 license plates will be on a special material composed of cement, sand and glass, will be of white figures on a black background, and are said to be better than even the conventional black and yellow of traffic sign construction.
Similar material will be used on danger signs along the highways, instead of "cat's eyes," whose red and removal crystals offer fascination to a certain type of moron.
The plates, it is said, will cost $20,000 more, but that money will be saved, it is said, by replacing the markers that are so easy to tamper with by the new style.
We believe that this is a sincere attempt to remedy a serious mistake which was made this year, that of issuing a markers whose colours offer no contrast and which make license numbers indistinguishable.
It is unfortunate that these could not have been recalled and replaced early in the year, but it is probably too late now to make a change.
