The Dome Akela wishes to thank those who so kindly loaned the cars for transportation and in other ways assisted at the camp.

Saturday's Tag Day in South Porcupine for the Kiwanis playground was a distinct success, close to a hundred dollars being raised by the efforts of the "taggers." The playground equipment to be consisted of a sand pile and chute, "teeters," swings and softball equipment. When a supervisor has been selected, organized games will be held in the morning under direction, and ball games, etc. Some of the equipment is being made by Kiwanian Ray Anderson and the club hopes that before many days the playground will be ready for use. Tonight (Wednesday) the Rev. J. A. Lytle, successor to Dr. Fraser as pastor of South Porcupine United Church, is being inducted. The following from the Toronto "Telegram" will be of interest concerning Rev. Lytle:—"Burch Cliff Heights, June 27th—Known as the pastor who saved the church manse from tax seizure, Rev. J. A. Lytle pastor of Burch Cliff Heights United Church, has accepted a call to Porcupine. Mr. Lytle is a graduate of Queen's University and won the gold medal for proficiency in Hebrew. He spent post graduate study in England. Rev. Mr. Lytle came to Scarborough from Capreol and has served his congregation for eight years. Owing to the depression some six years ago the church manse was threatened with seizure for arrears in taxes amounting to $200 outstanding for a period of a little more than three years. The manse not being on church grounds, was assessed by the township as a private residence. The congregation will honour the minister prior to his departure."

Dr. Fraser left on Tuesday accompanied in his car by Mr. and Mrs. Scott, for Muskoka, where he will spend some part of the summer months. Police Court Cases brought before Magistrate Atkinson on Tuesday were all quickly dealt with, with one exception.

A Finnish man was charged with having liquor in other than his place of residence. A constable deposed that he had followed defendant from the liquor store, down Bruce avenue, up Golden avenue and thence to Bloor. The man stopped, carried his parcel in to the house, and shortly after the policeman followed. He gave him his permit—police found it in order, and found the two bottles of liquor, unopened, in a cupboard in the kitchen.

He had no search warrant, counsel advised. The magistrate interposed, "No matter if evidence is obtained illegally it can still be used as evidence."

There was no evidence of drinking. The bottles were not concealed. Defendant was asked why he had not left his parcel in the car. His answer was sound—he had no key to lock the door.

Asked why he had not gone straight to his residence with the liquor the man said he had been asked to call at this house for a cup of coffee, hence his presence there.

Counsel contended there was no offence against the law. After some thought his worship agreed to give defendant the benefit of the doubt. "How about the liquor?" said counsel. "It will be confiscated."

"There will be no order from me," said the magistrate, "but there is a 'Star Chamber' behind me"—and he smilingly indicated the Chief of Police.

For failing to stop at a "Stop" sign no less than ten culprits were ordered to pay $1 fine and costs.

As they were called, one after another, his worship asked, "Is this all the same sign?"

For having no clearance lights a truck owner was fined $1 and costs. An adjudgment for one week was allowed a "dog-at-large" offence. Three drunks paid the usual $10 and costs.

Jury Finds Death of Roy Nelson was Accidental

Englehart, June 30—(Special to The Advance)—Evidence at an inquest here on Monday, produced from the victim's own records, disclosed that Roy Nelson, McNamara Construction Company foreman, who was fatally injured at a gravel pit at Healsip last Wednesday, had worked 41 hours on the two days preceding the fatality, although, after the time book had been produced at the request of a juror, the jury was told no record was kept of Sunday work and the practice was to add the hours worked then to the total for the following day. This might account for the extra time credited to Monday, the day the plant had resumed operations after a shutdown, Coroner Dr. J. S. McCullough and the jury learned.

A verdict of accidental death was returned. Nelson was whirled around the pulley of a conveyor belt to which he was applying dressing and it was suggested he either had his arm and hand caught in the machinery or the limb had adhered to the belt by the quality of the dressing itself. The apparatus is a powerful one, but does not run at great speed, it was stated. Nelson, who lived in Kirkland Lake, was killed immediately, his neck being broken and his body otherwise mangled. Follow-up-workmen who witnessed the tragedy were powerless to help.

Attending her as matron of honour, was Mrs. Sylvia Pertullo, dressed charmingly in a white silk suit with white accessories.

Two dainty bridesmaids followed Miss Olga Marylyn Gerneck, who was gowned in mauve point despit over the same shade of taffeta, with white accessories and a wreath of natural roses in a pink mauve shade on her hair, and carried a bouquet of pale pink peonies and baby's breath.

The other bridesmaid—Miss Laila Koskela—wore a similar gown in every particular except that the shade was of pale yellow net over a deeper shade of peach-yellow and yellow rose wreath.

Mr. Paul Victor Sillanpaa, of Timmins, attended the groom as best man. During the signing of the register Mrs. Bessette sang beautifully, "Because," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied on the organ by Mr. M. Smith, who also played the wedding march as the bridal party left the church.
