

Some Special Ways of Serving Canteloupe

Canteloupe May be Prepared in Many Attractive Ways, Sometimes With Other Fruits. Watermelon Pickle, Orange and Melon Cups.

"We remember the fish which we did eat in Egypt freely, the cucumbers and the melons and the leeks and the onions and the garlic." These are the foods for which the children of Israel went during their long journey through the wilderness. These are among the foods which have a history that begins in the first written record. most popular is plentiful. It comes to us from California and Arizona and late from the southern states, after which the nearby crops are ready for market. Honeyballs and honeydews with their delicate flavour are also available. Even watermelons are to be found, although they are more plentiful and better later in the season.

In selecting a canteloupe, ripeness may be determined by making sure that the stem has been torn off completely. This shows that the melon was ripe when picked. There should also be a real fragrance and there should, of course, be no soft spots.

Melons should be thoroughly chilled before they are served and not filled with ice at the last moment. While our favourite method of serving them is in their own natural form after cutting and removing the seeds, we sometimes like to serve them with a ball of ice-cream or with other fruits for special occasions. While melon balls are often used for salads or fruit cups, I prefer thin slices for these purposes. Cantaloupe combined with honeydew or watermelon gives an attractive colour and flavour contrast.

Watermelon Pickle
6 pounds pared watermelon rind
1 gallon lime water
1 gallon water
3 quarts brown sugar.
1/4 cup whole cloves
1/4 cup whole allspice
2 tablespoons whole mace
2 sticks cinnamon.

Cut melon rind into one-inch pieces and soak in lime water three hours. Drain and soak in fresh water one hour. Boil together the water and two quarts of the sugar. In this syrup cook rapidly the drained melon rind for thirty minutes. Then add the rest of the sugar and the spices, tied in a bag, and cook until the melon rind is transparent. Pack in hot jars and seal.

Orange and Melon Cups
Orange sections.
Melon slices
Mint leaves
Arrange sections of orange and melon slices in sherbet glasses. Chill thoroughly. Serve garnished with mint leaves. A tablespoon of sherry may be poured over each glass before serving if desired.

No Change in Teachers at Iroquois Falls School

Iroquois Falls, Ont., June 30, 1938.—(Special to The Advance)—The Iroquois Falls Public School Board made no changes in the teachers' personnel here for next term, at their special meeting held on Tuesday evening, June 21st.

The whole of the Public School teachers are expected to return in the fall, also all the High School teachers, with the exception of Miss Coleclough, who tendered her resignation. Two new teachers will be sought during the summer months, one to replace Miss Coleclough, and one, who will be an addition to the staff, for the High School.

During the summer holidays, seasonal renovations will be done, and included an extensive amount of painting, cleaning, and brightening up the school rooms.

School was let out on June 29th, and will not have to be resumed until the first Tuesday in September.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By ELSIE PIERCE
FAMOUS BEAUTY EXPERT

So that you may be as lovely a bride as this specially posed photograph of ROCHELLE HUDSON follow Elsie Pierce's series on "Beauty for the Bride."

First Words of Beauty Advice to Bride: Rush Less Rest More!

It seems almost superfluous to say anything to a bride about beauty. Because most brides make it their business to learn all the beauty secrets beforehand. Most brides want to be beautiful. I've never known a bride who wasn't beautiful.

But, because brides and beauty are subjects so close to this column's heart, and because we want to keep our conscience clean, we shall summarize our beauty hints for the bride. We shall, in fact, cover the lovely lady's beauty routine. Brides of the past are invited to "listen in." Reminiscences particularly if they are fond memories, (and they must be) serve as a beauty tonic. Brides of the future may eavesdrop if they wish and we'll be thrilled if we leave a thought or two to take them a step nearer to the altar.

One Mistake
We're ready to start—from head to toe. But before we dwell on the actual beauty routine, let me caution the bride-to-be about something that is definitely destructive of loveliness. That something is: rushing. That is one mistake that every bride-to-be makes. Yes, I know all the delightful details—shopping for the touseau, for your bridal outfit, your going away costume, attending to the bridesmaid's costumes, seeing all sorts of samples of upholstery material for your living room chairs. There are the details of floral decorations, the church, the choir, the reception afterward, the gifts to bridesmaids. Endless detail. Endless shopping. But before you rush—rest. After you rush—rest. Let others do a good deal of the work for you. You may be excused if you show a selfish streak. It's all for the sake of a glowing skin and bright eyes and a happy absence of nerves!

Mr. Baine paid a high compliment to Mrs. Baine. "She has been a tower of strength and encouragement to me in all my work," he said, "and whatever success I may have achieved, is due more to her help and influence than to any effort of my own."

"He counselled his congregation to keep high the standards of Christian deals. "There can be no compromise with the modern forces of evil," he stated with emphasis as he re-dedicated himself to "preach the gospel and nothing less."

"Mr. Baine referred to the pleasant association he had had with the sister churches of the town, particularly St. Andrew's, whose congregation had always shown the finest spirit of cooperation. "At the close of the service, a congregational meeting was held in the church school room. The capacity of the room was crowded. Mayor Rice presided, and brief addresses of appreciation and goodwill were given by Dr. J. D. McDonald, G. F. Hutcheson, Sinclair Wardell, superintendent of the Sunday School; and William Scott, veteran secretary of the Missionary and Maintenance department of the church. All referred in grateful terms to the fine work accomplished by Rev. and Mrs. Baine during their five-year term in the Trinity Church pastorate. Mrs. G. Boyce sang a solo, and Misses Joy and Marion Hutcheson played a piano duet.

"The presentation of a purse containing a neat sum of money, was made to Mr. Baine on behalf of the congregation, and a pair of Hudson Bay blankets constituted a gift to Mrs. Baine, from the Women's Association. Grateful acknowledgement was made by Mr. Baine, who spoke also for Mrs. Baine, detained through illness. At the conclusion of the meeting, the ladies of the congregation served lunch. "Rev. Mr. Baine, who goes to a large church at Schumacher, near Timmins, came here from North Bay. He had previously filled charges at Creemore and South Porcupine."

Farewell Given to Rev. and Mrs. Baine

Huntsville Shows Honour to Minister Coming to Schumacher

The following from The Huntsville Forester refers to Rev. F. Baine and Mrs. Baine, who this week take up residence in Schumacher where Rev. Mr. Baine succeeds Rev. Murray C. Tait as minister of Trinity United Church:—
Congregation Says Farewell to Rev. and Mrs. Baine

"Farewell was said on Sunday last to the congregation of Trinity United Church by Rev. F. J. Baine, M.A., who has been pastor for the past five years. Mr. and Mrs. Baine leave this week to assume their new charge at Schumacher, New Ontario, which covers a field with which Mr. Baine is familiar, he having at a previous time filled a pastorate at South Porcupine close to the present charge.

"A large congregation assembled on Sunday night to hear Mr. Baine's farewell message. The regular congregation was augmented by that of St. Andrew's Church whose minister Rev. Mr. Amont was present and assisted in the service.

"In his sermon Mr. Baine referred in intimate terms to the pleasant association he had enjoyed with his congregation and the citizens of Huntsville, since coming here, and stated that while his experience an every charge he had filled had been of a pleasant character, he had no hesitation in saying that his Huntsville term had been in many respects the most pleasing since his ministry began.

"The kindness lavished upon both Mrs. Baine and myself, enable us to carry away a most pleasant memory of our Huntsville work," he said, "and I assure you that, wherever we may go in future, we shall recall our pastorate here with memories of joy and satisfaction."

"Mr. Baine paid a high compliment to Mrs. Baine. "She has been a tower of strength and encouragement to me in all my work," he said, "and whatever success I may have achieved, is due more to her help and influence than to any effort of my own."

Household Hints

Menu Hint

Braised Liver Baked Potatoes
Green Peas Green Onions
Watercress
Berry Cottage Pudding Tea
The other day I had dinner in a small town restaurant, and was served chicken livers and bacon. They were hot, well cooked and delicious. The bacon was not as well cooked as the livers. I happen to like my bacon crisp. This braised liver dish is a nice variation of the usual liver and bacon, and seems appropriate for warmer weather. You can use any berries for this cottage pudding recipe if you do not want to use or cannot get strawberries.

To-days Recipes

Braised liver—Brown a sliced onion and three-fourths cup of chopped celery in bacon fat. Place in a baking dish, season with salt and pepper, cover with bacon slices, add one-half cup hot water, cover and cook in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for one hour. Remove cover for last 15 minutes of cooking so that bacon on top will brown.

Strawberry cottage pudding—Three tablespoons butter, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, one-half cup milk, one egg, one and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one cup fresh strawberries. Cream butter and sugar, add vanilla, milk and egg. Beat for one minute. Add flour, baking powder and salt, mixed and sifted. Beat for two minutes. Add strawberries. Fill greased muffin pans half full and bake in moderate oven for 20 minutes. Serve with plain or whipped cream. Serves four or five.

Hints On Fashions

Pleats Play Charming Part in Smart Summer Ensemble
It is much easier to be critical than to be correct

The short sleeves of both the frock and coat are puffed becomingly at the top, and a white organdie flower finishes the V neckline.

Style Whimsies
An entirely new departure from the all-white bag are prints in linens, challis types and rayons. Many have composition frames and chain handles, others merely tie at the top like a large printed handkerchief.

The wood bead bags in Roman stripe colourings again are in high favour this season.

The "baby sweater" of angora is being worn over print dresses. The fluffy little sweaters appeal to the young girls. Top handles continue in favour for all styles of summer bags.

The new summer clothes are just a little softer, dressier and more feminine than we have seen for many seasons.

Cork beach sandals are a "must" in the wardrobe of the vacationer at the seashore.

A little suit with checked jacket in navy and white, combined with a blue wool pleated skirt and white pique blouse, will appeal strongly to the discriminating young miss returning to school.

An attractive afternoon frock is a black chiffon jacket frock which has white organdie ruching at the surplice neckline and on the jacket sleeves. A white pique flower is worn on the jacket.

Group of Children Go to Camp at Alexo This Week

On Saturday afternoon a group of 20 or 30 children were at the town hall to be medically examined previous to going to camp at a summer camp site near Alexo, not far from Porcupine Junction. This is the first group of children going this year to the summer camp at Kelso under the plan for which donations have been taken here for some weeks by a Fresh Air Fund committee. Other groups of children will be sent to the same camp under the same auspices during the course of the next week or two.

Saturday This Week Tag Day for Blind

Group of Taggers to be Busy on Saturday for Worthy Cause.

Mr. D. B. Lawley, field secretary for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, assisted by Mrs. Lynes, another field worker for the Institute, have been busy in Timmins and the Porcupine during the past few weeks organizing for the annual campaign of the Institute. As in past years the organization work has been usually well done and in Timmins, Schumacher and South Porcupine, there are representative committees handling the work. The ladies' committees have been especially able and active and organization appears to be about perfect for the annual tag day on Saturday of this week. In the meantime the usual appeal has been made by letter to a large list of names for donations to support the work of the Institute in this district. The tag day on Saturday will complete the campaign.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind has done notable work in this part of the North. Indeed, it had been giving excellent service to the blind here years before it put on any campaign, and for the past several years its efforts here have been of very special value. Mr. Lawley has been here each year for several years and has won wide circles of friends, not only for his personal qualities but also for the good work of the Institute he so worthily represents. Blind people in this district who have needed financial help have been looked after. Those who might be helped by treatment have received every attention. Others have been trained in trades or occupations to make them self-supporting. Many have been set up in business under the supervision of the Institute. Reading matter for the blind has been supplied them. Several have been secured entrance to the School for the Blind. Others have been helped in other ways. All have been materially assisted, encouraged and inspired and made better citizens by the influence of the Institute. Most of the officials of the Institute are themselves blind and so are able to understand and help the blind in special inspiring way. The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is certainly a worthy cause and should receive the fullest and most generous support of Timmins and district. Each year the response to the annual campaign has been generous and whole-hearted and this year, with all having greater knowledge and appreciation of the good work of the Institute, the objective set should be fully reached.

Opening Swimming Pool in Day or Two

Will be Ready Likely to Open on Wednesday.

Owing to unexpected circumstances it has been necessary to postpone the opening of Riverside Swimming Pool until later. However, it is expected that all will be in readiness within a day or two.

The management regrets this delay but feel that it is necessary for the well-being of all concerned.

Mr. A. R. Fisher, who will be in charge of the Riverside swimming pool this summer, expects to have the pool opened and in running order Wednesday. Special care is to be taken in every way to assure the health and safety of all using the swimming pool. The pool has been improved and extended and so arranged that it can be kept fresh all the time. There will be constant supervision of the swimming pool. Children suffering from many contagious disease will not be permitted to use the pool. There will be daily lessons in swimming and in life-saving so that the youngsters will not only have the pleasure of swimming, but they will also have the chance to learn to swim and to protect themselves and others from danger in the water. The children taken on at nominal fee for the season to learn swimming have been divided into six groups—three groups of girls and three groups of boys. Each group will be given three periods a week—boys on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and girls on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, at the times designated on their tickets. Each child will have to take a shower before entering the pool and those with infectious rash or sores will be excluded. The cooperation of the public, and especially of the parents, is asked to assure the success of the pool this season.

Miss Lalonde was born in Quebec, and was eighteen years of age, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldege Lalonde, of 132 Commercial avenue.
