Accuses Timmins Mayor of "Playing Politics"

In an editorial headed "Playing Politics," The Northern News of Kirkland Lake on Friday last had the following: "Early in 1935 the T. & N. O. gold mining municipalities formed an association for joint action in redistribution of the mines taxation in a higher proportion to the municipalities than 8 per cent. to the 64 per cent. taken by the Dominion, and the 28 taken by the Province of Ontario.

"Delegations went to Toronto, and the question was also taken up by individual boards of trade, the associated boards of the North, and finally by the provincial association.

"It was repeatedly pointed out that this was not a move for additional mines taxation, but an endeavour to secure a further share of what taxes are levied in order to enable the municipalities, in their public services, to keep up with the phenomenal growth of the North.

"The most recent meeting of the association was held at Timmins over the week-end when, in the face of opposition by Charles V. Gallagher, M.L.A., and Reeve Dick Carter, Township of Teck representatives, it was decided to send a letter to Toronto asking the government to notify the municipalities of its intentions regarding readjustment of the mines tax, not later than July 31. The member for South Cochrane and Mr. Carter both favoured a personal delegation.

"From the latest story in the news columns it appears that Mayor Bartleman is essaying to make political capital out of the situation, and that he is not in accord with the original purpose of the alliance, that is if he is correctly quoted by the Timmins Daily Press.

"Teck Township, which for years has fought the battle, has never had a wish to make it a provincial or municipal political issue, particularly so in the last few months, when direct negotiations, which Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Carter wished to continue, have brought about good results in other matters and toward this end.

"It would be far better for Teck to fight its own battles than engage in a controversy which is being encouraged either by Mr. Bartleman or the Timmins daily newspaper, or both."

Cochrane, July 16.—A fugitive from the Alfred Industrial School, William Bieleck was easily picked up here Wednesday morning when Constable Beaulac noticed him walking the streets of the town.

With wired information of his escape, town police were watching for his return home, and when accosted the young man stated he had come home to visit his mother.

It is stated that this escape is his second since his being sent to Alfred five years ago. He is lodged in guard cells here and will return to the industrial school on the arrival of a guard from Alfred. His previous attempt at freedom took place last year when he was found in the Mont Laurier district of Quebec.

Survey New Route for Temagami Road

ed on a new and improved routing, and about five miles south from Temagami has also been completed. The Dept. of Highways is anxious to complete the balance, and for this purpose the aerial survey has been planned to decide on the shortest route compatible with safety and economy. In a country with so many lakes and streams it is felt that the aerial survey will prove the most effective and satisfactory in making the choice of the right route. It is expected that the new route will reduce the mileage between North Bay and Temagami by about a dozen miles. The present mileage is given as 64, while the new route is expected to be about 52 miles.

From remarks made at North Bay by Hon. Mr. McQueen, it is understood that the work of completing the highway between North Bay and Temagami will be undertaken in September, and the hope is that it will be fully completed this year.

Hon. Mr. McQueen last week was on a four-day motor trip through the North, visiting the various road jobs in progress at various centres, including Timmins, Kapuskasing and other points. Mr. R. M. Smith, Deputy Minister of Highways, and Mr. Robertson, manager of the Ontario Motor League, were in the party of five that accompanied Hon. Mr. McQueen on the trip.

Radio Plane Takes Flight from Kapuskasing Field

Ottawa, July 16.—The radio plane CCT landed this week on the Killaloe air field 100 miles northwest of Ottawa to calibrate the radio range station. It came from Porquus Junction where the beam wireless there was lined up. When the Killaloe station is calibrated, the beams from Ottawa to Winnipeg will be ready for the Trans-Canada air service.

The range station at North Bay is not completed but the beams from Kapuskasing, Porquus Junction and Killaloe would bring a ship into the Ottawa beam. Test flights between Winnipeg and Kapuskasing are expected to start soon.

As soon as the station at Killaloe is lined up the CCT will move to calibrate the stations at Reay, Ont., and Melton Field, Toronto.

Progress Report of Porcupine Lake Gold

Manway Built from 280-Ft. Level in Accordance with Mining Act.

At the week-end the following progress report was received from the Porcupine Lake Gold Mining Company as addressed by the secretary, Geo. McKeown, to shareholders of the company: "Owing to the fact that the Mining Act requires a second opening to the surface, it became necessary for us to proceed with a manway from the 280 ft. level. We did not expect that it would at this time be necessary to direct our efforts to this work, and having to do so necessitated the temporary discontinuance of stopping operations at this level."

"It was therefore decided that it would be best to put the ore coming from the manway through the mill, even though the grade would be lowered by unavoidable dilution, as this could be done at the present time more profitably than if the ore were placed on the dump and handled, with the additional expense entailed, later on, the result being that the mill recovery for the month of June was necessarily below earlier expectations, which undoubtedly would have been realized could one have been drawn from the stopes at the 280 ft. level.

"In order to correct this condition and bring production to a higher figure, stopping operations will immediately be put into effect on the second level.

"It would appear from Weekly Report received from Mine Manager Sipprell that we are now definitely entering into the south end of the downward extension of the main ore shoot on the 280 ft. level. We quote from this report as follows:

"360 ft. level development: The vein in the No. 362 North Drift continued to show consistent strength of stucture. While values in the early part of the week were not important they improved nicely at the end of the period. On Thursday the vein over 12 in. assayed $7.35; on Friday two vein samples over 22 in. assayed $31.15 and $5.60 respectively, giving an average of $9.70 over 42 in. The round taken out on Saturday showed the vein section continuing with width of quartz and schist over 22 in. While assays have not yet come to hand, free gold was observed in two of the vein samples, so indications are that it will run ore grade."

"This report is supplemented by a telegram from Mr. Sipprell dated July 12th, which we give below: "Face of drift on three sixty level at four thirty two north is apparently entering south end of the main ore shoot at this horizon. Visible gold more plentiful in face and muck than in any previous run in this drift."

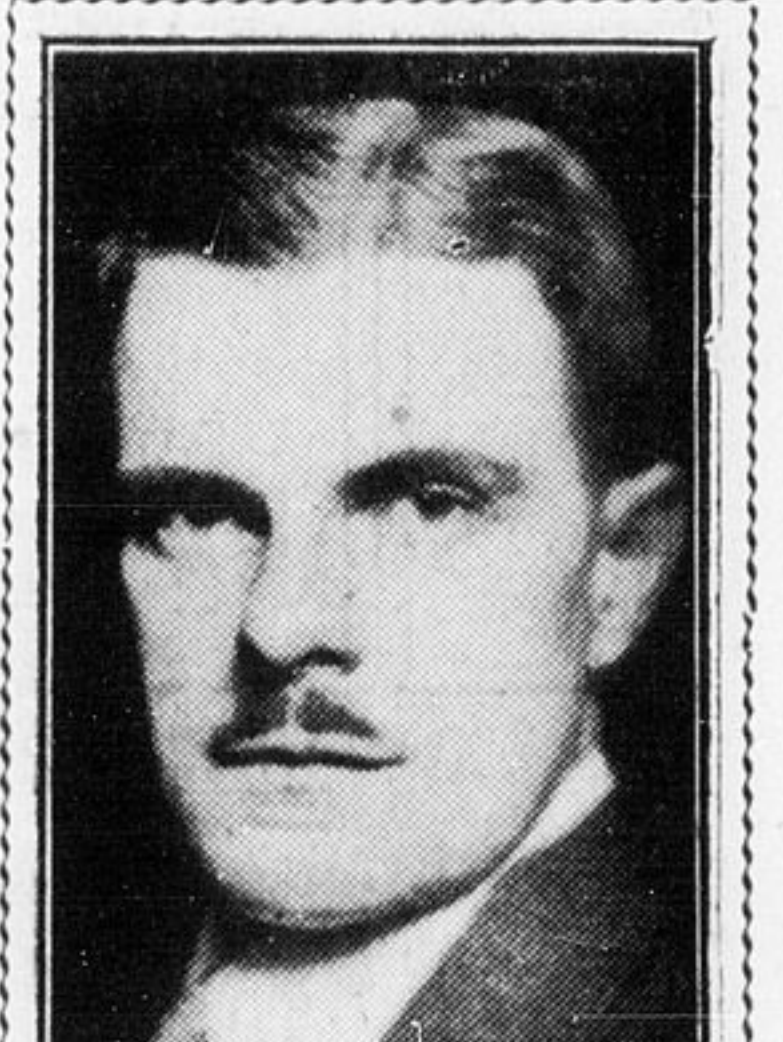

A report received this morning states that assays from last face on the

New Discovery Made on the Porcupine McNabb

F. J. MacFarlane, president of Porcupine McNabb Gold Mines, reports that a new discovery has been made on the company's property in the southeast corner of Night Hawk Lake. He states that a porphyry dike has been opened up for a length of 250 feet at surface and across an average width of 34 inches, a series of transverse quartz stringers containing visible gold may be seen. The stringers vary up to four inches in width and they recur in the dike for the length exposed.

Mr. MacFarlane also reports that another porphyry dike has been found paralleling about 600 feet north and it shows an average width of 20 inches. Stringers and visible gold occur in it. Work on the property is under the direction of W. Jewett.
