Claim Some Images are Too Bright in Television

The art of television has now progressed to the stage where some of the images are too bright! Television engineers are running into a phenomenon comparable with halation in photography, where too much light produces a poor picture, says Science Service.

How radio engineers are now seeking to cut down the brightness of a television image, and hence obtain more contrast and a better picture, was described to the Institute of Radio Engineers by Dr. R. R. Law of the Radio Corporation of America.

By introducing a thin layer of darkening material on the glass end of a Kinescope, through which the picture must be viewed, Dr. Law has reduced halation in the picture received. A 20 per cent. absorption of light reduced halation to one-sixth its previous value.

Chamberlain's Policy Now Showing Its True Worth

(From Halifax Herald) With the facts of the situation slowly but surely getting to the public through a screen of hysteria and propaganda, the peoples of the Empire are beginning to realize the wisdom and patience of a government that refuses to plunge Europe and the Empire into a general war "to assist a few war profiteers in the task of increasing their profits."

Victory May be Expensive for the Victorious Side

(From London Free Press) Experience in the wars which are now going on shows that only through the preparation of an overwhelming superiority in armaments can any nation hope to conquer another. Yet the progress of the armament race shows that no nation or group of nations, particularly no potential aggressors, are likely to achieve this superiority.

Flies Atlantic Solo

Douglas Corrigan, who made a 2700-mile flight from his home in Long Beach, Calif., to New York in his 10-year-old $900 Curtiss-Robin airplane with only a chocolate bar for food, is shown as he refueled his ship at New York. He took off from Floyd Bennett airport, saying he was returning home, but disappeared over the Atlantic with enough gasoline for a 40-hour flight. Twenty-eight hours later officials at Baldonnel airport, Ireland, were surprised when Douglas landed his rickety aircraft, unheralded and unsummoned.

Ulsters Welcomed at South Porcupine

Visitors to and From South Porcupine and the Dome.

To the shriek of the bagpipes and the swish of the tartan, Ulster soccer team of Toronto, Ontario champions, were introduced to Northern soccer fans on Ontario's finest football field, the Dome athletic park. After a day of murky and threatening skies, the sun in all its splendor came out with two thousand other soccer fans to witness the semi-finals for the championship of the Dominion. Though the game was called for six o'clock, at five o'clock the first enthusiasts had started to pass the turnstiles. Well before starting time the new bleachers to the south of the field were filled and it was evident a capacity crowd would see the first Dominion semi-finals of any sport played in the North.

The following is from the Hearst news in The Northern Tribune, of Kapuskasing, last week:—

Everybody in this vicinity is glad to see the completion of the new bridge over the Mattawishquia river and the abandonment and demolition of the old bridge. The new bridge is a beautiful concrete structure and is architecturally a thing of real beauty. The contractors finished their work on time and certainly made a very satisfactory job of it.

Say Ten Million Persons Bowl Annually in the U.S.

(Toronto Telegram) In the United States 10,000,000 annually bowl on 160,000 alleys that retail at $3,000 a pair. It is estimated that in the last 50 years $500,000,000 has been spent on alleys alone. The country's bowlers last year paid $299,520,000 in small fees for the privilege of knocking down ten polished pieces of maple lumber, that being preferred to the five-pin game so popular here.

The majority of America's keglers are concentrated in the Middle West, says the Kansas City Star. Chicago is the premier ten-pin city, with the largest number of alleys and bowlers in the world. Honourable mention in those departments goes to Detroit, Milwaukee and Cleveland.

Bowling has been traced to the 12th century when a favorite pastime among London's youth was bowling the jack (rolling a lopsided stone at a stationary object). Lawn bowls became so popular that Edward III and Richard II prohibited it, fearing that it would keep England's warriors from their archery practice. In 1511 Henry VIII also issued a prohibitory decree in which the word "bowls" was used for the first time. The same decree also banned indoor alleys, except that at Whitehall where the King frequently bowled.

The game fell under the influence of gambling in Elizabethan England until frequent attacks by reformers restored it to its proper social level. One commentator wrote: "Common bowling alleys privy moths that eat up the credit of many idle citizens whose gains at home are not able to weigh down their losses abroad, whose shops are far from maintaining their play that their wives and children cry out for bread, that they go to bed supperless often in a year."

Sir Francis Drake was playing at lawn bowls when a messenger informed him the Armada had been sighted in the English Channel. The admiral was leading and his answer was: "There's time to win this game and thrash the Spaniards too." His prophecy proved correct on both counts.

Bowling was introduced into Colonial America in 1626 by the Dutch settlers and has enjoyed increasing popularity for 300 years. It was hot until 1895, however, when the American Bowling Congress was organized that standard rules and regulations were adopted.

Kirkland Visited by Ladies' Auxiliary

Ladies of the Legion Enjoy Pleasant Time with Kirkland Lake Ladies' Auxiliary.

Twenty-six members of the local Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion visited Kirkland Lake on Saturday as special guests of the Kirkland Lake Ladies' Auxiliary, and to-day the lucky ladies who were included in the party are all eager in expressing their appreciation of the wonderful time that they had on Saturday. The bus for the travellers left the Legion hall here at 9:30 a.m. and arrived at Kirkland Lake about 2:30 p.m., where they were greeted by members of the Kirkland Lake Auxiliary, and escorted throughout the town, to see "the sights" and "to shop."

In the evening, a very delicious dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock at the Ladies' Auxiliary hall, following which came a very enjoyable social evening. On the programme were included a song by Mrs. Harris, of Schumacher, and a Scottish reel by Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Jean Smith. Early Sunday morning a tired but very happy party left for home, looking forward to soon seeing the Kirkland Lake friends again.

There will be the usual Thursday afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Robert Hardy this week, and on Monday, August 1st, there will be a general meeting at the Legion hall.
